FUNERAL OF EMPRESS

Requiem Services Held in Cronberg's Old Catholic Church.

THE KING OF ENGLAND PRESENT.

The Solemn Procession From the Castle to the Church on Saturday Night—Emperor William Deposited a Magnificent Wreath on His Mother's Coffin—The Services on Sunday.

Cronberg, Aug. 12. — People flocked into Cronberg from an early hour yesterday to see the august personages who would attend the requiem service over the remains of the late Dowager Empress Frederick.

Sir Frank Lascelles, the British Ambassador, was among the first to arrive. He took a seat facing the coffin, which was covered with wreaths. On either side of the coffin were four officers holding the standards of the Empire, of Prussia and the deceased. Between them and the coffin were other officials, rigid, and bearing drawn swords.

The congregation included the Duke of Connaught, the Duke of Cambridge and several members of the British Royal Household, Count Von Buelow, Count Von Waldersee, Dr. Spiedhaven, General Von Lindquist.

At 4 o'clock the roll of muffled drums announced the arrival of Emperor William and King Edward, who had driven together from Homberg.

Princess Victoria, with Crown Prince Frederick William and a numerous suite followed.

Their Majesties occupied a pew to the left of the chancel, the one in which the deceased used to sit, while grouped around the chancel stood the other Imperial and Royal personages mentioned. As the organ played the funeral march, Dr. Dryander advanced to the head of the coffin.

The choir from Berlin Cathedral sang "I Know My Redeemer Liveth" and Dr. Dryander read a specially written prayer, followed by the words of the burial service, "Dust to dust, ashes to ashes," the choir then sang the anthem, "The Spirit Sayeth They May Rest From Their Labors."

Then followed the magnificent hymn, "Wenn ch Einmal Soll Scheiden," and a beautiful rendering of "Be Thou Faithful Unto Death."

As the last strains died away King Edward and Queen Alexandra advanced and laid a wreath upon the coffin.

The King remained standing for a few minutes beside the coffin, and then turned and left the church, which slowly emptied.

GOING TO THE CHURCH.

The Process ion and Simple Ceremonies of Saturday Night.

Punctually at 9.30 o'clock Saturday night the far off sound of drums and the will-o'-the-wisp like twinkling of torches through the distant trees told the people of Cronberg that the procession had left Friedrichshof. As the glare of the uplifted torches drew nearer down the winding road it revealed a long, black, massive line on the shoulders of a dozen soldiers. Then another flare revealed the well-known figure of the Emperor, pacing with sombre tread, just behind the coffin. Behind there followed the Royal Family, save the ladies, none of whom were in the procession; the Crown Prince of Greece, the Prince Schaumberg-Lippe, the Hereditary Prince of Saxe-Meiningen, Count Von Zeikendorff (who was the secretary of the Dowager-Empress) and other notables.

Within the dimly lighted church four officers, with drawn swords, stood as a guard of honor within the chancel. The coffin was borne silently down the aisle and deposited between the guards beneath a crucifix. The royal mourners followed. The Emperor, advancing to the head of the coffin, stood with bowed head, while Dr. Dryander, the Court Chaplain, spoke a few solemn words.

Following the chaplain's address in the deathlike stillness the Emperor stepped forward and deposited a magnificent wreath upon the coffin. His Majesty stood a moment motionless, then dropped upon his knees by the side of his mother's body. The whole congregation followed, and five minutes were devoted to silent prayer. It was an intensely dramatic scene, the more so because of its great simplicity.

A BAD C. P. R. ACCIDENT

Two Men Dead and Two Others Very Seriously Injured.

FORTY MILES FROM OWEN SOUND

The Engine Jumped the Track Near Proton Station About 2.30 Saturday Afternoon, and 15 of the 27 Cars in the Train Were Wrecked With the Engine—Traffic Disorganized.

Toronto Junction, Aug. 12. — An accident which caused considerable loss to rolling stock and sorrow to two homes, as well as great anxiety to two others, occurred on Saturday, near Proton Station on the Toronto, Grey and Bruce branch of the C.P.R.

The way freight which left Toronto Junction early in the morning had reached Dundalk in safety. Dundalk is the highest point on the line, being 1,500 feet above Toronto. From there it is down grade to Owen Sound.

Behind the way freight at Corbetton was the steamboat express, laden with passengers, and, to get out of the way of this train, Engineer Campbell took advantage of the down-grade, and put on full steam in order to reach Markdale. The train was traveling at the rate of about 50 miles an hour, when the engine suddenly left the track, ran down an embankment on the east side, then turned on to the track again lengthways, and was struck by the cars following, which knocked it on its side and piled up on top of it and around it. One car was thrown upon it upside down, and the next car was thrown on it right side up. Eleven other cars crashed together like tinder boxes, making a pile of debris several feet high.

William Campbell, engineer, was thrown underneath the engine, the boiler of which had burst, and the water from which scalded him to death instantly.

William McCauley, fireman on the train, was also thrown under the engine, but the other train hands being quickly at the fore part of the train, got a board, slipped it under him and drew him out. He was very much scalded on one side. His hands were dreadfully scalded and his ear was cut. At first it was thought he could not recover, but he was removed to Owen Sound Hospital, and yesterday morning was reported improved. Later in the day he was said to be no better, and the doctors refused to express an opinion as to whether he would recover or not, but at night they announced a slight improvement with hope for recovery.

William McCraw, a brakeman on the train, was also in the engine at the time of the accident, and was likewise seriously scalded. He died in Owen Sound Hospital about 6 o'clock yesterday morning.

John Lancaster, another brakeman on the train, was on the thirteenth car when the engine left the rails, and was thrown into the debris. Here he was imprisoned for four hours until the auxiliary arrived and dug him out. His injuries are internal and his shoulder is hurt. His chances for recovery are good.

E. Imrie, conductor, and W. Bigvins, the third brakeman, were in the last car, which did not leave the track. There were 27 cars in the train, and of these 15 were wrecked.

Just what was the cause of the accident no one can tell until the jury which has been empanelled to enquire into it, give their verdict.

News at Owen Sound.

Owen Sound, Aug. 12.—Brakesman McCraw died at the hospital yesterday morning. His remains were shipped last evening on steamer City of Midland to Meaford for interment at Craigleith. Brakesman Lancaster, who was injured internally, is in a critical state, and his recovery is doubtful. Fireman McCauley is doing well. Roadmaster McCauley, his father, is here. He is related to Chief of Police McCauley. Coroner Charles Gordon, County Attorney John Armstrong and Railway Surgeon Dr. Allan Cameron leave this morning for the inquest to be held at Proton.

An Official On the Smash.

Toronto, Aug. 12. — General Superintendent Timmerman's explanation of the fatality is as follows: It occurred at a temporary crossing used by contractors who are engaged in the work of grading an embankment preparatory to making an extension of the tracks. Several trains and a gang of men were at work, and a quantity of sand was dumped on the main line. This sand was what caused the train to leave the rails. As soon as the accident was heard of wrecking trains from Owen Sound and Toronto Junction left for the scene, and they expected to have the track cleared by 9.30 o'clock Sunday night and ready for traffic.

The injured men were taken to the Owen Sound Hospital and are doing well.

THOSE PULP CONCESSIONS.

Referring to the concessions granted by the Ontario Government and which are so strongly condemned by Mr. Whitney, the Toronto News, one of the strongest Conservative newspapers in the Province, says: "There is a school of political economists with representatives in this province which opposes the granting of concessions to cut pulp wood exclusively over a certain territory, and objects with equal force to the disposal of water powers to individuals. They would have these opportunities improved by the people themselves. The diversion of such natural wealth from the people to the capitalists is condemned as being almost criminal. The other side of the question is that if our pulpwood forests and water powers were held till the sentiment of the country permitted the Government to undertake industrial enterprises, the falls would be dry and the timber rotten or destroyed by fire. Moreover, what value is there for any mechanic, farmer, merchant or professional men in the pulpwood as it stands in New Ontario? To these classes there is no profit or value unless the trees are ground into pulp and the water falls used for that purpose. As it requires from half a million to two or three million dollars to erect a mill and begin the manufacture of the pulpwood, it is evident to the dullest intellect that only capitalists can undertake such enterprises. How silly it is, then, to complain about the Government granting these concessions to capitalists! They are the only persons who stand to lose on the transaction. If instead of losing they make some money it can only be through giving employment to a large number of men, and thus adding to the general prosperity and wealth of the country.

CONSERVATIVE STATESMANSHIP.

The following instructions issued to their party leaders show that the Conservatives are anxious above all things to get into office. The interests of the country don't appear to count.

A few months before Sir Charles Tupper made his last appeal for power the Conservatives of Ontario amongst others, issued the following instructions:

"Appeal against all Grits on the list who can be struck off.

"Put on all Conservatives whose names are not on the list.

"A Conservative appealed against—if the facts warrant his being struck off the list — should not attend the court. The appellant in that case will usually not have the evidence to succeed.

"Subpoena all Grits appealed against where you have good ground for appeal. If they do not attend court they will be struck off without evidence.

"The subpoena is obtained from the Clerk of the County Court for twenty cents. One original appeal for each municipality, containing all the names in that municipality, suffices. Each man's name alone is put on his own copy to be served, and he is entitled to no witness fees if he lives in the municipality for which the court is held."

The third and fourth paragraphs of these Tupper-Whitney instructions assume that the judges will do just what the Conservative heelers will order them to do. They are in keeping with the other Conservative instructions, "always appoint a sound Conservative assessor," and "if the clerk be friendly it should be an easy matter to have him put the names of our friends on his list."

That one of the great political parties should even assume to control assessors, clerks, and judges, is appalling, but it only illustrates one of the impelling forces in the Tupper-Whitney combination — demoralizing in the extreme.

These instructions are still used by Whitney's workers throughout the Province.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Rat Portage Miner notes that the Indians in the vicinity have so far in the season received $30,000 for picking blueberries. At one cent a quart (the price paid for picking berries by horticulturists) this sum represents nearly 100,000 bushels of berries.

THE ASSAY OFFICE.

Among the many wise steps taken by our Provincial Government for the development of the natural resources of Ontario, the one which deserves more praise than it has received is the establishment of the Government Assay office. This assay office is located at Belleville and is conducted by the Bureau of Mines for the assistance of prospectors and development of mineral lands. Any person can send samples to the Belleville Assay office and receive in return a certificate of analysis and a statement of the result of the assay showing the value of the sample. The assaying is done at cost and a large number are done without any fees being charged.

The office supplies free of charge, canvas shipping bags, and manilla mailing envelopes for small and crushed samples, to those requiring the use of such. There are very few of the settlers in the northern regions of this district but have, so they say, 'a mine 'in the back end' of their farm. These settlers would do well to send samples of their 'mine' to the Assay office in Belleville. Where the value of the sample will be at once clearly ascertained at a very trifling expense. Among the various minerals in demand are molybdenum asbestos, talc and pyrites. Iron pyrites having the composition FeS2 and carrying about 53 percent. sulphur when pure is in demand as an ore of sulphur at present. It is a very common mineral distributed almost everywhere, being most common in iron sections, and is found especially in metamorphic rocks, such as talcose, schists and calc schists, generally in lenses or kidney shaped deposits. The mineral is brass yellow in colour but may vary to greenish black; it is hard, scratching glass and strikes fire with a hard instrument.

Molybdenite is worth $200 a ton and fine grades are worth $600 a ton. There is reason to suppose it exists in our north country. Sulphide of molybdenum is in great demand.

Its chief use is an alloy ferro-molybdenum which, according to the reports of expert iron masters, gives toughness to steel combined with the property of self hardening. It is also used in making molybdic acid and other commercial chemicals, some of which are said to be used at present in dye works. Present production does not equal the demand and market values run from 10cts. to 30cts. per lb.

MILNER LEAVES ENGLAND.

Without Other Public Demonstration Than the Cheering From the Wharf.

London, Aug. 12.—Lord Milner, after keeping a private engagement in the country, embarked quietly at Southampton Saturday without other public demonstration than the cheering from the wharf. He has not enjoyed the process of being lionized here, and in country houses, and frankly says that he will be pleased to settle down to work.

General Lyttleton, who has sailed with him, is a capable officer, with a marked talent for administrative detail. He was the best commander under General Buller in the Ladysmith campaign, and has been named by military men as Lord Kitchener's successor, either before or after the close of the present guerilla operations.

Drowned at Owen Sound.

Owen Sound, Aug. 12.—Bert Drinkwater, a sailor on the Hiram R. Dixon, son of Elijah Drinkwater, second engineer, fell from the boat Saturday afternoon, at the wharf. His head struck a plank and he sank immediately. His body was recovered in 20 minutes, but Dr. Middlebro pronounced life extinct. He was 20 years of age. His home was at Goderich.

Subscribing Liberally.

Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 12.—In response to the appeal of the Colonial Secretary, Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, all the West Indian colonies, in spite of the depression existing, are subscribing liberally toward the Imperial Victoria Memorial to be erected in London.

A Food for Brain and Muscle.

On Magnetic Healing.

Much is spoken and written during these times about this mysterious method of treating disease. The most truly remarkable cases of magnetic healing which have come under the notice of the writer have been those in which Dr. Chase's Ointment was used. This preparation seems to have magical powers in stopping the dreadful itching, burning sensations of Salt Rheum and Eczema, and when used regularly makes the cure thorough and complete.

Three Drowned at Newcastle.

Newcastle, Aug. 12.—Charles Farncomb, aged 18, and John Farncomb, aged 16, two sons of Canon Farncomb of this place, and Easton Beacham, aged 42, manager of Park Telford's large grocery store, New York, were drowned here on Saturday afternoon while bathing at the lake.

Better News From India.

London, Aug. 12.—More encouraging news has come from India during the week, and it is now hoped that violence on the Afghan frontier and elsewhere will be averted. The health of the Ameer, however, is now giving renewed cause for anxiety.

Hay Fever Can be Prevented.

Don't seek other climes at "Hay Fever Season," don't destroy your stomach and nerves by drugs,— prevent the disease. Hay fever is caused by germs that float about in the air and finally find lodgment in your throat and lungs. Medicine won't reach them there but Catarrhozone will. Catarrhozone is sure death to germs. Inhale it into the throat, lungs, nasal passages and bronchial tubes; it goes wherever the air you breathe goes, and it will prevent and cre hay fever. Endorsed by not less than one thousand doctors in Canada and the United States. Sent to any address for $1 forwarded to Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S.; or Kingston, Ont.

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty. Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Lite Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurances in force to the extent of $16,759,355,92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634,68. The Increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,273.76.

WESTERN MEN REFUSE

Chicago, Joliet and Bayview Employes Will Not Strike.

STRIKE LEADERS DISAPPOINTED.

Claim They Will Win in the End—Steel Trust Officials Claim Victory on Men's Refusal to Strike and Their Ability in Maintaining Operations Elsewhere.

Pittsburg, Aug. 12.—President Shaffer's order for a general strike of the Amalgamated Association men in the plants of the United States Steel Corporation went into effect Saturday night. While accurate figures were not obtainable until the time arrived for work to be resumed last night, there is no doubt that many thousand men obeyed the order.

The officials of the American Tin Plate Company announced their intention to dismantle and remove to Monessen some of their mills, which are closed by the strikers. The work of dismantling the Dewees Wood Plant, at McKeesport, was begun.

The Executive Board of the United Mine Workers, in session at Indianapolis, indorsed the action of the Amalgamated Association, and pledged support to the strike.

Herman Justi, commissioner of the Illinois Coal Operators' Association, and T. L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers, declared against a sympathetic strike in aid of the steel workers.

A trustee of the Amalgamated Association said that a proposition for arbitration had been made to, and rejected by, the Steel Company officials.

President Shaffer addressed massed meetings of workmen at Newcastle and McKeesport. At the former place, he made an offer to submit the issues in the strike to arbitration.

He said: "Now, in our willingness to settle the matter, we are ready to arbitrate. Let the Amalgamated Association select one man, and let the trust select one; the two to select the third. We will abide by the decision of the three. I wish this to be generally known."

The Chicago members of the Amalgamated Association at the Illinois Steel Works, South Chicago, will disregard President Shaffer's order. The men of the Bayview plant will follow suit.

The ironmasters were last night claiming victory in the great steel strike. They base their claims upon the refusal of the Amalgamated men at South Chicago, Joliet and Bayview to obey the general strike order of President Shaffer, and their success in maintaining operations in other plants where it was anticipated that there would be serious trouble.

The strike leaders meet the claims of victory with the assertion that their cause is making satisfactory progress, and that they will show themselves masters of the situation before the contest has progressed much further. They do not conceal their disappointment at the refusal of the Western brethren to join them in the strike, but none of the leaders would discuss the deflection.

The steel officials were in communication with the superintendents and district managers, and, at 11 o'clock, made public the result of their reports. The latter showed that South Chicago, Joliet and Bayview at Milwaukee had voted to stay in; that the Ohio Works of the National Steel Company at Youngstown, and the King, Golbert & Warner Plant of the National Company at Columbus had resumed, without trouble; that the Homestead, Edgar Thompson, Duquesne, Upper and Lower Union and Howard Axle Works of the Carnegie Group, employing more than 15,000 men, had resumed, without trouble; that the converting and blooming mills of the National Tube Works, at McKeesport, had started without difficulty, and the Bellaire had been only partially crippled.

They were also advised that the men of the Boston Rolling Mills, at McKeesport, had notified the National Tube Company that they would go out to-day, and that, while the National Tube Plant at McKeesport would be started in the morning, it was certain that many would go out.

They were also notified that their Wheeling plants were crippled, and that it was uncertain what would be done there.

The steel officials were elated over their showing at Carnegie plants and in Illinois and Wisconsin, and expressed confidence in speedy victory over the Amalgamated Association.

DEMAND A SETTLEMENT.

Railway Organizations and the C.P.R. Trackmen's Strike.

Winnipeg, Aug. 12.—Ugly rumors are afloat among members of the different railway organizations in reference to the actions of one of their officers. In fact it has been boldly stated that one of them has sold himself body and boots to the C. P. R., and that for some time past he has simply been working entirely against the wishes of those he represented. Instead of his work having the effect anticipated the opposite has been the case, as the other orders have become incensed. At a large meeting of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers held a couple of nights ago a strong resolution was passed calling upon their General Chairman to take decisive action to bring about a settlement of the strike at once. The conductors have also instructed their Chairman in the same respect.

Sectionmen Mobbed.

Tweed, Aug. 12.—A gang of C.P. R. section sectionmen were mobbed here Saturday night. They were boarding in a freight car on one of the sidings, and some of the men came up town. When returning they were severely handled by the mob with stones and eggs. They ran to their car and bolted the doors. The mob by this time were furious, and stoned the car, breaking in the end and doing much damage. The C. P. R. Company has a watchman employed, but he, it seems, was nowhere to be found. No one was seriously hurt.

LIFE WORTH LIVING.

Why not have the free use of your arms and legs. Drive out the rheumatism and feel that life is worth living. Wm. Lee, gardener, No. 793 Princess street, Kingston, Ont., suffered for years with rheumatism in the shoulders and arms. Three bottles of Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure made a new man of him. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days treatment, 50 cents, at druggists or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

THE MEETING AT BLENHEIM.

Great Unionist Fete, at Which Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain Made Speeches—A Resolution Passed.

London, Aug. 12.—Three thousand guests had arrived at Blenheim by noon Saturday to attend the great political fete of the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough. There were no non-unionists demonstrations. Among those present were the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, First Lord of the Treasury and Government Leader of the House of Commons; Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, the Duchess of Sutherland, Mrs. Cornwallis West, formerly Lady Randolph Churchill; Lords and Commoners and representatives of various Unionist associations.

A monster luncheon was provided. The relaxation included an organ recital, boating on the lake, etc.

Lord Howe, Chancellor of the Primrose League, moved and Winston Churchill, son of Mrs. Cornwallis West, seconded a resolution which assured Secretary Chamberlain and Mr. Balfour of the confidence of the Unionists in the Government and belief "that upon the continued solidarity of the Unionist party the prosperity and security of the Empire mainly depends."

Mr. Balfour, addressing the gathering, said that once the connection of the Conservatives and Liberal Unionists was an alliance, but now it was an indissoluble union.

Colonial Secretary Chamberlain spoke in a similar strain. Among other things he said: "Fifteen years ago our opponents were a powerful and united party led by Mr. Gladstone. To-day they are a rump."

Referring to the patient and steadfast attitude of the people of England in regard to the war in South Africa, Mr. Chamberlain said he knew nothing like it, unless a parallel could be found in the history of the American civil war and the attitude of the north. He likened the Opposition to the Copperheads of the North. Mr. Campbell-Bannerman, the leader of the Opposition, asked the Government to make peace at any price, they would answer him as Lincoln answered a similar demand of the Copperheads, and history would justify them as it had justified Lincoln.

A MANITOBA MAN.

Oak Lake, Man., August 11.—Frank Colleaux, of this place, has turned missionary. A conscientious sense of duty has impelled him to spread a certain good work among his friends and neighbours. The work in question is the work of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Some time ago Mr. Colleaux was cured of Backache. He had it for years. Though he didn't know it, his kidneys were affected, and it was his kidneys that caused him such misery.

But he found relief. He did more, he found a positive cure. He read that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Backache. So they do; they've cured thousands of cases of it, simply because they act on the Kidneys with such splendid effect and thus get at the cause of that fearful disablement.

So Frank is spreading the good tidings among his friends as fast as he can. If he meets a man suffering with Backache he tells him right straight what is really the matter with him and recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills. In this way he is the means of helping many a poor victim of Kidney Disease who might never have understood that in Dodd's Kidney Pills he has a sure escape from his affliction.

"It gives me a great amount of pleasure," says Mr. Colleaux, "to recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all my neighbours and friends. I can testify to their excellent curative properties for Backache because two boxes cured me."

SNARES FOR THE SIMPLE

WHAT the brand,—"Joseph Rodgers, Sheffield,"—signifies on a knife blade, the slate frame brand of—"The Slater Shoe"—signifies on a shoe sole.

The advantage of a brand, depends entirely upon its record for merit, established by the years certain goods have been publicly tested under that brand.

And, when such a brand has become a passport to people's confidence, there creeps in a species of piracy, which trades upon that confidence, by the selling of unknown goods, at a long profit, under some name which sounds like that of the brand.

This is how heedless Consumers are snared, and sold, and laughed at.

No purchaser should accept a blind excuse from a Retailer for the absence of the advertised trade mark, and the presence of something which resembles it superficially, but is not it legally.

There are thousands of men named "Rodgers," but there is only one standard brand of "Rodger's Cutlery," as there is only one standard brand of "The Slater Shoe."

If these words—"The Slater Shoe," are not stamped on the sole in a slate frame, it is not a genuine "Slater Shoe," and you buy it at your own risk.

The Slater Shoe Co. do not stand behind any but their own make—the shoe with a five year record of fixed value and uniform quality.

When you get the slate frame brand of "The Slater Shoe," stamped on the soles with the Makers price, you get the responsible, Goodyear Welted article.

VICTIMISED VICTORIA PARK.

A Vagrant Horse Makes a Steeplechase Course of Velvet Lawn and a Hurdle of Flower Plots.

Victoria Park may be a thing of beauty and a joy—during the summer—but lately its lines have not fallen in pleasant places. The rowdyism of Friday night, which resulted in the outraging of the flower plots, was followed up on Sunday morning by some horse play — this time by a genuine horse, not the ass variety of the genus equus. A horse that apparently followed his own sweet will, ran a steeplechase in the park early on Sunday morning. He entered the park opposite a point a little west of the north entrance of St. John's grounds, and taking a diagonal course tore up the turf of the lawn in a beautiful manner. When he came to the longitudinal flower plots on each side of the central walk, he took the first one with a splendid jump, landing on the walk, and then without apparent pause, he cleared the northernmost flower border flying. These two leaps were clean jumps of twelve (measured) feet each, but the hunter's heels on each occasion dragged down the wire netting, about two feet in height. The horse then took a course parallel to the street line, till he reached the rubber plant rockery. He then swerved to the right and ran to within about ten feet of the northern border, then he turned suddenly and took a wide circuit on the fine open stretch of lawn in that vicinity, finally emerging at the northwestern corner of the park. The soft, spongy turf was badly torn up by the shod hoofs of the horse. Again, this morning Gardener Cooney happily came early to work, found a horse running loose, without halter or bridle, just entering the park — perhaps the steeple chaser of yesterday. From the horse's point of view, the park is spendidly adapted for steeplechasing, but it is rather an expensive racecourse. It is simply shameful that this beautiful spot is so neglected in the way of protection, and in other ways, by somebody —the town, or the Horticultural Society, or somebody who is responsible, and it is worth while to make some effort to find out who really is responsible.

BYLAW DEFEATED.

The North-Enders in Ashburnham Get Turned Down—The Vote.

The voting on the bylaw for the extension of the waterworks system to the north end of the village of Ashburnham, took place on Saturday, and resulted in the bylaw being defeated by a majority of 15 votes. Great interest was aroused in the vote, and the defeat of the bylaw will be keenly felt by the North-Enders.

	For.	Ag't.
North polling division	43	32
South polling division	15	41
	58	73

Majority against bylaw, 15.

LAID AT REST.

The Funeral of the Late Rev. Father Larkin on Saturday.

The funeral of the late Rev. Father Larkin, of Grafton, took place on Saturday, and was attended by many prominent people throughout the district. The body was moved to the church at 5 o'clock on Friday afternoon and solemn requiem was celebrated on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock by Very Rev. Mgr. Laurent, of Lindsay, assisted by Rev. Father Twohey, of Picton, as deacon, and Rev. Father McCloskey, of Campbellford, as sub-deacon. Ven. Archdeacon Casey, of Peterborough, preached the sermon. The services throughout were very impressive and there were present in all seventeen priests.

CORDAGE COMPANY BYLAW.

In the past lack of power for manufacturing purposes has been a decided drawback to the manufacturing expansion of Peterborough; not that power in abundance has not existed, but it has not been placed in a position to be available and at reasonable prices; therefore every encouragement should be given by the citizens of Peterborough to any proposal looking the full or fuller development of the great power lying at our very doors. It does not need to be proved that the more power there is easily and cheaply obtainable the better the prospects of securing new manufactures for the town, and this circumstance becomes much more important when one considers the immense quantity of power now running to waste that might be cheaply developed. In this connection the Canadian Cordage Company will be in a position to supply power cheaply through the Otonabee Power Company, organized to meet the requirements of the law. This Company will supply power at a low rate ($15 per horsepower) and will develop a large quantity beyond the 250 horse power required for their manufacturing purposes. The bylaw to grant the Company a block of land of 2 1-4 acres for a site for their large buildigns will be voted upon to-morrow, and the advantages to the town of the presence and operation of their works need not be specifically pointed out, for any body can see that the steady employment of from 100 to 175 hands will mean a large sum paid out in wages, and the erection of the large buildings will require large expenditures for material and large employment of mechanics and labourers. The Company is in a position to begin construction operations at once if the people of Peterborough show that they desire the establishment of their industry in the town. The directors of the Company are Peterborough citizens and are naturally desirous that the town should have the benefit of the presence of the works. The fact remains, however, that other towns have offered and are offering liberal inducements to the Company. The directors being loyal to the town have not considered other propositions, but have given Peterborough a chance to secure the industry. If they decide to-morrow that they want it they will get it; if they decide otherwise it will be the duty of the directors to do the best they can for the large majority of the shareholders who are not residents of the town, and it will become the duty of the directors to consult the best interests of the shareholders. While they would far prefer that Peterborough instead of any other town should give a little assistance and secure the industry with all the accompanying advantages, other towns are on the alert and are voting assistance liberally. Only the other day Orangeville voted a bonus of $15,000 to an industry that will only employ a quarter of the hands the Cordage Company will employ. The bylaw to assist the Company, which will be voted upon to-morrow, has been heartily endorsed by the Town Council and the Board of Trade, and it is for the ratepayers to decide the very important issues involved in its approval or rejection. The Examiner has never been inclined, and is not inclined now, to advocate anything that would not or will not be in the interests of the Town of Peterborough, which we firmly believe will have no occasion to regret its action if the ratepayers take advantage of the opportunity to secure the establishment of the Canadian Cordage Company in the town, on the terms of the bylaw.

The following is a list of the various polling sub-divisions for the voting to-morrow on the Cordage Co. bylaw:

MEN SCARCE, EMPLOYMENT PLENTIFUL.

A Building Contractor's Morning Experience.

About one o'clock to-day a perspiring building contractor was seen on Hunter street, and he exclaimed:

"It's awfully hot to-day."

"O, no, it's just pleasant; you must have been walking fast."

"You bet I have; I've been tramping about all morning looking for some men to work on a job I have in hand, and after all, I couldn't get half the men I wanted. I must hurry on to my job to see if the men that promised to come have turned up."

This is practical comment upon the abundance of employment which keeps every hand at work. No man who really wants to work need be out of a job in Peterborough these days.

THE TALLEST CORN.

Mr. Learmouth of Sherbrooke Street Brought in a Large one.

The editorial room of this office, as regards odour and appearance, resembles a silo. For the past few days it has been visited by farmers and others, who claim to have the tallest stalk of corn in the country. There have been quite a number of these stalks of corn left standing against the wall in the editorial room and the grower of the same generally walks out thinking that he has outclassed the previous one. On Saturday evening Mr. Gabriel Learmouth, of Sherbrooke street, came in with a beautiful stalk of feed corn, which is ten feet eight inches in height and was planted on June 5, and was therefore two months, five days old before being cut. He has a small field of corn about the same height. Mr. Learmouth purchased his seed from Mr. T. H. G. Denne. The stalk, it might be added, beats out the next tallest by two inches.

COPP CLARK PUBLICATIONS.

The Copp Clark Company, Limited, have issued a most useful publication, Bourninot's "Manual of the Constitutional History of Canada." Sir John Bourenot is so excellent an authority on constitutional subjects relating to Canada, that it is sufficient to mention his name as author of a work on this subject to commend it strongly to the attention of students. The edition just issued by the above enterprising publishing company is of course handsomely made, printing, binding and general make up quite up to this firm's usual standard. This edition of the book, first published in 1888, is thoroughly revised, so as to make it as useful as possible to those students of universities and colleges who are now required to use it as a book of reference in connection with their studies of our constitutional history. This book contains a summary up to the present of those judicial decisions which involve important principles for the interpretation of our constitution. Altogether this manual is an excellent work which should be in the hands of every advanced student and in the library of every Canadian who is anxious to be well informed of the constitutional history of our country.

"Cinderella" is the title of one of S. R. Crockett's most charming books—published by the Copp, Clark Co. The scene of the story is laid in Scotland, and the history of a dependent orphan taken in ward by an uncle with a family of marriageable daughters, her fortune, unknown to herself, appropriated, and the uncle and family living in affluence and in a high social sphere on the fruit of this spoil, while the orphan, kept in a menial position in the family, is told in the most interesting manner possible. The love story interwoven, and the quaint touches of character introduced with the subordinate personages of the tale, add greatly to the interest of the tale. "Cinderella," who figuratively pines in Crockett's chimney corner, is one of the most charming of books for midsummer reading. Plentiful illustrations, clear type, good paper and neat binding are additional claims of this delightful book to popular favour.

Rheumatism is a Constitutional Disease

The pain and localized conditions are mere results of constitutional conditions. Poisoned blood sends its evil infuence to various parts of the body, and cure permanently you must treat it constitutionally. Nothing so completely dispels these poisons from the system as Ferrozone. It makes new blood. It imparts vitality and vigor, enabling the system to throw off the poisons that engender rheumatism. Ferrozone also fortifies the system against the weakening effects of rheumatism, and cures, not simply relieves as most medicines do. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

GOLF.

Those who wish to see a good game of golf as she should be played should be at the links to-morrow, when the locally invincible Cobourg team, nine strong, will hole up with the local team. The home team will be selected this evening. Cobourg "did up" the Orillia team by 80 holes. The locals hope to put a strong enough team on the field to make the play interesting.

CRICKET.

The cricket match which was to have taken place on the Nicholls oval on Saturday afternoon last was postponed until next Saturday for several reasons. Mr. Culverwell says he will have the Toronto team down on Saturday sure. A full practice of the local Seniors is called for Tuesday evening on the Nicholls oval, when every available man is requested to turn out. The nets and all other equipments will be used.

BASEBALL.

The Port Hope Guide says: Fred Outram, manager of the File Works Baseball Club, is after the scalp of the Cobourg team. He says they are doing considerable talking as to how easy it is to beat Port Hope and Peterborough, and lots of those teams that are playing on their past good record. The recent successes of the Cobourg team are no doubt responsible for this outburst of nerve, and in order to give them a chance to back up this "wind," Mr. Outram hereby challenges the Cobourg Club to play a series of three games for a trophy valued at any sum they may name, the losers to stand the cost of said trophy; an outside umpire to preside at each game. It is now up to Cobourg.

The Belleville Intelligencer in its account of the recent Peterborough-Belleville game says:—"The jaunty Peterboroughs came, saw and conquered, but they had to play ball all the time in order to win. The Boilers, of this city, crossed bats with the lads from Peterborough yesterday afternoon, and the game was worth going miles to see. There was quite a good-sized bunch of spectators, including many ladies, present, and parenthetically it may be pointed out that before any more games are played on the Driving Park the diamond should be turned round. Nobody minds standing up when the home team wins, but yesterday they didn't win, the score being 5 to 2 in favour of the visitors, who played a fairly fast, snappy game in the field, their outfield being particularly fast and sure, cutting off many hits which looked safe. They didn't hit "Trotter" Draycott very hard, but bunched three of their five hits in one inning, and these, aided by two errors, gave them four runs and the game. Their one-armed pitcher, McCabe, had speed to give away, but his benders didn't look very difficult. However, they answered the purpose, and but two of the local men solved them safely. The work of the Peterborough battery, by the way, was of the gilt-edged order, in fact the support all round was—for an amateur team—excellent."

The Cobourg Post says: — "The Ponnies of Kingston, are in trouble over an alleged guarantee to a Rochester team. The visiting team claim that they were guaranteed $60 a game, and $20 should no game be played on account of rain. The teams played Friday and Saturday and $60 was paid over for the first, but nothing for the second, and now a law firm in that city is trying to collect the balance for the Rochester club. Years ago Kingston played the same game with Cobourg giving but $12 on a $100 guarantee.

The Market Nines will play the Kruger II team in the Central Park this evening at 6.30.

LACROSSE.

Port Hope and Oshawa, whose troubles have been widely advertised, are tied for their district and will likely arrange to play the deciding game on the Island, Toronto. These two teams play good lacrosse and the winners of the game should have an excellent chance for the intermediate championship.

ANGLING.

"Jackson's been at it again." Mr. Jackson, of the Bank of Commerce, went down the Otonabee River again on Saturday, and landed a number of very fine lunge.

The Hastings Star says: Our Mayor got in a heap of trouble last week, and no one is sympathising with him either. It's just this way: He and Billy Green, the piano man from Peterborough, went up the river to beat that fish which was caught last week, and succeeded in getting the usual fisherman's luck. B. was handling the line, and oh, my! he got a daisy on! a regular canoe puller! Slowly he was hauled to the boat, and he was ours—when mine captive took a different course and went under the boat, and splash! over went the boat, fishermen, dinner baskets and contents. By careful navigation they got to the shore. The Mayor says Billy wanted to swim out and get the fish, which must have weighed ten pounds, while Billy blames the Mayor for the whole thing, and says if he had not been rubbering all would have been well. He also informs our scribe that it is no wonder that there is an 18 mill rate for if he schemed to keep taxes down like he does to sell goods, he's a dandy. But to put everything together Billy ought to know that his fish stories cannot be swallowed like his large sales of pianos stories.

A Why Out.

Servant—A newspaper reporter wishes to interview you, sir.

Great Man—Did you not tell him I was hoarse—could hardly speak?

Servant—Certainly, sir. But he assured me he would only ask questions which you could answer by a nod or a shake of the head.

Great Man—Then tell him I have a stiff neck.

Killed By a Train.

Newmarket, Aug. 12.—The northbound G. T. R. Sunday afternoon express struck and killed a man at the station. Deceased was under the influence of liquor. Freight Conductor John Lee had just put him off his train and taken him to the station platform, warning him to look out for the incoming express. He started to follow the conductor back, when the train struck him, not, however, before Conductor Lee made an heroic effort to save him and barely escaped being struck himself. He is supposed to be James Cameron of Oakville, and is said to have a sister living on Bathurst street, Toronto. Coroner Dr. Scott made an investigation and decided that an inquest would not be necessary.

TO A MOUNTAIN.

When melted snows have told the stream
The sweetness of the sod they kissed,
And with the spring's first daylight gleam
The creatures of the morning mist;

When all things gladden in the sun
And steeple unto steeple calls
From Athol's height to Templeton
And grasses burst from pebbled walls,

Then nature swells a friendly song,
The little buds speak out at last,
And in the woodland comrades throng,
And thou alone no comrade hast!

If now and then a passing cloud
Caress thy brow or swallow please
To pause above, a moment bowed,
They vanish, wayfarers like these.

O lonely mountain! Night shall steal,
And only they thy grandeur guess
Who know the friendless vast, yet feel
The majesty, of loneliness!

—Agnes Lee in New Lippincott.

A Modern Bedroom.

One of the most important things in the arrangements of a house is the bedroom. Every bedroom should be provided with the essentials for healthful sleep and the daily sponge bath. It should be as large as one can afford, the larger the better, with windows so arranged that they may be opened at the top or bottom. The importance of good ventilation is not half enough appreciated by housekeepers. Some housekeepers who are unscrupulously clean in every way often pay little attention to the airing of bedrooms, and no woman can be said to be strictly clean who neglects this, which is one of the most essential features of good housekeeping, owing to the fact that so much of the health of the family depends upon it.

If possible the floor should be bare and the rugs so small that they can be taken outdoors with ease for cleaning and airing. Everything about the room should be washable. The bed should be light and fitted with strong casters, so that it may be readily moved. The springs should be firm and strong and the mattress of a kind that will not allow the heaviest part of a body to sink, so as to cause the sleeper to lie in a cramped position, nor should the room ever be overcrowded with furniture.

A white or brass bedstead and the woodwork painted white is very pretty for a bedroom. Bright paper should always be selected. Paper having a cream ground, on which are strewn sprays of wild roses with green foliage, is very pretty. The windows should be draped with white muslin curtains, ruffled. The furniture may be of white enamel, and the cushions may be covered with silkoline, with a pattern of wild roses, matching the paper as near as possible. The bedspread can be made of the same material. The toilet set can be made to match by decorating it with wild roses. Some pictures and a few bookshelves, stained in green, will add much to the appearance of the room. A light wood varnish is very pretty for the floor.

When She Walks.

It is interesting to sit in a large window overlooking the street, watch the women who pass and notice their peculiarities of gait. It is a fact that men as a rule walk more easily than women, but every woman has more or less of an "I know every one is looking at me" gait in passing a window. A skirt is a hindrance to an easy walk. In the house a long skirt is the most satisfactory. If it hangs well, it is a delight to the average woman. It gives her a feeling of dignity, and its comfortable weight dragging behind puts into her bearing a certain self reliance that she may not have at other times. Some women like to walk in short skirts, and they do so with more freedom if they are not self conscious. To walk well any skirt must hang properly. If it is not well cut, the folds swing to one side or the other in walking in a way which makes the wearer awkward and uncomfortable. Whatever peculiarities of gait a woman has are accentuated when she is self conscious. The funny little fat woman puffs fussily along with shorter and quicker steps than usual, the long girl strides with longer and quicker steps, and the pretty girl who is trying to look absolutely natural seems to be walking on peg legs. Some one should get out a recipe for walking, something on the order of how to be natural though self conscious. The woman who can look natural when she is thinking of herself is an artist. Women who go on the stage study a proper walk, and it would be well for women in private life to do the same. It is quite as important an art as the painting or music a woman takes up as a part of her education.

Girl Life in France.

The programme of what a French girl may or may not do is drawn up very precisely," declares Th. Bentzon (Mme. Blanc) in The Ladies' Home Journal. "Unless she is poor and has to earn her own living she never goes out alone. The company of a friend of her own age would not be sufficient to chaperon her. It is an established rule that novel reading is a rare exception. She is entirely subject to her parents' will in the matter of reading. And if she asks to see anything at the theater except a classical masterpiece or an opera they will tell her that such a thing is not considered proper, feeling sure of her silent submission. After she is 15 years old she is generally allowed to be in the drawing room on her mother's reception days, but must keep to the modest and secondary place assigned her—pouring the tea and presenting it, courtesying to her elders, answering when spoken to, in short, undergoing her apprenticeship. She has but few jewels and under no pretext any diamonds. Custom does not permit her to wear costly things, nor does it give her the right, in general, to have a money allowance worth speaking of for her personal use. She receives a trifling sum for charity, her books and gloves. A young girl never takes the lead in conversation, but always allows the married lady the precedence, and she finds it quite natural to occupy the background."

The Crying Need of the Home.

What is the crying need of the home? Not money, not intellect, not refinement, not wisdom. It is love and warm demonstration of love.

Life is such a little thing, a short space of years at best, and to live it through and to have missed love in childhood from father and mother is the saddest thing in all the universe. Most people love their children. Few fathers and mothers would own to a lack of affection for their offspring.

But in many homes—shall I say in the majority?—there is a lack of the real living love and tenderness that fill the heart full to running over with love words, kisses, fond caresses. The good night kiss, the dear hand upon the little one's head and cheek—how these things expand the soul of the child and make it receptive to good influences!

To be a father or mother is to hold the keys of heaven and hell for the human race. The relation is a divine one, with infinite demands, and yet how often undertaken with no forethought, no sense of the awful responsibility! Wisdom, goodness, nobility, strength and patience are needed by the parent and, above all, love.—Mrs. G. M. Ogilvie in Woman's Home Companion.

Alcoholism Can Be Cured

REV. FATHER QUINLIVAN'S ADVICE.

To whom it may concern: The good points of Mr. Dixon's new discovery for the cure of the liquor habit in my opinion, are the following: First, if taken according to directions it completely removes all craving for liquor in the short space of three days; its use for a longer time is intended only to build up the system. Second, it leaves no bad after effects, but on the contrary aids in every way the health of the patient, whilst freeing him from the desire for drink. Third, the patient may use it without interfering with his business, or leaving his home. All other liquor cures I have yet heard of are very costly, operate slowly, are doubtful as to effects and often impair the health and constitution of the patient. I therefore look upon the remedy as a real boon, recommend it heartily to all concerned, and bespeak for it here in Montreal and elsewhere every success. J. Quinlivan, S. S., Pastor of St. Patrick's, Montreal.

Full particulars of this new medicine mailed free to all applicants. Address, Mr. Dixon, 81 Willcocks st., Toronto, Ont.

Apples the Diet For the Sedentary.

Apples are very wholesome and digestible. They contain considerable potassium and sodium salts, magnesium, a little iron and about 85 per cent of water. Apples, being rich in pectin, form readily into jelly. They also contain free organic acids as well as salts, such a malates, citrates and tartrates. They are quite laxative, more so if taken late at night or early in the morning with a glass of water. Their nutritive value is not much, as they are largely composed of water. For invalids apples are best when baked and eaten either plain or served with cream.

Sure Cure for Sea Sickness, Nausea.

Maladies of this type yield instantly to Polson's Nerviline, and if you suffer periodically from these complaints, just keep Nerviline at hand. A few drops in sweetened water gives instant relief, and in the course of half an hour the cure is complete. A large 25c. bottle of Nerviline in the house will save doctor bills, and a vast amount of suffering every year.

SLICING A RATTLER.

THE COLORADO WAY OF TURNING THE DANGEROUS TRICK.

Dexterity and Daring of the Cowboy In Cutting Off the Head of the Reptile After Its Ineffectual Attempt to Strike.

"Did you ever see a cow puncher kill a rattlesnake with a knife?" said a Colorado citizen now in town. "When I first went west, I punched cattle on the Sunset ranch, one of the largest in southern Colorado. I was a tenderfoot, fresh from the east, but no swell head about me. That saved me a lot of trouble. The boys were dead willing to put me next, even to a 14-year-old broncho never halter broken. Among other things, I learned how to kill a rattler with a bowie knife. I killed one with a knife to make my standing good, but after that a gun or a pitchfork was good enough for me.

"I have seen a plainsman ride up to a small sized rattler, jump off his horse, kick at the waving head, avoid the strike and as the reptile came down place a heel upon its neck, coolly take a knife from his belt and dispatch it. I have also seen a live rattler thrown up on a haystack machine, and I have seen the men working on that stack jump, roll, tumble and slide to get away. They could not see the rattler; that was all. In the open they would have played with it.

"A rattlesnake is harmless out of coil. For that reason it wastes no time in getting back into coil after the spring. It will not strike unless it is perfectly sure it can reach its object. Therefore the cowboy must get into reach of the snake's spring. It can spring half its own length, and sometimes more. Of course the larger the snake the more coils, and the more coils the more vicious the strike.

"Dick Haynes was a young daredevil who would go out of his way to play with a rattler. I have seen him kill at least a dozen with a knife, and I saw him when he got such a close call that he dropped the game and used a gun forever after.

"We were out together one Sunday. It was warm, and as we rode he fanned his face with his sombrero. Suddenly he clapped his hat on his head and started his broncho at a lope. 'Watch me get that pison,' he shouted.

"Fifty yards to our right was a rattler. It was trying to get away, but we headed it in an instant and were off our horses. It immediately coiled, and then I saw the biggest snake I have ever seen. It was a diamond rattler and about 20 years old. It had the ugliest head I ever saw, enormous in size, and with a mouth that reminded me of a bulldog's jaw. Dick stopped just long enough to size up its length so as to get an idea of its spring, and then went in on it.

"The strike came like a flash of lightning. The snake struck the ground with a sound like the cracking of a four horse whiplash in the hands of an expert. Dick just saved himself by throwing his body back full length. The snake coiled again before Dick could get to it. I got nervous and called to him to shoot it.

"'That's the first one that ever struck at me and got back,' he said, 'and I'm going to have that pretty head.'

"The rattler was beside itself with rage. It lay, coil upon coil of smooth, glistening length, showing the long reach and powerful spring in reserve. Out of the coils two feet more of body and neck rose straight in the air, and above all that black, venomous head, with glowing eyes and forked tongue, waved, slightly, warily, to and fro.

"Dick stepped in again, more cautiously. He reached the knife nearer and yet nearer to that swaying head. I knew he was getting too close, but I feared to speak to him. Then came the strike, with that marvelous dart of speed. Dick's knife flashed and the snake lay squirming, a headless thing, upon the ground.

"'Let's get to camp,' said Dick. 'It got me in the thumb.'

"We jumped for the saddles and started on a mad run for home. Dick rode with his thumb on the saddle horn and his knife in his other hand.

"'If she begins to swell, off she comes,' said he.

"We reached the ranch, and while Dick poured down whisky we examined the thumb. We could find nothing, not the slightest wound. The snake had struck the handle of his knife, and the strength and suddenness of the impact made Dick lose his nerve. It was a good thing for him. He never went after a rattler again without a long '44.'"

Going All the Time.

"I see a Wisconsin man claims to have solved the perpetual motion problem."

"That's nothing. I have a model of a perpetual motion machine at my house now."

"Does it work successfully?"

"From the standpoint of perpetual motion, you bet it does."

"Have you given it a name?"

"Sure."

"What do you call it?"

"'Jimmie,' and it was 5 years old its last birthday.

The fact that all women suffer during the birth-hour leads a great many women to accept a degree of suffering which is altogether unnecessary. Sometimes it is hours, sometimes days before the struggle is over. No medicine can absolutely eliminate pain from this time of travail, but Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can and does make the baby's advent practically painless. It acts upon the organs of maternity, giving them strength and elasticity. It produces physical comfort and mental cheerfulness. It is an effective tonic, giving the mother abundant nutrition for her child.

"I believe I owe my life to Dr. Pierce's remedies, and have long felt it my duty to acknowledge the benefit I received from Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Pleasant Pellets,'" says Mrs. Marin O. Haysel, writing from Brookland, D. C. "Six years ago, after the birth of one of my children, I was left in a weak, rundown condition. My health seemed utterly gone. Life was a burden. I doctored with three different physicians and got no relief. I began to get worse, and to add to the complications, I suffered terribly from constipation. I chanced to see one of your advertisements and concluded to try the above remedies. I commenced to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Pleasant Pellets,' and began to improve right away, and continued improving and gaining in strength. I cannot express the relief it was so great. Seven months later my little daughter was born without much trouble. I feel that I would never have been able to endure my confinement only for the help due solely to Dr. Pierce's medicines. She was a fine, healthy child, and the only one I have ever been able to nurse."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

GREAT PROHIBITION TOUR.

Mr. and Mrs. Woolley Are to Encircle the Globe For Their Cause.

John G. Woolley, the well known Prohibitionist, the candidate of his party for the presidency last year, has just started on a mighty temperance campaign. He is to encircle the globe, preaching the gospel of total abstinence from strong drink. Accompanying him is his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Woolley started westward from Chicago. Their itinerary includes stops at Seattle, Portland and other western cities. They will try to organize the Prohibition party in the Hawaiian Islands, now territory of the MRS. JOHN G. WOOLLEY.

United States. The longest stay of the Woolleys will be made in New Zealand, for they are making the trip in response to an invitation from the temperance society of those islands. Addresses will be delivered in all the chief cities, and the temperance leader and his wife expect to make many recruits to their cause.

Mrs. John G. Woolley is probably her husband's most effective coadjutor in his prohibition work. It may not be known generally that the brilliant successor of John B. Gough and nominee for the presidency of the United States was himself at one time a confirmed drunkard. His reclamation was largely due to the devotion of his charming and cultured wife.

Girlish Grandmothers.

"Every now and then," said the happily married woman, looking up irately from her Sunday newspaper, "some harmless smarty tries to prove in print that men no longer esteem youth and beauty in woman, but are captivated either by the charm of intellectual sympathy or magnetism.

"Of course," she went on, "this is very welcome and encouraging news to the unmarried woman who has drifted on the shady side of 30, but the statement is as rash as it is untrue.

"How do I know it? Why, by my own experience and by the confessions of many of my married women friends. She who has made a love match with the right kind of a man finds out soon enough that a large part of his devotion is dependent upon his estimation of her appearance. You say if you like,—on looking at some women who have married fortunately, that they are both passe and exceedingly ugly, but don't make the mistake of thinking that they appeared so for one moment to the men who wanted them for wives.

"Now, mind you, I am talking about love matches, which, according to my philosophy of life, are the only marriages, and I've seen men desperately in love with very ugly women. These are rare cases of course, but they do exist, and invariably the man is color blind, nor does he love that ugly woman until he is convinced in his own mind that she is both fresh and fair.

"The man who loves his wife in the years that follow the honeymoon chose her in the first instance because he was conceitedly convinced that she was the most beautiful houri of her sex, and to him she remains just as fresh and just as fair as in the days in which he courted her. So long as he fondly loves he cannot see any change in her appearance. He will deeply resent any reference to the wife of his bosom as an old woman and will sharply contradict her if she carelessly gives the number of her years. My husband grows so vexed if I mention the respectable list of my birthdays that I now maintain a demure silence when ages are the subject of confession, and I feel reassured that no shadow has crossed his affection for me when every now and then he admits that, as far as he can see, I've not changed a hair since the days when we honeymooned together.

"Some women there are so dense and unfeminine as not to realize the eternal charm that youth and good looks possess for men. They don't know that in every man's love for his wife a lot of vanity is mixed, vanity in displaying great taste in his choice and vanity in owning the best of its kind. Such a woman, when she marries a man who is at all fastidious on this point, is apt to grow old early, to become careless and frumpy, as well, and then she sits down in dust and ashes to wonder helplessly why her hitherto adoring mate has cooled in his ardor.

"Perhaps, poor man, he hardly knows himself, but the brutal truth is, being a man, he has grown hurt, disgusted and chilled to see that after all he has for a wife an old and ugly woman, a woman he continues to admire for her talents and respect for her virtues, but love—never again."—Exchange.

The Woman Who Is Always Kind.

If there is one woman who will not sit outside on the doorstep when we all line up before the turnstiles of heaven, says a writer in the Chicago Record-Herald, it will be the woman who is always kind, the sweet lady who always has at the tip of her tongue an extemporaneous speech in the defense of some other woman.

Women as a rule are very severe upon each other. Most of us are heartless, all of us, in fact, except that woman who is always kind.

The woman who is always kind knows that "to err is human," that even the best of men and the noblest of women sometimes make little mistakes and know the bitter smart of keen regret. When she hears that Miss Somebody-or-other made such a dreadfully untactful remark at Mrs. Somebody-else's tea party, she only smiles and tells a little story about the awkward things she herself has said. But the ordinary, everyday, cruel more the less woman tiptilts her nose and ventures the opinion that Miss Somebody-or-other never did have a grain of sense anyhow, the ordinary woman at once forgetting her own shortcomings.

There are few of us who are so good, so unfailing, so honest with ourselves, so truly unerring that we can with reason criticise the other woman. Besides we do not know the conditions under which she made her errors. She herself is the only one who understands what sort of a fish net of circumstances was knitted about her.

If we were all beyond every temptation, if we never said an ill word of any one, if we invariably did just the right thing and never the wrong, we would not be women at all. We would be angels, sitting up on the fleece tipped clouds, looking at sapphire starbeams and singing anthems to the larks and nightingales and meditating upon the bitterness of such a jolly sad old world as this.

The woman who is always kind, the dear, sweet lady who never blames or censures, but always says, "Well, you don't know just what you might have done yourself under such conditions"—oh, she is the best of all. It is not so much her defense of others as the beautiful example of feminine dearness and human liberality that she unfolds like a remnant of godliness and womanly charm.

It Can't be Done

In spite of the fact that a few months ago the barrel was full of delicious sweet cider, you can't by adding a little soda now since it has become vinegar, transform it back to cider. Neither can you cure dyspepsia by taking a little pepsin, or baking soda, or a few doses of Cathartic medicine. You must take Merrill's System Tonic for the whole system has undergone a change from the effects of undigested and unfermented food. The condition of the blood and of the digestive ferments, and the action of the bowels and kidneys are as unlike what they should be, as vinegar is unlike cider. Merrill's System Tonic strengthens the stomach and nerves, purifies the blood, restores healthy kidney action and cures constipation. This is just what you want. No other remedy known does it so quickly or so well or makes such a permanent cure. If you have dyspepsia, liver trouble, or headache give Merrill's System Tonic a chance to cure you.

SIXTEEN STAGES OF THE SLATER SHOE

No better object lesson can be found to teach how thoroughly a thing may be done when the object is to have it well done, than the exhibit in our south window, of the progressive

16 Stages of the Slater Shoe.

Here one sees the successive several operations from the skin of leather to the finished shoe. It shows the building up of the shoe, its gradual and symmetrical progress, the thorough work, the minute attention to detail, the determination of the manufacturers to produce the best of shoes —the Slater Shoe. There is no skimping of detail, no lack of fitting and finishing, of accurate, systematic work that results in the perfect shoe.

We sell the Slater Shoe. Any up-to-date dealer does. But in addition—for Slater Shoes are only a part of our selling—we have hundreds of excellent and reliable shoes. The variety is not so wide, that sizes so numerous, the differences in shape so important, for there is as much difference in feet as in faces, and we have to carry an ample stock to meet the requirements of all. Nothing that a good shoe store should have is lacking. But where the average dealer stocks fifty pair we stock five hundred. Just a few lines to suggest to men a nice shoe that will be comfortable, shapely, dressy and reliable:

LOOKS LIKE MURDER.

Two Bullet Wounds in the Head of William Jones, Who Was Found on Lee Avenue, Toronto.

Toronto, Aug. 12.—The dead body of a respectably-dressed man about 65 years of age, and weighing 165 or 170 pounds, was found on Lee avenue, near the Kingston road, on Sunday morning, and circumstances point to the theory of murder. There is an element of mystery about the whole affair.

A photograph of the murdered man was identified last night by Mr. John Kane, proprietor of the Ocean House, corner of King and Queen streets. The man was William Jones, about 60 years of age, and employed by Mr. Kane as porter until about seven months ago.

There was no sign of a disturbance, but two bottles containing mild solutions of carbolic acid were placed beside him leading to the belief at first that it was a case of suicide. This theory, however, was exploded after the remains had been removed to the undertaking establishment of Archibald Hunter. There two small bullet wounds were found in the head, pointing to murder. No blood was visible on the grass where the body lay; none issued from the head when the corpse was lifted into the shell for removal to the undertaker's. There were no powder marks around the wounds. The suicide theory is easily disposed of. No revolver was found. There were no marks of the acid about the mouth, showing that the man had not taken acid with suicidal intent.

SIGNOR CRISPI DEAD.

Celebrated Italian Statesman Passes Away Aged 82.

Naples, Aug. 12. — Signor Crispi died at 7.45 o'clock Sunday evening.

Francesco Crispi was born in 1819 in the town of Ribera, Sicily. He was educated for the law, and was called to the Neapolitan bar. He took an active part in the revolutionary movement of 1848, when the kingdom of the two Sicilies was overthrown. He inspired the resistance of the Sicilians during the insurrection of Palermo, and was compelled to fly to France.

He subsequently landed with Garibaldi at Palermo, and distinguished himself by his courage and capacity. In 1861 he was elected to the first Italian Parliament as member for Palermo, and was recognized as the leader of the constitutional party.

In 1887 Signor Crispi became President of the Council and Minister for Foreign Affairs. In 1891 his ministry was defeated. A year later he announced his intention to quit politics, and gave up the leadership of the Opposition. In 1894, however, the voice of his country called him into the arena again, when all was chaos and uncertainty. He fell eventually in 1896 through the disasters that overtook the Italian army.

Vigorous Womanhood

Made Perfect by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food—A Common Sense Treatment Which Does Exactly What is Claimed of It.

The happiness of every home depends very largely on the health of the wife and mother. If she is nervous, peevish and irritable, worried by the little cares of every day life, and tormented by pains and irregularities that are sure to accompany a rundown system, there can be no happiness in the home for husband and children.

Too many women are victims of nervous exhaustion, and do not know it. They suffer from indigestion dyspepsia, nervous headache and sleeplessness, and drag themselves about the house feeling languid and tired out. The slightest mishap causes them to worry, and they feel gloomy and despondent.

Some women seem to think this a part of women's existence. Not at all. You can be healthy and and vigorous if you follow the advice of Dr. Chase, the famous Receipt Book author. He would not deceive you, and his treatment never disappoints. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is intended for just such cases as are here described.

It is above all a common sense treatment, which is approved of by physicians and laymen alike. By supplying to the thin, watery blood and weak, exhausted nerves the very materials of which nature constructs new nerve cells and new bodily tissue it gradually and certainly reconstructs and revitalizes the weakened and debilitated nervous system, cures nervous headaches and dyspepsia, and permanently overcomes the weaknesses and irregularities from which women suffer so much.

Mrs. Chas. H. Jones, Pierceton, Que., writes:—

"For years I have been a great sufferer with my heart and nerves. I would take shaking spells and a dizzy, swimming feeling would come over me. Night after night I would never close my eyes, and my head would ache as though it would burst. At last I had to keep my bed, and though my doctor attended me from fall until spring, his medicine did not help me.

"I have now taken five boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and it has done me more good than I ever believed a medicine could do. Words fail to express my gratitude for the wonderful cure brought about by this treatment."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is immensely popular among women, because it restores them to perfect, vigorous womanhood, and does so by naturally and gradually toning up and invigorating the system, gently regulating the bowels, and strengthening the action of the heart. Fifty cents a box; six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or Edmanton, Bates & Company, Toronto.

CANADIAN APPLES.

Prof. Robertson on Their Growth and Shipping—Necessity of Honest Packing.

At the convention of the National Apple Shippers' Association, held in Toronto, Professor J. W. Robertson, Commissioner of Agriculture of the Dominion, gave a chatty address on certain features of apple-growing in Canada. He alluded to the fact that too many persons undertook to grow apples by intuition. Apple culture required special knowledge and training. Many of the ignorant resorted to books for their knowledge and purchased all sorts of varities of apples. He had been told of one man who had six hundred varieties on his farm. (Laughter.) He thought that from twelve to twenty varieties were all that should be grown in any particular district. They could then be grown to advantage, would speedily make a name and would secure a better market. Such a district would be from Owen Sound to Toronto, about 150 miles square. Canadians had been losing in the English markets by having too many varieties, and shippers could do a good deal of good by talking to the farmers and informing them what varieties were required. Too often the education of the grower was left to the college professor, whose plea it was to tell 150 varieties at sight and whose information was of no use to the grower in making money. So far as the length of service was concerned, most of the growers were only five or six year old boys, especially in regard to market requirements. The apple shipper should give exact information to these men. The shippers, too, should back up the work of the Government at the illustration stations, where the best ways were shown of growing, picking and packing fruit. An orchard placed under the care of a district association would serve the purpose of an illustration station.

DISHONEST PACKING.

The apple business in Canada suffered very severely from the faults of packing. "What a thundering set of rogues you must be in Canada," was once remarked to him in England in reference to facing the barrels at top and bottom with good apples and filling in with rubbish. He would like to see a similar development in the apple-packing business as had been witnessed of late in the pork-packing business, and which had resulted in an enormous increase of business. Practical skill on the part of the worker, and commercial talent on the part of the business man, would have the same results with the apple trade. The two special commandments should be: "Thou shalt deliver goods as they are represented to be," and "Thou shalt deliver them in the best possible condition." The question of transportation was one for the consideration of the shippers. In Canada we had an export trade of about a million barrels a year. Two or three things made or marred the profits of the shippers. He knew of a man who for four years packed the product of his own orchards and made $3.50 per barrel. If they sent the best of apples in the best possible condition, they would get in England the highest prices.

INFERIOR GOODS SLAUGHTERED.

Inferior goods were always slaughtered in the English markets, where they found in competition the products of so many places. In the case of poor goods, the Englishman could not be beaten for the ability to present an honest statement, showing the most charges for himself, and the least profits for the shipper. (Laughter.) The best way would be to sell right here. The English buyer or agent was the only match for the other English fellow on the other side. There was danger in consigning to men who were not regularly in the market. He instanced a case in point where a lot of butter sent over in cold storage was allowed to be left on the wharf for 48 hours. Delay in taking possession was often made in order to postpone drawing on a bank for the money. The Government of Canada were doing all in their power to protect shippers. They had four men in England whose duty it was to watch over delivery of Canadian products, with instructions to report all cases in which steamship companies or others did not do the right thing. The transport of apples was a difficult thing, owing to changes of temperature. A shipment might show a temperature of 35 on the cars while that at the wharf might be only 55. The cargo was reported as over ripe when packed. Apples should never go on board a ship unless the ship had a thorough system of ventilation. Most of the steamship lines from Montreal were supplying proper facilities in this way for apples.

COLD STORAGE ON SHIPBOARD.

Three lines had agreed to supply mechanical refrigeration, so as to cool the air to 50, and twenty-five ships had been fitted out in this manner. The four agents of the Government reported on every steamer from Canada, and after this month the reports as to their handling of apples would be published, a policy which would command good service. The Government had also shown their solicitude for the welfare of the business by passing the Fruit Marks Act, which came into operation on the 1st of July. By this act every person who packed fruit in a closed package intended for sale was compelled to brand it plainly, with his full name and address, the name of the variety, the designation of the grade of the fruit. Packages were not to be exposed for sale or sold unless so marked, and a penalty was imposed for false marking of packages or fraud in packing. Professor Mills, remarked Prof. Robertson, in his speech, professed to see a temptation in the penalty of $1 for packers to put in the barrels old boots. No doubt if the penalty had been twenty-five cents the professor would have conjured up a whole suit of clothes. (Loud laughter.) The penalty was severe enough for the object the Government had in view, and that was an educational one. No penalty would deter a man who was determined to practise fraud.

In answer to a question, Professor Robertson said, that owing to a scarcity of cars, the best arrangement that could be made with the railways was to have those used for the carriage of apples whitewashed, and the doors left open in summer to the extent of about three inches.

THE RAILWAYS AGREE

Intercolonial and C. P. R. Settle Their Differences.

MINISTER BLAIR'S GOOD WORK.

He Cancelled the Conservative Arrangement and Gave the Government Road the Benefit of the Long Haul—The C.P.R. Consequently Fought Him at the Polls, But Unsuccessfully.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—The trouble between the C. P. R. and I. C. R. over the transfer of westbound freight from the Maritime Provinces has been settled.

The old arrangement, made by the Conservative Government, transferred the freight at St. John, N. B., to the C. P. R., but Hon. A. G. Blair, when he became Minister, cancelled the arrangement and made Montreal the point of transfer in order to give the Intercolonial the benefit of the extra haul. The Canadian Pacific fought Hon. Mr. Blair's election at St. John last fall for doing this, and supported Hon. Geo. E. Foster, his opponent. The difference between the two roads seriously affected the Winter port business from St. John last winter, for the Canadian Pacific made no great effort to obtain cargoes for steamers, claiming there was no money in hauling cargoes east and then taking empty cars back again, while the I. C. R. was hauling all the westbound freight. The amount of the cargo shipped from St. John last winter was a third less than during the previous winter. But Mr. E. G. Russell, the Manager of the Intercolonial, said yesterday that without going into details all troubles have been adjusted. He said: "There is absolute harmony and co-operation now between the I. C. R. and C. P. R. There are now no friction points between the two lines. I don't think there is any road the C. P. R. officials have a better feeling for than the Intercolonial. This good feeling has been reached, too, without any disadvantage to the Intercolonial. Still matters have been satisfactorily adjusted. St. John is going to do a heavy shipping business this winter. Both the railways and the steamship companies are making preparations for it. The C. P. R. is enlarging its track room at West St. John in the vicinity of the wharves, and making preparations which indicate that it anticipates a heavy winter's work. The Intercolonial is also extending its yard and siding accommodation at St. John. These improvements will all be ready for winter. All along the line improvements are being made. These are important, but we are keeping within the appropriation, and at the same time getting the Intercolonial into thorough shape." It was reported a short time ago that a change in the management of the Intercolonial was likely, and it was stated that the office of General Superintendent J. E. Price was being dismantled. When questioned upon this matter Mr. Russell refused to give either confirmation or denial to the report that this office or the official was to be dispensed with.

TRADE STILL INCREASING.

Official Returns for July Show a Satisfactory Advance.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—The trade returns for the month of July were handed out yesterday. The imports and exports, reckoning Canadian produce only under the latter heading, were $27,204,741, an increase of $566,457 over July of last year. The exports of domestic lumber show an increase of $1,081,451, as compared with the first month of the last fiscal year. Foreign exports of agricultural products show an advance of $1,118,825. This is doubtless caused by the fact that outward-going vessels from Montreal have shipped a lot of American corn as ballast.

Newspaper Man Dead.

London, Aug. 13.—Mr. Edmund A. Hutchinson, lately connected with the editorial staff of The Canadian Planet, died in Victoria Hospital on Saturday about midnight, from the effects of lung trouble. Mr. Hutchinson was born in Meaford, over 37 years ago, being the youngest of 16 children of the late Rev. James Hutchinson, a clergyman of the Church of England. He was brought by his parents to St. Mary's, where he received his education. He worked as city editor and reporter in Toronto and St. Catharines before going to Chatham.

Coal Near Windsor.

Windsor, Aug. 13.—Windsor capitalists are excited over the discovery of soft coal above Walkerville. Reports of the Saginaw, Mich., Coal Mining Company have just completed an exploration of the land in the rear of Wolf's resort, and they say they found unmistakable traces of the fuel. The coal is said to be discernible on the surface, and it is thought to extend many feet into the earth. The land up to a few years ago was submerged under the waters of Lake St. Clair.

THE PACIFIC CABLE.

Second Reading Passes in the Imperial Commons.

THE GOVERNMENT DEFEATED.

Adverse Vote in the Commons—Factory Bill, Opposed by the Government Passed by the House, and the Administration Thus Yields to the Will of the People's Representatives.

London, Aug. 13.—The Government was defeated in the House of Commons last night in the course of a debate on the Factory bill. The House, supported by 163 to 141, a proposal, opposed by the Government, that textile factories should close at noon instead of 1 o'clock p. m., as now.

The Opposition and Irish members cheered wildly.

Mr. Ritchie, the Home Secretary, announced that the Government would accept the decision.

Timothy Healy, amid laughter, remarked that the Home Secretary had shown great resignation, but not the sort of resignation the House wanted.

The House passed the second reading of the Pacific cable bill by a vote of 183 to 59.

THE FINAL PROTOCOL.

Draft of the Settlement of the Chinese Difficulty.

Washington, Aug. 13.—The State Department has received a cablegram from Mr. Rockhill at Pekin, reporting that the draft of the final protocol has been agreed upon.

A tariff of 5 per cent. ad valorem, effective, will be put in force two months after the signing of the final protocol, excepting on goods shipped within ten days after signing, and will continue until the conversion to specific rates has been effected by the expert commission. The Chinese free list will include rice, bullion cereals and flour, gold and silver bullion and coin.

Woman Drowned at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—Another river mystery has turned up in Ottawa. Yesterday the partially-dressed body of a woman was found in the Ottawa River, and later in the day it was identified as that of Mrs. Hector F. St. George, of 42 Baird street, the wife of a bricklayer. The woman's husband says he left his home on Sunday morning at 5 o'clock to go fishing, and that his wife was then in bed. When he returned Sunday night she was not at home, nor did she return on Monday. He says he did not think anything unusual about this as, he says, his wife was in the habit of staying away from home, and when she was absent yesterday he concluded she was with relatives. An inquest will be held.

Suicide Was the Verdict.

Toronto, Aug. 13.—"We find that William Jones came to his death by taking a dose of carbolic acid, and that said acid was taken with suicidal intent." Such was the conclusion that was come to last night by the jury which investigated the East End tragedy of Sunday. The medical evidence pointed strongly to suicide, and showed the deceased might have died at any moment from a complication of diseases. It was explained that the wounds on the head were merely scalp wounds, and did not penetrate the skull, though, to the uninitiated or upon a cursory examination, they might have appeared as bullet wounds.

An Ontario Man Killed.

Belvidere, Ill., Aug. 13. — Norman E. Smith, a fireman, lost his life by the explosion of a boiler of a Chicago & Northwestern engine at Sycamore on Sunday. Word was sent to his bride of four weeks in this city, and special train was made up to take her to the scene of the accident. The young woman fainted at her husband's bedside, and all efforts have failed to resuscitate her. It is feared she will not recover. Smith's mother, who lives at Mount Forest, Ont., has been summoned.

Three Men Drowned.

Prescott, Aug. 13.—James Whitney, machinist; Ezra Lane, town clerk, and Charles White, a barber, were drowned yesterday morning in the Galops Rapids, four miles east of here, by their yacht capsizing. The bodies have not yet been recovered. They were running the rapids and the yacht was dashed into the first and heavy swell, and immediately disappeared. Mr. Whitney leaves a widow and four daughters, and Mr. White leaves a widow and eight children.

Killed By a Train.

Berlin, Aug. 13.—A fatal accident occurred between here and Petersburg Sunday evening, when a young girl from Waterloo by the name of Meyer, about 12 years of age, was killed, while she was crossing the track on her way home.

GAINS FOR STRIKERS

They Claim New Adherents at McKeesport and Bellaire.

THE PROSPECTS ARE BRIGHT.

So Said President Shaffer When Speaking of the Situation—Only 14,000 Men Obeyed the Strike Order, and Accordingly the Steel Trust Has Rather the Best of It So Far.

Pittsburg, Aug. 13.—The strikers made gains yesterday, at McKeesport and Bellaire, and regard the situation as more favorable to them than Sunday. At the former place they won the National Rolling Mill of the National Tube Company. The men of the Boston Rolling Mill had already joined the strike, but the impression had been created that the National would not go out. The Tube Works at McKeesport were started as usual yesterday, but it is not clear how long they can be kept going.

14,000 OBEYED ORDER.

There Are Now 60,000 of the Steel Trusts Men Out.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 13.—The struggle for mastery between the manufacturers and men in the steel industry is now fairly launched, and on the first show of strength, the advantage is with the former. The general strike order issued by President Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association has so far been obeyed by only about 14,000 men, according to the best figures obtainable here. The first two preliminary calls were answered by about 45,000 men, so that the total number now out is in the neighborhood of 60,000.

President Shaffer made a brief statement yesterday, saying:

"We have no official information about the situation in the West. I do not believe Vice-President Davis of Chicago has accepted a superintendency from the Trust, as reported. My only regret is that some men working in the slave pens at the Trust had not spirit enough to come out and join the strikers. I will not take any part in calling out the American Federation of Labor. Its action must be voluntary. The Amalgamated has not lost anything, but has made gains."

Boys Force Men to Quit.

Two hundred and fifty butt welding helpers came out last night and crippled the great butt welding department of the National Tube Works at McKeesport. The strikers are nearly all boys under 18, and comprise half of the force of helpers in this department. Fully 2,000 men will be forced to quit work, and the entire department, consisting of 4,800, is expected to be idle. The boys came out against the wishes of the Amalgamated officials. The young fellows are turbulent, and it was their strike that began the great strike and riots of 1894.

PEACE MOOTED.

Understood That C.P.R. Board Dealt With the Strike Question and That It Will Be Ended Soon.

Montreal, Aug. 13.—On account of the monthly meeting there was no conference yesterday between the Canadian Pacific executive officers and the representatives of the strikers, but it is understood that the board dealt with the question. There seems to be little doubt that a settlement will be reached in a few days.

Mr. McNichol Saw No Strike.

Montreal, Aug. 13. — "Settlers are simply pouring in to an unprecedented number; the harvest is progressing, and things are most prosperous out west. That is about the best news I can give you," said Mr. D. McNicoll, second vice-president and general manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who arrived by the Imperial Limited at 2.10 yesterday afternoon.

"And how about the trackmen's strike?" he was asked.

"We saw nothing of the strike. You seem to hear more of it here than they do out West."

Verdict of the Jury.

Owen Sound, Aug. 13.—No change is reported in the condition of the two injured railway men at the hospital.

Coroner Gordon could not go to Proton yesterday morning to hold the inquest. Dr. Cameron went on behalf of the company, and another coroner was obtained in that part of the country.

The verdict of the jury was given late at night. It censured the C.P.R. for laxity in guarding the road-bed. The blame for the fatality was placed on the railway.

Sympathy to Strikers.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 13.—The 47th annual convention of the International Typographical Union met in this city yesterday. The sympathy and moral support of the union was extended to the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Tin and Steel Workers in their difficulty with the United States Steel Corporation by a rising vote. The convention then adjourned for the day.

Household Help Needed Out West.

Toronto, Aug. 13. — Mr. Hartney, the Manitoba agent in Toranto, estimates that by the end of this week from 12,000 to 14,000 harvesters will have gone to the Northwest. Reports received by him are to the effect that danger from frost is regarded as over. He calculates that 50,000,000 bushels is a conservative estimate of the crop. About 300 women have gone on the harvesters' excursions. There is a great demand for household help.

BLACKSMITH'S BACKACHE,

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets Cure This Serious Trouble.

There is hardly a blacksmith in Canada who does not know what backache means—the stabbing pain, the sore, lame, stiff back that makes work misery.

Mr. Thos. Leonard, the well-known blacksmith of Port Hope, was troubled as thousands are, and gladly tells of his cure in the following words:—"My life work as a blacksmith has been a hard one, and my back and kidneys bothered me for a long time. I have tried many med cines without relief, until I got a box of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets from R. Deyell, the druggist. Since then I have had comfort, and am able to work with ease. I am sure those who use your medicine for backache, kidney, blader or liver troubles, will never regret it. They are so easy to take, and yet work so well."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets cure so well that you'd be wasting money to experiment with anything else. Price 50 cents a box, at all druggists. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

Evidently Suicide.

Goderich, Aug. 13.—The body of Miss Mary McCarthy was found Sunday on the beach, about two miles from the harbor. It is evident that she drowned herself a week ago yesterday. She left home on the 4th inst., and the body shows signs of having been in the water several days. She left no message, but was probably insane.

Man in Woman's Garb Arrested.

Watertown, N. Y., Aug. 13. —Attired in the complete garb of a woman, Thomas Carson, aged 18, of Kingston, Ont., arrived in this city yesterday morning. His actions excited suspicion, and he was arrested. On his person was found $200 worth of jewels, the property of his sister, who lives in Kingston.

The Bad is All Out.

To be sure you can't take the bad out of everything. But you can out of some things at any rate. Take cod liver oil for instance with its disagreeable odor and taste; in Scott's Emulsion all the bad has been taken out, and you have just the oil without anything disagreeable. It is called "Cod Liver Oil made easy."

FAVORS WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

Hon. Mr. Mulock Says It Is a Great Boon to Humanity.

London, Aug. 13. — Hon. Mr. Mulock was a passenger aboard the Lucania on the last trip, during which Marconi's wireless telegraph was effectively used. Mr. Mulock said: "I think wireless telegraphy will prove of tremendous value to commerce. Canada is determined to utilize its advantages on the entire coast and the Gulf and River St. Lawrence. In case of steamships that are disabled, when supplied with wireless telegraphy, they would soon be able to bring assistance. Then, on the dangerous coast, the system would be valuable to warn away ships coming too close to destruction. Altogether wireless telegraphy is a great boon to humanity."

Not Shot as Reported.

London, Aug. 13. — Lord Kitchener has cabled a confirmation of the report of the release of the peace envoy, Andries Wessels, who was said to have been shot. Wessels was a prisoner in General Cellier's laager, near Kaalfontein, which the British recently surprised and captured.

Choked to Death.

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 13.—John Fitzsimmons, a laborer, met a terrible death at Brookfield, Colchester County, yesterday while eating his dinner. A piece of meat lodged in his throat, and all efforts to get it out failed. He died in 15 minutes in awful agony.

Acute and Chronic Rheumatism are equally influenced by the almost magical pain-subduing power of Polson's Nerviline, equal in medicinal value to five times the quantity of any other rheumatic remedy. Nerviline cures because it reaches the source of the disease and drives it out of the system. Nerviline is an unusually good rheumatic cure, and makes many unusual cures. Just rub it in the next time you have an attack. The immediate result will surprise you. 25c.

Their Difference.

One day when he was in Cambridge the late Bishop Mandell Creighton was asked if he could state the difference between an Oxford man and a Cambridge man.

The professor, as he then was, immediately replied, "An Oxford man looks as if the world belonged to him, a Cambridge man as if he didn't care to whom the world belonged."

Earthquake in Alaska.

Victoria, B.C., Aug 13. — Bayne Reed, superintendent of the Victoria Meteorological Office, reports that in all probability news will be shortly received of very serious earthquakes occurring in the Alaskan region on the morning of Friday, Aug. 9.

The seismograph, or earthquake instrument, which is part of the equipment of the office, and which was installed here by Prof. R. F. Stupart in July, 1898, gives very clear details of these shocks and the photographic records show the disturbances to have been the heaviest registered as yet in this office.

The Cause of Hay Fever.

It's a microbe that floats in the air, gets into the throat and the lungs, developes rapidly, excites inflammation, etc. The cause is as simple as a thistle in the finger. Extract the thistle, away goes the pain. Destroy the Hay Fever germ—you get well. That's why Catarrhozone acts so marvellously in Hay Fever. Its fragrant vapor to you brings cure, but to the microbe death. Catarrhozone is as quick to act on these microscopic organisms as lightning. Prevents as well as cures, and is always successful. Druggists, 25c. and $1.00, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

BEDS OF ALL EPOCHS.

The Couches of Various Ages and Nationalities.

As the Eskimo sleeps on moss and skins, even wealthy ancient Romans were content to repose on leaves and straw. Ere long they improved on hints taken from conquered nations, filled beds with delicate down, or stuffed them with the finest wool, till they obtained the highest pitch of luxury in the appointment of their couches, says Chambers' Journal.

Richly carved wooden frames inlaid with ivory or silver, and finally with gold, sustained cushions, pillows and counterpanes of gold and purple—a striking contrast to the flock-filled trusses of their plebeian brethren. The old Greeks used beds supported on iron frames, while the Egyptians had couches shaped more like easy chairs with hollow backs and seats.

Climatic considerations must be taken into account by different nations in their bed-making arrangements. The Russian day and night hug sheepskins around him, and the Pacific islander finds in palm leaves a sufficient coverlet. In the tropics mats of grass answer for the same purpose.

The East Indian unrolls his portable mattress, and the morning literally takes up his bed and walks off with it. The Chinese use low bedsteads, often well carved, while the Jap, with his uncomfortable wooden rest for his neck, stretches himself on a matting, and has a lighted paper lantern for company.

German beds are furnished with a huge pillow or upper mattress, which answers the purpose of ordinary bed clothing. Travelers agree that there is not enough to the continental bed—that, in fact, it ends too quickly.

Europeans living in the east soon become acquainted with the slender iron bedsteads with tall iron rods, designed to support the mosquito netting which seldom really answers its purpose.

On view in one of the early London exhibitions was a Chinese bed ornamented with all sorts of curious and elaborate cabinet work, the greater part of which consisted of inlaid mother-of-pearl. How useless and extravagant ornaments may be heaped upon a single domestic article was proved by the grand bedstead exhibited in the Austrian department.

The enormity of its bedpost, of which there appeared to be at least a dozen, rising in spires of different heights, with the high relief of the carving, and the massive magnificence of the whole design, and the finish of the carving in all its parts, made this bed appear not unlike a great model of a Gothic cathedral.

Some of our very wealthy American cousins appear to be puzzled in what new form to lavish their money. A brass bedstead inlaid with real pearls was recently made for a lady living in New York. On a brass rail which runs across the top the owner's name is wrought in pearls. Still more of a curiosity is the "Silent Alarum Bedstead, to turn anyone out of bed at a given hour," the production of an inventive genious in London some years ago.

Useful Cement.

A useful cement for mending earthen or stone jars, stopping leaks in the seams of tin pans or iron kettles or tightening loose joints of iron or wood is made by mixing litharge and glycerin to a thick cream. This will resist acids, heat and cold if the article is not used until the cement has hardened.

SIXTEEN STAGES OF THE SLATER SHOE

No better object lesson can be found to teach how thoroughly a thing may be done when the object is to have it well done, than the exhibit in our south window, of the progressive

16 Stages of the Slater Shoe.

Here one sees the successive several operations from the skin of leather to the finished shoe. It shows the building up of the shoe, its gradual and symmetrical progress, the thorough work, the minute attention to detail, the determination of the manufacturers to produce the best of shoes—the Slater Shoe. There is no skimping of detail, no lack of fitting and finishing, of accurate, systematic work that results in the perfect shoe.

We sell the Slater Shoe. Any up-to-date dealer does. But in addition—for Slater Shoes are only a part of our selling—we have hundreds of excellent and reliable shoes. The variety is not so wide, that sizes so numerous, the differences in shape so important, for there is as much difference in feet as in faces, and we have to carry an ample stock to meet the requirements of all. Nothing that a good shoe store should have is lacking. But where the average dealer stocks fifty pair we stock five hundred. Just a few lines to suggest to men a nice shoe that will be comfortable, shapely, dressy and reliable:

Men's Dong. Oxford Shoes, machine sewed,	1.50	Men's Camping and Boating Lace Balmorals	.85
Men's Dong. Chocolate Kid Bals., an up-to-date shoe in every respect	2.50	Men's Lacrosse Shoes	.55
Men's Dong. Kid Congress, Goodyear Welt,	3.00	Boys' Lacrosse Shoes	.50
		Youths' Lacrosse Shoes	.40
		Children's Lacrosse Shoes	.55

Just a mention of Ladies' Shoes. The stock is ample, the variety more than great, and the prices most reasonable.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—A large excursion from Cobourg to Stony Lake passed through town to-day.

—There is a Canadian summer resort called the "Hog's Back." It is not near Toronto, but on the Rideau, near Ottawa.

—An excursion from Campbellford, under the auspices of the Methodist and Presbyterian Sunday schools, will pass through town to-morrow on its way to Stony Lake.

—Lindsay is struggling with the light bread problem. Local bakers claim that they must be allowed to decrease the weight of their loaves to meet the competition of light weight bread imported from Toronto.

—Mr. Samuel Taylor, of Ashburnham, has brought to the Examiner office a sweet pea which he claims will be hard to beat. On the one stem the sweet pea has no less than seven flowers. This is certainly a remarkable growth.

—Among the callers at the Parliament buildings, Toronto, yesterday, was Mr. Samuel Russell, M.P.P. for East Hastings. Mr. Russell reports gratifying activity in mines in Hastings, and especially at the Belmont and Cordova gold mines.

DROWNING AT STONY LAKE.

An Orangeville Gentleman Drowned the First Day of His Visit:—Yesterday.

A drowning accident took place near Julian's Landing, Stony Lake, last night, of which the victim was a gentleman named Wilcox. There is no doubt of the accident, but as our informant left the lakes early this morning details as to the identify of the drowned man are lacking. It appears that — Wilcox, of Orangeville, went up the lakes yesterday morning, en route to the Crown Corundum and Mica Mines in the Blue Mountains, of which his uncle is president. The foreman of the mines came down to meet Mr. Wilcox. After spending the day on the lake — at "Viamede" and Julian's Landing — a local man named Booth was engaged to paddle Wilcox and the mines foreman, whose name could not be ascertained, up the lake, as near the mines as water conveyance could carry them. The party started from Julian's about six o'clock in the evening, and had not got more than two hundred feet from the shore when the canoe upset throwing the occupants into the water. The steamer Empress, Capt Reynolds, was close at hand taking wood, and as quickly as possible she was loosed from her moorings and steamed up to the scene of the accident. Apparently all three of the men could swim. As the steamer neared the struggling group, Wilcox and the mines foreman disappeared, but Booth called out to those on the steamer "never mind me; I can swim ashore." However, a line was thrown him and he was brought aboard, in so exhausted a condition that Capt. Reynolds thinks another fifteen or twenty seconds would have finished him. The mines foreman, who had sunken, was fished up from the bottom with a pike pole, his face purple in an advanced stage of asphyxiation, but he soon recovered. Wilcox, as the other man was supposed to be, could not be located, and up to the date our informant left the lakes this morning, the body had not been recovered, the efforts made last night to that end having been unsuccessful.

PERHAPS ANOTHER FACTORY.

Representatives of the Big Shoe Trust to Visit Town—Want a Site.

Messrs. Alexander McPherson, of Brookline, Mass., and Fred Morris, of Lynn, Mass., will arrive in town this evening on important business. Mr. McPherson, is the mechanical expert of the shoe and leather trust of the United States, and is here looking for a desirable site to locate a factory for the manufacture of their high grade shoes.

It was Mr. McPherson that laid out Killierd's preserving factory at Dundee, Scotland, and is considered one of the greatest mechanical experts in the country.

Mr. Fred Morris, who accompanies Mr. McPherson, is the financial agent of the Shoe Trust. They are both friends of Mr. George Gowland, of town, by whom they will be introduced to the Mayor, and afterwards shown about the town. They will go from Peterborough to Owen Sound and Wiarton.

SANCTUM FAVOURS.

Tall Corn Supplanted by Big Dahlias and Brobdignagian Potatoes.

The Examiner has to thank Mr. Benjamin Cooney, gardner of Victoria Park, for a beautiful trophy of superb dahlias, some of which measure 4 1-2 inches in diameter. They were grown on Mr. Cooney's private grounds, and their exceptional excellence is perhaps due to the floricultural skill of Mrs. Cooney.

Messrs. Stothart Bros. kindly remembered the Examiner this morning by leaving a generous sample of super-excellent potatoes, a new variety, the seed of which was brought last spring from Haliburton. One peculiarity of this variety as grown by Messrs. Stothart Bros., in addition to the great size of the potatoes, is the fact that there are no small potatoes in the well filled hills.

TO-DAY'S VOTE.

Considerable interest is being taken in the Cordage Company bylaw, which is being voted on to-day, particularly by friends of the company, and from present indications it will be carried by a large majority. At two o'clock this afternoon there had been 29 votes recorded at the Town Council Chamber, and it is thought that at least 27 of these are favourable to the proposed exemption. It is estimated that at this division there will not be more than 60 votes polled.

DON'T DELAY,

Get Your Tickets Early From Committee and Avoid a Disappointment.

The Oddfellows have chartered train and boat for their excursion Civic Holiday and can assure their patrons the most enjoyable trip of the day. Good music provided for the whole trip and a pleasant day is in store for the two hundred who go. Tickets may be had from S. C. Parks at Gough Bros. store. AFTER 16 YEARS

Mr. Walter Nesbitt an old Peterborough Boy Pays a Visit to Canada.

Mr. Walter Nesbitt, of Florida, is in Peterborough, for a few days accompanied by his wife. Mr. Nesbitt is an old Peterborough boy having been born and brought up here. About 16 years ago, owing to ill health he was obliged to move to Florida, and his letters to the local papers for some years subsequent to his removal to the south will be remembered by many. Mr. Nesbitt went into the horticultural business in which he was very successful, but at the time of the great frost some years ago down south his business was frozen out. He is now engaged in mercantile pursuits. While Mr. Nesbitt has prospered in Uncle Sam's domains, still he always cherishes a fondness for his own country. As before stated it is about 16 years since he was in Peterborough and he now finds many changes. Faces are srtange to him and the whole appearance of Peterborough is new to him.

The following guests have arrived at Jubilee Point, and have had excellent fishing. The fishing in the river and lake this last week has been better than for a long time. There were 71 maskinonge and 305 bass caught between campers and others. Edg Hartley caught his limited number of lunge in an hour's trawling one morning. RIVER AND LAKE NOTES.

There is a picnic from Roseneath to Idyl Wild on the 20th inst.

The Keene Recreation Club intend holding another moonlight to Idyl Wild about the first quarter of the moon.

The Roseneath Foresters run an excursion to Peterborough on Saturday, Aug. 24th, when their baseball team will do battle with the Matthews' packing house team. There will be a large crowd come up with them on the City of Peterborough.

The Coldsprings people will run their annual Sunday school excursion on Wednesday, the 28th of August, to Jubilee Point. This is always a good picnic. It starts from the town wharf by City of Peterborough.

FEES INCREASED.

Provincial Secretary's Revenue Ahead of 1900 by $15,000.

The returns of the fees collected in the Provincial Secretary's office again show a large increase for the month just closed. The fees in this department come largely from new companies incorporated and from licensed extra-Provincial companies, while marriage license fees also provide a small revenue. The total for the seven months of the year, so far, is $59,333, compared with $44,023 for the corresponding period last year. How the fees have increased is shown by the following figures for the whole twelve months, of each of the past five years: 1896, $18,847; 1897, $39,286; 1898, $28,520; 1899, $67,851; 1900, $76,997.

	1900.	1901.
January	$6,986	$10,013
February	5,615	10,,767
March	6,267	7,257
April	5,498	8,931
May	8,598	8,029
June	5,923	6,274
July	5,245	8,042
	$44,032	$59,333

VICTORIA PARK.

Who is Responsible for its Proper Protection—Necessity of Having This Responsibility Fixed.

The manner in which Victoria Park is administered, is no credit to whomever is responsible for its proper care and in the public interest some means should be adopted to discover who is really responsible.

The town authorities, it is understood, claim that they have no responsibility in respect of the care of the park — that their responsibility ends with the annual grant to the Horticultural Society. The latter, it is also understood, take the position that they are only responsible for the care of the lawns and flower plots of the park, and that it is the duty of the town authorities to protect the park from such outrages as have been recently noted. This is an unfortunate state of affairs, and illustrates the spirit of the proverb that what is everybody's business is nobody's business; the consequence is, there is nobody to take action to prosecute or punish misdemeanours that destroy the attractiveness of the park, and its desirability as a place of resort. Would it not be well under the circumstances to get from the Town Solicitor a legal opinion as to the exact position of Victoria Park in relation to the Horticultural Society, the town authorities, and the county, all three of which are interested in some way the public do no understand? This opinion would fix the responsibility, and then there would be some solid grounds upon which to base action for the proper protection of the park, and the public would know upon whom to visit condemnation in case of neglect of duty. And there is reformation required in many particulars. There is no proper lighting of the park at night. The only light is an electric lamp placed in the band pavilion, and it is asserted that that is only lighted on band nights. The street lamps on the surrounding streets are practically useless for lighting the park, owing to the dense shadows cast by the thick foliage of the trees. For this reason it is not safe, or even pleasant if it were safe, for a lady without escort to cross the park, or even the east side of Water street, for on the pavement ladies have been frequently molested by rude and disorderly persons. Wherever may be the responsibility in respect of prosecutions, there does not seem to be any grounds for doubt that the town is responsible for the proper lighting of the park, and the committee charged with the public lighting of the town are not quite free from blame in regard to this matter.

Regarding the charge that the police are not in evidence in the park on band nights, the Chief asserts his belief that there has not been a night when the band played in the park that a member of the police force has not been on duty there, and he points out, quite reasonably, that in the matter of disorderly conduct in the parks at nights, and even by day, it is the duty of the public to assist the police. The latter cannot cover every part of the town, and therefore must depend upon the law abiding for hints as to depredations committed. The Chief says he sometimes hears vague rumours of disorderly conduct in Victoria Park, but without sufficient definiteness to warrant taking action. If persons who see, or know of such conduct would quietly report the matter to the police, giving the names or descriptions of the guilty parties, and of witnesses who could assist in proving the offence, their effective prosecution could, and would, be undertaken by the police. The supineness of the authorities in regard to the protection of the park, makes it all the more incumbent upon the citizens to do their share in lessening the evils resulting from neglected duty.

MR. McMARTIN'S TROUBLES.

He Was Charged with Assaulting His Wife and Daughter.

James McMartin of Otonabee, was in a very repentant mood this morning, when he appeared before County Police Magistrate Edmison charged with assaulting his wife and daughter.

McMartin pleaded guilty, admitted that his domestic unhappiness was due to drink, and that he alone was to blame for all their trouble. However he promised to do better, to quit the use of intoxicating liquor, and to never use violence towards his wife or daughter again. He was required to give good and sufficient bonds to the court that he will live up to his promises.

SECESSION NOTES.

The rumour is afloat that the north ward of Ashburnham proposes seceding from the south ward and establishing a separate municipality. The northenders while not denying the report say that they did not originate the rumour for the selfishness of the southenders has not afforded them enough water to float a rumour.

The northenders declare that if the bylaw restraining hogs from running at large were strictly enforced a large number of the southenders would be in pound.

A thirsty northender has discovered a new ground or view of grievance. He says the selfishness of the southenders, not satisfied with having a cinch on the brewery, must even deprive the citizens of "Hutville" of the blessings of water.

Lindsay Post.

A meeting of the cheese board was held this morning at 10 o'clock in the old council chamber. There was a good attendance of salesmen and other parties interested in cheesemaking.

The buyers present were Messrs. Whitton, Fitzgerald, Kerr, Bailey and Flavelle.

Star	100
Lorneville	26
Cameron	105
Dunsford	144
Mariposa	110
Janetville	75
Omemee	142
Fenelon Falls	117

North Ops	94
Ping Grove	65
Reaboro	153
Bobcaygeon	185
Maple Leaf	120

	1779

Mr. Whitton started the ball rolling by offering 9c., Mr. Flavelle called 9 1-8c., Mr. Kerr raised to 9 1-4c., Mr. Fitzgerald went 9 3-8c., but Mr. Flavelle was after cheese and raised it to 9 1-2c, and as his opponents had gone their limit he cleared the board at the figure named. The offer satisfied all the salesmen.

BASEBALL.

The Market Nines were defeated last night by the Kruger II team by a score of 9 to 8, after a very exciting game.

LACROSSE.

The proper way to announce a lacrosse match is, the Toronto Star thinks, to say that "the teams will collide."

YACHTING.

The Invader, the Canadian yacht, walked away with the Detroit punt, the Cadillac, in the second race at Chicago.

Shamrock II. has arrived at New York, and yachtsmen will find her the centre of interest for some time to come. Lipton is a thorough sportsman, and while there is a good deal of pessimism as to what his new boat can do, it is to be noticed that the United States yachtsmen are not taking any chances of her being slower than her predecessor. Lipton is not given to boasting, and they fear a surprise. He will do his best, anyway.

TENNIS.

It is understood that the Millbrook and Peterborough Tennis Clubs will play each other next week.

The Lindsay Tennis Team defeated the Millbrook team last week by the following scores:

Singles — Kennedy, L., beat Medd, M., 6-2, 6-3; Kylie, L., beat Dr Needler, M., 7-5, 5-7, 6-3; Williamson, L. beat W. T. Wood, M., 7-5, 6-4; C. Needler, M., beat O'Connor, L., 6-2, 6-4.

Doubles — Kennedy and O'Connor, L., beat Meede and Needler, M., 10-8, 9-7, Kylie and Williamson, L., beat Dr. Needler and W. T. Wood, M., 6-2, 4-6, 6-3.

Lindsay rejoices greatly over beating Millbrook in a tennis bout by a score of 5 to 1.

BLUNDERS IN FICTION.

The Queer Mistakes That Are Sometimes Made by Authors.

We smile as we read and pass swiftly by the stories of maidens that wander in "lonely woods" at unearthly hours of night, always clad in "a soft, white clinging gown." Now, every girl knows that the average maiden is too much afraid of tramps and snakes to wander in "lonely woods." The weather, too, appears to perplex our novelists, for not infrequently they begin a chapter at dawn, there are a few moments' conversation, and then the "sun sets in lurid banks behind the distant empurpled mountains."

I am reminded at the outset of an English story written by an author of repute where the heroine in one scene was made on one page to stoop down and tie her shoestring, while three pages farther on, directly following, it was said of the same girl that she had remained barefooted the entire day. In another story a blind woman is made to view the hero through spectacles before the tale is ended.

In a French novel—and we generally consider French such literary masters—a heroine is clearly made to go direct from her bed to the breakfast table, out shopping, to an afternoon tea and to dinner in her robe de nuit! Cousins suddenly transformed into brothers without a moment's warning are numerous in this detective's library. Thus one is amused to find the most marvelous mistakes in books which we think we have carefully read.

Golf in the Old Days.

Centuries back golf was a pastime of the royal family, though then usually played in Scotland. The Stuart family was very fond of the game, and the first English club was established at Blackheath in 1608 by James I. His eldest son, Henry, frequently played and on one occasion nearly struck by accident his tutor with a club, whereupon he coolly remarked, "Had I done so I had but paid my debts." Charles I was playing golf when he received the news of the Irish rebellion. James, duke of York, afterward James II, was another ardent player. Golf is frequently mentioned in ancient Scottish records and in the fifteenth century was prohibited because it interfered with the practice of archery. Strutt considered it the most ancient game at ball requiring a bat.—London Chronicle.

The Squirrel Hunter's Weapon.

The cream of squirrel hunting is enjoyed by the man who uses a light rifle of small caliber and medium power. The ".22 long" as now turned out by our leading makers is an excellent weapon—in fact, the best in the world for the purpose. Though not of sufficient range to be dangerous to people or stock at a distance, it throws lead with surprising accuracy to the tops of the tallest trees. Good rifle shots always aim for the squirrel's head both to add to the difficulty of the sport and to avoid spoiling meat. And be it known that a squirrel's head at a range of 40 or 50 yards is no easy mark. If a reader doubts this, let him go to the woods for a day, keep all empty shells, and at the end of the day let him try to make the dead squirrels and the empty shells tally.—R. W. Sandys in Outing.

Cold Creams.

In preparing creams or lotions it must be remembered that the formula should be followed exactly if certain results are expected.

Fats or oils should be melted over a slow fire by the least possible heat and in a double boiler preferably. The method as given of adding the other ingredients should be closely adhered to. Tinctures and extracts are invariably added at the last, when the mixture has slightly cooled, and drop by drop, or at least very slowly.

Glycerin, properly used, is an invaluable cosmetic. It whitens, softens and dissolves coloring matter when carefully combined with other agents, such as rose, elder flower or orange water. It is very injurious used in concentrated form, as it burns, parches and yellows the skin.

Fats are the basis of all cold creams. Wax and spermaceti are often added to give requisite firmness, but possess no intrinsic value. They are inclined to clog the pores. Perfumes, aside from being agreeable additions, possess antiseptic qualities and prevent oils from becoming rancid.—Stella Stuart in Ledger Monthly.

Vienna's Curious Law.

They have curious laws in Vienna and enforce them too. Marie Friedl and Felix, aged 15 and 13 years respectively, were walking along a street in the Austrian capital when they came across an old woman staggering along under the weight of a heavy package. Moved by pity, they offered to carry it for the old woman, a proposition to which she readily acceded. The kind hearted children had not gone far before they were arrested by a policeman for carrying parcels without a license. The children were taken to a police station, where the officer in charge lectured them upon the enormity of the offense. They were kept under arrest for six hours and then released with a warning.

It seems that there is a corps of "messengers' in Vienna, to which a municipal statute grants the exclusive right of "carrying" inside the city. The boy and girl had violated the law by carrying the old woman's burden, and under such an interpretation of the statute a man who carries a package for a woman with whom he is walking may be "run in" by the first policeman who sees him.—New York Press.

Women of Today.

What is there that the modern woman does not do excepting household work? She is a physician, a surgeon, a trained nurse and does not shrink from going to the front in the tumult of war. She is a farmer, a stock raiser, an expert in cattle and horseflesh. She is a stenographer, an expert bookkeeper. She keeps store, conducts and owns hotels. She is a dentist, a hairdresser, a barber.

She still holds her own trade of dressmaking and millinery, although man has gone into these formerly exclusively feminine fields and, moreover, has competed with her and "beaten her all hollow" at cookery.

The piano, the violin, "culture," business and "aspirations" have done sad work with woman as a cook, and in spite of the lectures and also the schools and all the practical demonstrations it is to be doubted whether woman is doing very much to retrieve her lost ground in the kitchen.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Alive, Yet Ea't Dead.

Feeling miserable. This is the condition of thousands of growing girls and women. Can't eat enough to be ruly alive. Digest so little of what they do eat as to scarcely know what life really is. Miserable, of course. Eat more, digest more, then feel streaming through life's renewed current, the buoyancy, the strength, the hopefulness of youth. Simply done if you'll just take Ferrozone, the wonderful blood maker, nerve strength, and brain vigour. Messrs. Ormond & Walsh, druggists, know all about it. Call and ask them about it.

Turkish Women Boating.

One of the few amusements of which Turkish women may avail themselves in summer is the boating on the Sweet Waters of Europe and Asia on Fridays and Saturdays. These two rivers are crowded in fine weather with graceful caiques, which carry only two pleasure seekers and require a special boatman. It is a brilliant sight, for the oarsmen appear in white costumes, with silk or satin zouave jackets embroidered in gold and silver. Since the dress of the women permits little variety of color, they give vent to their love of brilliant hues in the parasols which they carry even after sunset. Only two of the caiques now retain the traditional furnishings of a carpet or piece of embroidery training in the water on both sides of the boat.

LONDON'S VAST MILLIONS.

Vindicates Anew Its Title as the World's Metropolis.

HOUSES FOR WORKING POOR

Statistics issued by the County Council show that during the past year London has proportionately grown in area and population. During the year 23 miles of new streets were sanctioned, and the statement is made that the ultimate population coming under the Council's jurisdiction will be 7,096,400. Now it is 4,700,000. In the fire department, which is probably the most behindhand of the metropolitan works, $1,000,000 was expended. To drain London necessitated an expenditure of over $1,000,000. Now the drains are too small and the gigantic scheme to provide new sewers for old, will involve a cost of close upon $15,000,000.

London's parks and open spaces, with an average of 3,809, necessitating a staff of 769 persons, cost $572,575 to maintain. Ten years ago the cost was only $263,755, but them there were only 41 parks and open spaces.

Houses for the Poor.

With the growth of the city, the problem of finding homes for the poorer dwellers therein becomes monthly, and even daily, more serious, though, in the report of the County Council, a scheme is outlined which should meet the difficulty. This scheme is for the erection of huge blocks of model dwellings on the tenement plan, on available open ground five or six miles without the city bounds. Here a workman will be able to house himself and his family at a cost of $2 a week. To meet the transportation question electric cars will be run and all tenants of the County Council will have free tickets on these cars. In this way it is hoped the most serious difficulty of the municipal authorities for many years will be finally overcome.

New Breathing Fad.

An enterprising woman in Kensington, the aristocratic suburb of London, with an eye to novelty as well as business, had inaugurated a new fad, which is fast developing into a fashionable ladies' craze. It is a new form of physical culture. Last year it was fencing, which took all the spare time of ladies devoted to society. This year the "breathing cure" seems to be destined to monopolize their attention.

She says we breathe all wrong! Anyone who has gone through a course of ten lessons will tell you how utterly misguided the most simple action of our daily life is! Of course there are people who must scoff and jeer at every new thing, but when they see their stout friends becoming slim, their thin sisters filling out and becoming plump, delicate people made strong, curved spines and round backs growing straight, and the slouching girl transformed into a graceful and elegant damsel, they are apt to inquire how these changes can possibly have been brought about. It is all very simple after you have mastered the method, which can be learned in a few lessons at prices from $15 a course upward, private lessons, of course, being more expensive. Here is a description given by a lady who has just emerged successfully from the cure:

The Method.

"Having dispensed with your stays," she said, "you attire yourself in black satin knickerbockers and a loose skirt, and either alone or in company with several other ladies of varying ages and degrees of physical degeneration, place your hands on your hips, throwing your shoulders well back, and draw a great, deep breath which expands your lungs and imparts strength to the muscles of your body.

"Of course, each case has to be treated differently, and the exercises you perform depend on the muscles or organs you wish to develop. There are no weight-liftings, no dumbbells, no gymnastic littings! All that is necessary is a floor to lie on, and the necessary complement of arms and legs to move and kick. You feel supremely ridiculous and you look it, but the numbers who have been cured of outward physical disfigurement and internal weakness testify to the effect of the treatment."

Sandow Talks.

Sandow, the strong man, and head of the school of physical culture, which he founded some two years ago in London, and which is doing excellent work, has lately been giving his opinions concerning the woman of the present day, her health and her physique. "Experience," he says, "shows that within recent years the physique of woman has been distinctly on the down grade. The health, the beauty, which were so familiar to ancient nations, are with us unknown things. The artificial conditions of civilized life, the frivolities, the irrational hours, the thoughtless diet, the foolish modes of clothing sacrifice their bodily health and beauty upon the altar of fashion, have all brought about at least a physical decline. There is, unhappily, but little doubt that Englishwomen are following more or less in the footsteps of their French sisters, the results of which will be the ultimate degradation and extinction of the English race. It is true that the various sports of the country are more open to women than they were some years ago; but, after all, how few women this affects. The round of modern life is only too apt to leave out natural exercise. Where our ancestors walked, we drive; where they climbed, we use elevators. In every way we are encouraged to neglect our bodies.

A Race of Homunculos.

"Where our ancestors had their games and contests, the modern dame cultivates indoor amusements only. Indeed, one has a vision of a future race of homuncules, all head and no body, during their passionless mechanical lives by some artificial means. The changes I should like to see are: First, loose, easy clothing; second, freedom to engage in outdoor sports in girlhood; third, systematic exercise, carried on throughout life. Let the modern woman strive to get back to the type of the Saturnian Venus, that ideal of life, purity and beauty. The Venus de Milo is for us the absolute type of feminine beauty. If reduced to the height of 5 feet 4 inches her waist would measure 24 inches."

Girl "Boy" Messengers.

London is suffering from a scarcity of boys. Boys of all descriptions are wanted, from errand, hotel and page to the messenger boys, and the last worst of all. The District Messenger Company, one of the most useful and thriving concerns in the metropolis, for months past now has been unable to get as complete a staff of boys as it requires, and has been forced to try the experiment of employing men. Men were not so trustworthy as boys and so lastly the company has now been obliged to have girl messengers. A uniform in the shape of a plain blue dress is provided, with a neat hat, sailor fashion, with the girl's number in front, and with the necessary badge round the left sleeve.

It is a regular thing now for these girls to do messengers' duty, though, of course, only when this duty is a fit and proper one for a young girl to perform. At present they are employed only in the better districts, where the messages are usually of a light and easy nature. Moreover, these girls so far have proved a distinct success, contrary to the anticipations of the company. They are more ready and obliging than the boys, and are far quicker on their errands, since they do not linger as the urchins employed by the company frequently do.

When Matches Were Introduced.

The Atlas, a London newspaper, published on Jan. 10, 1830, the following paragraph under the head of "Instantaneous Light: "Among the different methods invented for obtaining light instantaneously ought certainly to be recorded that of Mr. Walker, chemist, Stockton-on-Tees. He supplies the purchaser with prepared matches, which are put into boxes, but are not liable to change in the atmosphere, and also with a piece of fine glass paper folded in two. Even a strong blow will not inflame the matches, because of the softness of the wood underneath, nor does rubbing upon wood or any common substance produce any effect except that of spoiling the match. But when one is pinched between the folds of the glass paper and suddenly drawn out it is instantly inflamed. Mr. Walker does not make them for extensive sale, but only to supply the small demand in his own neighborhood."

A NEW CENTURY TASK.

The Great Railway Great Britain Is Planning From Ancient Egypt to Far-Off China.

One of the great tasks of the new century is the railroad Great Britain is planning to build from Egypt to the Yangtse, says The World's Work. It is proposed that the western point of departure shall be either Alexandria or Port Said, and that the route, following roughly the parallel of 30 degrees north latitude, shall cross the Isthmus of Sinai and Northern Arabia, skirts the shores of the Persian gulf and pass through Baluchistan to Kurrachee in India. The length of this section would be a trifle under 2,500 miles, and, except at the head of the Persian gulf, would present no physical obstacles that could not be easily surmounted. Use of the Indian systems, with a link to be supplied here and there, would bridge the distance between Kurrachee and Mandalay, whence the Indian Government is now building a railroad to Kunlong. Careful surveys have developed a practical route from Kunlong to the Yangtse at Su Chow, and from that point a line could be easily extended to Shanghai.

Many sided results will attend the building of this line. Besides revolutionizing the sea route and traffic with Australia, it will provide a rapid and safe means of transit between Europe, India and China, and will enable cheap and speedy exchange of products throughout the vast region lying between the Mediterranean and the Pacific. Finally, and this is the argument most frequently urged in its behalf, it will form England's natural response to the Transsiberian railway, and will conduce enormously to her power and prestige in the east. Construction of this line is part of the declared policy of Great Britain in China, and conservative advocates believe it will be built during the next decade.

A Pathetic Bereavement.

Miss Singer—I saw in the paper that there is to be an entertainment for a "musical orphanage!" Pray, what may a musical orphanage be?

Rail Road Men

In all departments of active service stand in need of the readiness of mind and promptness of action which depend on a healthy nervous system. Let a railroad man be "rattled," and every life depending on him is in danger. A great many railroad men have found in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery a valuable tonic for the overstrained nervous system. It builds up the body, purifies the blood, nourishes the nerves, and induces a healthy appetite and refreshing sleep.

"I suffered for six years with constipation and indigestion, during which time I employed several physicians, but they could not reach my case," writes Mr. G. Popplewell, of Eureka Springs, Carroll Co., Ark. "I felt that there was no help for me; could not retain food on my stomach; had vertigo and would fall helpless to the floor. Two years ago I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and little 'Pellets,' and improved from the start. After taking twelve bottles of the 'Discovery' I was able to do light work, and have been improving ever since."

MERRILL'S SYSTEM TONIC IS A SCIENTIFIC REMEDY, AFTER THE SUGGESTIONS OF THE BEST PHYSICIANS IN AMERICA, DISPENSED BY A CHEMIST.

Fac-Simile or Genuine.

THE ANATOMY OF THE STOMACH

The stomach is the principal, although not the only, organ of digestion. It is about 12 inches long and four inches in diameter at the largest end. It is shaped like a pear, with large end and entrance to the left, and the small end and exit to the right. In the stomach all solid foods are dissolved, and made ready to be mixed with the bile and pancreatic juices in the second stomach and bowels. If the food is not dissolved in the stomach, it is not dissolved at all, but passes entirely through the system without in any way enriching the body.

Hence the importance of a healthy stomach. The principle trouble is weakness of the muscles of which the stomach is composed, and lack of sensitiveness to the nerves which cause the gastric or food dissolving juices to flow. Two principal features are thus demanded of a stomach remedy. Merrill's System Tonic embodies these features exactly. It tones the muscles and enriches and restores the nerves; not in a transitory, but in a lasting manner. Take it when sour eructation, heartburn, gas on the stomach, pains in the stomach, sense of heaviness in the stomach and a general unpleasant feeling, indicate that your stomach is out of condition. You'll be delighted with the results and pleased to find that you can eat a hearty meal and enjoy it.

DEATH OF REV. FATHER P. W. CONDON.

A Former Resident of Peterborough Passes Away.

Watertown, Wis., Gazette.

One of the most sorrowful messages that has ever been conveyed to the people of Watertown, and especially to the members of St. Bernard's congregation, was the telegram received here shortly before noon, last Friday, announcing the death of Rev. Father Patrick W. Condon, which sad event took place at 11 o'clock p.m., on Thursday, July 25th, 1901, at Notre Dame, Ind., to which place Father Condon had been taken from this city a few weeks ago in a very enfeebled condition, having been a great sufferer for several years past. Physicians disagreed in regard to his ailment, some claiming he was a sufferer from Bright's Disease, others that he was suffering from Paralysis, and others that his stomach and liver were affected.

Father Condon was born at Peterborough, Ontario, Canada, February 2nd, 1838, hence he was in his 64th year when death claimed him. His parents were Michael and Margaret (O'Leary) Condon, natives of Mitchellstown, County Cork, Ireland. He was educated in the schools of Montreal, and graduated from St. Lawernce College in 1864, and soon after was ordained a priest, and was sent to New Orleans, La., being on the first boat that plied the waters of the Mississippi between St. Louis and New Orleans after the close of the civil war. Five years were spent by him in that city, where he had charge of St. Mary's Orphan Asylum for Boys, and he also had charge of Jackson Barracks during the yellow fever epidemic of 1867. He was taken down with yellow fever while there, but recovered, and was called back to Montreal, where he was made Vice-President of his old Alma-Mater, St. Lawrence College, a position he occupied for five years. From there he went to Notre Dame, and was prefect of discipline there for two years, then going to Cincinnati, Ohio, where he was president of St. Joseph's College for a year; in 1874 he came to Watertown and served five years as president of the Sacred Heart College, being then recalled to Notre Dame, and served as prefect of discipline until 1881, returning in that year to this city as assistant pastor of St. Bernard's church, serving in that position until 1886, when he was made pastor. He was pastor of that church for nine years, and in the latter part of July, 1895, he left here for Paris, France, where he was stationed at College de Sanite Croix, having been appointed Assistant to the Father General of the order. While abroad he lost his health, and returned here in July, 1898, as pastor of St. Bernard's, since which time his health has been very poor, and on Tuesday, May 14, 1901, it was found necessary to take him to the infirmary of the Holy Cross Order, at Notre Dame, where he received the very best of care until death relieved him. Father Condon was very much attached to Watertown, and he left our city with a sad heart, grieving greatly at parting with the people he had laboured among so faithfully and well, and to whom he had been so greatly attached and devoted, the attachment being a decidedly mutual one. Father Condon's death is more generally mourned here than that of any one who ever resided among us. Not only was he beloved greatly by his own congregation, but also by every resident of the city, for no one was better known or more generally respected than he—all our citizens knew him, and all held him in the very highest esteem—all will miss him very much, but his greatest loss will be to St. Bernard's congregation, which he so well served. During his administration as pastor, he reduced the church debt nearly $5000, and wiped out a floating debt of about $1000, also had a fine school house built, a large addition to the pastor's residence, secured a fine $3000 organ, had many fine decorations and statues placed in the interior of the church property, and aside from the material good he has done for his flock, their spiritual wants were always faithfully looked after; especially was he devoted to the sick and needy, and where charity was deserved, Father Condon never hesitated to extend it. In sickness he cheered many a faint heart, and his manner of attending the sick and dying was indeed consoling and edifying. He was a man of scholarly attainments and wide learning, and having travelled extensively in this country, Canada and Europe, he was a most pleasant and companionable person in any society. He was an ideal priest in everything that the term implies, and a more perfect, well-living person we have never known. It seems hard to realize that Father Condon, so popular with everybody, will be seen no more in our midst; it is seldom that a community is so affected by one man's death as Watertown has been by the death of Father Condon, for very few men enjoyed the esteem and respect of his fellow citizens at large as did he. He was liberal-minded and always took a great interest in everything that was for the public good. He was strict in his dealings, yet just and kind. For such a man there is every reason to believe that he has secured the reward of the righteous, for he certainly has earned it. He has gone, but he will live in the memory of his friends for many a day, and his noble character, his influence for good will survive him. Saturday morning his funeral was held from St. Joseph's church, Notre Dame, Fathers Zahm, Morrissey, Hagerty and Houlihan officiating at the services, assisted by a large number of priests and seminarians. The ceremonies were the grandest and most edifying we have ever witnessed, and the long, solemn procession of priests, Brothers and Sisters of the Holy Cross order, and relatives and friends, which followed the remains to their last resting place in the community cemetary at Notre Dame, was an impressing though sad sight to behold; it was particularly sad to members of St. Bernard's congregation of this city who were present and mourned at the graveside of the departed priest, whose remains sleep a short distance from those of another former pastor and assistant pastor of St. Bernard's church, the lamented Rev. Fathers Corby and Coleman.

Those present from this city at the funeral, representatives of St. Bernard's congregation, were Messrs. M. J. Burke, Thos. Brooks and James W. Moore. A much larger delegation would have been present from here, had the news of Father Condon's death been received in time to make the journey.

LATEST EDUCATIONAL IDEA.

Sight Seeing for the Juveniles—A New Way to Develop the Budding Intellect.

Intellectual inertia will disappear from among England's school children if certain reformers, now active, bring about the successful application of their ideas. These persons started with the proposition that English school children do not think, and from this argue a lower intelligence for the coming men and women. They would avert this result by taking children about the country on tours of sight-seeing and investigation calculated to stimulate the mind.

This idea comes from Germany, where teachers regularly take their pupils on knowledge expeditions, all traveling afoot and camping by the way. It has been tried in Buckinghamshire with results which the experimenters have reported to the National Education Department. From three schools twenty children were selected to make a journey among industrial establishments and scenes of historical interest. Each was subsequently required to write what he or she saw, prizes being given for these stories. It is said that there were developed in some cases remarkable powers of observation where they were not before suspected. This has excited the hopes of educational authorities of evolving a scheme to give all pupils opportunities of this kind.

THE OLD CHURCH BELLS.

Ring out merrily,
Lonely, cheerily,
Silthe old bells from the steeple tower;
Hopefully, tearfully,
Joyfully, fearfully,
Moveth the bride from the maiden bower.
Cloud there is none in the fair summer sky;
Sunshine flings benison down from on high;
Children sing loud as the train moves along,
"Happy the bride the sun shines on."

Knell out drearily,
Measured and wearily,
Sad old bells from the steeple gray;
Priests chanting lowly,
Solemnly, slowly,
With the corpse from the portal today.
Drops from the leaden clouds heavily fall,
Dripping over the plume and the pall;
Murmur old folks as the train moves along,
"Happy the dead that the rain raineth on."

Toll at the hour of prime,
Matin and vesper chime,
Loving old bells from the steeple high;
Rolling like holy waves
Over the lowly graves,
Floating up, prayer fraught, into the sky.
Solemn the lesson your lightest notes teach;
Stern is the preaching your iron tongues preach.
Ringing in life from the bud to the bloom,
Ringing the dead to their rest in the tomb.

Peal out evermore,
Peal as ye pealed Sabbath day,
Brave old bells, on each Sabbath day;
In sunshine and gladness,
Through clouds and through sadness,
Bridal and burial have passed away.
Tell us life's pleasures with death are still rife;
Tell us that death ever leadest to life.
Life is our labor, and death is our rest;
If happy the living, the dead are the blest.

Why Albinos Do Not See Well.

According to Dr. A. D. Williams, the white, flaxen hair of albinos shows that there is a deficiency of coloring materials in their bodies. Further proof of this fact is found in the absence of the necessary amount of pigment in their eyes. Such persons have pink eyes because there is not pigment enough in the iris and upon its posterior surface to prevent the red reflex of the fundus from shining through the iris. Albinos are always greatly annoyed by strong light because there is not sufficient coloring to prevent the ingress of a flood of it, the bright glare entering not only through the pupil, but through the substance of the iris as well.

The choroid being likewise deficient in pigment, the excessive amount of light dazzles and greatly confuses the vision. Furthermore, the deficiency of pigments in the choroid prevents the light after it has acted on the retina from being absorbed, that being the main function of the choroidal pigment. Albinism is an unfortunate condition, as there is no way to supply the deficient pigment to the iris and choroid.

A Common Form of Indigestion

Which cannot be cured by ordinary stomach medicine—The kidneys, liver and bowels become deranged — Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pill.

By far the most important part of digestion takes place in the intestines, as has been repeatedly shown in cases where the stomach has been removed and the patient has lived and digested food without the aid of the stomach.

It frequently happens that people who continually dose the stomach for indigestion and use pepsin and various kinds of digestive tablets and powders can obtain no relief from such treatment, because the real trouble is in the intestines, the liver and the kidneys.

There is fullness and pains after meals, coated tongue, headache, loss of appetite, pains in the limbs and in the back and shoulders, flatulency and constipation, frequently alternating with diarrhoea.

In cases of intestinal indigestion the liver and kidneys usually become clogged and sluggish in action, and poisonous impurities are left in the blood, which should be removed by these filtering organs.

There has yet to be a remedy discovered that is so prompt and thorough in curing intestinal indigestion as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. And as this is the most common and severe form of indigestion it can well be claimed that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the most successful treatment extant for indigestion and dyspepsia.

Mrs. T. Woodley, Tyrone, Ont., writes:—"I was a great sufferer for a long time with indigestion and very distressing pains in my stomach. I was persuaded to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Their mild yet powerful action worked wonders in me."

It is not unusual for persons who have long been suffering from chronic indigestion, biliousness and constipation to be thoroughly cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which have by far the largest sale of any similar remedy. You may be skeptical, as others have been before you, but a single trial of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will convince you of their unusual medicinal value. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

To Preserve Colors of Plants.

In order to preserve the colors of plants, it is necessary to kill the specimens quickly; and this can be effected by plunging them for a few seconds in boiling water. If a plant is allowed to die slowly, the colors of the leaves and flowers will gradually fade.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—In a slight weather run, a long reach out and back, the Canadian Invader yesterday won the second of the races for the Canada's Cup. She had the Cadillac beaten at every point of the compass. On the run out, with a four to seven knot east northeast breeze sweeping their port quarters the Invader led from one to two miles at times, rounding the buoy nine miles out a mile ahead of her pursuer. The official time for the race was:

	Start.	Turn.	Finish.	Elap'd.
Invader	11.00.00	12.58.35	2.08.00	3.08.00

Fatally Scalded.

Ottawa, Aug. 13.—Germain Gretton, the 3-year-old daughter of Ferriere Gretton, was fatally scalded on Saturday by falling into a tub of boiling water. The child died Sunday night.

It Strikes the Heart.

Not only is the victim of Rheumatism a constant sufferer, but he lives in continual dread that the disease will reach the heart, which means sudden and unexpected death. Rheumatism can only be cured when the uric acid is removed from the blood by the healthy action of the kidneys. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver pills make the kidneys healthy and vigorous, and so gradually and thoroughly cure Rheumatism by removing the cause. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

At 10.30 o'clock the signal was given that the funeral train was approaching. The train rolled in slowly and noiselessly. The Imperial Chancellor, Count Von Buelow, and the other members of the cabinet and government officials.
Members of the Order of the Black Eagle.
Members of the Reichstag and of the Diet.
The Burgomasters of Berlin and Potsdam.

The procession moved through the tree-arched avenue to the new palace, and then through the park to the Sans Souci Garden, all of which were closed rigidly against the public, though a few newspaper men were admitted by card.

When the coffin was borne across the threshold of the mausoleum the cathedral choir from Berlin intoned a solemn strophe. Only the Emperor and Empress and the other members of the Imperial family, King Edward, Queen Alexandra and the other members of the British royal party and the Princes of the highest rank entered the mausoleum which is small. Dr. Persius, the chaplain, offered a prayer, after which the choir again sang.

When Their Majesties left the mausoleum the procession dissolved. The Empress, Queen Alexandra and the other ladies went in carriages direct from Wild Park to the mausoleum.

Is it Possible

Remember the $1,000 worth of Whitewear on sale Monday next at 10 a.m. Yours to save.

Sutcliffe's are prepared to demonstrate it and will gladly make comparisons in their Dress Goods section. A purchase of three cases of these Balayeuse Worsteds (in Navy and Blacks) under conditions most favourable, affords us the privilege of placing before the women of Peterborough such rare value in plain, sponged and shrunk, wantable materials as has seldom, if ever, been seen before.

The fact of these Worsteds being thoroughly sponged and shrunk, renders less cloth necessary and saves the expense of the shrinking. This material is heavier than a Serge, yet not burdensome to carry, and is most adaptable for Tailor-made Suits and Separate Skirts.

It will be readily seen, when comparisons are made, that there is no fictitiousness regarding its worth at 95c, and the buyers will realize and appreciate the handsome saving of over fifty per cent.

Peterborough buyers are still showing marked interest in the numerous Special Offerings at this Store.

ALL-BRITISH CABLE.

THE GREAT PROJECT OF YEARS IS NOW IN TANGIBLE SHAPE.

IT WILL GIRDLE THE WORLD.

Contractors Must Assume Serious Risks—The Cost Will Be $10,000,000—How the Burden Is to Be Distributed Among the Contributories—Serious Obstacles Were Overcome—May Be Self-Supporting.

After many dangerous delays, and after having overcome almost insuperable obstacles during the past fourteen years since the enterprise first assumed tangible shape, the promoters of the all-British Pacific cable at last have come to see the realization of their great project.

Although it is a comparatively old project, and often suggested since the confederation of the Dominion and the completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the agitation for and the completion of it, nevertheless, has largely been the work of the eminent Canadian engineer, Sir Sandford Fleming. That the final consummation of this cable project is now assured is owing, almost wholly, to Canada, which has been foremost in this as in many other Imperial projects.

The bill providing for Canada's share in the financial obligations for the construction of the cable has been passed without opposition in the Dominion Parliament. Details of the contract, which has been let, give some idea of the vastness of the undertaking and its comparatively small cost.

Will Cost $10,000,000.

It is estimated that its total cost, covering all incidentals, will approximate $10,000,000. This sum will be loaned by the Imperial Government and of which Canada guarantees five-eighteenths, the United Kingdom five-eighteenths, and the Australasian colonies the balance.

The cable will be constructed and laid over a total distance of 7,986 nautical miles. The undertaking is a very big one for the contractors, and not without serious risks, as the lengths of submerged cable will be laid over greater distances and at greater depths of ocean than ever before attempted. Moreover, the cable will skirt a sea region in which earthquakes are frequent and very violent.

The cable will connect at a point in British Columbia with the Canadian Pacific telegraph system, which will do its business across the continent, and the Commercial Cable Company, which has all-British cables across the Atlantic, will transmit the messages from Canada to Britain. Thus a wire girdle, with all its points of connection upon British soil, will soon circle the world.

Serious Obstacles Overcome.

It was a wise determination which made this cable a state enterprise, that some of the Australian governments might succeed in their efforts Fears were at one time entertained to make connection with the Eastern Extension Company's cable system, and in that way alter the basis of the whole Pacific cable scheme. The Eastern Extension has always been the main impediment to the earlier carrying out of the all-British Pacific able. These fears, however, have all been set at rest, and nothing seems likely to hereafter retard the successful progress of the operations now being put in motion.

To insure the ultimate and permanent success to this cable project the Postmaster-General of Canada, who is now on his way to Australia, favors the expansion of state-owned cable system by the construction of a government cable between Canada and Great Britain; also the acquisition of the line from Australia via Singapore and Hong Kong.

May Be Self-Supporting.

The Parliamentary committee, which investigated the Pacific cable question four years ago, anticipated that the undertaking would require no financial assistance from the governments interested after it had been in operation for three or four years. But, in the meantime, Britain and her Canadian and Australian dependencies believe that the commercial and imperial advantages that will accrue from the operation of this great enterprise will more than compensate for any expenditures for which they may become responsible.

The landing place for the cable in this country has been recently selected on the west coast of Vancouver Island, British Columbia, and the engineer in charge of the construction work has sailed for Australia to select suitable landing places there and in New Zealand. The manufacture of the cable will be commenced very soon.

The first expedition in connection with the laying of it is expected to leave the Thames in January, 1902. This expedition will carry out the laying of sections from Queensland to Norfolk Island, to New Zealand, and Norfolk Island to Fiji Islands. The second expedition will leave about August, 1902, and will lay the stretch of cable from Vancouver to Fanning Island and Fiji. This latter long length of cable, 5,834.5 nautical miles, will be transported and laid by one ship, which is now being specially built for the purpose, and will be the largest cable ship ever launched. The contractors undertake that the whole of the cable shall be laid and working by December, 1902.

WHAT THE EXPLORERS FOUND

New Ontario's Resources in Millions and Billions.

THE CROWN LAND'S REPORT

A Tract of Arable Land Found North of the Height of Land Comprising an Area of About 24,500 Square Miles or 15,680,000 Acres—A Great Pulpwood Forest.

The report of the Crown Lands Commissioner of Ontario for 1900 was issued the other day. Perhaps the most interesting portion of it refers to the recent exploration of Northern Ontario at a cost of $34,507.

"The result," says the commissioner, "is that a tract of arable land has been found north of the height of land stretching from the Quebec boundary west across the districts of Nipissing, Algoma and Thunder Bay, comprising an area of about 24,500 square miles or 15,680,000 acres. The soil is a clay or clay loam, nearly all suitable for farming purposes, and the region is watered by the Moose and its tributaries, the Abitibi, Mettagami and Missinabie and the Albany, and its tributaries, the Kenogami and Ogoke. Along this latter stream alone about which almost nothing was known, a tract of good land was found extending on both sides of the river for a distance of over forty miles, and in the district of Rainy River, between the surveyed townships around Dryden and Lac Soul, another extensive area of good land was found about 600 square miles or 384,000 acres in extent.

"The climate of this region is reported to have no features which would prevent the ripening of grain or the growing of root crops. It lies for the most part south of the 50th parallel of latitude, which crosses the Province of Manitoba near Winnipeg, and its climate will not differ much from that of the latter province. Crops of grain, potatoes, and other vegetables and even small fruits were found growing as far north as James Bay.

Great Pulpwood Forest.

"A great pulpwood forest has been located north of the height of land extending across the districts of Nipissing, Algoma and Thunder Bay, with a depth in some places of 150 miles. The timber embraces all the common pulp woods, such as spruce, poplar, jackpine, and balm of gilead, as well as tamarac and cedar along the banks of the streams. It is generally of good quality, usually thick on the ground and ranges in size up to three feet in diameter. In the district of Nipissing south of the height of land an extensive pine forest was explored and estimated to contain about three billions of feet B. M.

"On the whole, the information brought in by these exploring parties has been extremely gratifying and the benefit to the province of conducting the exploration of so extensive a country has been abundantly demonstrated. It is now established that in this section of the province, hitherto but little known, we have illimitable quantities of pulpwoods and millions of acres of good agricultural land, which are capable of sustaining a large population of industrious people."

The report states that the timber cut of last winter was much heavier than in the previous winter. The lumber trade was in a prosperous condition; a number of new mills had been erected and lumbermen had now come to recognize the fact that for the future pine sawlogs would have to be manufactured in this country. A strict watch was kept along the north shore of Lake Huron but there were no attempts to evade the law by rafting logs over to the United States.

Influx of New Settlers.

During the year an increased number of settlers had gone into the newer parts of the province, especially in the Thunder Bay and Rainy River districts. Settlement was also steadily progressing in the Temiscaming, Nipissing and Algoma districts. A large number of people were reported in the section around the head of Lake Nipissing and it might be necessary in a short time to place several townships there upon the market, while along the line of the Algome Central railway a large number had gone in. The Dryden settlement, too, had received a fair share of settlers during the past summer. The Crown Lands agents all reported the settlers as becoming better off.

Reference is made to the forest reserve of 2,200 square miles near Lake Temagaming as the first area of virgin territory which had been set apart. In the township of Sibley, Thunder Bay district, an area of 45,000 acres of cutover territory, on which a crop of young pine is springing, has also been erected into a forest reserve.

During the year 20,957 acres of land were sold and patented under the Mines Act for $42,983 and 16,887 acres leased at $1 per acre for the first year's rental. The report speaks in a congratulatory tone of the progress of the iron industry in the province and the beginning of ore shipments from the Helen mine to the Midland furnaces.

New Nickel Refineries.

Of the copper and nickel business the report says:

"At the Victoria mines, Dr. Ludwig Mond has acquired valuable nickel lands and is erecting extensive works to produce matte carrying a high percentage of metallic contents, and a plant for re-treating the Canadian Copper Company's matte is being erected by the Ontario Smelting Company at Copper Cliff, which will also smelt ores from the latter company's mine near Massey station now being developed. The Gertrude mine in Creighton township is being brought into producing condition by the Lake Superior Power Company, and will supply the nickel ore to be used in the manufacture of ferro-nickel and nickel steel at Sault Ste. Marie. Much interest attaches to the operations of the Nickel-Copper Company of Hamilton, which proposes to produce refined nickel and copper by the Frasch process. In addition to these the Bruce Copper Mines Limited, an English company, is re-opening the old workings and putting up a concentrating plant at Bruce Mines which yielded so largely 40 years ago, and at Rock Lake, the Rock Lake Mining Company is pushing developments upon a copper vein of unusual promise, and is likewise erecting works to treat the ore. The total quantity of nickel and copper ores raised in the province during the year was 221,695 tons."

The important expenditures of the year, in addition to that for exploration, were $12,765 in iron bounties, $19,200 for mining schools, $9,208 for operating the diamond drill, $6,257 on immigration, and $3,243 on colonization.

MAROONING A BOY....

By M. QUAD.

Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis.

We were loading the Liverpool brig Nemo for London at Bombay and I had been shipped as second mate of her when one day a boy about 16 years of age came down to the craft and endeavored to ship as cabin boy, assistant to the cook or as an apprentice. He was an English lad who had run away from home and wanted to get back. He was frank spoken, had an honest, innocent face, and I was glad to help him to an interview with the captain. It did him no good, however. Captain Joyce was a selfish, hard hearted man, and he not only refused the lad the place he could easily have made for him, but cursed him roundly for having dared to come aboard. I felt sorry for the boy and slipped him a crown, and when he went over the side I advised him to try other vessels and not get discouraged.

I did not know that the boy returned and worked on the sympathies of some of our crew and was stowed away by them in the forehold, but that was what happened. Had I or any other officer of the ship got an inkling of his presence the stowaway would have been hauled out of his hiding place very quickly, but he was smuggled aboard so adroitly that only two or three sailors knew of his presence until we were three days at sea. Then by their advice he showed himself and offered to do anything he was set at to pay his way. Some shipmasters would have put him to work and said no more about it, as he could have been made very useful, but Captain Joyce was pleased to look upon it as a heinous offense not to be overlooked. After abusing the lad for ten minutes by word of mouth he picked up a rope's end and flogged him till some of the men cried out against it. That stopped the flogging for the time being, but the lad was set at the dirtiest of work, given only food enough to keep soul and body together and was cursed at and struck whenever the captain could reach him. The first mate joined his superior in this, while I stood as neutral as I could. Had I openly sympathized with the lad I should have had a row with the captain, but I could and did show him decent treatment and encourage the men to do likewise.

We had run as far south as the Lackadivh islands and owing to a strong gale had been set in much nearer than our course lay when one day, as the brig was becalmed under the lee of one of the smaller islands, I was ordered to take a crew and row the boy ashore and leave him. I was at first for refusing point blank, as it was a monstrous thing to do, but I saw that the captain was in liquor and would have the affair carried out at any cost. Any refusal to obey orders would result in my being disrated and clapped in irons. I realized also that I could help the wanderer more by going than by refusing. While the boat was being made ready I slipped down to my stateroom after matches, a knife, some fishhooks and other things and upon returning to the deck found that the captain had provided the lad with about ten pounds of hard bread, the same of pork and an old kettle. He refused him matches, however, and it was a lucky thing that I had brought three or four dozen along. The lad made no fuss about going, although he knew that he was to be set ashore on a lonely island. I know he was in deadly fear of the captain and mate and to escape them in any manner was a relief. On the way to shore I advised him as best I could, and the men at the oars were not backward in expressing their sympathy, and when we left Joey on the beach he was feeling quite stout hearted.

What happened to that lad after we sailed away reads like a romance. He had been marooned on one of the most easternmost of the group, and perhaps the island had never been explored by white men. It was three miles long by two broad, with a ridge running its length. Indeed, there were two ridges, and between them was a creek running to the north. At its mouth this creek widened into a little harbor. The boy had been on the island for a week before he climbed the ridges and found them full of living springs which fed the creek. He followed the creek down to its mouth and there made the strangest of finds. Three years previously, while on a voyage from Bombay to Liverpool, the bark Sunshine had been dismasted at sea and deserted by her crew for a wreck. She was laden with wool, hides, dyewoods and minerals, and her cargo was appraised at nearly a million dollars. Her crew had been picked up at sea, the vessel listed as lost and the insurance paid, and yet as Joey reached the little harbor there was the hull of the Sunshine with her nose on the beach. Wind, wave and current had drifted her all of 700 miles and finally whirled her into that spot. Her hull was sound and her hatches on, and her cargo had not been damaged to the amount of a hundred dollars.

Three weeks later the boy's signal smoke on the beach brought a vessel to his rescue, and he said not a word of his find till he reached Bombay and found men in whom he could trust. Then an expedition was fitted out, the hull and cargo were got to Bombay in safety, and the courts allowed the boy salvage enough to make him rich to the end of his days. In marooning a poor stowaway lad whose only crime was wanting to return to his native land Captain Joyce had as good as thrown $300,000 at him and raised him up a thousand friends.

Blood Disorders

are simply kidney disorders. The kidneys filter the blood of all that shouldn't be there. The blood passes through the kidneys every three minutes. If the kidneys do their work no impurity or cause of disorder can remain in the circulation longer than that time. Therefore if your blood is out of order your kidneys have failed in their work. They are in need of stimulation, strengthening or doctoring. One medicine will do all three, the finest and most imitated blood medicine there is

"Pain in the head and back" is a form of suffering with which so many women are familiar. Often this pain is associated with nervousness, sleeplessness and loss of appetite. The cause of such suffering is generally to be traced to derangement of the womanly function, or a diseased condition of the delicate womanly organs.

In such cases the action of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is marvelous in the prompt relief of pain and permanent cure of disease. It regulates the periodic function, dries disagreeable drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It cures when all other means have been tried in vain.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

In a little over thirty years Dr. Pierce, assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, has cured more than half a million women.

"I was a great sufferer for six years and doctored all the time with a number of different physicians, but did not receive any benefit," writes Mrs. George Bogden, of 641 Bonda Street, Saginaw (South), Mich. "One day as I was reading a paper I saw your advertisement, and, although I had given up all hope of ever getting better, thought I would write to you. When I received your letter, telling me what to do, I commenced to take your 'Favorite Prescription' and follow your advice. I have taken ten bottles in all, also five vials of the 'Pleasant Pellets.' Am now regular after having missed two years and suffered with pain in the head and back. I was so nervous, could not eat or sleep. Now I thank you for my recovery."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness.

ALONG THE STRAND.

Some Notable Changes in London's Historic Old Street.

Canadians visiting London the coming summer will notice the great changes in the Strand. The old buildings are rapidly disappearing. It may not be known to many who cross the Strand opposite Somerset House that they are actually walking over the site of a famous maypole, one that stood in front of St. Mary's Church, and found patronage from the well-to-do people who then resided in the immediate neighborhood.

Covent Gardens was at one time covered with domiciles for some of the richest and cleverest people in town. Amongst buildings that have disappeared in the process of reconstructing the Strand there is the old Red Lion Tavern. It was a resort for Bohemians—many of whom were in a chronic state of impecuniosity—and, as admirers of the late T. W. Robertson's plays will remember, was utilized as the scene for some very instructive lessons in the art of borrowing half-crowns.

The Hope Tavern, in Blackmore street, has gone, and, like the old curiosity shop, the graveyard frequented by Lady Deadlock, and so many other places dear to the readers of Dickens, we shall have nothing but a name to remember the old hostelry by. Four theatres will have to come down—two are now partly demolished—to make way for the new street.—London Correspondence Toronto Telegram.

A Game of Jackstraws.

Did you ever try to make jackstraws? If not, you have missed an amusement you would like.

First you must get some thin boards or a cigar box and take it apart. With a sharp knife cut these boards into strips three inches long and half an inch wide.

Then take a pencil and outline on these strips small figures as shown in the illustrations. Carve them out to suit yourself.

After you have finished this pleasant work get a few hairpins and bend them like first figure. These are the hooks with which to play the game. The game is to try and see who can get the most jackstraws out of the pile without moving the others. If in getting one out you move another, no matter how slight the movement is, you must put it back and let the next person have his turn. And so it goes on until the pile is exhausted, and the person having the most jackstraws wins the game.

Small Potatoes.

Some years ago a gentleman visiting a farmer in Lolland, Conn., took from his pocket a small potato which somehow had got in there at home. It was thrown out with a smile, and the farmer, taking it in his hand to look at it, a curious little boy of 12 standing at his elbow asked him what it was. "Oh," said he, 'nothing but a potato, my boy. Take it and plant it, and you shall have all you can raise from it till you are 21." The lad took it, and the farmer thought no more about it. The boy, however, not despising little things, carefully divided it into as many pieces as he could find eyes and put them into the ground. The product was carefully put aside in the fall and planted in the spring, and so on, till the fourth year, when the actual product was 400 bushels. The farmer, seeing the prospect that the potato field would cover the whole farm by another year, asked to be released from his promise.—American Boy.

The Rats and the Oil.

Once there was an artist who could not think how it was that his oil lasted such a short time. He felt sure that he did not use it all, so he thought he would try to find out what became of it.

One day he saw a rat run across the floor to the jar which held the oil. He kept quite still, and in a short time the rat went and brought some of his friends. Then it stood up on its hind legs, with its forepaws against the jar. Another rat ran up and stood on the first one's shoulders, and then another did the same until there were four rats up the side of the jar. Then the top one dipped its tail in the oil, and the second one licked it dry. By changing places each of them had as much oil as it wanted. The artist did not like to frighten them away, but after that he kept his oil where the rats could not get to it.

WHY WOMEN

Like Merrill's System Tonic.

The first reason is that the use of this valuable medicine produces a clear complexion, rosy cheeks and ruby lips. You can easily tell a well woman. Her step is light and buoyant, her complexion as described above, and there is a complete lack of that don't-care-to-live air about her. These results can be obtained by any woman, no matter what her complexion may now be, and no matter how old or care worn she may feel, if she persists in using a few bottles of Merrill's System Tonic. It cures constipation and liver troubles, which causes the sallow and muddy complexion. It restores the blood to its naturally healthy condition and this gives the tint to the skin without the use of face powder. It cures female trouble and regulates the female functions, and restores the vivacity of girlhood. Used according to instructions it cures falling of the womb, whites and leucorrhœa. No medicine in the world to-day is more valuable to make sick women well, than Merrill's System Tonic.

Give it to young girls who are pale and nervous. Give it to women who expect to become mothers. Give it to women in all conditions of life and it will more than substantiate its claims. Merrill's System Tonic purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens the nerves and cures constipation.

THE STONY LAKE DROWNING.

Further Particulars of How the Accident Occurred.

The Body Was Recovered Last Night and Will be Sent to Relatives in in Orangeville.

The Examiner's Stony Lake correspondent sends the following account of the drowning accident, which occurred at Julian's Bay on Monday evening:

Two men, named Williamson and Wilcox, who work at the Crown Corundum Co's mine at the head of Stony Lake, went off on Saturday to visit their families, returning by steamer Majestic, on Monday morning, arriving here at noon. They expected to find the steamer Idle Hour waiting their arrival to take them to the mines, but the Idle Hour not coming according to agreement, and being anxious to get home before dark, they engaged the services of Mr. M. G. Booth to paddle them up to the head of the lake. They started off about six o'clock, but had not gone over two hundred yards before their canoe upset, and the three men were precipitated into the water. The crew of the steamer Empress saw the accident and went immediately to the rescue, and succeeded in saving the lives of Booth and Williamson, but Wilcox sank to rise no more.

Very shortly twenty or thirty boats were on the scene, dragging the lake, but were unsuccessful until Tuesday evening about 7 o'clock, when the body was found. It will be taken to the undertaker's at Lakefield to have the body properly coffined, and sent to his home at Orangeville.

The name of the drowned man is Alfred Wilcox. He was about 30 years of age, and unmarried. His home is at Orangeville, where the body will be taken for interment.

Dr. Alex. Bell, coroner, was in the neighborhood, but considering that an inquest was unnecessary, granted the usual permit for his burial.

RETURNED HOME.

A Quartette of Rochester Gentlemen Have Been Staying at the Lakes.

Two of a quartette of Rochester gentlemen passed through town this morning on their way down from Stony Lake where they have been spending several weeks. The other two passed through town on Saturday last. These four Rochester gentlemen may well lay claim as belonging to "the chosen people" for no more genial visitors paid their respects to the back lakes this summer. The names of the party are Messrs. Milton S. Alder, Jesse Kochenthal, A. M. Sloman and Alex. Jacobi.

It was the first two of these who went through town to-day, and called on their friends while here. The quartette camped on Juniper Island, and mealed at Victoria House, McCracken's Landing. Everyone had a good word for "the Rochester bunch."

LARGE EXCURSION.

Went Through Town From Campbellford This Morning—1000 People.

What was certainly the largest excursion that has passed through Peterborough this season was that which went up the lakes from Campbellford this morning. It was the annual union excursion of the Methodist and Presbyterian Sunday schools, and as to-day is Campbellford's civic holiday, the event was very largely attended. The excursion went through in two trains, the first of which consisted of eight coaches. It is estimated that 1300 people were on board both trains, many getting on at Hastings and other places. The steamers Sunbeam and Alert will take the excursionists to various points on Stony and Clear Lakes.

DON'T DELAY.

Get Your Tickets Early From Committee and Avoid a Disappointment.

The Oddfellows have chartered train and boat for their excursion Civic Holiday and can assure their patrons the most enjoyable trip of the day. Good music provided for the whole trip and a pleasant day is in store for the two hundred who go. Tickets may be had from S. C. Parks at Gough Bros. store. All baskets will be looked after by committee.

WERE DISCHARGED.

Three Men Whom it Was Said Were the Worse of Liquor.

It is no crime to be drunk — that is providing the said drunk is not at the same time disorderly. Such is the opinion of the local police court, and a test case of the kind was disposed off this morning.

Last night a citizen of the town telephoned down that three men were lying in a vacant lot of his at the rear of his house in an intoxicated condition. They were taken in hand by the police, and this morning appeared before Police Magistrate Dumble, charged with being drunk. The Magistrate dismissed them.

There is no law prohibiting a man getting drunk, as long as he stays quiet, and raises no disturbance. Now this is just what these men were doing. Had the property been fenced in they might have been arrested for trespass, but it was not, and the men can get drunk again if they like.

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.

Mr. Ernest Henry Writes a Very Interesting Letter to His Brother Tom, of Town.

Mr. Thomas Henry, of town, has received the following letter from his brother, Ernest, of the South African Constabulary:

Jacobsdal, S. A.,
July 14, 1901.

Dear Tom, — I would have written before, but kept waiting till stationed permanently at some place. When we landed at Cape Town we were rushed through to the front immediately. We travelled in open cattle or coal cars, and it took us 8 days before we reached Bloomfontein. All then marched a distance of 8 miles with our heavy overcoats rolled around our bodies, and carrying our rifles; we also had two heavy belts. It was very hot, but we stood it fine and surprised some of the English officers. We have been trekking along over the veldt ever since, and have had quite a number of small scraps, and have taken about 100 prisoners. That is, our troop has done so. You see we are divided into troops and I belong to No. 20, mustering 120 men.

We arrived here a week ago, and I guess we will stay a few weeks longer. This is where the Cape Highlanders were shot down in their tents about 8 months ago.

I think South Africa is the best country on earth, and I never intend to see Canada again, except on a visit, as the opportunities here for a young man are very great. They are now building an Imperial Railway from Cape Town to Cairo, and are paying white men one pound a day, and rations. If one stays at the job 5 years he receives a bonus of £100.

I think that I shall receive a rise here soon to 7 shillings a day; that is the pay for a first class trooper. Anyone can make money here, either as an employee, or in business of his own. This is now the middle of winter. The days are like June in Canada, but the nights are like October in the same country. What I least like is sleeping in the rain at night on the veldt. The captain of our troop tells me that I am getting fat and looking fine. We have rum issued to us twice a week but I sell my issue for a shilling, so you see I have some sense.

Regarding my duties, I am busy for only one night a week for three hours. I patrol the streets of the village and see that everyone is in bed at 9 p.m., and all lights out—one of the beauties of martial law. If I see a light after the curfew rings, I enter the house and arrest anyone contravening the law. We never go anywhere without a rifle or a revolver with us. You may think that we have no fighting to do, but you should just see us. I think that the war will last one year longer as the Boers will only surrender in the dry season, and that will be over for this year in another month.

The fuel here is chiefly animal turf, which is sold in large cakes, loaded on wagons, like wood. I guess this must be like the peat in Ireland.

As I want this to go on a convoy that is leaving I will close and will write again soon. Address me Trooper Ernest Henry, 2199 20th Troop, "E" Division, C. C. S. A. C., South Africa.

CIVIC HOLIDAY HEGIRA.

The Various Means Available for Leaving Town To-morrow—A Free "Ad" for Excursion Promoters.

To-morrow would be a bad day to take the census of Peterborough, for, counting the large number absent at the surrounding summer resorts, the Civic Holiday will deprive the town of thousands of population for the day. Probs. promises mostly fine and warm weather, with probably some scattered thunder showers. The Examiner hopes that our excursionists may dodge the thunder showers, have a pleasant outing, and return to town reinvigorated to take up the serious business of keeping the good town of Peterborough where she is, at the front.

The following are the several excursions and their destinations. In the words of the saying, "You pays your money, and you takes your choice":

Oddfellows' excursion to Stony Lake.

Court St. Peter, Catholic Order of Foresters, to Stony Lake.

Court Littlejohn, Canadian Order of Foresters' excursion to Toronto.

OUR SUMMER RESORTS.

Gay Times on at Stony Lake and Other Points.

Big Preparations for the Regatta, Which Takes Place To-morrow—A Dance To-night.

STONY LAKE.

The last week has been of the gayest possible description at Stony Lake. The hops at the pavilion are largely patronized every evening, and the one on Saturday night proved particularly enjoyable, quite a number coming out on the late boat from Peterborough.

Arrangements have been made to have the Misses Hurley provide music for the Wednesday evening hop.

Mrs. Harry Brock of Toronto, held the first of her very enjoyable Saturday evening receptions last week, and a large number paddled up from Boschink for the evening.

Miss Olive Hodgins of Toronto, is a guest of Miss Ruby Eakins, at Mount Julian.

The Victoria House guests still hold the record as anglers. On Monday Miss Hanlon, of Rochester, landed a lunge weighing 17 1-2 lbs., and Mr. William Scott, of the Cereal Works, Peterborough, got a ten-pounder, as well as securing the honour of landing the biggest black bass of the season. Mr. Milt Adler, of Rochester, brought in ten bass, six of which were over three pounds in weight each.

Dr. Andrew Scott, and Mr. Hal. Burnham are at Tecumseh Lodge, with Messrs. Victor and Rolly McWilliams.

Mr. Hubert McBain is captain of the yacht "Mollie," this year, with Mr. Jim Worts as first mate.

Mr. Arthur Piper is working very hard to make the regatta on Thursday a success.

Monday evening's drowning accident has cast somewhat of a damper on the campers. The accident was witnessed by only one small boy, who states that young Wilcox never rose after going down. His companions clung to the canoe, and were rescued by Mr. Jack Gemmell and Mr. Charlie Armstrong, who heard their cries from the Mount Julian wharf. The body has not been recovered yet.

Miss Rutherford and Miss Gertrude Kendry are spending a few days at the Victoria House.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

GOLF.

The Cobourg Golf Club visited Peterborough yesterday, and administered defeat to the local team by 29 holes up. Notwithstanding this apparently large score, the Peterborough men played a very plucky game throughout, and when one takes into consideration the fact that the Cobourg team has only two Cobourg citizens, the remainder being members of the very best American clubs, who are spending the summer there, it will be conceded that Peterborough's representatives are deserving of every credit for the showing they made. The teams were as follows:

Curtis, 3; Burnham, 0.
Vivian, 1; Ray, 0.
Skeaff, 0; Burnett, 1.
Horning, 5; Dennistoun, 0.
Sumner, 0; Eastwood, 1.
Burns, 6; Garvin, 0.
F. G. Kay, 3; Parker, 0.
Willis, 8; Young, 0.
Totals—Cobourg, 31; Peterborough, 2.

The Lindsay golf club arrived in town to-day at noon and are playing the Peterborough representatives on the local links.

LACROSSE.

An important meeting of the Vatican Lacrosse Club is called for this evening at 7 o'clock. A full attendance is requested.

RUGBY.

The following despatch from London concerning the prospects of Rugby in the Forest City this fall will be of much interest to the local followers of the game in view of the fact that the two teams fought desperately for the championship last season. To the average Rugby enthusiast the write-up is amusing in the extreme:

"An organization meeting of the London Rugby Club will be held in a few days. The team will be pretty much the same as last year, two or three of the "old boys" dropping out to make room for the new blood — "Blondine" Gilmour, who is now stationed at Copper Cliff, and "Chip" Reid, whose domestic responsibilities compel him to retire from the game. These two old timers came forward last fall when the team was in a hole and helped the boys to win the Ontario championship. McNee, who played full-back for McGill last year, will be found on the half line along with Frank Taylor, whose work last year was of the gilt-edged variety; and Hueston, a graduate of the Philadelphia Dental College. The trio will be a hard one to beat. McMahon, a last year's junior, will in all probability play full, the back division will be as strong as last year.

The wing line will be changed around a little. Sippi, who was fighting Boers last year, will play outside wing. With an abundance of new material to draw from, the club should again be on top. The game is a popular one. The team gets the best of support from the public, who last year sent them to Montreal to play off with McGill for the Canadian championship, which they won in rather hollow fashion. The approaching Rugby games will revive sport here, which has practically been dead. The boys will start training this month, realizing that condition is an important factor to success, which, for the last three years, has crowned the London Rugby Club's efforts. In the years '98-'99 the junior championship of the O. R. F. U. was won by them; the same team in 1900 entered the intermediate ranks, and won not only the O. R. F. U. but also the Canadian championship."

THE A.C.A. CAMP.

An Interesting Letter From Our Special Correspondent at the Camp.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Gananoque, August 13th. — The Annual Camp of the American Canoe Association is now in full sway at Mudlunta Island near here, and from present indications it will prove as successful as any of the preceeding camps of the Association. The Island is an ideal place for a camp of this kind, and the social life of this year's outing promises to be very enjoyable. Amongst those who are in camp this year are Commodore and Mrs. C. E. Britton, and Miss Britton, Kingston; Mrs. Howland, Toronto; Miss F. Britton, Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taylor, Brooklyn; Mr. W. J. English and Miss Margaret English, Peterborough; Mr. Bob Wilkin, Brooklyn; Paul Butler, Boston; Mr. C. F. Walters, John Wright, Rochester; J. McD. Mowat, Kingston; Reg. Parmeter, Eddie Burns, Toronto; Louis F. Hall, Boston; Arthur Geo. Mather, T. F. Hunter and J. F. Coulter, of Medford Boating Club, Medford, Mass.; Dr. Mason, Toronto; "Pop" Moore, George McTaggart White, New York; W. L. Dancey, of Lowell, Mass., and T. F. Friese, who has his camp lettered "32" i.e., freezing point. In addition to these are representatives from the Newton, Tattasit, Irondoquit, Worcester, Buffalo, Milwaukee and other clubs.

On Monday a cruise was taken to Sugar Island which the Association has recently purchased from the Dominion Government. The Island comprises about 40 acres and was sold to the Association after being personally inspected by Hon. Clifford Sifton and Sir Louis Davies. After an inspection of the Island by the older members of the Association, it was pronounced the best camp site that the Association ever held and steps were taken to have the Island triangulated by a competent engineer. The new site has the advantage of having several sand beaches, where the ladies and children can go in bathing without encountering dangerous or deep waters. The general outline is such as to make it perfectly satisfactory to both sailing and paddling members of the Association. The transfer of the Island to the Association was in a large measure facilitated by the kindly, good offices of Hon. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., West Peterborough, which the Association cheerfully recognizes.

The camp, as in former years, is continually visited by prominent Canadian and American cottagers, who appreciate the privilege the Association extends to them of looking over the camp site every year.

The camp is especially interesting to those who enjoy a search light trip each night, as the steamers pass the Island regularly and take particular delight in throwing their rays on the camp.

Commodore Britton is giving the very best of satisfaction and can congratulate himself upon the success of the camp. He is ably assisted by his Secretary, Mr. Herbert Begg, of Toronto.

The camp is situated on the Canadian side just close to the International boundry line. The two flags, the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes, float above the camp, and each evening around the big camp fire God Save the King and America are sang with enthusiasm. Both flags floated at half mast out of respect to the memory of the late Empress Frederick.

LABOUR STRIKES.

Monetary Times.

The period of industrial strikes, or threatened strikes on this continent, is prolonged, and the outlook is not cheerful. The difficulty of the Pennsylvania steel workers with their employees has reached a crisis and a strike of union workmen to the number of many thousands has been ordered, unless the U. S. Steel Corporation capitulate, which it is not likely to do. Unrest is manifest in many other lines of manufacture, and strikes of greater or less magnitude are heard of in different states. In Canada there is agitation among various groups of workers in the east, while the strike of underground workers and other tradesmen in the Rossland mines is a very serious thing for that camp, and indeed for that province.

As to the strike of trackmen on the Canadian Pacific Railway, despite the denial of the officials that it causes that company any difficulty, it certainly causes the travelling public uneasiness, which is not allayed by the attempted blowing up of a train near Smith's Falls the other day. Apprehension is widespread lest the lack of these necessary workers on parts of the company's tracks, may result in accidents to trains. This is a condition of things that ought not to continue, whatever steps may need to be taken to end it.

But the broad question as to rights and wrongs in the matter of strikes or lock outs still remains. And truly the attitudes of both parties to this huge impending steel workers' strike, and of the parties to other industrial disputes, are not such as to encourage the publicist any more than the humanitarian. It should be possible to find a remedy for such a deplorable condition of mutual menace as now exists. Marked benefits have been conferred up various localities in different countries by a resort to arbitration, and good results are to be expected from the substitution of law for force in the settlement of labour disputes. An admirable and calm article in the Globe of Wednesday advocates the intervention of Government to compel the settlement of labour disputes by arbitration, and cites New Zealand as a country where it has been successfully tried. We would like to reprint the whole article but must be content with the concluding sentences. They have special reference to the C. P. R. trackmen's strike: "The impairment of the railway system deranges the whole system of commerce. When the state grants the monopoly it is only fair that it should reserve, among other powers, that of insisting that the working of the railway shall not be delayed or impaired by strikes, and that it shall provide machinery for the settlement of disputes. Such an arrangement would benefit the companies, the men, and the general public."

BEET ROOT SUGAR INDUSTRY.

A letter from an American capitalist, addressed to the Secretary of the Board of Trade of Galt, is of great importance and interest to the people of Ontario generally:—

"The question of the manufacture of beet root sugar is exciting keen interest all over the Province. That the industry is considered of immense importance by the Government is evident in the fact that the Legislature is encouraging the industry by a liberal bounty.

One only has to look at the results obtained in Michigan to be assured of the immense possibilities of the manufacture of beet root sugar here. Three years ago no beet sugar was manufactured in the State. This year Michigan will produce more tons of sugar than any other State in the Union; and the profits, both to the farmer and capitalist, are said to have been greatly in excess of all expectations.

The gentleman who is in correspondence with the Galt Board of Trade, puts the question very fairly and succinctly, and the proposition is one which should receive the careful consideration of the leading men of Galt. The enterprise is a most desirable one to have in any community, and when it interests capitalists and farmers alike there should be no difficulty in securing the necessary money hereabouts for the establishment of a factory in Galt.

The sugar beet industry affords to the agriculturalist a new crop, and puts into his pocket money that would otherwise go out of the community and out of the country. It helps, too, all farm values by reducing the area of other crops."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

"It's government is good, it's people thrifty and it's resources are en ll es." This is the compliment the Scottish American pays to Canada.

The Ottawa Citizen points out that no nerve is needed to pull down a British flag in Rochester, but if the person who did it will do the same trick over here there would be something in it.

In Denmark the new woman is called "fremkridtskvinde." In this country, remarks the Montreal Star, there are old fashioned people who have thought unspeakable things of her, but they have not attempted to reduce them in writing.

Mails can be now laid down at the Capital of Canada, Ottawa, one week from the day of leaving Britain. Time and space seem to be disappearing. There are many living who remember when a month or two would be considered quick work for such a process.

Bourke Cockran, the most offensive Anglophobe in New York, has been trying to rub shoulders with some titled Britons in London, and has been properly snubbed. Lee, the former British military attache at Washington, declined to recognize him, and when Winston Churchill, who was showing Cockran around, said: "Don't you know my friend, Bourke Cockran?" Lee curtly replied, "Yes, the last time I saw him he was welcoming the Boer delegates to Washington," and then Lee turned on his heel and walked away.

The scarcity of corn due to the long-continued drouth in the Western States, is expected to have a favourable effect on the prices of other kinds of grain. That will not recompense the farmers whose corn crop has been destroyed and reduced, but it will make a difference to the wheat growers throughout the world, including Manitoba, where the harvest is now in progress. The implement agents are selling dozens of reapers every day, and, with wheat fetching a good price, it will not take the product of many acres to pay for a machine.

The "Humber piggery," the "Calf with a Cough," "The Ram Dan," and other great Tory platforms have proved useless. They are never mentioned now, says the Ottawa Free Press, any more than constables' votes and other exploded stand-bys of the Conservatives. But don't imagine that the Tories have no policy. They have; a brand new one. It is Mr. Dryden's interest in a Dakota ranch. And the Tories are greatly elated because two little country papers, of which few have heard, have expressed the opinion that Mr. Dryden ought not to have invested his money in a Dakota ranch. Why a man may not do what he likes with his own is not made exactly clear. Common sense men of business will not be much affected by Mr. Dryden's ranch. But that the cry is raised at all shows how very hard up the Whitneyites are for material wherewith to assail the Government."

After the Liberal victory of 1896 the Conservative press raised a tremendous howl about the introduction of the spoils system. It was one of their numerous false alarms, for, the Globe says, as a matter of fact the Liberal Government showed moderation and forbearance in their treatment of Conservative office-holders. It was left to a conservative Government to introduce the spoils system. The Roblin Government of Manitoba have probably the worst record in Canada for vindictive partisanship in the civil service. Official after official has been dismissed without even the pretence of any other crime than the holding of Liberal opinions. We do not hear the same wails of agony as used to pierce the air when a Conservative tide-waiter was replaced by a Liberal. Liberals know how to take a defeat without whining, and they do not labour under the Tory delusion that they have a prescriptive right to offices. But in view of all the preaching and howling of the Tory press about the spoils system, the record of the Roblin Government is certainly both instructive and amusing.

Oak Lake, Man., August 11.—Frank Colleaux, of this place, has turned missionary. A conscientious sense of duty has impelled him to spread a certain good work among his friends and neighbours. The work in question is the work of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Some time ago Mr. Colleaux was cured of Backache. He had it for years. Though he didn't know it, his kidneys were affected, and it was his kidneys that caused him such misery.

But he found relief. He did more, he found a positive cure. He read that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Backache. So they do; they've cured thousands of cases of it, simply because they act on the Kidneys with such splendid effect and thus get at the cause of that fearful disablement.

So Frank is spreading the good tidings among his friends as fast as he can. If he meets a man suffering with Backache he tells him right straight what is really the matter with him and recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills. In this way he is the means of helping many a poor victim of Kidney Disease who might never have understood that in Dodd's Kidney Pills he has a sure escape from his affliction.

"It gives me a great amount of pleasure," says Mr. Colleaux, "to recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all my neighbours and friends. I can testify to their excellent curative properties for Backache because two boxes cured me."

The Factories Bill Passed.

London, Aug. 14.—The House of Commons passed the factories bill to a third reading last night, after a heated debate, which arose out of the action of the government in withdrawing a clause, including laundries within the scope of the bill, because the Nationalists strongly objected to official inspections of the Catholic Conventual laundries, on the ground that such inspection would be subversive of the discipline it is necessary to maintain in reformatory laundries conducted by nuns for fallen women.

Prospect Brighter Than Ever.

London, Aug. 14.—Frederick W. Holls, U.S. member of the International Court of Arbitration at The Hague, who is in London, after prolonged visits to St. Petersburg, Berlin and Vienna, sails for New York on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, to-day. In an interview, he expressed the opinion that the outlook for international peace through arbitration was brighter than ever.

Stomach Catarrh

Thos. Howarde, of Montreal, suffered from stomach catarrh and dyspepsia for fifteen years. He had tried so many remedies without being benefited that he believed he would never be well. Below we give the result after taking Powley's Liquified Ozone. His way of telling it is best :

THE OZONE CO., LIMITED.

Gentlemen.—Having suffered from catarrh of the stomach and acute dyspepsia for fifteen years and tried many remedies with very little benefit, I decided to try Ozone, and for three days after using it I found little or no benefit, but the fourth day I felt decidedly better, and after using one bottle can honestly say that I feel more comfortable than I have felt for many years. I am satisfied from the benefit already received that it will cure me entirely.

(Signed) THOS. HOWARDE, 706 Dorchester St., Montreal, P.Q.

We believe, and we know that you would too, if you had the evidence every day as we do, that there is no other preparation extant that can approach Ozone in curing stomach and summer disorder. It rectifies the membraneous lining of the stomach, makes digestion complete and heals the inflammation of the intestinal tract. In bowel disorders Ozone stops the weakening drains quickly; absolutely essential in such ailments.

Consult our physician about your case. Write full details and you will get a specialist's advice free. Your letters are absolutely confidential. Address the Consulting Department, The Liquid Ozone Co., 229 Kinzie St., Chicago, U.S.A.

PROVINCIAL CROPS.

General Average Somewhat Below Last Year's.

FALL WHEAT WAS A FAILURE.

Hay and Clover the Best Crops of the Year—A Decrease in the Spring Crops—Apples Will Be Less Than Half Regular Yield—Other Fruit Crops Stated in Detail.

Toronto, Aug. 14.—The Ontario Agricultural Department has prepared a statement of the crops of the Province, based on the reports of its staff of regular correspondents. The returns deal with the conditions up to August. The injury done to the fall wheat by the Hessian fly in the Lake Erie group of counties has been considerable, but, in other places, very little damage was done. There have been more or less complaints of rust. The yield will range from 5 to 40 bushels per acre.

Spring wheat—The yield is a variable one. It has suffered from rust and the Hessian fly, but, on the whole, is in a fair condition.

Barley—Differences of opinion are expressed regarding the yield and quality. It will be a better crop, relatively, than either fall or spring wheat.

Oats—Large returns in the Lake Ontario counties have been reported, but, in other places, the reverse is the case. The crop has suffered somewhat from the abnormal heat of July.

Rye—The crop has turned out well in most cases, although, in some instances, it has been affected by the heat of July.

Peas—Reports vary, except on the point that the crop was more or less injured by the weevil. The yield will be from 10 to 30 bushels per acre. A good deal of the crop has yet to ripen.

Hay and clover—The crop is, without doubt, the most successful of the season, both as regards quality and quantity, and the yield will be above the average.

Corn—Taken as a whole, the crop gives promise of doing well, should early frosts not appear.

Potatoes—So far, the outlook is not very bright, but recent rains have improved things a bit.

Roots—Reports vary considerably. The weather of late, however, has been favorable, and the crop is picking up in appearance.

Fruit—Apples are far from satisfactory. There is not likely to be half an average yield. The pear crop is fair in quality, and the yield will be an average one. Peaches will be fair in the Western Lake Erie section, but will hardly do so well in the Niagara District. Plums range in yield from an average to failure. Cherries have suffered from rotting on the tree. Grapes promise a good yield.

Pastures and live stock—Pastures are expected to pick up again after the drying up they had during the hot spell. The milk supply, which has fallen off, will likely improve. Prices for cheese and butter have been most encouraging.

Bees and Honey — But for the dry weather of July, an immense yield would have been reported. The average yield will not go over 60 pounds per hive. Eastern apiaries did better than those in the West.

Acreages and yields — The following are the crop estimates for 1901, as judged by appearances on Aug. 1. The acreages are final, but the yield (except in the case of hay and clover) will be revised from actual threshing results in November.

Fall wheat has an area of 920,537 acres, yielding 16,237,499 bushels, or 17.6 bushels per acre. In 1900, there were 1,068,640 acres yielding 23,869,737 bushels, or 21.9 bushels per acre.

Spring wheat has an area of 358,048 acres, yielding 5,772,303 bushels, or 16.1 bushels per acre. In 1900 there were 376,905 acres, yielding 6,940,333 bushels, or 18.4 bushels per acre.

Barley has an area of 637,201 acres, yielding 16,857,161 bushels, or 26.5 bushels per acre, In 1900, the area was 577,810 acres, yielding 16,909,751 bushels, or 29.3 bushels per acre.

Oats have an area of 2,408,204 acres, yielding 79,868,890 bushels, or 33.2 bushels per acre. In 1900, the acreage was 2,398,834, yielding 89,693,827 bushels, or 37.4 bushels per acre.

Peas have an area of 602,724 acres, yielding 10,730,178 bushels, or 17.8 bushels per acre. In 1900, there were 661,592 acres, yielding 14,058,193, or 21.3 bushels per acre.

Beans have an area of 53,688 acres, yielding 1,069,928 bushels, or 19.9 bushels per acre. In 1900, the acreage was 44,053 acres, yielding 820,373 bushels, or 18.6 bushels per acre.

Rye has an area of 158,236 acres, yielding 2,690,027 bushels, or 17.0 bushels per acre. In 1900, the acreage was 142,213 acres, yielding 2,357,635 bushels, or 16.6 bushels per acre.

Hay and clover have an area of 2,557,263 acres, yielding 4,632,317 tons, or 1.81 tons per acre. In 1900, the area was 2,526,566 acres, yielding 3,133,045 tons, or 1.24 tons per acre.

Other crops — The following acreages have been determined for crops for which no estimated yield can be made at present: Corn, for husking, 323,922; corn, for silo, 197,932; buckwheat, 88,266; potatoes, 154,155; mangels, 61,095; carrots, 9,221; turnips, 145,909; rape, 41,693; flax, 7,083; hops, 1,054; tobacco, 2,935; orchard and garden, 354,299; vineyards, 12,227. Apples give an estimated yield of 13,834,223 bushels, or a trifle over two bushels per tree of bearing age, or less than 40 per cent. of last year's yield. Live stock on hand: Horses, 621,885; cattle, 2,507,620; sheep, 1,761,799, hogs, 1,491,865; poultry, 9,599,736.

The Cause of Hay Fever.

It's a microbe that floats in the air, gets into the throat and the lungs, developes rapidly, excites inflammation, etc. The cause is as simple as a thistle in the finger. Extract the thistle, away goes the pain. Destroy the Hay Fever germ—you get well. That's why Catarrhozone acts so marvellously in Hay Fever. Its fragrant vapor to you brings cure, but to the microbe death. Catarrhozone is as quick to act on these microscopic organisms as lightning. Prevents as well as cures, and is always successful. Miss Winters Commits Suicide.

Shelbourne, Aug. 14.—Emma Winters, the 21-year-old daughter of William Winters, of this town, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by taking Paris green. Dr. Barr was immediately called in, when the rash act was discovered, but his efforts to save the young lady's life were unavailing. No reason is assigned for the act other than despondency due to ill-health.

A Victim at Leamington.

Leamington, Ont., Aug. 14.—Melvin Bover, a boy about 12 years of age, was drowned yesterday while bathing at Bell's Point on the lake shore here. He was taken with cramps.

1,200 People Homeless.

Christiania, Aug. 14, — Four-fifths of the town of Farsund, on the North Sea, has been destroyed by fire. The church, post-office, State Bank and schools have been gutted. About 1,200 people were rendered homeless.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

The run of live stock at the Cattle Market here to-day was fairly large, 78 car loads all told, composed of 1388 cattle, 215 hogs, 328 sheep and lambs and 30 calves.

Trade was generally good in nearly all the different classes, and prices were if anything, a little firmer. Good butcher cattle were very scarce, and dealers who only buy the best were complaining of not being able to get a supply of choice cattle.

An Atrocious Crime.

New York, Aug. 14.—Another case resembling in some of its details the notorious Jennie Bosschieter assault case is reported from Passaic, N. J. The alleged offence is said to have been committed late on Saturday night. On Sunday morning Irene Jones, 19 years of age, was found in an unconscious condition at the door of the residence of her sister, Mrs. Bertha Tracey. As a result of her story told to the police, warrants have been issued for seven young men, some of them having excellent family connections.

SIXTEEN STAGES OF THE SLATER SHOE

No better object lesson can be found to teach how thoroughly a thing may be done when the object is to have it well done, than the exhibit in our south window, of the progressive

16 Stages of the Slater Shoe.

Here one sees the successive several operations from the skin of leather to the finished shoe. It shows the building up of the shoe, its gradual and symmetrical progress, the thorough work, the minute attention to detail, the determination of the manufacturers to produce the best of shoes —the Slater Shoe. There is no skimping of detail, no lack of fitting and finishing, of accurate, systematic work that results in the perfect shoe.

We sell the Slater Shoe. Any up-to-date dealer does. But in addition—for Slater Shoes are only a part of our selling—we have hundreds of excellent and reliable shoes. The variety is not so wide, that sizes so numerous, the differences in shape so important, for there is as much difference in feet as in faces, and we have to carry an ample stock to meet the requirements of all. Nothing that a good shoe store should have is lacking. But where the average dealer stocks fifty pair we stock five hundred. Just a few lines to suggest to men a nice shoe that will be comfortable, shapely, dressy and reliable :

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty. Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurances in force to the extent of $16,759,355,-92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634,68. The Increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,278.76.

One in Four Has Piles.

The Most Torturing Disease That Man has Ever Known—The Safest and Most Certain Cure is Dr. Chase's Ointment

Of the grown-up persons you meet from day to day one in four suffers more or less from itching, bleeding or protruding piles. Mock modesty leads many to suffer in silence, others dread the surgeon's knife, and, believing an operation to be the only cure, neglect to be treated. Some have found out by actual trial that piles can be promptly relieved and thoroughly cured by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

If you are a sufferer from this exasperating ailment and will once make a test of Dr. Chase's Ointment you will be grateful to the end of your life for having read this advertisement. It will certainly cure you, no matter what forms of piles you have, so long as you give it an honest trial.

It has been frequently remarked by persons who have used this preparation that it has probably relieved more more suffering from itching skin disease than any remedy that the world has known. While remarkably effective, as a cure for eczema and salt rheum, Dr. Chase's Ointment is unique as the only actual and proven cure for each and every form of piles.

Mr. W. D. Ketchison, Bailiff, 9th Division Court, Frankford, Hastings County, states:—

"I was troubled for thirty years with Itchig Piles annd Eczema. I could not sleep at night, and when I got warm the itching was terrible. Eczema covered my legs down to the knees—perfectly raw. I have tried every preparation I could hear of. Seeing Dr. Chase's Ointment advertised, I procured a box, and less than this one box effected a complete cure."

If you have not met with some one who has been cured of piles by Dr. Chase's Ointment, ask your neighbours about it. It is impossible to publish testimonials of persons that all readers know, but by asking your friends you are sure to hear good words for Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is standard the world over and is guaranteed to cure any case of piles. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

NOTHING DECISIVE.

56,400 Men Out in Response to Shaffer's Three Orders.

20,000 LESS THAN HALF OF THEM

The Mill Owners So Far Have the Best of It, but the Strikers Are Making Gains—Both Sides Express Themselves as Satisfied—Peace Talk in C.P.R. Strike.

Pittsburg, Aug. 14.—Neither side moved decisively yesterday in the great industrial conflict between employers and employes in the steel trade, and the result is still in the balance. The strikers made gains at Pittsburg, McKeesport, Wheeling and Bellaire in the last 24 hours, but in the main the advantage is still with the mill owners. Both sides claim to be preparing moves that will bring confusion to opponents, but neither side had shown its hand.

The general situation last night can be summarized as follows:

Five men, two of them skilled, quit at the lower mill of the Carnegie Company in Pittsburg yesterday and joined the strikers. Their deflection represents the first break in the Carnegie forces of more than 15,000 men. The strikers were jubilant over the incident, but the company claims to have filled their places at once, and that there will be no more desertions at any of the plants. The Bellaire plant, at which men struck on Sunday, was finally closed down yesterday, after working shorthanded until Monday afternoon. When another start will be made is problematical. Several hundred boys employed at the National Tube Works at McKeesport went out during the night and day, and their act materially aided the effort of the strikers to finally tie up the plant. The works are going ahead shorthanded, but the ranks of the workers are thinning, and the supply of material is limited.

The strikers made gains at Wheeling, and the steel officials admitted yesterday that Benwood would be closed down. Clark's mill here is moving along full-handed. Lindsay & McCutcheon are operating with a small crew, and the managers are planning to open Painter's and increase the force at Lindsay & McCutcheon's. A break in the ranks of the men who struck at Painter's is expected, but the strike managers deny that one will occur. Another break is reported as possible at the Newcastle, but there is not as yet no positive indications of it. The American Tin Plate Company has a small force at the Crescent plant, in Cleveland, and is also planning resumption at other points with non-union men. The Steel Corporation has ordered that the Chartiers plant at Carnegie be dismantled and removed to Leechburg.

So far, good order has prevailed, although the steel officials assert that there has been intimidation at Wheeling, McKeesport and Pittsburg. Both sides express their confidence in ultimate victory, and are actively carrying forward their respective campaigns. The number of men out as a result of the general order is now roughly estimated at 8,000, and on the three orders at 56,400.

C. P. R. SITUATION.

The Trackmen's Strike Apparently in a Fair Way of Settlement—Verdict in the Proton Accident.

Montreal, Aug. 14.—The C. P. R. strike is in a fair way to be settled. Your correspondent learns on the best of authority that Mr. Shaughnessy of the C.P.R. has agreed to a Board of Conciliation, composed of the General Chairmen of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, the Order of Railway Conductors, and the Order of Railway Trainmen. This should settle the question at issue.

The different representatives saw President Shaughnessy yesterday, and he turned them over to General Manager McNicoll, with whom they had a long conference. At the end, however, the men would say nothing, but the general impression is that an important announcement will soon be forthcoming.

Culpably Negligent.

Owen Sound, Aug. 14.—Dr. Hurlburt, coroner, Thornbury, held an inquest at Queen's Hotel, Proton, on Monday afternoon, to inquire into the cause of the wreck on Saturday.

Foreman J. Freeman presented the following verdict:

That the said William Campbell came to his death by the derailing of his engine, the said engine falling upon him, the cause of derailment being due to clay on the track, and we find the Canadian Pacific Railway Company culpably negligent in not keeping a man at the crossing to keep the track clear of clay during the time the contractor is drawing clay across the track.

The Bad is All Out.

To be sure you can't take the bad out of everything. But you can out of some things at any rate. Take cod liver oil for instance with its disagreeable odor and taste; in Scott's Emulsion all the bad has been taken out, and you have just the oil without anything disagreeable. It is called "Cod Liver Oil made easy."

Noxon Works Scorched.

Ingersoll, Aug. 14.—Part of the Noxon Works was burned Monday afternoon. The fire, which occurred shortly before 4 o'clock, was caused by a spark, supposedly from the emery wheel, dropping into a barrel of black japan. Before the workmen could realize what had happened, nearly the whole room was a mass of flames, the men having barely time to escape. Some of those nearest to where the fire started were slightly scorched, but, fortunately, no one was seriously injured. The fire was put out at 8 o'clock.

The damage caused by the fire will be $30,000.

Invader Won the Third.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Invader won the third race to-day, which was scheduled for the triangular course. It was another calm day, and barring accident, the Cadillac was sure to be beaten. The Detroit boat clearly fouled the challenger soon after the start, which the judges allowed. Both boats continued on the course, but on the Toronto craft drawing steadily away the Defender gave up the chase. The freaR Milwaukee took up the running, and she too was beaten in turn.

—The Official Times.—

Start—Cadillac, 11.00.30; Invader, 11.00.35.
Second mark—Invader, 12.25.15.
Third mark—Invader, 1.36.05.
Finish—Invader, 2.49.01; Milwaukee, 2.49.30.

It Strikes the Heart.

Not only is the victim of Rheumatism a constant sufferer, but he lives in continual dread that the disease will reach the heart, which means sudden and unexpected death. Rheumatism can only be cured when the uric acid is removed from the blood by the healthy action of the kidneys. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver pills make the kidneys healthy and vigorous, and so gradually and thoroughly cure Rheumatism by removing the cause. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

CANADA'S POPULATION

Semi-Official Statement of the Census Return.

GAIN FIGURES BY PROVINCES.

The Population of the Whole Dominion Will Be About 5,340,000—Some Western Statements Yet to Be Received Will Add Something to This Substantial Progress Made By Manitoba.

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—It was expected that the census returns would have been given to the press yesterday, and keen disappointment was felt when the expectation was not realized. Newspaper correspondents swarmed around the Census Bureau at an early hour in the morning, in consequence of the statement that the Minister of Agriculture and the Secretary of State had been discussing the matter and had decided that the first census bulletin should be handed out on the morning of the 15th, in time for the afternoon papers. Why there should be any particular desire to favor the afternoon papers did not appear, but no demur was made, and obedient to instructions the representatives of the press were on the spot at the appointed time. About 12.15 Chief Commissioner Blue appeared and informed the scribes who had been waiting for two or three hours that the figures were not ready for publication, but that he would see what could be done at 5 o'clock to satisfy public curiosity. At the last-mentioned hour the newspaper men again congregated at the bureau, only to receive another disappointment. The latest statement made was that the printers were behindhand, but early to-day the correspondents might hope to be rewarded for their patience. It is expected that no further delay will take place after today.

While no official information regarding the census was obtainable, some reports of a semi-official character were in circulation. For instance, it was stated that for the whole Dominion the population would be found to be about 5,340,000. All the returns from the west are, however, not yet in, so that this statement of the aggregate population must be partially estimated. It is said that while Quebec will show an increase of population for the last ten years of 130,000, the gain for Ontario will be only 55,000. Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, according to report, will together show an accession of 18,000, but Prince Edward Island regrets a decrease of 5,000. Manitoba may exhibit a gain of 95,000 in population, which would be over 52 per cent. more than the banner Province of the Dominion. Eighty thousand is said to have been added to the population of the Northwest Territories, and 90,000 to that of British Columbia. An estimate of 48,000, in the absence of complete returns, represents the growth in the unorganized districts. The foregoing figures are not official, but they come from a reliable source and are approximately correct.

THE WRECKED HARVESTERS.

No More Deaths Reported, but Four Names Added to the List of Those Who Were Injured.

Winnipeg, Aug. 16.—The passengers on the wrecked C.P.R. train at Ingloff arrived from the East yesterday morning. No more deaths are reported, though it is feared that a missing man may be under the five cars which left the track.

The list of injured, in addition to those mentioned in Wednesday's despatch, includes R. Forward, Newfoundland; Ed. Kee, St. John, N. B.; Jos. Little, Cape Breton, and George Porter, St. John.

The fireman, John Corwin, had his leg so badly smashed that amputation at the knee was necessary. James Craig, York County, has serious injuries in his head, and the two last-named, and Forward, Newfoundland, who has painful bruises on thigh, are the only ones sufficiently injured to necessitate confinement in the hospital.

The front car of the train was almost smashed to pieces, and it appears miraculous that the casualties were so light. Nearly all the injuries were sustained through passengers jumping from the train.

Dan White, Kent County, was standing on the platform between the first two cars, and was crushed between them, and instantly killed.

D. McKegun, Cape Breton, jumped from a window of the car, falling beneath the tender, and it took three hours to release him. He died five minutes after his release.

Dr. Blanchard, C.P.R. physician, says all the injured will recover.

To Remove the Restrictions.

London, Aug. 16.—A conference was held at Glasgow on Tuesday to consider whether steps should be taken or not for the removal of the restrictions affecting Canadian cattle. It was unanimously agreed that the restrictions were no longer necessary, and ought to be removed.

Is it Possible

Remember the $1,000 worth of Whitewear on sale Monday next at 10 a.m. Yours to save.

Sutcliffe's are prepared to demonstrate it and will gladly make comparisons in their Dress Goods section. A purchase of three cases of these Balayeuse Worsteds (in Navy and Blacks) under conditions most favourable, affords us the privilege of placing before the women of Peterborough such rare value in plain, sponged and shrunk, wantable materials as has seldom, if ever, been seen before.

The fact of these Worsteds being thoroughly sponged and shrunk, renders less cloth necessary and saves the expense of the shrinking. This material is heavier than a Serge, yet not burdensome to carry, and is most adaptable for Tailor-made Suits and Separate Skirts.

It will be readily seen, when comparisons are made, that there is no fictitiousness regarding its worth at 95c, and the buyers will realize and appreciate the handsome saving of over fifty per cent.

Peterborough buyers are still showing marked interest in the numerous Special Offerings at this Store.

JOLIET MEN WENT OUT

3,300 More Strikers Added to the Big Steel Fight.

BOTH PARTIES AGREE IN DENIAL

Say That Not a Single Step Has Been Taken to Bring About Peace—What is Being Done in This Direction by Independent Parties—Status of C.P.R. Strike.

Pittsburg, Aug. 16.—Once more there are efforts afoot to settle the strike waged against the United States Steel Corporation by the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, but their success is problematic. Neither side will admit that there has been a single step toward bringing about a reapproachment or that there is any prospect of an exchange of peace proposals. B. B. Caldwell, formerly a millowner of Mingo Junction, is known to have conferred with the strike leaders with a view to stating a basis of settlement which he plans to place before the officials of the Steel Corporation. Mr. Caldwell is acting independently, and does not represent either the manufacturers or the men.

The Steel Corporation seemed to be somewhat stronger at the lower union mill of the Carnegie Company in this city, although the strikers are still working hard to cripple or close it. The corporations also added to their force at Wellsville, and announced that at last it had the plant running to its full capacity.

It had been anticipated that the day would show some move on the part of the American Tin Plate Company toward opening one or more of its plants with non-union men, but nothing was done and there were no attempts at extensions in other directions. Three hundred men employed at the Seamless Tube Plant at McKeesport, an auxiliary of the National Tube Company, threw down their tools and joined the strikers. It is said that they quit because they would not handle non-union made material.

Still Strike Spreading.

Joliet, Ills., Aug. 16.—The four lodges of the Amalgamated Association Employes of the Illinois Steel Company at the Joliet mills, by an unanimous vote, decided last night to obey the strike order of President Shaffer. This action will close the entire plant here, throwing out of employment nearly three thousand men.

Morgan's Great Scheme.

New York, Aug. 16.—J. Pierpont Morgan has planned a union of labor and capital, by setting aside several millions of dollars of Steel Corporation stock at par for purchase by the 165,000 men employed by the company. It is said the plan was conceived before the strike was thought of.

The C.P.R. Strike.

Montreal, Aug. 16.—There is still no settlement between the C. P. R. and the strikers, and the statement was made from the general manager's office last evening that the company had made a proposition to the strikers, which, to use Mr. McNicoll's words, the men laughed at. There is a feeling, however, that the end is not far off.

At midnight President Wilson stated that he had little hope for a settlement, although a final meeting will be held to-day. The Conciliation Committee have left for home. He said that if a settlement was not arrived at, the only thing to be done is to hold public meetings throughout the country, and set public opinion at work.

CREE NATION STARVING.

Indians of Barren Lands Are Being Exterminated.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 16.—Rev. F. G. Stevens, a Methodist clergyman, who has been on a long missionary trip to the borders of the Barren Lands, 400 miles north of Winnipeg, returned to civilization yesterday with a thrilling story of suffering and death among the Cree Indians in that section. He says that 1,400 are all that survive of the nation, and that they are starving to death. They have no flesh or vegetable food of any kind, and are living on a scanty vegetation, not sufficiently sustaining to keep life for any length of time. In his trip of more than 1,000 miles through the stricken district, Mr. Stevens says he saw the bodies of forty Indians who had died of starvation, and hundreds of others were in the last stages. These Indians are non-treaty Indians, receiving nothing from the Canadian Government.

Five or six Murders.

London, Aug. 16.—Lord Kitchener's mail despatch on the subject of the Vlakfontein fight of May 29, says:

"There seems to be no doubt that five or six cases of the shooting of British wounded by the Boers occurred."

CANADIAN PRODUCE IN BRITAIN.

The following from the London (Eng.) Canadian Gazette, is of interest to Canadians:—"Five years ago we took from Canada only 7 per cent. of our imported food; last year we took 16 per cent., and in the next five years the proportion will be probably doubled. In cheese alone we now derive 70 per cent. of our imports from Canada, and we know that the butter trade has increased fifteen-fold and the bacon trade twenty-fold in ten years. In 1890 Canada exported 162 ship-loads of produce to Great Britain, and last year 480 ship-loads. And perhaps the most important fact of all is that the exports of Canadian wheat were last year thirty times greater than they were ten years ago."

"It must not be forgotten," says the Glasgow Herald, commenting upon these significant figures, "that the ports of Canada are nearer to us by sea than those of the United States. Some of her sons resented the title our "Our Lady of the Snows," bestowed on her by Mr. Rudyard Kipling, but Mr. Fisher contends that the coldness of the country enables it to produce better fruit, for instance, than any other. The point need not be argued, for the Canadian apple is good enough to stand on its own merits. We want something more than apples, however, and the important point is that the Canadian Government, by facilitating transport within the Dominion, and by instituting a system of continuous cold storage for produce on the way to market, have enabled perishable food to be laid down in this country in practically the same condition as that in which it leaves the producers in Canada. What limitation there is to the trade seems to be caused by insufficiency of ocean cold storage transport, and the necessity for that is now being perceived by shipowners."

"Nothing," adds the Herald, "is of 'greater importance to this country than the future of its food supplies, and therefore the facts and figures submitted yesterday by Mr. Fisher and his colleagues come home to the bosom and business of all of us."

'TIS "MISCHIEVOUS."

Sir Vernon Harcourt Denounces Kitchener's Notice.

THE ARMING OF THE NATIVES.

The Liberal Critic Compares It With the Darkest Stain of the War Between England and America—Mr. Chamberlain Upholds the Principle and Defends the Banishing of the Burghers.

London, Aug. 16.—The waning session of the House of Commons was enlivened yesterday by a vigorous tilt between Sir William Vernon Harcourt (Liberal) and Mr. Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary, over Lord Kitchener's proclamation. Sir William characterized it as a "mischievous document, the inspiration of neither Lord Kitchener nor Lord Milner, but of the ministry of Natal."

He declared the government, in arming the natives, was reverting to a practice which had left the darkest stain on the history of the war between England and America. The new policy of the government promised to be neither creditable nor effective, and was in contravention of all the fundamental principles of the St. Petersburg convention.

The country would welcome an ante-adjournment statement on the status of the war, on which they were still spending £5,000,000 a month, although it was declared ended at the close of the last session.

Mr. Chamberlain said the war status was clearly indicated by Lord Kitchener's weekly reports. He himself had gone out of the prophesying business, but he assured the speaker that the government's attitude was the only method of ending the war.

The Colonial Secretary declared that the use of native troops was no new policy. It had been pursued without adverse criticism. "The Indian troops in China had been co-operating with the troops of five of the highest civilized powers.

Regarding the banishment of burghers, Mr. Chamberlain said Great Britain had "a perfect right to enact what laws she chose for the government of a country acquired by conquest. The Boers must be taught that they can no longer carry on guerrilla warfare at no personal risk, while Great Britain fed their women and children."

He compared the condition in South Africa and the Philippines, and said the policy of America was declared by Gen. MacArthur's proclamation, and would certainly be the policy of Great Britain if the campaign degenerates into a war of banditti.

Regarding the devastation policy, Mr. Chamberlain said it was nothing compared with Gen. Sherman's campaign. He had talked with Gen. Sherman himself, and Sherman justified his action on the ground of humanity.

Mr. Chamberlain also said there was no foundation for the report that Lord Kitchener was coming home.

Mr. Asquith denied that there was any question of international law involved in Lord Kitchener's proclamation. "The people of those territories are both de jure and de facto the King's subjects, and the proclamation is a warning on the lines of the option given to the inhabitants of Alsace-Lorraine at the end of the Franco-German war."

Mr. Balfour, replying, declared that not a horse or a man would be withdrawn from South Africa unless the military situation justified it, but that the Government had every reason to hope, on the reassembling of Parliament next year, they would find warlike operations in South Africa practically over.

No Negotiations for Peace.

London, Aug. 16.—(5.20 a. m.)—In the course of the debate in the House of Commons, Mr. Chamberlain denied that the negotiations of any sort in the interest of peace were proceeding.

The House sat until 5 o'clock this morning and cleared the final stages of various bills to enable prorogation to-morrow.

REGARDLESS OF CHAMBERLAIN.

Redmond Says Irish Representatives Will Not Be Reduced.

London, Aug. 16.—In an interview yesterday, William Redmond, Irish-Nationalist, said he was not disturbed at the threat of Colonial Secretary Chamberlain to have the Irish representation in the House of Commons cut down, as the Act of Union guarantees that Ireland shall have 100 members. Redmond said further that it would be unjust to consider the population of Ireland as a basis for representation, because, on this basis, once within the past century, Ireland ought to have had 200 members. Redmond declared that any attempt to reduce the Irish representation would be resisted to the utmost.

An Editor at the Bar.

London, Aug. 16.—The House of Commons yesterday, on the motion of John Redmond, the Irish-Nationalist leader, ordered the editor and publisher of The Globe, an evening paper of London (Conservative), to appear at the bar of the House this afternoon, for gross breach of the privileges of the House, in accusing the Nationalist members of corruption, in connection with private bill legislation.

TEACH CHILDREN POLITENESS.

Educational Methods Deprecated By One at Ottawa Convention.

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—The higher education section of the Dominion Educational Association opened its session yesterday. Mr. A. Stevenson of Pickering College read a paper on "The Teaching of History," in which he maintained the importance of that subject as a vehicle for culture. The teaching of history should clear the mind of local and national prejudices. It should serve as the guide to civic and political duties, and if teachers of history and literature would do their whole duty the world over peace and not war would be inevitable, and international quarrels could be settled by arbitration, instead of wholesale dueling. To teach only the history of one's own nation produces narrowness and boastings. The teaching of history should prevent class and social prejudices and foster a spirit tending to the elevation of the common people, widen the sympathies and make all more willing to do their share in furthering the divine purposes, and working for the betterment of mankind.

Mr. Ernest Smith, Westmount, Que., read an interesting paper entitled "The School as a Preparation for Practical Life." Mr. Smith stated that several successful business men had complained to him that Canadian boys and girls are not taught or trained in the paths of politeness. According to Mr. Smith's business friends, the Canadian child leaves the school too soon. It has not learned to observe accurately or express its ideas concisely. One business man thought the mastery of shorthand would go far to develop the faculty of accurate observation. Mr. Smith deplored the fact that too many boys and girls are dismissed from the schools mere machines.

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—Dr. Goggin of Regina was elected President of the Dominion Educational Association last night. Principal Scott of Toronto was elected a director.

OFFICERS OF I.O.O.F.

C. C. Lyman of Brockville Chosen Grand Master By Acclamation.

Guelph, Aug. 16.—There was a full representation of delegates at yesterday morning's session of the Oddfellows' Grand Lodge. The election of general officers was the opening business.

The report of the Committee on Election returns was presented by A. E. Harley of Brantford. C. C. Lyman of Brockville was elected Grand Master by acclamation. R. K. Cowan, K. C., of London, was elected Deputy Grand Master, also by acclamation. J. B. King of Toronto was re-elected Grand Secretary. W. J. McCormack, Toronto, was re-elected Grand Treasurer. Dr. James McLurg, P.G.M., of Sault Ste. Marie, was by acclamation elected Grand Representative to Sovereign Grand Lodge, which meets this year in Indianapolis, Ind., on September 12.

The election of a Grand Warder was a close contest. Ten candidates were in the field for the position, which leads in regular succession to the Grand Mastership. At the end of the fourth ballot J. B. Turner of Hamilton was elected by a substantial majority.

MEAT TABOORED.

Some people believe that a purely vegetable diet is the most wholesome. They may be right. They are entitled to their own opinion. But most of us think the natural diet is a mixed one. To be deprived of meat would be a hardship to the majority. Mrs. Blair, of 1010 St. Denis street, certainly thought it so.

Mrs. Blair was not a vegetarian of her own free will. She ate no meat because she dare not. She could not digest it. It was an involuntarily deprivation, enforced on her by the weakness of her stomach. Mrs. Blair was a dyspeptic.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are well known in Montreal. They have cured hundreds of people in that city of Dyspepsia in all its various forms and manifestations. They are the simplest, easiest and most reasonable treatment known. They act on the food and the stomach gets rested. Nine times out of ten that is all it wants. Mrs. Blair used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and she is one of the large number of Montreal people who know what they are from experience.

"I had been troubled for over a year," writes Mrs. Blair, "with a gnawing sensation at the stomach and pressure of wind on the heart. I had no disposition to eat and found it impossible to eat anything in the nature of meats. My son induced me to try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, knowing of so many cures effected by their use among his friends. Before I had finished the box, I found great relief. After taking four boxes I was able to eat meat again or anything else I fancied. I gladly certify to their merits as a Dyspepsia medicine as I have had no returns of Indigestion since using them."

Refused to Dock Cruiser Chicago.

London, Aug. 16.—Rear Admiral Cromwell was in London last night trying to arrange to dock his flagship, the Chicago, at Southampton. The authorities there have refused to dock the cruiser unless she discharges all her ammunition. The upshot will probably be that the Chicago will go to Havre or Portsmouth. The Southampton dock is a private and not a Government institution.

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty. Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurances in force to the extent of $16,759,355.92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634,68. The Increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,278.76.

WORK FOR ALL.

Too Many Harvesters Have Gone on the Main Line, However.

Winnipeg, Aug. 15.—About 2,500 more harvesters arrived yesterday afternoon in four excursion trains. It is expected that the number of arrivals this week will be as great as those of last week, viz., about 10,000, and there is little doubt that Manitoba farmers will be well supplied with labor. Too many harvesters have already gone on the main line, as most of them are booked for Moose Jaw and at many points the labor market is overstocked. Several have returned to the city, disappointed, and asked to be permitted to return east on their tickets. The company, of course, refuses such permission, as the hands are required to work at least one month for a farmer before the return cheap rate is granted, and there are many parts of the province where men are badly needed. The authorities say there is abundance of work for all.

The Duke in South Africa.

Durban, Aug. 15.—The British steamer Ophir, having on board the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, which left Maritius on Aug. 8, arrived here Tuesday morning. The immense crowd on the block at the end of the harbor included Zulus and Indians, as well as whites, and all cheered enthusiastically, the forts meanwhile saluting. The Duke and Duchess were welcomed on the pier by the Governor of Natal, Sir Henry McCallum, the members of the Colonial Cabinet, a committee of prominent residents representing the municipality of Durban, and a large number of naval and military officers. During the afternoon the Mayor of Durban entertained the Duke and Duchess at the Royal Hotel. Immediately after the luncheon the Duke and Duchess took train for Pietermaritzburg.

Alive, Yet Half Dead.

Feeling miserable. This is the condition of thousands of growing girls and women. Can't eat enough to be truly alive. Digest so little of what they do eat as to scarcely know what life really is. Miserable, of course. Eat more, digest more, then feel streaming through life's renewed current, the buoyancy, the strength, the hopefulness of youth. Simply done if you'll just take Ferrozone, the wonderful blood maker, nerve strength, and brain vigour. Messrs. Ormond & Walsh, druggists, know all about it. Call and ask them about it.

Struck By a Train.

Chatham, Aug. 16.—John Graham was struck by a C. P. R. express four and a half miles west of here and now lies in a precarious condition in St. Joseph's Hospital. The injured man is section foreman at Ringold, a station on the C. P. R., seven and a half miles west of here. His wife had come into town in the morning to be with her sister, who entered St. Joseph's suffering with typhoid fever. Mr. Graham had remained in town until after 2 o'clock. He had almost reached the diamond where the G. T. R. and C. P. R. cross, when he was run into by the east-bound express, due here at 2.36 a. m. Both arms were badly crushed near the elbows, and his left leg is also broken. There are also internal injuries.

Acute and Chronic Rheumatism

are equally influenced by the almost magical pain-subduing power of Polson's Norviline, equal in medicinal value to five times the quantity of any other rheumatic remedy. Norviline cures because it reaches the source of the disease and drives it out of the system. Norviline is an unusually good rheumatic cure, and makes many unusual cures. Just rub it in the next time you have an attack. The immediate result will surprise you. 25c.

CHEESE MARKETS.

Yankleek Hill, Aug. 15.—After a long wait and very slow bidding, 1067 boxes of white cheese changed hands here to-day. The bid stood at 9c for over an hour, and finally McRae raised to 9¼c, and in a moment it was raised to 9½c. By a bid of 10 1-16c Williamson got the call of the board at this money, and got 422 boxes. Pitt got 258, Gibson 45, and Birdsell 153. Fraser got 204 at 9¼c. An effort was made by the buyers to get the salesmen on the street, but they refused to sell off the board.

Barrie, Aug. 15.—The cheese market here to-day was dull. The large shrinkage in the make, caused no doubt by the high price of butter, and the general falling off in the quantity of milk, stiffened the backbone of the salesmen, and 9 11-16c was obtained by two factories. 9¼c by two others, and one accepted 9⅛c, while the others refused that bid, and were allowed to sell off the board. Fairview Creamery obtained 12c for 86 boxes of butter. The board adjourned to meet Aug. 29 at 1.30 p.m.

SIXTEEN STAGES OF THE SLATER SHOE

No better object lesson can be found to teach how thoroughly a thing may be done when the object is to have it well done, than the exhibit in our south window, of the progressive

16 Stages of the Slater Shoe.

Here one sees the successive several operations from the skin of leather to the finished shoe. It shows the building up of the shoe, its gradual and symmetrical progress, the thorough work, the minute attention to detail, the determination of the manufacturers to produce the best of shoes—the Slater Shoe. There is no skimping of detail, no lack of fitting and finishing, of accurate, systematic work that results in the perfect shoe.

We sell the Slater Shoe. Any up-to-date dealer does. But in addition—for Slater Shoes are only a part of our selling—we have hundreds of excellent and reliable shoes. The variety is not so wide, that sizes so numerous, the differences in shape so important, for there is as much difference in feet as in faces, and we have to carry an ample stock to meet the requirements of all. Nothing that a good shoe store should have is lacking. But where the average dealer stocks fifty pair we stock five hundred. Just a few lines to suggest to men a nice shoe that will be comfortable, shapely, dressy and reliable:

Men's Dong. Oxford Shoes, machine sewed,.....	1.50	Men's Camping and Boating Lace Balmorals.....	.85

		Youths' Lacrosse Shoes.....	.40

Just a mention of Ladies' Shoes. The stock is ample, the variety more than great, and the prices most reasonable.

GOUGH BROTHERS.

PETERBOROUGH'S CIVIC HOLIDAY.

Our People Made a Business of Pleasure-Seeking.

OTHER BUSINESS SUSPENDED

Out-of-Town Excursions Nearly Depopulate Peterborough—Population was Temporarily Decreased by Between 2,000 and 3,000—Not an Accident to Mar the Pleasure of the Day.

Peterborough's Civic Holiday for 1901, was a notably pleasant, and from every point of view, successful celebration of the occasion. Business was entirely suspended, and the town was solemnly quiet—as with the quietude of half a dozen Sundays rolled into one. The only excitement that can be regarded as anywise approaching that condition was the sudden awakening of a policeman, and the runaway of a misguided horse attached to a road cart, and the glorious rainstorm in the evening.

The out of town excursions were very largely patronized, and it is safe to say that counting the private excursions and outings, the excursions are responsible for emptying the town of between 2,000 and 3,000 persons, and as will be seen by the reports of the different outings subjoined, they were all successful, and unattended by any serious accident or mishap to any person.

Besides there were hundreds out of town on private excursions, by carriage, bicycle, canoe, etc. Of course some discomfort resulted from the storm, especially at Stony Lake, but as that was one of the risks to be run any day, it is not to be counted as a calamity, and if it were, it is fully offset by the immense benefit done to the pastures, potato fields, and root crops of the country.

FIFTY-SEVENTH REGT. BAND.

Their Excursion Patronized by Hundreds—It Proved a Grand Success.

That the crack Fifty-seventh Regimental Band, is an organisation of which the citizens are proud, was amply demonstrated Thursday morning, when the 8.20 G. T. R. train pulled out with over 600 souls on board, to accompany the band on their excursion to Lindsay, Sturgeon Point and Bobcaygeon. Their is no gainsaying the fact that the band is immensely popular with all classes of the citizens, for they certainly had by far the largest crowd on their outing of any excursion advertised for the day. One regrettable feature in connection with the excursion was the fact that over two hundred people were unable to secure tickets for the outing, as the supply quickly ran out. This was certainly not the fault of the band, as application had previously been made to the railway authorities for additional tickets, as indications during the week pointed to the fact that the band would have a bumper crowd. As a result of the shortage a large number were sorely disappointed.

The excursionists were a jolly, good-natured crowd. Everybody was out for a good time, and they certainly got their money's worth. "It was the best day's sport I ever had," was the unanimous verdict of all, and everybody was loud in their praises of the excellent manner in which the band handled the excursion, and the painstaking efforts they put forth with a view to seeing that everybody enjoyed themselves.

The run to Lindsay was made in good time, and the excursionists quickly wended their way to the Lindsay street wharf, where the Crandella lay in waiting. The band also engaged the Esturion to convey a portion of the large crowd, and after the band had rendered a number of selections on the wharf, the Crandella left her moorings for the trip to Sturgeon Point, and Caygeon, being followed two hours after by the Esturion.

The trip on the water was a delightful one, the excursionists being carried through to Bobcaygeon without a mishap. A general rush was then made to the different hotels for dinner, the proprietors being caught napping as they were not prepared for catering to the hungry hundreds. However, the inner man was satisfied for the time being, and the excursionists strolled through the pretty village viewing the sights, and not a few paid their respects to Mr. Smiff, of the Independent, who received them with open arms. Bandmaster Gliddon and his boys delighted the villagers with a number of selections, which drew forth warm ecomiums from several American tourists.

About four o'clock the excursionists started on the return trip to Lindsay. A few minutes stay only was made at Sturgeon Point, and while on the lake a dangerous looking storm came up, but the excursionists did not seem to mind that — they were all out for a good time, and although Jupiter Pluvius soaked things generally, still he far from dampened the enthusiasm of the crowd. The band exists by blowing and a little breeze was a natural incident. The band (which had been split in two sections for the pleasure of the excursionists on both vessels) were more than liberal in their presentation of a choice musical programme. The band possesses some excellent vocalists and the different solos, as well as choruses, rendered, added a great deal to the delight of of the trip.

Lindsay was reached about six o'clock in the evening, and a large number of Lindsay citizens crowded the wharf to welcome the excursionists. After supper the residents of the town lined the streets in thousands, anxious to hear Peterborough's crack band. Bandmaster Gliddon and his men took up a position on the balcony of the Benson House, where a short but excellent programme was rendered to the delight of the gathering. Every number was loudly received, and expressions of delight were heard on every side. The Simpson House was serenaded, after which the excursionists wended their way to the station, which was alive with a seething mass of humanity, and it was with difficulty that the train was boarded at all. The whole town seemed to have turned out to give the Peterborough people a send-off. The train reached town on time, and the general verdict of all was that the outing was a thoroughly delightful one in every particular.

NOTES.

The Fifty-seventh Regt. Band is popular with the people.

Bandmaster Gray of the Lindsay band, took in the excursion yesterday, and was proud of Bandmaster Glidden's organization.

A large number of Lindsay citizens accompanied the Peterborough excursionists yesterday.

The need of a first-class hotel is felt at Sturgeon Point.

The Fifty-seventh Regt. Band, should they run an excursion over the same route next year, will certainly have to engage the entire Scugog fleet to convey the crowd.

A pleasant feature of the excursion was the entire absence of the disorderly element.

Not an accident or a mishap of any nature occurred to mar the pleasure of the excursionists.

SONS OF ENGLAND EXCURSION.

A Largely Patronized Outing—The Winners in the Sports and Games.

The excursion run under the auspices of Lansdowne Lodge, Sons of England, by Steamers City of Peterborough and Water Lily, was patronized by about 450 excursionists. The steamer left the wharf at 8.30 o'clock, and a merry crowd was on board, but the going down the river was not unmixed with adventure. Near Crawford's Grove something went wrong with the steamer's engine machinery, and she ran or was beached on the starboard bank. Here she remained until the Water Lily, with her complement of passengers, came to the rescue and took the "City" with her passengers in tow and towed her to the Point, which under the circumstances was not reached until about one thirty, instead of about eleven o'clock, as would have been the case under normal conditions.

Arrived at the Park, however, the capacity of John Bull to enjoy himself was demonstrated — in the first place by the enjoyment of an al fresco dinner under the shade of the beautiful trees that shadow the Point. The groves of the Point were exploited by many, and the music of Hodgson's orchestra attracted the dancing element and this amusement was vigorously indulged in.

An excellent and hotly contested programme of sports was run off, winding up with a tug of war contest in which the Sons of England team were easily victorious over the other team, representing the rest of the world. The winners in the several events are as follows:

THE ODDFELLOWS' OUTING.

They had a Very Enjoyable Outing at Stony Lake, per Steamer Empire.

The excursion of the Oddfellows of Peterborough to Stony Lake yesterday was one of the most enjoyable outings of the day. The number of tickets was limited to 250, so that there were a great many disappointed ones; crowds, in fact, were turned away.

The special train left the G. T. R. station at 8.25 and at Lakefield the popular steamer Empress was boarded. The excursionists were taken to Juniper Island, where a number of them remained. The boat then went on over to McCracken's, where the visitors to the lake were given an opportunity of having dinner. In the afternoon the Empress again called at Juniper, and at Burleigh, Mount Julian and Boschink.

The rain commenced to come down as the excursion started home from the lakes, but the outing was very much enjoyed, and the management of the affair was carried out to the letter. The committee had as its chairman, Mr. S .G. Perks, and as secretary Mr. Dixon Jewett. Messrs. Coomes and Wescott efficiently look-

AN AUGUST WEDDING.

It Took Place Wednesday Evening on Chambers Street.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the residence of Mr. Simmons, No. 35 Chambers street, on Wednesday evening, when his daughter, Miss Louisa Frances, was united in marriage to Mr. Mark Robertson, the ceremony being performed by Rev. W. L. Armitage. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Elizabeth Simmons, whilst the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. James Robertson. The bride wore a very pretty stone grey English serge dress, trimmed with insertion, white satin and chiffon, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The bride's maid was costumed in a becoming gown with white silk waist, trimmed with white chiffon and satin, and a navy blue skirt, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The house and table were prettily decorated for the occasion and the presents to the bride were useful and numerous. The fifty guests present wished the newly married couple a happy married life.

Mr. Ed. Courtney returned this morning from Kirkfield, and reports a serious affray amongst the Italian labourers employed on the Trent Waterway construction. The result was first a quarrel, then a free fight, in which two men were stabbed in the chest, one so seriously that Mr. Courtney says it is probable that death will result. Five of the rioters were arrested and are now in the lock up, or being tried to-day by County Police Magistrate Steers.

They Got Wet.

Archie Moore and Bill Morgan went up to Stony Lake yesterday to see the regatta and they got wet—real wet at that. It wasn't the rain that wet Archie and Bill, it was the water in the lake, for in the presence of the several thousand people who were there the canoe took an unexpected turn and the occupants went into the water. It is said that Archie was leaning out of the canoe too far, having become excited over one of the races.

THE REGATTA AT STONY LAKE.

The Attendance Was the Largest on Record.

RACES HOTLY CONTESTED.

The Concert in the Evening Not Very Largely Attended on Account of the Rain—Winners of Events.

Judged by point of attendance, the annual regatta at Stony Lake, which was held yesterday, may fairly be said to have surpassed all previous efforts in this line undertaken by the Cottagers' Association.

When the hour announced for beginning the afternoon's programme had arrived, all three of the heavily-laden steamers had landed their passengers on Juniper Island, thus augmenting the assembled campers to the extent of over a thousand.

Viewed from the judges' stand, the lake presented a wonderfully pretty appearance. There were never so many canoes assembled before on the Juniper Island course, and the fleet of steam launches was gaily decorated with flags. Quite a few yachts were noticed from the western waters of the Kawartha Lakes, and Mr. R. B. Rogers' houseboat was also very prettily decked out in honour of the occasion.

All of the races were entered to an extent to make them most interesting, with the exception of the Ladies' Single Canoe, in which no competitor was brave enough to face Miss Beatty Roxburgh, of Norwood. The only event to mar the pleasure of what would have been a perfect day, was the incident of a thunderstorm, tropical in its intensity, springing up at about five o'clock, before the programme was quite finished. Those fortunate in the possession of yachts hastily sought shelter therein, and the pavilion was crowded to the doors until the rain ceased.

The officials of the day were:
Starter — Geo. Cochrane.
Scorer—John Davidson.
Judges at turn — J. Nugent and E. B. Edwards.
Clerk of the course — F. D. Roxburgh.
Judge at the finish — Harry Brock.

The first race brought out Austin Welsh, Norman Bell, F. Dela Fosse und Reggie Blomfield. Dela Fosse took the lead from the start, but Bell caught him at the turn, and won out easily on the home stretch.

The skiff sailing race occasioned much excitement and the merits of the various boats were freely commented upon. Mr. Harry Brock won out, the tiller being held by pretty little Miss Bessie, his daughter. Arthur Piper got second, and Buell third.

The Ladies' Tandem Canoe Race was without doubt the most exciting event of the afternoon. Misses Roxburgh and Birdsall won, with Miss Helen and Gwen. Hall second, which latter beat out the Misses Cox by a few feet.

The Boys' Tandem Canoe Race was also a "hummer. F. Ferguson and Robbie Hall made a fine fight and won first prize.

In the Canoe Sailing Competition Arthur Piper won first, after an exciting chase around McBain's Island.

The Tub Race was rather farcial, as the boys were too long for the tubs, and reports were frequent of the occupants thereof taking a header into the "drink.".

There were two entries for the Boys' Tandem Skiff. The prize was won by G. Ferguson and Robbie Hall, with Eakins and Bates a good second.

The Men's Tandem Race brought out Bell and Blomfield, Burnham and McWilliams, Frank Bradburn and C. Rogers, and E. Payne and W. Robinson. There was lots of excitement as the canoes reached for the turning buoy and rounded it in a group. Bell and Blomfield won by about ten feet, and Burnham and Rogers were beaten for the second place by Frank Bradburn and Claude Rogers.

The Ladies Skiff Race brought out Misses Strickland, Gwen. Hall, Blomfield, B. Roxburgh, and Birdsall. They came in in the order named.

The swimming race was won by Harry Rogers, who won out from Mr. Dela Fosse by a few feet.

There were five entries for the Men's Skiff Race. Rogers won first with Roxburgh a good second.

The result of the races run off were as follows:

Men's Single Canoe—1st, N. Bell, 2nd, L. Force, 3rd, R. Blomfield.
Skiff Sailing—1st, H. Brock; 2nd, A. Piper; 3rd, H. Buell.
Boys' Tandem Canoe, 15 years and under—1st, Ferguson and Hall; 2nd, Acton and Chormer; 3rd, Strickland and Hall.
Ladies' Tandem Canoe—1st, Misses Roxburgh and Birdsall; 2nd, the Misses Hall; 3rd, the Misses Cox.
Canoe Sailing—1st, A. Piper; 2nd, G. Roxburgh; 3rd, H. Wood.
Tub Race—1st, L. Mason; 2nd, H. Eakins.
Ladies' Canoe, single—Miss Roxburgh
Boys' Tandem Skiff—1st, Acton and Wright; 2nd, Eakins and Bates.
Men's Tandem Canoe—Bell and Blomfield; 2nd, Burham and McWilliams; 3rd, Bradburn and Rogers.
Ladies' Skiff, sinzl—1st, Miss Strickland; 2nd, Gwen Hall; 3rd, Miss Blomfield.
Swimming—1st, Harry Rogers; 2nd, Dela Fosse; 3rd, J. Strickland.
Men's Skiff, single—1st, Rogers; 2nd, Roxburgh; 3rd, Sherry.

NOTES.

On Wednesday evening a very pleasant little hop was held at the Juniper Island pavilion. The Misses Hurley furnished the music.

The concert on Thursday evening was not as well attended as usual owing to the stormy weather, but nevertheless it proved most successful.

RUMORS OF EARLY SETTLEMENT

The Steel Strikers Added 5,000 to Their Numbers at McKeesport—The Trust Succeeded in Opening Two Mills—The Trackmen's Strike—Arbitration Proposed and Men Await C.P.R.'s Answer.

Pittsburg, Aug. 15.—There were victories on both sides of the great steel strike yesterday, but they furnish no direct line on the ultimate result of the conflict. The strikers succeeded in finally forcing the National Tube Works at McKeesport, probably the largest individual plant in the United States Steel Corporation, to close down. On the other hand the Steel Corporation re-opened the big Painter mill in this city and also resumed operations with non-union men at the Crescent plant of the American Tin Plate Company at Cleveland.

The general situation is thus briefly summed up. The spread of the strike at McKeesport and Wheeling has brought the number of men who obeyed the final strike order to something over 20,000, and increased the total number of men rendered idle by these orders to about 65,000. Many of the men drawn into the movement willingly or unwillingly continue to accept other employment and the exact number idle is a guess. The strikers are fully in control at McKeesport, Wheeling, Newcastle, Bellaire, Mingo Junction, and show some strength here.

The manufacturers hold South Chicago, Joliet, Youngstown, Columbus, the Kiskimenetas Valley, the tin plant at Monessen and the Carnegie group.

Both sides express their satisfaction with the progress of the strike.

Rumors of Settlement.

Pittsburg, Aug. 15.—Rumor again yesterday settled the strike, and lent a hand to restart the stilled mills of commerce. It was reported that President Shaffer had acknowledged that he could not win, that the Steel Corporation feared that its rivals would profit by an extended strike and that they were going to settle. No shadow of confirmaton of the story was possible.

Will Not Join Strikers.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—There will be no strike of the employes at the steel mills in South Chicago. This point was settled last night.

THE TRACKMEN'S STRIKE.

Rumor of Settlement Denied by Strikers' President, Who Says They Have Offer-Arbitration to the C.P.R.

Montreal, Aug. 15.—There was a rumor here last evening that the strike had been settled on the lines that the C.P.R. had agreed to recognize the union; that the men would get a slight increase in their pay, and that the strikers had also withdrawn a good many of their demands; but this is now denied by President Wilson, who says that they have offered to arbitrate, and that no reply has yet been received from the Canadian Pacific.

"The company," Mr. Wilson said, "has made no reply to this offer of the trackmen, the strike is still on and there is no probability that it will soon be declared off."

What Others Assert.

It is only fair to state, on the other hand, that some who are in a position to speak with authority declare the strike will be declared off within the next day or so, the C. P. R. recognizing the Trackmen's Union and compromising on the question of wages.

John Lancaster Is Dead.

Toronto Junction, Aug. 15.— The fatality list in the C.P.R. Railway disaster at Proton Station on Saturday afternoon was added to yesterday morning by the death of John Lancaster, a brakeman on the ill-fated train. The word was received from Owen Sound late yesterday afternoon. He was 29 years of age, and leaves a mother, two brothers and a sister to mourn his sudden demise.

Striking Gilders Arrested.

Toronto, Aug. 15.—The gilders' strike is far from being settled. The situation took a new phase yesterday when Mr. Adamson of the Adamson Moulding Co. made a specific charge against J. M. Murray of 109 Northcote avenue, who, he says, intimidated Henry Gleckman on Monday last by threats of violence. A summons was issued, and Murray will appear in court this morning.

MASSEY HALL FOR GUELPH.

Corner Stone of the New Library Building Laid—Munificent Gift of the Late Mr. H. A. Massey.

Guelph, Aug. 15.—The cornerstone of the Massey Hall and library at the Ontario Agricultural College was laid yesterday afternoon by Mr. Walter Massey in the presence of a large gathering of people from Guelph and the surrounding country. The building is well under way, and it is already evident that it will be a handsome and commodious structure, in keeping with the group of buildings among which it stands. A temporary shaded platform had been erected at the corner-stone for the comfort of the guests, and on the platform were Dr. Goldwin Smith, C. D. Massey, W. E. Massey, Rev. Dr. Sutherland, Hugh Guthrie, M. P., Captain Robson, M. P. P., Nelson Monteith, M. P. P., Major Mutrie, M. P. P., Rev. Dr. Perrin of Boston; J. E. Atkinson, Toronto; John Kennedy, Mayor of Guelph; Warden Springer, Miss Warnock, R. S. Solomon, South Africa; C. Kloepfer, ex-M. P., Mrs. John Dryden and several other ladies. Dr. James Mills, President of the College, occupied the chair.

The proceedings were opened by the presentation of a silver trowel to Mr. Walter Massey by Mrs. Dryden, wife of the Minister of Agriculture. Mr. Massey in accepting it said that he was glad to receive it, particularly at her hands.

Mr. Massey, with the assistance of the masons, then proceeded to place the corner-stone in position, saying, "I lay this corner-stone for the foundation of a building to be erected to the memory of the late Hart A. Massey, to be used as a library and hall in connection with the Agricultural College."

After the placing in position of the stone Mr. Massey read the contents of the leaden case deposited in the corner-stone as follows: Twenty-sixth annual report of the college; circular of the college for the scholastic year 1901-'02; copy of The Guelph Daily Mercury for August 12, 1901; copy of The Guelph Daily Herald for August 12, 1901; letter of acceptance from Dr. James Mills, President of the College; copy of the will of the late Mr. H. A. Massey, copy of memorial tribute to the late Mr. H. A. Massey, copy of letter from executors and trustees of the late Mr. H. A. Massey to the Hon. Geo. W. Ross, Premier of the Province, dated Feb. 12, 1901, with general statement regarding the gift to the College.

Suitable addresses were then delivered by Mr. Massey, Hon. James Young of Galt, Dr. Goldwin Smith, and others, Fatal Play By Children.

Tweed, Ont., Aug. 15.—About 10 o'clock Tuesday morning two little girls, daughters of W. F. Graham, living about five miles west of this place, aged respectively 13 and 4 years, were playing with their brother's little rifle. The oldest, not knowing it was loaded, pointed it at her little sister and said: "Look how brother fires his gun!" discharging the weapon at her little sister, shooting her through the neck. She expired Tuesday night.

Lords Unusual Step.

London, Aug. 15.—The House of Lords took an unusual step yesterday morning in suspending the sessional order, with the object of passing on its second reading the bill granting special powers to build a pier and other works at Berehaven, in Bantry Bay, Ireland, in connection with the proposed fast steamship line from Berehaven to the United States, by which it is hoped the voyage will be accomplished in four and one-half days. The bill had already passed the House of Commons.

Lord James of Hereford remarked that such great public interests were concerned that the Government desired to pass the bill at the present session.

One Man Held Up Eight.

Glen Falls, N.Y., Aug. 15.—News was received here last night that the Blue Mountain stage was held up by a masked robber about noon yesterday at North River. The stage contained seven men and one woman. When the stage was one and a half miles north of Dunlap's Hotel at North River, a masked robber suddenly appeared. His first move was to shoot one of the horses. He then ordered the passengers to hold up their hands and alight. Six of the men immediately took to the woods, the remaining man staying with his wife, who was relieved of $20.

THIRTEEN MEN DEAD.

Drowned, Burned or Smothered at a New Waterworks Crib.

TWO MILES OFF CLEVELAND.

The Crib Took Fire Wednesday Morning and the Workmen Were Thrown Into a Horrible Position—Heart-rending Scenes When Rescuing Party Arrives—Details of the Disaster.

Cleveland, Aug. 15.—Fire early yesterday destroyed a temporary waterworks crib two miles out in the lake, resulting in the death of at least ten men, while two others were probably fatally injured. In addition to a large number of workmen, who were in the crib, eleven others were at work in the tunnel leading from it, two hundred feet below the bottom of the lake. As air pumped from the crib to supply the men working in the tunnel was cut off as a result of its destruction, it was at first supposed that these men had all perished. Subsequently, however, nine of them in the tunnel were rescued, after heroic work on the part of their fellow-workmen. It is said that two men are still in the tunnel, but those rescued state that one of these, Victor Kauffman of Canton, is dead.

Following is a list of the dead and injured so far as now known: John Martina, drowned; Mike Snyder, drowned; Arthur Hasty, drowned; Victor Kauffman, suffocated, and five men, names unknown, burned to death. Injured: John Lee, broken back, and O. Braddock, frightfully burned.

Fire and harbor tugs, with rescuing parties on board, reached the crib soon after the flames broke out, but when they arrived the structure was a seething mass of flames, and all hope of saving it was abandoned.

After an hour's hard work the flames were diminished enough so that the firemen could climb up the charred steps and fight the fire from the interior. Then the horror of the calamity was first realized. Everything was a total wreck. While firemen were pouring water on the flames there was a roaring furnace beneath, which could not be reached until the firemen clung to their places and fought every inch of the way, until the fire was under control. After two hours' hard work, five charred human bodies were found, burned beyond recognition.

As soon as the five bodies were discovered, the tug Kennedy returned to the harbor at once, and notified the coroner of the discovery and while this was going on ways and means were being devised to reach the men imprisoned in the tunnel, whose air supply had apparently been shut off entirely by the burning of the compressed air machinery. At times it was thought that voices could be heard down below, and the life-savers and the firemen peered down with ears intent, but the sounds ceased again. At the mouth of the shaft it was like a furnace and the iron work was red hot from the flames.

Finally, after a deluge of water had been thrown on the smouldering shaft entrance, a voice was heard from the bottom calling for help. "For God's sake, throw down a rope, throw down a rope!" a man called. A line was quickly dropped down the shaft, and as it tightened a shout of joy went up from those about, for it was quickly observed that the man at the bottom was able to grasp it.

He yelled again to the rescuers to pull him up. Slowly and carefully he was raised. His pallid face, covered with slime, his staring eyes and heaving chest told of the horror he had gone through in the hours he had spent in the tunnel. He was William Curry of Canton.

As soon as he could gasp, Curry said: "They are all at the bottom of the shaft. Hurry up!" In quick succession seven others were brought up from the foul and stifling air of the tunnel. All were in a most pitiable condition. They reported two other men were lying unconscious at the bottom of the shaft. A workman volunteered to rescue these men, and he was quickly lowered into the shaft.

In a few moments the unconscious men were brought up, more dead than alive. One, and possibly two men, are supposed to be lying dead in the tunnel too far away from the shaft to be reached.

The tugs that hurried out to the scene as soon as the fire was discovered succeeded in rescuing no fewer than 20 men, who were clinging to wreckage and ropes tied to the burning structure. The tunnel, which has been under course of construction for several years past, and is still far from complete, has been the cause all told of the loss of more than 30 lives.

Four years ago an explosion in the shore section of the tunnel resulted in the suffocation of 18 men. Two years ago in a similar accident several more men were killed at almost the same place, and to-day's catastrophe adds at least ten additional names to the list.

Late during the afternoon it became known positively that three were still in the tunnel. Their names are: Adam Kent, John Eugene and Victor Kaufman. The latter is known to be dead, and the other two, experienced men say, could scarcely have lived in the dead air all these hours. Several attempts were made to reach them, but the rescuers were driven out.

Late yesterday afternoon Plummer Jones of Warren, Ohio, an employe of the tunnel contractors, and one of a party of rescuers who descended into the shaft to look for the missing men, was overcome by gas and expired within a few minutes. His body lies in the tunnel 75 feet from the bottom of the shaft, and is covered with water. The life line attached to the body became fouled and could not be pulled out.

David Kelly, another member of the rescuing party, was overcome by gas, and is in a precarious condition.

The crib is a total loss. It was a frame building 200 by 50 feet, the sides sheathed with iron. It is now a charred, shapeless mass of wreckage. The crib and its machinery were the property of Shailer & Schninglau, contractors. Their loss will exceed $200,000.

Imitations

of Dodd's Kidney Pills are legion. The box is imitated, the outside coating and shape of the pills are imitated and the name—Dodd's Kidney Pills is imitated. Imitations are dangerous. The original is safe. Dodd's Kidney Pills have a reputation. Imitators have none or they wouldn't imitate. So they trade on the reputation of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Do not be deceived. There is only one DODD'S. Dodd's is the original. Dodd's is the same to be careful about—

Cooling Off.

The man who would sit on a cake of ice to cool off would be considered crazy. Yet it is a very common thing for a person heated by exercise to stand in a cool draught, just to cool off. This is the beginning of many a cough which ultimately involves the bronchial tract and the lungs.

For coughs in any stage there is no remedy so valuable as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures deep-seated, obstinate coughs, bronchitis, bleeding of the lungs, and like conditions which if neglected or unskillfully treated terminate in consumption.

There is no alcohol in "Golden Medical Discovery," and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good."

"I took a severe cold which settled in the bronchial tubes," writes Rev. Frank Hay, of Nortonville, Jefferson Co., Kansas. "After trying medicines labeled 'Sure Cure,' almost without number, I was led to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took two bottles and was cured, and have stayed cured.

"When I think of the great pain I had to endure, and the terrible cough I had, it seems almost a miracle that I was so soon relieved.

"That God may spare you many years and abundantly bless you is the prayer of your grateful friend."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers or 50 stamps for it in cloth binding. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

OUR HIGH SCHOOLS.

W. J. Robertson Denounced the Ontario Method at Ottawa Convention—Educationists Triennial Session.

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—The triennial meeting of the Dominion Education Association opened in the Normal School yesterday morning.

"Modifications of High School Courses Demanded by Conditions of To-day," a paper written by W. J. Robertson, Collingwood, was read by Dr. Goggin. In introducing the subject Mr. Robertson declared that few, if any, of our collegiate institutes are adequately equipped for the task upon their shoulders. The Education Department, he said, should prevent the establishment of further new High Schools.

Mr. Robertson greatly deplored the everlasting cram and grind that the pupils will be compelled to undergo, in order to pass the different prescribed examinations, and which, he declared, were not only physically but mentally hurtful to the less robust pupil. The one end in view in a multitude of schools was how many pupils can be passed. To reach that end, every nerve is strained. The teacher, parent and scholar are not to blame. Mr. Robertson said the blame is due to the false ideals gradually insinuated into our social and educational life. In concluding, Mr. Robertson said that what Ontario needs is not so much a modification of courses of study as the teaching of these courses in institutions specially adapted for the work. The present courses are necessary, but the equipment for teaching them is inadequate.

The whole profession of teaching in Ontario groans under the burden of a worse than Egyptian taskmaster. It is utterly weary of the perpetual tinkering with the courses of study. No one seems to be anxious to claim the parentage of these dismal changes, yet they are made. One sighs for the freedom, if you like the crudeness of the course of his early days. No doubt we are now more thoroughly organized, no doubt that more young people are getting a smattering of higher education. In closing, he said that it is doubtful if the pupils compare with those of former days in breadth and depth of view. He has faith in the future, and believes the High School will more and more become the poor-man college.

Mr. W. Pakenham, B. A., chairman of the Board of Examiners for the Ontario Education Department, read an elaborate paper on "Some Phases of Advanced Elementary Work in England."

In the Department of Inspection and Training, Dr. Ion Harper, Inspector of Superior Schools for the Province of Quebec, presided. Principal Scott, M. A., of the Normal School, Toronto, read the first paper on "What Child Study Has Done for Education." He advocated that, up to the age of 8, all writing by pupils should be done on the blackboard, with the arm movement. Drawing should express thought rather than be imitative, and pupils should suggest questions rather than have them put by the teachers. Promotion should be uniform upon examination, and the teacher should use his own judgment.

CANADA'S CUP COMES BACK.

Invader Won Third Race From Cadillac in Light Breeze—Victory By 2 Minutes 20 Seconds.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—The Canadian yacht Invader won again yesterday in a grand race, and the Canada's Cup goes back across the border, accompanied by five challenges. The breeze was light.

Chicago yachtsmen are not dismayed, and both the Chicago and Columbia Yacht Clubs challenged immediately for the cup. Each club sent a challenge direct to Toronto immediately after the race, at the same time handing Commodore Gooderham of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club a duplicate. The Rochester Yacht Club also challenged, as did two Detroit Yacht Clubs. The Canadian Commodore says he cannot tell which of the five will be given preference.

Official time—Invader wins by 2.20.

A Common Form of Indigestion

By far the most important part of digestion takes place in the intestines, as has been repeatedly shown in cases where the stomach has been removed and the patient has lived and digested food without the aid of the stomach.

It frequently happens that people who continually dose the stomach for indigestion and use pepsin and various kinds of digestive tablets and powders can obtain no relief from such treatment, because the real trouble is in the intestines, the liver and the kidneys.

There is fullness and pains after meals, coated tongue, headache, loss of appetite, pains in the limbs and in the back and shoulders, flatulency and constipation, frequently alternating with diarrhoea.

There has yet to be a remedy discovered that is so prompt and thorough in curing intestinal indigestion as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. And as this is the most common and severe form of indigestion it can well be claimed that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are the most successful treatment extant for indigestion and dyspepsia.

Mrs. T. Woodley, Tyrone, Ont., writes:—"I was a great sufferer for a long time with indigestion and very distressing pains in my stomach. I was persuaded to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Their mild yet powerful action worked wonders in me."

It is not unusual for persons who have long been suffering from chronic indigestion, biliousness and constipation to be thoroughly cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which have by far the largest sale of any similar remedy. You may be skeptical, as others have been before you, but a single trial of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will convince you of their unusual medicinal value. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Facts about your Liver

The liver is a large gland, the largest in the body. Its work is to secrete bile and also to destroy certain poisonous compounds in the blood as the blood passes through it. It stores the bile thus obtained in the gall bladder from where it is conducted by two ducts, one leading into the stomach and the other into the intestines. The bile thus made is the most important factor in the process of digestion, for without a certain definite proportion of it none of the solvents or digestive fluids are sufficiently active enough to do their work. The liver occasionally dries up, so to speak, and no bile is secreted. This soon becomes apparent by a feeling of torpor or laziness, yawning and a yellow appearance to the skin, and in bad cases a pain in the side. The liver being a gland requires an alterative medicine, as alteratives are medicines which promote glandular secretion. In Merrill's System Tonic is found a combination of the best mineral and vegetable alteratives known and when you take it the liver is quickly restored to its proper condition. Then, too, System Tonic purifies the blood of all accumulated poison and acts on the bowels, unloading the foul matter that has accumulated through lack of bile. The use of half a dozen bottles will give to those persons known as sallow complexioned, a clean, rosy skin.

Each 50c bottle contains 50 pleasant-to-take doses, and is sold

ALL SAINTS' BOY'S BRIGADE.

In Camp at Jubilee,
Aug. 14.

We still hold our position here, although the enemy have charged on us several times, we are on full ration and the warriors are getting as black as Kaffirs. The boys sleep well after their daily duties, but when the shrill notes of Bugler Hopkins ring out at six a.m. there is considerable yawning, and "Zulu" Rush takes the prize for having the strongest lungs, although "Froggy" can beat him as an orator. The boys are getting drill down fine and the way they do the attack (especially at meals) would make the 57th turn green with envy. On Friday the 9th, the Peter Hamilton base ball team came down, but our boys walloped them all to pieces, winning the game by a score of 5 to 11. The boys have a daily swim, and, in consequence there is not a fish within a mile of Jubilee and the Yankees have returned home in disgust. Protests are useless for the boys stick to the motto, "what we have we'll hold."

Our chaplain visits us occasionally and gives us words of advice which are very helpful, and the boys all will agree in saying he is a jolly good fellow. "Lengthy" Adamson is cook for our camp, and does his work in first-class style, even serving the porridge up nicely browned.

On Tuesday we had a visit from Mrs. Yokome, Miss D. Sawyers, Miss VanEvery and Mrs. O'Brien, who left several dainties in camp which the boys appreciated very much. "Sundown" Thornton is ladies' man of the camp and is always at the wharf to meet the boats and make "Goo-Goo" eyes at the fair visitors, but "Wideawake" Darke cuts him out every time. Well, taking everything into consideration, we are getting along famously and our camp is a success in every way.

Later despatches by special Courier: Yesterday the Sons of England and their daughters, as well as sisters, cousins, aunts and others, made an attack on our position, but the lantern approach of the transport that brought them down gave us ample chance to prepare an effective defence.

We shall close our midsummer manouvares on Friday, break camp and return to town, and resume our places in the brigade of toilers, workers and students—for, horrasco referens, the schools open in September.

Yours truly,
REVEILLE.

It Strikes the Heart.

Not only is the victim of Rheumatism a constant sufferer, but he lives in continual dread that the disease will reach the heart, which means sudden and unexpected death. Rheumatism can only be cured when the uric acid is removed from the blood by the healthy action of the kidneys. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver pills make the kidneys healthy and vigorous, and so gradually and thoroughly cure Rheumatism by removing the cause. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

THE TORONTO TRIP.

Poor Accommodation Said to Have Existed Coming Home.

The 14th Annual Excursion of Court Littlejohn, Canadian Order of Foresters, took place yesterday per C.P.R., to Toronto. The trip was patronized by about 200 people who took advantage of the occasion to see the Queen city. Many went combinging business with pleasure. The arrangements were quite satisfactory until the home trip when the indignation of the excursionists rose very high by reason of the insufficient accomodation which it is said was supplied by the Company. Men were compelled to stand in the aisles and on the platforms, contrary to all railroad regulations, whilst women were wedged into spaces not consistant with comfort. The same defective accomodation is said to have existed on the midnight train.

CATHOLIC ORDER FORESTERS.

The excursion of the Catholic Order of Foresters was numerically a great success. The train to Lakefield took up about three or four hundred, who on arrival at tidewater embarked upon the steamer Majestic and barge for a voyage around the lakes. All went well and the party was enjoying itself immensely, but to prevent these pleasures remaining a dead level of monotonous enjoyment a storm arose about 5 o'clock, a very cyclone in its character, followed, or rather accompanied, by a driving rain. The occupants of the barge were most unfortunately situated, and many of them must have been saturated, for in addition to the flying rain, which was driven upon them almost horizontally, the sparks from the funnels of the Majestic, which had to keep up full steam in order to hold her own with the gale, played havoc with clothing, before the rain came to neutralize the effects of the flying sparks. The gale blew overboard from the deck of the steamer, canoes, lunch baskets, and other excursion bric-a-brac.

However, all arrived home safely, and the excursion committee are to be credited with having not only lived up to their advertisement, but with having provided a most exciting and memorable addition to the promised programme.

THE S. A. EXCURSION.

The Salvetion Army had a very successful outing yesterday to Highland Park, Otonabee River. The excursionists went down per steamer Beaver and scow with about 150 on board. The band of the Corps was in attendance and supplied excellent music throughout the day. At the park a programme of races and events of various kinds were run off. A base ball match was played between representatives of the band and a team from the corps. On the return trip several canoes that were being towed behind the steamer broke loose, and necessitated having the boat stop and go back after them. The day was very pleasantly spent by all, however.

RIVER AND LAKE NOTES.

Sergeant Hall, of South Africa fame, is stopping at Jubilee, and is having excellent luck in fishing, having caught six fine bass inside of half an hour, the largest weighing six lbs.

The Jubilee hotel is doing a fine business. Mrs. Hall says she can't accommodate the people who want to stay at Jubilee this season.

The staff of the Trent Valley Canal works are having a day off, and have taken the Steamer Water Lily, calling at Idyl Wyld for dinner and at Jubilee for tea.

The Boys' Brigade return from Jubilee to-day.

The steam yacht Myrtle, with fifteen jolly ladies and gentlemen steamed to Jubilee to see the fun and sports of the S.O.E. They are staying at Mr. H. Nell's cottage, "Sea Breeze," and report having a splendid time. They are going to go to Hastings to-day, and will return home on Saturday. They are, of course, sorry for it, as the week has been too short.

The Steamer Rainbow had a large picnic of Foresters from Hastings to Idyl Wyld yesterday. They were joined by the Steamer Water Lily and Sons of England.

The Cause of Hay Fever.

It's a microbe that floats in the air, gets into the throat and the lungs, developes rapidly, excites inflammation, etc. The cause is as simple as a thistle in the finger. Extract the thistle, away goes the pain. Destroy the Hay Fever germ—you get well. That's why Catarrhozone acts so marvellously in Hay Fever. Its fragrant vapor to you brings cure, but to the microbe death. Catarrhozone is as quick to act on these microscopic organisms as lightning. Prevents as well as cures, and is always successful. MEN AND WOMEN OF NORTHERN ZONE.

Canada's Sons and Daughters Now Number 5,338,883.

GROWTH OF PAST TEN YEARS.

Provinces Compared—Quebec Exhibits the Largest Gain, With the Others Following Thus: Manitoba, British Columbia, Ontario, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, With P. E. I. Showing Decrease.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—The first census bulletin issued yesterday gives the population of Canada as 5,338,883. These figures are not, however, exact. The returns for the extreme northern portion of Quebec and Ontario, and for the unorganized territories of Athabasca, Franklin, Keewatin, Mackenzie, Ungava and the Yukon have not been received, and their absence is temporarily met by what is believed to be a close estimate. It is not thought that the final returns will make a very appreciable difference in the figures as they now stand. The population shows an increase of 505,644 compared with 1891, when there were 4,833,239 persons returned by the enumerators. This is equivalent to a gain of about 10½ per cent. The population returned at the last census exceeded that of the previous decade by 508,429, being a gain of 12 per cent. Of the seven Provinces Quebec exhibits the largest gain in population, having 132,439 more than in 1891. Manitoba comes next, with 93,958, while British Columbia is third, with 91,827. Ontario is fourth on the list, with 53,057 to her credit. New Brunswick is considerably behind Ontario, with a gain of 9,880, while Nova Scotia closely approaches the former with 8,720. Prince Edward Island laments a loss of population, in which unenviable position she stands alone, amounting to 5,820. The Territories are able to boast of a gain of 78,201.

The Gain in the West.

It will be observed that while the growth of population in the eastern Provinces is by no means large, the west has made tremendous gains. The figures contained in the bulletin give a gain for the three western Provinces amounting in the aggregate to 263,986, whereas the total gain of Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick amounts only to 204,646, or about 60,000 to the good in favor of the west. Nothing could afford a more convincing proof of how rapidly the settlement of the west is going on. It would be idle to deny that the returns for the eastern Provinces, and especially those for Ontario, are disappointing. So far as the chief Province of the Dominion is concerned, there are certain reasons which obviously account for the apparently poor showing. Ontario was for years the chief battle ground of the National Policy, and the supporters of that policy relied upon the last census to support their contention that protection had brought prosperity to the people. Every available name that could be got was counted in to swell the returns, and there is grave reason to suspect that scores and scores of persons who had long ceased to be residents of the country were counted. A reference to the returns for Ontario, and for other Provinces, too, discloses in the case of many districts that, while the dwellings and families have substantially increased, the population has apparently fallen off. Obviously there cannot have been more dwellings and more families without additions to the population. Seemingly the inference must be that liberties were taken with the lists of 1891, or, to be more specific, the lists were stuffed. But it is, perhaps, at the expense of Ontario more than any other Province that the west has gained. The sturdy sons of Ontario have gone in their hundreds to settle on the fertile plains of Manitoba and the Territories or to seek their fortunes in the mining camps of British Columbia and the Yukon. This migration affords another explanation of the apparently small growth of population in Ontario.

The Gain in Quebec.

As to Quebec, one has not far to seek for its larger gain in population. Two reasons are primarily responsible. At Montreal, at Quebec, along the St. Maurice River, and at other points there has been industrial development on a large scale, while the repatriation of thousands of Quebec's sons, who formerly found employment in the eastern ization to the unoccupied lands of states, has turned the tide of colonthe Province. Montreal and its suburbs alone account for 80,050 of the increase in the Province of Quebec, and in that city, as is well known, manufacturing has been going ahead at a most satisfactory rate. Manufacturing enterprises have also largely augmented the population in Beauharnois, which contains Valleyfield and its cotton mills; in Champlain, on account of the electrical works and pulp mills at Grandmere and Shawingan Falls; in Quebec Centre and Quebec East, Sherbrooke and St. Maurice. Many of the electoral districts on the border have gained in population through colonization or lumbering, and elsewhere new settlements have been opened up. Among those who have reaped advantage from this cause are Beauce, Berthier, Bonaventure, Compton, Dorchester, Pontiac, Portneuf, Richmond and Wolfe, Temiscounta and Terrebonne. But it has not been all gains in Quebec. Many districts have experienced losses. For example, there is Ragot, 3,309; Brome, 1,312; Two Mountains, 1,081; Huntington, 1,182; Joliet, 666; Kamouraska, 1,353; Laprairie, 838; Maskinonge, 2,036; Lotbiniere, 649; Montmagny, 829; Rouville, 3,364; Richelieu, 1,907; St. John and Iberville 4,454, and Vaudreuil, 346. The aggregate losses of these few districts selected at random amounts to no less than 22,467.

Under the constitution the representation of Quebec in the House of Commons is fixed permanently at 65 members. The other Provinces are to have the same number of representatives to their population as the number 65 bears to the population of Quebec ascertained by the census. Dividing the 65 members allowed to Quebec into the population, as shown by the returns, it gives 24,938 as the unit of representation. On this basis the representation in the House of Commons would be as follows, compared with the representation under the old:

Representation in Commons.

	Pres. Rep.	Fut. Rep.	Inc.	Dec.
Ont. members	92	87	—

ONTARIO AND DAKOTA.

Ottawa Free Press.

There could hardly be a more foundationless charge brought against any public man than that embodied in the cry now being raised by all the big and little Tory sheets against Mr Dryden, to the effect that by investing in a Dakota cattle ranch he is giving ground for a disparaging estimate of Ontario agriculture. There are few people so ignorant as not to know that the mere fact of a country being given over to ranching is of itself evidence that, either owing to the inferiority of the soil, or climate, or disadvantages of location, it is not a first-class farming country. Ranching is only pursued where large areas of open, cheap land are available, and where the soil is of good quality and markets readily accessible such land is too valuable for agriculture proper to be given over to pasturage. We have no areas suitable for ranching in New Ontario, and the policy which has been steadily pursued by the Onturio administration is to encourage compact colonization, giving the settlers the advantages of churches, schools, etc., instead of allowing it to pass into the hands of a few extensive proprietors, who will only establish homesteads at isolated points. A ranching country is one which offers no attractions to the poor settler, whose ambition is to become owner of a farm. If every Minister and capitalist in the province were to buy stock in Dakota ranches, or any similar enterprises, it would not in the least affect Ontario agriculture, which is altogether upon a different basis. There is no fear that any desirable immigration will be attracted to Dakota by learning that Mr. Dryden is part owner of a ranch there, inasmuch as any man who knows anything about farming knows perfectly well that a country where ranching prevails is a good place for the man of small means who wishes to take up land to keep away from.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

After all is said and done, the best available remedy for labour troubles, says the Hamilton Times, is to repeal the many meddlesome laws by which economic quacks have tried to improve on a free and natural system; restore the old common law safeguards against conspiracy by which blacklisting and boycotting might be suppressed; take away legal protection from trusts; protect the right of private contract; abolish all special privileges, even the protective tariffs, and put capitalists on the same plane as labourers — no favours to anybody. Then preserve the peace with a firm hand, and let natural methods work a cure. Nature can beat the quacks.

AT A CRITICAL STAGE

C. P. R. Conciliation Board Ask That Wilson Be Repudiated.

THE CONCILIATORS' REPORT.

Trackmen Reject the Company's Terms for Settlement and Refuse to Repudiate President Wilson, Saying the Request Is an Insult to Them—Strikers Determined to Fight On.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—The strike of the C. P. R. trackmen has taken the peculiar position that Mr. John T. Wilson, President of the Brotherhood of Railway Trackmen of America, has been ordered to leave the city by the Conciliation Committee, made up of representatives of the various organizations of the C. P. R. employes recognized by the road, the engineers, conductors, firemen, trainmen and telegraphers. The striking trackmen now must break with their president or with the five powerful organizations of the C. P. R. employes. The Conciliation Committee made public the following correspondence:

Conciliater's Report.

Queen's Hotel, Montreal, Aug. 16, 1901.

To the Officers and Members of the B. of L.E., O.R.C., B. of L.F., B. of R.T. and O.R.T., of the Canadian Pacific Railway:

Dear Sirs and Brothers,—The undersigned general chairmen herewith submit the following report for your consideration: In compliance with request of members of our organizations, we met in Montreal on Thursday, Aug. 8, 1901, to renew the efforts which some of the general chairmen had made towards obtaining the consent of the company and maintenance-of-way men for the general chairmen of the five organizations to act as conciliators in the present dispute. Our services being accepted by both parties, we took up the duties of a conciliation board. After several interviews had been held between the Board of Conciliation, the company and committee representing the trackmen, we succeeded in obtaining a basis of settlement, which we believed to be reasonable and fair under the present conditions of the strike situation, and recommended that it be accepted by the trackmen, explaining to them that the terms submitted were equal to those obtained by any of the other organizations in their first efforts to obtain recognition. After the terms of settlement had been fully explained to the trackmen and a vote taken by them, the following letter was presented to the Board of Conciliation by the chairman of the trackmen:

Montreal, Aug. 15, 1901.

Mr. Charles Pope, chairman Conciliation Committee:

The terms of settlement proposed by the general manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company thru your committee representing the maintenance-of-way men, are not considered a fair basis of settlement. We believe a Board of Arbitrators composed of fair-minded men would render a decision more favorable to the men we represent than has been proposed by the general manager. Therefore, we will request the members of the Conciliation Committee to recommend that the matter be settled by arbitration. Hoping it will be consistent with the views of the members of your committee to comply with this request, and thanking you for the efforts made to bring about a proper understanding and a fair settlement, we are, very truly yours.

(Signed), J. Lennon, chairman.
A. F. Stout, secretary.

We, as a Board of Conciliation, feel that our duties as mediators have ended, and that nothing further can be done by us, unless President Wilson of the B.R.T. of A. will agree to leave the city within 24 hours, and not to interfere in any way with either committee, and will give authority to the trackmen's committee to declare the strike off, when, in their judgment, a reasonable and fair basis of settlement can be effected.

(Signed), Charles Pope, Chairman B. of L.E.
A. Shaw, Chairman O.R.C.
G. K. Wark, Chairman L.F.
E. E. Eddy, Chairman B.R.T.
W. H. Allison, Chairman O.R.T.

The Trackmak's Answer.

Headquarters Joint Protective Board, Maintenance of Way Department, Employes Canadian Pacific Railway, Grand Union Hotel, Montreal, Aug. 16, 1901:

Dear Sirs and Brothers: The general chairmen of the other orders on the C. P. Railway have been in Montreal for some time. Last Friday they were accepted by the president of the Canadian Pacific Railway and myself to act as a "Conciliation Committee," instead of their trying to effect a settlement through the president of the C.P.R. Company and myself, they took the matter up with the general manager. After conciliating about a week, the following is a copy of a message, which shows the basis of the settlement proposed by the general manager, comment upon which I consider unnecessary:

Montreal, Aug. 12, 1901.

The second vice-president and general manager will approve the circular setting out the pay for trainmen, in accordance with his letter of June 12, and also reciting rules and regulations governing the employment and service of the trackmen, and, at the end of one year from this date, if the trackmen of the Canadian Pacific Railway have effected a responsible and workable organization, the company will meet a committee and grant them a schedule: provided, however, that such schedule shall only apply to foremen and first and second men, of one year's standing in the company's service; and neither the schedule nor any of its conditions shall apply to others employed, either on section work or on extra gangs, nor shall any committee representing the organization at any time interfere or attempt to interfere with the relations between the company and its employes, in its Maintenance of Way Department, to whom the said schedule will not apply, as above set forth. The company will reinstate all men in their respective positions, provided such positions have not been filled under promise of permanency, during the absence of the strikers. In the case of positions having been filled, the company will give such remaining men preference in filling other similar positions, as near to their old location as possible. This clause not applicable to those who have been guilty of violence. The fact that men have been engaged in the strike shall not prejudice their positions, once they are restored to the service. The company will always be glad to meet any committee of employes, whether engaged in the Maintenance of Way or any other department, for discussing suggestions calculated to remove any disadvantages under which the men may labor, or to promote the interests of the company. (Sgd.) D. McNicoll, second vice-president and general manager.

Mr. Charles Pope, Chairman Conciliation Committee, Montreal:

To be embodied in the rules and regulations:

13. Employes suspended or discharged will have the right of appeal from the decision of their immediate superiors. (Signed) D. McN.

Speaking yesterday, Mr. Wilson said: "That will show the honest and fair-minded people of Canada that I am not here in the interests of corporations across the line. If the maintenance-of-ways men have made unreasonable demands upon the Canadian Pacific we are ready to arbitrate. The proposition submitted by the general manager, Mr. McNicoll, if accepted by the men, would mean a perpetual servitude, a perpetual bondage. I consider such matters should be settled by arbitration, both in the interest of employer and emnloye. The people of Canada should see that some such method should be adopted for the settlement of all labor difficulties between employer and employe. If the plan proposed by the maintenance-of-ways men is endorsed by the people of Canada, they will obtain a fair settlement with the company."

"Do you look for an early settlement?"

"I did a few days ago; but it seems as far off as ever. If the company does not come to terms, we will continue the strike indefinitely."

Strike Will Go On.

Montreal, Aug. 17.—Negotiations are evidently off. It is quite likely that the strikers will go on. This was the situation at midnight. The Conciliation Committee are preparing a report to their respective lodges, and they state that the negotiations are closed. The Trackmen's Committee met and passed a resolution of confidence in President Wilson, and put a declaration on record that the Conciliation Committee's proposition was an insult.

Edison Interested in Nickel.

Toronto, Aug. 16.—Director Gibson of the Bureau of Mines yesterday received word from Sudbury, stating that the famous electrician, T. A. Edison, had opened an office there, and would make an examination of that district with the object of interesting himself in nickel. It is understood that Mr. Edison is at work on a certain kind of storage battery, which will require a quantity of nickel in its construction, hence his presence in Sudbury.

Dundas Man Broke His Back.

Dundas, Aug. 16.—Owen McGuinty, a laborer, working on the new House of Providence building, fell yesterday from the third story, and died before medical aid could be summoned. His back was broken. McGuinty has lived here for a number of years. He leaves a wife and six small children, the eldest being only ten years of age.

Fatal Result of a Fall.

Toronto Junction, Aug. 15.—William H. White, aged 10, a son of Mr. R. T. White, whilst playing in the C.P.R. yards on Saturday, fell off a box car, which resulted in concussion of the brain. He died yesterday.

Died From Injuries.

Hamilton, Aug. 15.—At Carlisle Tuesday afternoon Mr. Alfred Allison, a well-known farmer, died from injuries received in a runaway accident, which occurred on Monday afternoon. Deceased was 33.

Stomach and Bowel Cramps

Your stomach can't stand much of some kinds of food this weather: if you give it more than enough to give it body energy it goes on strike—when nature goes on strike it hurts.

For any stomach or bowel ailment you will get relief by taking Powley's Liquified Ozone. It restores the natural conditions to the body's organs promptly and effectively. Just notice this case:

I have suffered for over a year and a half with what the doctors call colic of the bowels. I was treated by the best physicians in the city but all failed to do me any good. At last I was advised to try Ozone, which I did. In about two weeks the pains started to go away. Before this I had been off work more than half my time, and I could not eat, nor sleep well at night. After taking two bottles of Ozone the pains are all gone and I am in good health.

If any others are suffering as I was I advise them to take Powley's Liquified Ozone.

(Signed) OSCAR JOYCE, Fireman, G.T.R., Midland Division, Sutton West, Ont.

You should avoid drinking too much water, eating unripe fruit, or eating heat-producing foods. If you have bowel disorders Ozone will cure you quicker than any other means you have a mind to try. If you haven't known about Ozone before it's a pity. One bottle is all you require. You'll keep it in the house when you know how good it is.

Consult our physician about your case. Write full details and you will get a specialist's advice free. Your letters are absolutely confidential. Address the Consulting Department, The Liquid Ozone Co., 229 Kinzie St., Chicago, U.S.A.

MR. DRYDEN'S REPLY.

Discusses His Investment in Ranching Property—It Will Not in Any Way Interfere With His Duties Here.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, arrived back at his office yesterday morning from his vacation, the most of which was spent in New Ontario, including a visit to the pioneer farm at Dryden Station. Mr. Dryden expressed surprise at the comment which he was informed had been made by Ontario newspapers in connection with his ranch in Dakota.

In reply to questions Mr. Dryden said the ranch was in the hands of a joint stock company of Canadians and Americans, promoted originally by Mr. J. F. McLaughlin of Toronto, and numbered several Canadians in its directorate besides Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Dryden, including Mr. Thomas Crawford, M. P. P., and Mr. W. E. Wellington of Toronto. "The reason Mr. McLaughlin desired our services," Mr. Dryden remarked, "was because our knowledge of live stock matters and our advice was therefore more valuable than that of some who have had no experience.

"I have not been able to see anything in it," Mr. Dryden continued, "or in any connection with it, derogatory in the slightest extent to the agriculture of this Province. I have always been loyal to the Province of Ontario and especially to agriculture in the Province, and have done what I could to advance its interests, and if I thought an injury would come by a course of this kind I would at once withdraw, but no possible injury can ever come. The ranch is only a pasture field, and not a farm, and to compare the agriculture of Dakota ranching with the agriculture of Ontario is ridiculous in the extreme.

"If I had foreseen in the beginning that some narrow-minded individuals might object to my course in this respect I probably would have refused to have any connection with it, as I do not wish to stir up the opposition of even the weakest in our party. But, having done so, with my eyes open, I do not intend to drop out at the suggestion of a man like Mr. Pettypiece and the Tory followers. I do this more especially because the conduct of this ranch, so far as I am concerned, requires practically no time; it will not interfere in the slightest degree with my duties here.

"I intend to hold to my privileges as a free-born British subject and make any investments I have to make where I deem it to be most to my advantage, without injuring my usefulness in any degree in this country, and I believe the good sense of the people of the country will stand by me in so doing."

It Strikes the Heart.

Not only is the victim of Rheumatism a constant sufferer, but he lives in continual dread that the disease will reach the heart, which means sudden and unexpected death. Rheumatism can only be cured when the uric acid is removed from the blood by the healthy action of the kidneys. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver pills make the kidneys healthy and vigorous, and so gradually and thoroughly cure Rheumatism by removing the cause. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box.

Lost Boy.

A little boy, visiting his grandmother, crawled under a bed about 7 o'clock in the evening and went to sleep. Before morning the police all over the city had been instructed to look for him, his parents supposing him to be lost. What happened when he was found we have not been informed.

BOTHA AND 4,000 BOERS.

Durban, Aug. 16.—Lord Kitchener, with a strong force, is moving on Hondweni, on the border of Zuiuland, where Gen. Botha is reported to have concentrated 4,000 Boers. An important engagement is expected to ensue.

Fifty of French's Scouts Surrender.

London, Aug. 17.—The War Office has received the following despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, Aug. 16:

"While a party of 50 of French's Scouts were proceeding to join a column near Bethseada, they were surrounded in the hills by a superior force under Theron and surrendered. One was killed and three wounded, Capt. Bethelheim dangerously."

Lord Kitchener does not give the date, but the casualty list indicates Aug. 8.

MEAT TABOOED.

Some people believe that a purely vegetable diet is the most wholesome. They may be right. They are entitled to their own opinion. But most of us think the natural diet is a mixed one. To be deprived of meat would be a hardship to the majority. Mrs. Blair, of 1010 St. Denis street, certainly thought it so.

Mrs. Blair was not a vegetarian of her own free will. She ate no meat because she dare not. She could not digest it. It was an involuntarily deprivation, enforced on her by the weakness of her stomach. Mrs. Blair was a dyspeptic.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are well known in Montreal. They have cured hundreds of people in that city of Dyspepsia in all its various forms and manifestations. They are the simplest, easiest and most reasonable treatment known. They act on the food and the stomach gets rested. Nine times out of ten that is all it wants. Mrs. Blair used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and she is one of the large number of Montreal people who know what they are from experience.

"I had been troubled for over a year," writes Mrs. Blair, "with a gnawing sensation at the stomach and pressure of wind on the heart. I had no disposition to eat and found it impossible to eat anything in the nature of meats. My son induced me to try Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, knowing of so many cures effected by their use among his friends. Before I had finished the box, I found great relief. After taking four boxes I was able to eat meat again or anything else I fancied. I gladly certify to their merits as a Dyspepsia medicine as I have had no returns of Indigestion since using them."

Reid Newfoundland Company.

Montreal, Aug. 16.—The Reid Newfoundland Company, which is the outcome of the recent settlement reached between Mr. R. G. Reid and the Newfoundland Government, is now an accomplished fact. All of Mr. W. G. Reid's properties will be merged into the newly-constituted corporation on Sept. 1. The Reid Newfoundland Company will have a capital of $25,000,000.

Great Loss By Hail.

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—H. J. Hunt, who has just returned from a trip through Fitzroy and adjoining townships, which suffered severely last week from a terrific hailstorm, says $100,000 is a conservative estimate of the damage done. One man—Noble Wallace of Fitzroy—had three calves killed by the hailstones.

When you feel weak, run down, nervous, unable to work, or think, as you ought, take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. They'll build your health up and give you strength and energy.

TROPICAL STORM RAGING.

Gulf of Mexico Ports Inundated and Great Loss of Life Feared.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 16.—The tropical storm which has been raging along the Gulf Coast for two days has last night completely isolated the city of Mobile, Ala., from the outside world. It is known that considerable damage has been done along the water front in Mobile, but whether there has been loss of life or not is mere conjecture. Nothing has been heard from the country south of Mobile up to the time the last wire to Mobile failed.

At half-past four yesterday afternoon the Western Union office at Mobile was abandoned, the water being three feet deep in the operating room. Two hours later the operator made his way into the room in a boat and managed to send a message saying the wind was blowing fifty miles an hour and the business district was deserted. The water at 3 p. m. was reported as high as in the great flood of 1893. It is feared the loss of life has been great.

The Funeral of Signor Crispi.

Naples, Aug. 15.—The funeral of Signor Crispi yesterday was an imposing event. Cordons of troops lined the route, which was through the principal streets, and presented as the funeral car passed. The car was drawn by eight black horses, with sable trappings. The cords of the pall were held by the mayors of Rome, Naples, Palmero and Ribera, Sicily, Crispi's birthplace, the Vice-President of the Chamber of Deputies and other state officials. A caisson, draped with flags, was followed by cars piled high with floral tributes. The procession included King Victor Emmanuel's aide-de-camp, representing the King. Immense crowds occupied the streets, balconies and windows. All present uncovered as the coffin passed.

Burglary at Gananoque.

Gananoque, Aug. 15. — Tuesday night the Department Store Company was visited by burglars, entrance being made at the back of the store. Over two dollars in silver was taken from the till. The safe was smashed and opened, and although a large sum of money was within, the burglars failed to find it.

The Cause of Hay Fever.

It's a microbe that floats in the air, gets into the throat and the lungs, developes rapidly, excites inflammation, etc. The cause is as simple as a thistle in the finger. Extract the thistle, away goes the pain. Destroy the Hay Fever germ—you get well. That's why Catarrhozone acts so marvellously in Hay Fever. Its fragrant vapor to you brings cure, but to the microbe death. Catarrhozone is as quick to act on these microscopic organisms as lightning. Prevents as well as cures, and is always successful. New Town Hall.

It is understood that Mr. Thomas Wilson has been given the contract for the erection of a $3,000 town hall and school house at the Chemong Indian reserve. The building will be a very neat structure and designed to meet the requirements in every particular. It is also said that Mr. Blackwell has been appointed superintendent of the construction of the same. The erection of the building will fill a long felt want in this regard.

Obituary.

The death occurred last night at his late residence Townsend street, of Parick Hallahan, after an illness of a year or more. He leaves a wife, formerly Elizabeth Clancy, and a family of six to mourn his loss. The sons are Messrs. Michael and Oscar, and the daughters are Misses Mamie, Devine, Florence and Nellie. Messrs. Robert, James and Michael Hallahan of town, are brothers of the deceased. The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery for interment.

The Band Excursion.

Regarding the statement that 200 or more persons were unable to secure tickets for the 57th Regimental Band Excursion, the supply, as is being reported, having run out, also that the alleged state of affairs was not due to the band management, but to the railway authorities, to whom it is being said, application had been previously made for additional tickets, some misunderstanding seems to exist. Mr. Wm. Bunton, the local up town agent of the Grand Trunk Railway, states that it is quite true that he had been approached regarding additional tickets, but this was on Tuesday night, when of course it was too late to have more of such special tickets printed. Also that he told the band management that should they find at the station that additional tickets were required they could purchase the ordinary ticket that is issued by conductors and afterwards receive a rebate that would bring the price of the ticket down to the excursion rate. Mr. Bunton further states that there were members of the committee who have since turned up with unused tickets which they had unintentionally left in other clothes at home. Under these circumstances it would be hard indeed to attach any blame to the officials of the Company.

VERY PLEASANT OUTING.

Members of the Trent Valley Staff Had an Outing to Rice Lake Yesterday.

Through the kindness of Mr. R. B. Rogers, Superintending Engineer of the Trent Canal, the local staff and their friends to the number of about fifty, spent a most enjoyable day yesterday on the Otonabee and Rice Lake. The "Water Lily" had been placed at the disposal of the party and in it the company steamed from the town wharf, arriving at Idyl Wyld in time for dinner.

After luncheon a friendly game of quoits was played in which Messrs. Spence and Giroux carried off the palm. Prior to departing for Jubilee, the excursionists were photographed by Mr. Francis.

Arriving at Jubilee, via Hiawatha, a hotly contested game of foot ball, under the capable captaincy of Messrs. Rogers and Giroux, was played. It was a game of features, notwithstanding the remark of the ubiquitious cynic, who said "It's pretty, but is it art?" and declared it "wasn't according to Budd." The brilliant, aggressive and defensive work of "Clem" Gordon and "Alec" Richardson, the efficient goaling of Wm. Graham and Geo. Rose, the prompt and impartial decisions of Umpire Shearer and a bold and lightning-like dash with the pig skin for goal by Wm. Quinn, call for special mention. Of course the transition from this ancient and honoured game, to the laws governing falling bodies came easy with a company of engineers, and hence it was not surprising that one heard learned references to the mathematical and dynamical aspects of the game, the formulae for impact, the equation to the parabola and a dozen other sweetly abstruse things too profound for the comprehension of the average newspaper correspondent. The "Blowhards" vanquished the "Never Sweats," the score being two to one.

Supper concluded, the home trip was resumed. Vocal and instrumental music by Mrs. Spence, Miss McCabe, Mr. Rogers and Mr. Blanchette, grapho-phone selections from Mr. Francis' instrument and the graceful dancing of little Miss Jessie Spence were the means of entertainment. At the lock, votes of thanks to Mr. Rogers, Mr. Francis, Mr. Spence and the ladies were proposed, unanimously carried and most felicitously responded to. The singing of the National Anthem at the wharf brought a most delightful day to a conclusion. In the opinion of all who participated, everything passed off in a way which as the critics say, left nothing to be desired.

COURT STANLEY'S OUTING.

The Excursion to Stony Lake Was Well Attended and Thoroughly Enjoyed.

Perhaps no more enjoyable outing was taken advantage of by many Peterborough people on Civic Holiday than the excursion of Court Stanley Ancient Order of Foresters. The steamer Sunbeam and scow were none too commodious for the number who took in the trip.

McCracken's Landing was reached at about 12.30 o'clock. Here dinner was partaken of by the excursionists, after which Juniper Island was visited and those who desired to do so remained at this point, whilst the steamer with the remainder of her passengers, made a trip around the lakes, which was, needless to say, very much enjoyed.

The proceedings were made additionally interesting by the presence of an orchestra, which furnished excellent music for dancing on board the scow.

The excursion left Lakefield for home at about 8.30 o'clock, and reached Peterborough in due time, everyone expressing themselves as well pleased with the day's outing.

MAY LOSE THE ARM.

A Young Cavan Farmer Caught in a Pea Thresher.

Mr. John Greer, jr., who resides in Cavan, near Baillieboro, met with an accident on Thursday, of so serious a nature that as a result he may possibly lose one of his arms.

He was attending to a pea thresher, it seems, and in some way his fingers caught in the cogs, drawing in his arm and tearing the flesh in a frightful manner. His thumb and two of his fingers were mashed to a pulp, and had to be amputated. Every effort is being made to save the arm, and it is expected that the exact extent of the injuries to that member will become apparent to-morrow.

Mr. Greer is a son of Mr. John Greer, sr., one of the most representative farmers of Cavan.

CENTRAL PARK AND THE SEPARATE SCHOOL GROUNDS.

A General Statement of the Way in Which They Came Into Their Present Condition and Relation.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—In compliance with the desire of several of your readers, who, like myself, are not acquainted with the history of the Central Park, will you kindly publish the true historical facts from the beginning up to the present time. This will enable us to estimate correctly the value of the facts (where such have been given) in the abundantly acrimonious newspaper controversy, which has been going on between the "Roman Catholic Park Champion" on one side, and the "Protestant" on the other, re the "selfish" or "unselfish," "partial" or "total," "appropriation" of the privileges in common with the park, by the St. Joseph's picnickers, on the 1st of July, last. Trusting you will oblige, with full particulars, we are
Yours truly,
TRUTH SEEKERS.

Peterborough, August 16th, 1901.

In answer to the above, the following general sketch, without exact dates, but true, it is believed, as to facts, may be given.

In the beginning the block of land bounded by George street, Murray street, McDonel street and Aylmer street, except that portion west of the lane running in rear of the range of lots facing on Aylmer street, was granted by the Crown for burial purposes, the eastern half for Protestants, and the western half for Roman Catholics. The eastern half, or Protestant, was first vested in the council of the Colborne and Newcastle District, then by succession in the council of the United Counties of Peterborough and Victoria, formed out of a part of the old district, and on the separation of the united counties, and the organization of Victoria and Peterborough into separate municipalities, Peterborough County naturally succeeded to possession.

The eastern, or Protestant half, of the Crown grant was used for burial purposes up to about 1859 or 1860, when probably for sanitary reasons connected with the growth of population around the burial place, a cemetery was acquired, now known as the Little Lake Cemetery, and the bodies removed from the Central Park burial ground to the Little Lake Cemetery, or elsewhere. Up to that time the only burial places for Protestants in the town were the Central Park site, and the Methodist cemetery at the north end of the town. After the Protestant half of the Central Park block ceased to be used for burial purposes, it was enclosed by a high board fence, around the inner side of which stalls or booths were erected and the place used for exhibitions by the County Agricultural Society. This lasted till the grounds in North Monaghan, adjoining the Driving Park, were leased or purchased. For some time after that the park was used as a commons.

The property is now authoritatively placed under the management of the town for park purposes, and is, therefore, technically regarded, diverted from the uses and purposes specified in the original grant from the Crown. The presence of the drill shed on the property is a matter of arrangement, which does not affect the relative positions of the two parts of the block.

The western, or Roman Catholic portion of the block in question, was at the time of granting by the Crown vested in the Roman Catholic Bishop of Kingston, in whose See Peterborough then was, the Bishop, ex-officio, being an episcopal corporation. The reason for so vesting the grant was doubtless the fact that Roman Catholic burial places requiring to be consecrated ground, were naturally vested in the church, and the church, instead of using the grounds for the purposes of burial, diverted them from the use and purposes specified by the Crown, as was done in the case of the Protestant section, only in the one case the grounds were converted into a site for a Separate School, and in the other into a park, the right to take action in either case not being, perhaps, a matter of dispute.

This little sketch, while it does not aim to give a full and specific history of the block of ground, nor to deal minutely with changes in titles, or with specific data, is believed to be a fair statement of the relative positions of the two plots of ground to which our correspondent refers. — Editor Examiner.

Orillia Times.

The band and firemen's excursion to Peterborough on Thursday proved one of the biggest successes of the season. Nearly 500 took in the trip and enjoyed a most pleasant day amongst the citizens of our eastern city. At about 11 o'clock the train pulled into Peterborough, and was met at the station by a large gathering, including representatives from the Fire Department, who welcomed the local brigade to the town. The firemen, who were in the hands of the Peterborough brigade, enjoyed exceptional hospitality, and were driven around the town and given an exhibition of skilful firemen's manoeuvres at their firehall, which was highly creditable to their fire department. A good many witnessed the lacrosse match, the band rendering appropriate music on the grounds. Quite a number visited the work on the Trent Canal, and were much impressed with the extensive operations under way. The Fifty-seventh Regt. Band, of Peterborough, a fine, well-balanced organization, turned out and played the visitors to the station, and amid the cheers of a multitude that had assembled to bid the excursionists adieu the train pulled out for Orillia. The band and firemen are unanimous in their praise of the cordial treatment they received, and look forward to the time when they will enjoy a return visit from their eastern friends, and be in a position to show in other than mere words that they appreciated the kindness accorded them at the hands of the Peterborough band and firemen.

SAW THE KINCORA SINK.

Senator Cox and Party on Oceanic When Accident Occurred.

Seven Persons Aboard Irish Bark Were Drowned.

Mail and Empire.

Hon. Senator Cox, who was a passenger on the Oceanic, when the big liner collided with the Irish barque Kincora off Tuskor, sinking the vessel and drowning seven of the crew, when asked regarding the matter, stated that he preferred not to discuss the accident beyond saying that the Oceanic was not hurt in any way, and was able to proceed with little or no delay.

Senator Cox and wife, E. W. Cox and wife, and Miss Morrow of Peterborough, arrived in Toronto from New York yesterday morning, after an extended holiday in the Old Country. The Senator said that during his visit he had put aside the cares of business and did not feel equal to the task of granting an interview. He visited the Glasgow Exhibition and was much impressed with it. Beyond the accident on the voyage home nothing had occurred to mar the pleasure of the holiday.

The Kincora was a small trading vessel and was struck amidships by the Oceanic at 1.30 in the morning in a heavy fog. The commander of the liner at once gave orders to lower the boats, while ropes were being thrown to those on board the smaller steamer. In this way the captain of the injured vessel and 13 of the crew were assisted to the deck of the Oceanic. Two of the boats were lowered and went alongside the steamer, where seven of her crew were running about in a distracted manner. They were told to jump overboard and they would be saved, but they seemed paralyzed with fear. In ten minutes the steamer sank stern first, and the men went down in the maelstrom which her sinking caused. For half an hour the boats stayed out, but could find no one. The sum of $1,000 was raised among the cabin passengers of the Oceanic for the survivors of the Kincora, who were landed at Queenstown.

OUR SUMMER RESORTS.

STONY LAKE.

Mr. Sutherland, of Toronto, who is building a very commodious and handsome cottage on Eagle Mount, is occupying Mr. Lindsay's fine summer residence on the same island until his house is completed.

Miss Gertrude Wood, of Millbrook, who has been visiting Mrs. McAllister, left for home this morning.

Miss Gertrude Kendry and Miss Pearl Lundy, who have been staying at Victoria House, under the chaperonage of Miss Rutherford, have returned to Peterborough.

The house-boat came to grief in Thursday's storm. It was anchored off Juniper Island but was torn from its moorings and thrown up against Mr. Nugent's Island, damaging the crockery and furniture on board considerably, and upsetting every one in the boat. The services of the Empire had to be put into requisition before the house-boat could be worked out into deep water again.

The most interesting race on Thursday was that of the Indians. The two Knotts and Taylor entered and the former two made a dead head of it for first place. As the Knotts did not want to race over again, they "tossed up" for the prize and "Bill" won the fine tweed suit of clothes offered by Mr. Harry LeBrun. Mr. LeBrun was invited into the judges' stand to watch the race. Mr. B. Shortly's football went to Sandford Knott and C. LeGros' pipe and case to Taylor.

Mr. Arthur Piper deserves a great deal of credit for the indefatigable manner in which he laboured in the interests of the regatta.

Mr. "Jim" Worts has returned to Toronto after a very pleasant visit with Mr. Hubert McBain.

Mr. B. Shortly and Mr. Orville Shortly went down to Peterborough this morning but will return to-night. The latter has averaged a lunge a day since being at the lake and has caught over fifty bass.

Mrs. W. F. Nelson and children, who have been visiting at Tecumseh Lodge, as the guests of Mrs. J. B. McWilliams, have returned to Peterborough. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sutcliffe have been spending a few days with Mrs. McWilliams.

Miss Bella Morrow, who has just returned from a trip to Europe, arrived at the lake this morning, accompanied by her sister, Miss Emma Morrow, who went to Toronto yesterday to meet her.

Miss Margaret Cox, who has been a guest of Miss Ada McBain, at Bona Vista for the last few weeks, has left to spend a week or two at Colborne.

Mr. and Mrs. A. St. A. Smith and children, are spending a few weeks at the Victoria House.

Mr. E. H. D. Hall and Mr. R. E. Wood, who have been at McCracken's Landing for a couple of days, have returned home.

Mr. George McWilliams caught a fine twelve pound lunge on Thursday afternoon. Mr. K. G. Lech got two smaller ones and on Friday Mr. A. St. A. Smith landed a beauty. Mr. Jack Hunter and his son caught nineteen bass on Wednesday. Mr. Sam Hunter, of the Toronto "Star," got a beautiful pair of bass on Friday night. The two weighed just 7 1-2 pounds. All the fish were caught in the vicinity of McCracken's.

Nine American guests took up quarters at the Victoria House on Thursday to put in a couple of weeks fishing.

The steam launch "Mollie" took quite a number down to enjoy Mrs. C. B. McAllister's hospitality on Friday evening. After enjoying a "Marshmallow Toast" at two big bonfires refreshments were served. A great many canoe loads came from different portions of the lake.

Miss DeWit of New York, is visiting Miss Choate at the Landing.

RICE LAKE SERPENT MOUND.

Mr. J. H. Belcher Preparing a Plan of Surveys Made by Him.

A great deal has been written about the splendid specimen of prehistoric Indian serpent mound at Roach's Point Rice Lake, near the mouth of Indian River, identified by Mr. David Boyle, curator of the Ontario Archaelogical Museum. But not till now, so far as known, has an accurate survey of it been made. Under instructions of Mr. Boyle, Mr. J. E. Belcher, C.E., town, has made a survey and is preparing plans of this interesting relic of the dead past — of a people so long passed away that their works in the shape of serpent mounds and other tumuli, centuries after they had disappeared, were used by a people flourishing centuries later for the burial of their dead and even so long ago that these graves are of themselves prehistoric, and large forest trees have grown over the spot.

COAL HAS ADVANCED.

Toronto Dealers Put Up Price Twenty-five to Fifty Cents a Ton.

(Globe.)

An advance in the price of coal of 25 cents for cash and 50 cents a ton for orders was announced by dealers in Toronto yesterday. Stove, nut and egg, which was selling at $6, is advanced to $6.25 and $6.50 for cash and on order respectively, and pea is advanced from $5 to $5.25 on order. The dealers give as a reason for the advance that the price has been put up by the great coal-producing companies. Commencing May last an advance of 10 cents per month was made, and this advance will continue till September, when the wholesale price will be at the highest point reached during the strike last winter, when coal sold at retail in Toronto at $6.50 a ton. Dealers say also that by September 1 they will be paying a dollar a ton more for coal than they did a year ago. The present advance, it is understood, holds good only to the end of the present month.

OLD TIME REMEDIES.

CRUDE MEDICAL METHODS OF THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY.

The Rev. John Wesley's "Collection of Receipts" For the Treatment of the Ills and Aches of Humanity. Bleeding a Consumptive.

In these days of hygienic reform and "methods" of treating disease without medicine at all it is interesting to read a volume printed by Parry Hall, Chestnut street, Philadelphia, in 1747 and compiled by John Wesley. It is a curious mixture of material remedies and religious exhortation. There are a few copies of the book in existence, but one unearthed recently was the occasion of much amusement at a convention of physicians. The book is substantially bound in leather, and the few illustrations are as primitive as the remedies.

The preface deals with the raison d'etre of the work, incidentally recalling how "man was sent from the hands of God perfect, needing no physic; but, rebelling against the sovereign of all, the seeds of pain and sickness were lodged in the body and a thousand disorders, increased by everything around us. The sun and moon shed unwholesome influences from above; the earth exhales poisonous damps from below; the air itself that surrounds us is replete with the shafts of death; yea, the food we eat daily saps the foundations of life."

The preface further states: "As to the manner of using the remedies here set down, I should advise, as soon as you know your disorder (which is easy unless in a case of complication of disorders, and then you would do well to apply to a physician who fears God): First, use the medicines first advised for that disease; the second, if that is of none effect; the third, and so on. To persevere in the course is often more than half the cure. Above all, add to the rest (for it is not labor lost) that old fashioned medicine, prayer and faith in God."

A postscript to the preface is addressed to the members of the Methodist Episcopal church and signed by Thomas Coke and Francis Asbury, introducing the work to American brethren. It begins:

"Friends and brethren, the great interest of your souls will ever be near our hearts, but we cannot be unmindful of your bodies."

The work proper is entitled "A Collection of Receipts" and recites in alphabetical order the "disorders" of that time and their remedies. In the A's are a list of panaceas against ague. To "go into a cold bath just before a fit" is added the wholesome advice, "Nothing tends more to prolongue an ague than indulgence in a lazy, indolent disposition." Another remedy for ague is to "apply to the stomach a large onion, split." Still another is: "Make six middling pills of cobwebs. Take one before the cold fit, two a little before the next, the other three, if need be, before the other fit."

Parenthetically are introduced some gentle hints for "tender persons" and "the studious." "Tender persons should constantly go to bed at 9 and rise at 4 or 5. Studious people should frequently bathe and frequently wash their feet."

Tar water is a standard remedy in the great John Wesley's family medicine book. He gives the formula for making it: "Put a gallon of water (cold) on a quart of Norway tar, stir them together with a flat stick for five minutes. After it has stood for three days pour the water off clear; bottle, cork. For St. Anthony's fire take a wineglassful every hour."

There is no mention made of flytime in this pungent remedy for baldness: "Rub the part night and morning with a raw onion until red; rub afterward with honey. Tried. Or electrify daily."

How does modern hydropathy compare with this instance: "Miss Bates of Leicestershire bathed daily, using the cold bath for a month and drinking only water. This cured her of a cancer in the breast, a consumption and a sciatic rheumatism."

There are various remedies for consumption. After recommending the cold bath Mr. Wesley says: "Take no food but new buttermilk churned in a bottle and white bread. On every morning cut up a little turf of fresh earth and, lying down, breathe into the hole for a quarter of an hour. I have known a deep consumptive cured this way."

He further states: "Mr. Mathers of Evesham was so far gone in consumption that he could not stand alone. Dr. Dover (of the celebrated Dover's powder) advised him to lose six ounces of blood daily for a fortnight—if he lived that long—and then every other day, then every third day, and so on. In three months he was well."

"For dull sight: Drop in two or three drops of the juice of rotten apples often."

This one does not sound unreasonable, as rosemary forms an ingredient in many hair restoratives: "To make the hair grow wash every night in a strong decoction of rosemary."

"For hoarseness: Rub the soles of the feet before the fire with garlic and lard, well beaten together."

"For the Iliac Passion (colic): Hold a live puppy constantly on the breast; or, take, ounce by ounce, a pound or a pound and a half of quicksilver."

To prevent wrinkles and insure long life: "Take tar water night and morning, or decoction of nettles (either of these will renew the youthful strength for some years), or be electrified daily, or chew cinnamon daily."

For the sting of a bee or a nettle there is the homeopathic remedy of honey for one and the juice of the nettle for the other.

Here is a poultice that should stick: "For a stitch in the side apply treacle on toast (hot)."

An extraordinary disease called "twisting of the guts" has an extraordinary remedy: "Many at the point of death have been cured by taking, ounce by ounce, one, two or three pounds of quicksilver."

After again recommending his collection of recipes Mr. Wesley forcibly adds: "But I still advise, in complicated cases, let every one apply without delay to a physician that fears God. For from one who does not, be his name ever so great, I should expect a curse rather than a blessing."

Character in Medicine.

There is character in Dr. Chase's Ointment—just such character as has made Dr. Chase esteemed and admired the world over. Dr. Chase's Ointment has stood the test of time and remains to-day the only actual cure for Piles and Itching Skin Disease. It is the standard Ointment of the world. You can rely on it just as you rely on Dr. Chase's Receipt Book, because you know that it is backed by the sterling character of Dr. Chase—America's Greatest Physician.

QUARRELS OVER TRIFLES.

Frequently the Most Disturbing Element in Married Life.

It is very commonly observed that the most acute pangs which we meet with are in the beginning of wedlock and proceed from ignorance of each other's humor and want of prudence to make allowances for a change from the most careful respect to the most unbounded familiarity. Hence it arises that trifles are commonly occasions of the greatest anxiety, for contradiction being a thing wholly unusual between a newly married couple, the smallest instance of it is taken for the highest injury, and it very seldom happens that the man is slow enough in assuming the character of a husband or the woman quick enough in condescending to that of a wife. It immediately follows that they think they have all the time of their courtship been talking in masks to each other and therefore begin to act like disappointed people. Philander finds Delia ill natured and impertinent, and Delia thinks Philander surly and inconsistent.

I have known a fond couple to quarrel in the very honeymoon about cutting up a tart; nay, I could name two who, after having had seven children, fell out and parted over boiling a leg of mutton. It may seem strange to those who are not married when I tell you how the least trifle can strike a woman dumb for a week. But if you ever enter into this state you will find that the gentle sex as often expresses anger by an obstinate silence as by an ungovernable clamor.

Those, indeed, who begin this course of life without jars at their setting out arrive within a few months at a pitch of benevolence and affection of which the most perfect friendship is but a faint resemblance. As in an unfortunate marriage the most minute and indifferent things are objects of the sharpest resentment, so in a happy one they are occasions of the most exquisite satisfaction. What does not oblige in one we love? What does not offend in one we dislike? For these reasons I take it for a rule that in marriage the chief business is to acquire a prepossession in favor of each other. Each should consider the other's words and actions with secret indulgence. —Success.

Mazeppa.

Historically, Mazeppa was hetman of the Cossacks. He was born of a noble Polish family in Podolia and became a page in the court of Jan Casmir, king of Poland. While in this capacity he intrigued with Therisia, the young wife of a Podonian count, who discovered the amour and had the young page lashed to a wild horse and turned adrift. The horse rushed in mad fury and dropped down dead in the Ukraine, where Mazeppa was released by a Cossack family, who nursed him carefully in their own hut. In time he became secretary to the hetman and at the death of the prince was appointed his successor.

Peter I much admired his energy of character and created him prince of the Ukraine, but in the wars with Sweden Mazeppa deserted to Charles XII and fought against Russia at the battle of Poltava. After the loss of this battle Mazeppa fled to Valentia and then to Bender. Some say he died a natural death and others that he was put to death for treason by the czar. Lord Byron makes Mazeppa tell his tale to Charles after the battle of Poltava.

Too Nice to Last.

Mr. Newlywed—Yes; but there isn't a thing in the wide world we want.

Peddler—All right, sir; I'll call again when the honeymoon is over.

OH, NO, HE WASN'T SCARED.

The Man Who Saw a White Object Rise Out of a Grave at Night.

"I protest I wasn't frightened a bit," said a suburban resident the other evening as he sat with a few of the neighbors "You may laugh all you want to, but you can't prove by any act I committed or any word I spoke that I was at all scared. This is how it happened:

"I was coming home about 11:30 o'clock, and, being in a hurry to get home, I made a short cut through the cemetery. I was going along at a pretty good pace, jumping over the mounds and tombstones. I was never more awake, more normal or less nervous in my life. But suddenly, down in the hollow at one corner of the cemetery, where the trees didn't admit the moonlight, I saw something white rise up out of a grave and then disappear in the earth. Immediately after I heard a dreadful groan. It was a real groan, I was sure, the kind of a groan that is wrung from a man by great physical pain.

"I stopped stock still. I didn't move. Once more something white rose out of the grave under the tree shadows and then sank back into the grave. Once more the groan was repeated.

"I was not frightened, I protest I was not. But as I stood and looked and listened while the strange phenomenon was repeated it seemed to me the best course was to retire as speedily as possible from that part of the cemetery. Was it a ghost? I didn't believe it was at the time. But I wasn't going to set myself up as a judge and decide the case, and I wasn't going to investigate. It wasn't my business anyhow. I didn't own the graveyard and I did not have any relatives buried there. So I got out."

"And you ran, too," remarked the man who lived across the street. "I saw you."

"Yes, I suppose I must have run. You see, I was anxious to tell my wife about it; such a good story."

"Well, did you find out what it was?"

"Oh, yes. It was perfectly natural, just as I expected. The sexton's white horse had fallen in a grave and broken its leg. It was trying to get out."

Acute and Chronic Rheumatism.
are equally influenced by the almost magical pain-subduing power of Polson's Nerviline, equal in medicinal value to five times the quantity of any other rheumatic remedy. Nerviline cures because it reaches the source of the disease and drives it out of the system. Nerviline is an unusually good rheumatic cure, and makes many unusual cures. Just rub it in the next time you have an attack. The immediate result will surprise you. 25c.

Remarkable Streets.

Washington has a street 17½ miles in length; it is the longest in the world. The shortest street is the Rue Ble, Paris, which is barely 20 feet long. The widest street is Market street, Philadelphia; the narrowest, the Via Sol, Havana, which is only 3½ feet wide. The highest street is Main street, Denver, Colo.; the lowest street, which is below the level of the sea, Main street, Georgetown, British Guiana. The cleanest street is Regent street, London; the dirtiest, Tchang-Tse street, Nankin.

Texas.

The area of Texas is equal to a belt of land 11 miles wide encircling the earth at the equator or to a strip of land more than one mile wide reaching from the earth to the moon or to a line wide enough for the roadbed of a double track railway and long enough to reach from the earth to the sun.

TO A BOOKWORM.

Oh, gentle worm, most wise, though oft denounced a pest,
Who didst the pages of the ancients' books infest,
Their contents chew upon and inwardly digest,
I envy thee when e'er thy course I look!

For 'twixt the vellum walls of some sweet classic tome,
Mid leaves ink scented thou didst have thy cloistered home,
All margined round with virgin fields in which to roam
Whene'er thou caredst to leave thy lettered nook.

And when thou'dst riddled thy last line, O Ptinidus,
What happy destiny was thine, denied to us,
To lay thy sapient bones in such sarcophagus
And be forever buried in a book!

—John H. Finley in Century.

TAKING HIS ADVICE.

How a Man Applied a Rule He Intended For His Neighbor to Himself.

Mr. Sheldon was the principal merchant in the important manufacturing town of Tormont. He was proud of his wealth, but he was still more proud of the fact that he had made it all himself, and his pride was greatest because he had made it by never allowing anybody to get ahead of him.

"That's the secret of success in life, Harry," he said one day to his favorite clerk. "Sharp's the motto if you wish to rise. I don't mean to say that you should cheat. That of course is both wrong and ungentlemanly." Mr. Sheldon prided himself also on being what he called a gentleman and above all little meannesses. "But always be wide awake and never let anybody cheat you. I've noticed, by the bye, that you've seemed rather downhearted lately. If it's because you've your fortune yet to make, don't despair, but follow my advice. An opening will come at some time for something better than a clerkship, and, though I shall be sorry to lose you, yet I'll give you up if it's for your interest."

"Thank you," said Harry, apparently not a bit cheered up by this cool way of being told he had nothing to expect from Mr. Sheldon, "but it's not exactly that. I suppose I shall get along somehow."

"What is it, my dear boy, then? I really take an interest in you, as you know." And he did so far as words were concerned. "Perhaps I can give you some advice."

"Well," said Harry, with some hesitation, "I'm in love, and"—

"In love!" exclaimed the rich merchant. "In love and with only a clerk's salary to marry on. It will never do—never do, Harry. Marriage for one like you is fastening a millstone round your neck unless indeed"—and he stopped, as if a bright thought had struck him—"unless indeed the girl is rich."

"She is rich, or will be, I suppose," answered Harry, "for her father is a wealthy man. But that's just the difficulty. Her father would never let her marry a poor man, and she won't marry without his consent."

"What a miserable tyrant!" said Mr. Sheldon. "If I was the lover, Harry, I'd run off with her. I'd checkmate the old curmudgeon in that way." And he chuckled at the imaginary triumph he would achieve. "'Pon my soul, I would! I never, as I told you, let anybody take a rise out of me."

"But would that be honorable?"

"Honorable? Isn't everything fair in love and war? I thought you had some pluck, Harry. How I should like to see the stingy old hulk rave and stump about on his gouty toes—for he must be gouty—when he heard of your elopement!"

And he laughed till his portly sides shook at the picture he had conjured up.

"He'd probably never forgive me," said Harry dejectedly. "And then what could I do, with a wife brought up to every luxury and only a poor clerk's salary to support her on?"

"Never forgive you? Trash and nonsense! They always do forgive. They can't help it. Besides," with a confidential wink, "I think I know your man. It's that skinflint, Meadows. I've heard of your being sweet on his daughter. She's a pretty minx, though she is his child. Oh, you needn't deny it. I saw how you hung about her at our party the other night, and when I joked about it with my daughter the next morning she as good as admitted that it was true, saying it would be a very good match for you. Now, I owe old Meadows a grudge. He tried to do me in those railway shares last winter, and I mean to pay him for it somehow. I tell you what I'll do. I must not ask, mind you, who the girl is. Mum must be the word. I must not of course be known in the affair, but I'll give you leave of absence for a month and a check for $250 to pay for your wedding trip if you'll make a runaway match. Is it agreed? Well, there's my hand on it. Here's the check. Egad! Won't the old man howl when he hears how we've done him!"

Harry seemed to hesitate, however, and it was not until Mr. Sheldon, eager to see his old commercial rival put at a disadvantage, had urged him again and again and promised to stand by him that he finally consented and took the check which his employer persisted in forcing upon him.

The next morning Mr. Sheldon came down to breakfast in high glee, for a note had reached him just as he was shaving which ran as follows:

Dear Sir—I have, with much difficulty, persuaded her to elope. It was not, however, till I showed her your check that she would consent to do so. She said tha she was sure you would not recommend anything that was wrong; that you would advise her as if you were her own father, and she hopes you will stand by us. We shall be married tomorrow, before Mr. Meadows is up. Very thankfully, HARRY CONRAD

The old gentleman brought the note with him to the table, opened it out before him, adjusted his spectacles and read it over and over again.

"I'd give $100," he said, chuckling, "to see the old fellow's face when he hears how Harry has done him."

It was the custom of Mr. Sheldon to read his newspaper at breakfast while waiting for his only child and daughter, who, a little spoiled by overindulgence, was generally late.

But this morning Matty was later than ever.

The banker had read all the foreign as well as the home news and even perused Harry's note, and still she had not made her appearance.

"The lazy puss!" he said at last. Then he looked up at the clock. "Half an hour late! Now, this is really too bad. John," he cried, addressing the manservant at the sideboard, "send and see why Miss Sheldon doesn't come down. Tell her," with a severe air, "I'm tired of waiting."

John came back in about five minutes, looking very much flustered.

"If you please, sir," he stammered, "Miss Sheldon's not in her room, and the maid says that the bed looks as if it hadn't been slept in all night."

The rich merchant's jaw fell.

He started up, with a cry of agony, to go and see, but he was prevented by the footman appearing at the door with a telegram.

"A telegram!" cried the merchant, unfolding it with trembling hands. "What can it mean? Has she been found dead anywhere?"

This was the telegram:

Dear Father—Harry and I were married at 8 o'clock this morning. I would not consent to an elopement till Harry assured me you had advised it and had shown me your check as proof. He says you promised to stand by us, and I know you pride yourself on never breaking a promise. We wait for your blessing. MATTY.

"Well, I never!" ejaculated Mr. Sheldon when he had recovered his breath. "The impudent, disobe"—

But here he stopped—stopped and mopped his bald head, which, in his excitement, had broken out into great drops of perspiration. He remembered that he had himself advised Harry to elope and that if the story got wind he would be the laughing stock of the town, including—the hardest cut of all—Mr. Meadows. He remembered, too, that he had but one child and that she was all in all to him.

So he accepted the inevitable and telegraphed back:

You may come home, and the sooner the better, so as to keep the $250 for pin money. Tell Harry he's too sharp to remain a clerk and that I take him today into partnership; only he must remember that partners never tell tales out of school. God bless you! H. SHELDON.

The runaways returned by the next train. The marriage proved, too, an eminently happy one. The story never got out. We only tell it now in confidence.—Woman's Life.

TEARFUL,

Trembling, frightened, she knows not why. Between her sobs she tells her husband of her misery. It is not enough for the husband to comfort the wife in this condition, she needs help. In those early days when the shadow of maternity first begins to fall upon the woman she is often nervous, sleepless, without appetite, and full of vague fears.

The help needed by women at this crisis is fully furnished by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It nourishes the nerves and so quiets them. It restores the appetite and induces refreshing sleep. It gives physical strength and mental buoyancy to meet the trial of motherhood, and makes the baby's advent practically painless.

"I will be very glad to say a few words for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. P. S. Douglas, of Mansonville, Brome Co., Que. "During the first four months when I looked to becoming a mother I suffered very much from nausea and vomiting, and I felt so terribly sick I could scarcely eat or drink anything. I hated all kinds of food. At this time I wrote to Dr. Pierce and he told me to get his 'Favorite Prescription' and a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I got a bottle of each and when I had taken them a few days I felt much better, and when I had taken hardly three parts of each bottle I felt well and could eat as well as any one, and could do my work without any trouble (I could not do anything before). I feel very thankful to Dr. Pierce for his medicine, and I tell all who tell me they are sick to get these medicines or write to Dr. Pierce."

A Little Umbrella Story.

One rainy evening when traffic on the elevated road was dull a guard on the Sixth avenue line found a comparatively new silk umbrella in one of the cars. When a lone passenger entered the car at Park place, the guard proudly showed his find.

"It comes in great for me tonight," he said. "This is my last trip, and I have a long walk. I had no umbrella."

The lone passenger, who was also without a rain protector, congratulated the guard.

The two carried on a pleasant conversation, only interrupted by stops at stations. In time the train reached the Eighty-first street station, where the passenger was to get out. The guard had carefully deposited his umbrella in a corner of the front platform of the car. While he was busy opening the gates the passenger quietly lifted it from its resting place and left the car. As the guard closed the gates and gave the bellcord a vigorous pull he saw his former passenger walking along the platform carrying the umbrella.

"Hey, there! Stop it! Bring that back!" shouted the guard.

"I need it myself," replied the recent passenger.

"Come back, I say! You are a thief!" cried the guard as the train slowly pulled out.

The new proprietor of the umbrella only smiled as he walked down the steps. He now shows the umbrella to his legal friends and quotes the old adage, "Possession is nine points of the law."—New York Times.

Amelia Knew Her Business.

Amelia was all sweet, nice and nervous, and she said to her sweetheart:

"You have been so old a friend I want to tell you something. I am," and she blushed, "I am going to be married."

"Wait!" he cried hoarsely. "Before you go further, hear me. I must say it, though I have no right now, but I will have less right later. I love you. I adore you. I have loved you since we were children together. I do not see how I can live and see you the wife of another. But at least you will know that I have loved you all these years, and when you hear the wind sigh over my distant grave—of course that is nonsense"—

"Don't take on so, John Henry," she said softly. "I'm going to marry—you!"

Then the strong man fainted, and as she bent over him a determined little line showed about her mouth, and she muttered, "I had to do something to bring him to it."

Champion High Jumper.

A curious lantern fly discovered by naturalists in the Malay archipelago possesses the power of jumping several feet without opening its wings. It has a projection on its head which, when bent back and suddenly released, throws the insect into the air. The fly was seen to jump from the ground to the roof of a hut.

One in Four Has Piles.

The Most Torturing Disease That Man has Ever Known—The Safest and Most Certain Cure is Dr. Chase's Ointment

Of the grown-up persons you meet from day to day one in four suffers more or less from itching, bleeding or protruding piles. Mock modesty leads many to suffer in silence, others dread the surgeon's knife and, believing an operation to be the only cure, neglect to be treated. Some have found out by actual trial that piles can be promptly relieved and thoroughly cured by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

If you are a sufferer from this exasperating ailment and will once make a test of Dr. Chase's Ointment you will be grateful to the end of your life for having read this advertisement. It will certainly cure you, no matter what forms of piles you have, so long as you give it an honest trial.

It has been frequently remarked by persons who have used this preparation that it has probably relieved more more suffering from itching skin disease than any remedy that the world has known. While remarkably effective, as a cure for eczema and salt rheum, Dr. Chase's Ointment is unique as the only actual and proven cure for each and every form of piles.

Mr. W. D. Ketchison, Bailiff, 9th Division Court, Frankford, Hastings County, states:—

"I was troubled for thirty years with Itchig Piles annd Eczema. I could not sleep at night, and when I got warm the itching was terrible. Eczema covered my legs down to the knees—perfectly raw. I have tried every preparation I could hear of. Seeing Dr. Chase's Ointment advertised, I procured a box, and less than this one box effected a complete cure."

If you have not met with some one who has been cured of piles by Dr. Chase's Ointment, ask your neighbours about it. It is impossible to publish testimonials of persons that all readers know, but by asking your friends you are sure to hear good words for Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is standard the world over and is guaranteed to cure any case of piles, 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Artificial Stone.

Quarrymen and stone dressers will probably be gradually crowded out of their occupation by the use of artificial stone. In the manufacture of this stone the sand is heated and the cement added to the amount of 12 per cent of the mixture. The steel molds are filled with the dry material and moved into an immense cylinder, which is closed and bolted. Boiling water is then turned in under pressure sufficient to force it all through the sand in the molds. The cement slacks, but the steel molds do not permit any expansion to occur, and the stone is formed and dried under an immense pressure. The result is a very hard stone, which can be supplied in shapes desired and much cheaper than the natural stone.

Homecooking Restaurants.

Odd as it may appear to dwellers in small cities, some of the down town restaurants of New York are in buildings in which no cooking is allowed. Some of the busiest of the midday restaurants purchase all their meats and stews already cooked and merely heat them through again before serving them to patrons. This branch of the restaurant business has reached such proportions that the mere operation of cooking for such places has become an established business, and owners of ovens thrive at it.

History of Merrill's System Tonic

This now famous remedy is not a hap hazard mixture. On the contrary it is the result of years of careful thought and experiment, having always the definite object in view of combining alterative herbs with a definite tonic for each organ in the body. Alteratives are medicines which assist the glands of the body to throw off waste and poisonous matter and absorb the nourishment provided by the food eaten. These glands are found in the stomach, kidneys, bowels, bladder and lungs. Besides these glands, each of these important organs is composed of more or less muscular matter, and it is upon this that tonic medicines act. A different tonic is required in almost each of these sets of muscles. After much observation the alterative mixture originated and prescribed by Walter S. McDade, of Philadelphia, and highly indorsed by Edwin F. Rush, of the Bellevue Medical College, of New York, and J. Marion Sims, of the Chicago University of Medicine, all medical men of the highest standing on the continent, was chosen. To this compound was added the different tonics above described. Merrill's System Tonic cannot be called a quack medicine, as knowledge and skill are behind it. It accomplishes four great purposes, on which ninety per cent. of disease hinges, viz., purifies the blood, builds up the glandular and muscular system, strengthens and soothes the nerves and cures constipation. It thus guarantees you a permanent cure for dyspepsia, skin disease, kidney troubles, general debility, nervousness and female troubles.

LACROSSE.

The Vaticans are not idle these days, but are putting in some real hard practice. Every evening the boys are out in full force and are in much better condition than they were when they played Orillia here last week. The management of the team is negotiating with Port Hope for a game which will take place at an early date. The Vaticans have also an invitation from Rochester to play there on August 31st. They are offered a very substantial guarantee and it is therefore most likely that the boys will go over. They have also to play their return game with Orillia. This will be played in the course of a week or two.

The Examiner is in receipt of a pamphlet which is being circulated throughout Canada, in the interest of the "Beers Memorial Fund," and we are pleased to call the attention of lacrosse enthusiasts to the following facts connected with the project of perpetuating the memory of the late Dr. W. George Beers, of Montreal, "The Father of Lacrosse," and one of the most self-sacrificing and patriotic Canadians.

Dr. Beers was in the heyday of youthful manhood and a playing member of the Montreal Lacrosse Club in 1868. Every Canadian knows that to Dr. Beers belongs the honour of making lacrosse a white man's pastime, as well as Canada's national game. He did not invent lacrosse, nor did he ever claim to have done so. He found it one of the chief sports of the Caughnawaga and St. Regis Indians, and his keen mind saw in it a game well suited to the active youth of Canada, and latent possibilities which could only be developed by the aid of proper rules and regulations. This work he set about doing, and in the course of time he produced the first laws of lacrosse, which although altered in some unimportant particulars, are practically in force throughout the playing world to-day.

To Dr. Beers the credit must be given of introducing the game in Great Britain. It was through his efforts that in 1876, the Montreal Lacrosse Team, accompanied by Big John's team of Caughnawaga Indians, toured the United Kingdom, and played before the Queen at Windsor Castle, being afterwards entertained at luncheon at the castle, and presented personally by Her Majesty with cabinet photographs of herself, bearing autograph. In 1883 he was the organizer of another tour to the Old Land, which was an immense success. They were banqueted on several occasions, and having the honour of playing before the Prince and Princess of Wales at Hurlingham. And thus his work in the interests of the game went on, never allowing any obstacle to daunt him.

So far as decided at present, it is the intention of the trustees of the "Beers Memorial Fund" to erect in the city of Montreal a suitable memorial to the late Dr. Beers, which will be worthy alike of the man and his patriotic work. The cost of such a memorial will be from $10,000 to $12,000, and the construction and design will depend upon the liberality of the response to this appeal.

In order to make this undertaking truly "National" in every respect, subscriptions are being solicited from lacrosse players and others in every part of the Dominion from the Atlantic to the Pacific and we feel sure the lacrosse clubs of this town, and its loyal supporters, will be eager to contribute to this worthy cause.

The promoter of this project, Mr. W. K. McNaught, of 511 King street west, Toronto, a warm personal friend of Dr. Beers, suggests a good plan to raise money, and it should be acted upon without fail. It is that every lacrosse club in Canada should play a match before the close of the present season in aid of the fund. This would ensure the success of the project. The pamphlet issued by Mr. McNaught, contains a biography of the late Dr. Beers, and is well worth reading. It may be obtained on application to the above address.

CRICKET.

The cricket match which was to have taken place this afternoon between a Toronto team and the local Seniors, will not take place.

BASEBALL.

The next base ball match of the season here will take place on Saturday next, when the Oshawa team will visit Peterborough. The Oshawa nine have been playing good ball of late.

AQUATIC.

Mr. J. H. McClellan, who made application to the Dominion Government a few days ago to have the shell which Jake Gaudaur will use in defending the world's championship, admitted from the United States into Canada, free of duty, received a telegram this morning expressing the willingness of the Government to comply with the request.

YACHTING.

Perhaps the most gratifying features of the extremely gratifying triumph of the Invader is the fact that the contest was by amateurs. The skippers and the bulk of the crews of the two yachts are men to whom sailing is a pastime and not a business, and the series of fine contests on Lake Michigan is proof of our possession of a fine body of men of wholesome tastes and keen energy. Yachting is expensive enough as a sport to insure the presence among the yachtsmen of a city of a number of men of considerable means; and their presence indicates a love of the sport and a willingness to participate in its labours which is in every respect to be commended. It must be confessed that we find a pleasure in the spectacle of scores of the young men of a city spending their leisure for years upon the water, acquiring such skill as was shown this week, and then contending for trophies in their own persons, and not by hired seamen; our pleasure in this spectacle is greater than in seeing a man of great wealth suddenly turn to the sport and by carte blanche orders and lavish expenditure send hired captains and hired crews to contend against other captains and other crews also hired. It is to be regretted, in our view, that the America Cup races are not Corinthian contests; were they such, the contest would be far finer upon the ethical side, and the splendid example of Mr. Aemilius Jarvis goes to show that the seamanship displayed need not be inferior.

The Canada's Cup is a trophy to which we Canadians feel peculiarly attached, and its home-coming—for as such we view it—is a subject for great pleasure. The planning of the yacht was a fine example of shrewd precision, and the handling of the vessel upon the course was a triumph of skill alike with sheet and with tiller. The sportsmanlike bearing of the American contestants and officials must be acknowledged and applauded, while the prospect of a superb series of races off Toronto Island in 1902 is most welcome. Mr. Gooderham, Mr. Jarvis and the rest of the syndicate, of the crew and of the fine yachting constituency which they represent, deserve the heartiest congratulations of all Canadians.

Mr. Thomas A. Edison, the well-known American inventer, has rented an office in Sudbury and is making investigation of the nickle resources that region. It is understood that he is perfecting a form of storage battery which requires considerable quantities of nickle. A New York engineer accompanies Mr. Edison, whose party numbers seven or eight men, according to information received by the Bureau of Mines. He has secured the services of two of the oldest prospectors in the locality, Henry Ranger and S. Jessop, who are acting as guides during Mr. Edison's investigation.

THE CURE OF DEAFNESS.

An interesting extract from an English medical review, "The Journal for the Deaf," having been published last week in this paper concerning the discovery of a cure for Deafness, a number of readers have written to us on the subject asking for additional information. We would remind them that they can write direct to the English Drouet Institute, 72, Regent's Park Road, London, England. The secretary will send them a copy of "The Journal for the Deaf," in which the Drouet treatment is described in full detail, together with a pathological report form, which will help them to state their cases with great exactitude, and thus enable the Institute to prescribe the treatment needful for their cure.

DOURO.

Mr. John Duff of Indian River, has just returned from a visit to the "Land o' Cakes," and remembered many of his friends. One of these was Rev. Father Keilty, the popular parish priest of Douro, to whom Mr. Duff brought a beautiful Irish black thorn stick, purchased at Moville, and a silk handkerchief from the Glasgow Exposition, which has the reverend Father's name handsomely embroidered in one corner. Rev. Father Keilty appreciates Mr. Duff's kindness, and highly values the forms it took on this occasion for special reasons — the black thorn, because it has the spirit of Ireland, extracted from Irish soil, embodied in its tough fibres, and the handkerchief, because it is a souvenir of Scotland, a nation he holds in very high respect, and of an individual Scotchman, whom he counts among his most esteemed and valued friends.

A TRIP ACROSS THE LINE.

A Peterborough Citizen's Letter to the Examiner.

He Tells of How Some Old Peterborough Boys are Progressing in the States—Visit to the Pan-American.

Your correspondent was one of a few Peterboronions who took the mid-day Grand Trunk on Monday last for Port Hope, thence to embark for Rochester. We landed in Port Hope on schedule time, and wended our way to her famous hotel, the St. Lawrence Hall, for dinner. On taking up the bill of fare, the first thing to attract one's attention, with which it was embellished, was a frontis-piece of Port Hope, as seen from a distance in the lake, and since "distance lends enchantment to the view," I must say it presented a creditable appearance, nestled between its hills, which I am afraid would not have been borne out, had it been taken on the spot. But imagine the chagrin of one fresh from "The Hub," to see it entitled "Port Hope, the most beautiful town in Canada." We may next expect Lindsay to make honours easy by advertising itself as the most beautiful town in Canada, on the classic shores of the roaring Scugog, while Peterborough, relying upon its merits as the gateway city to the Kawartha Lakes, stands idly by.

Our sail across the lake was one of the pleasantest character, it being an ideal day, with scarcely a ripple upon the bosom of the blue waters. On arriving at Charlotte, now a suburb of Rochester, we made close connection with the N.Y. Central, which took us up to the city. I headed for the Whitcomb House, a favorite resort for Canadians, its founder being a Canadian of that name. Located on Main street, near its highest point, it is the most pleasantly situated of any hotel in the city. It is claimed that this street is the best lighted of any in the world. It is studded with double arc lights on both sides, and when lighted up, presents a beautiful appearance from the Whitcomb House, looking down the declivity. The lights are placed at only a slight elevation of 12 or 15 feet from the surface of the street, and, by reason thereof, add to the charm of the scene.

The Genesee Falls, upper and lower, one in the heart of the city, spanned by the N.Y. Central bridges, the other further down, are both veritable Niagaras during the spring freshets, but at present little, if any, water can be seen going over the precipitous rocks, all that remains being diverted for power purposes. Owing to this magnificent water power, the city became a great milling centre, grinding wheat in transit, while passing down the Erie Canal to the sea board. It was from this that it took the name of "The Flour City," erroneously supposed by some to be "The Flower City," because of its being the prettiest city in America. If Rochester became so important from the effects of the "Erie Ditch," what grand possibilities are in store for Peterborough, when the Trent Valley Canal shall have become an accomplished fact, connecting, as it does, the whole system of the Kawartha Lakes, and making the distance between the great North-West and Liverpool nearly 1,000 miles shorter than via Rochester. It seems incredible that our country should be so slow in performing so manifest a duty.

Canadians are a factor in the progress of the city, the most conspicious being an old Peterborough boy, and a friend of my youth, I refer to Mr. T. J. Nicholl. He is Vice-President and General Manager of the Rochester Railway Company, and since he took over the management, about five years ago, it has become a pronounced success. There are now 110 miles of track, leading to all points, including several summer resorts on the lake shore. 4,000 cars touch daily at the pivotal point, on the corner of Main and State streets, and the receipts aggregate about a million dollars a year. Would that a second Nicholl might arise and resurrect our underground railway and extend it to our numerous summer resorts. Mr. Nicholl owns a fine residence in full view of "The Pinnacle." Besides his business ability, he is a man who commands the highest respect among his fellows. Many of your readers will remember his being a recipient of one of the Fenian Raid Medals when they were distributed by the Minister of Militia a short while ago. He came all the way over for it, and is proud of the distinction. Another familiar face I met was "Feece" Foucher, who was born in Peterborough. He now keeps "The Mighty Dollar" Cigar Store and Cafe, on the corner of Main and State streets, claimed to be the most beautiful in the world. It is truly a work of art, and takes its name from the silver dollars inlaid in the floor and walls. The walls, however, principally consist of bevelled glass mirrors, with nickel plate facings. A large quantity of silver enters into its make up, and the wood work is of the finest piano finish. Indeed it is indescribable, except by an expert, and is well worth a visit. "Feece" always treats the Peterborough boys to the best.

I left Rochester yesterday morning at 9.20 for this point, and although the distance is but 19 miles, the most exciting episode of my life took place during this journey. In common with many others, I boarded the train on the Erie Railway on one bank of the river, while on the opposite bank, the Lehigh Valley train started at the same time in the same direction. Little did we know that the respective engineers, with blood in their eye, were bent on a race, as was their wont. We soon became aware of the fact by the suddeness we got under full speed. Then all became excitement—men and women alike. The Empire State Express never dreamt of such speed. The width of the river gave us breathing space, but imagine our astonishment when our road took us across the river, alongside of our competitor, whence they took the same road-bed, but of course each keeping its own track. The excitement that followed was indescribable. Having one car more than our competitor, we were to that extent handicapped, but having got the best of the start we led, although on the home stretch we were only leading by a neck, when the excitement knew no bound. We waved all sorts of defiance at the passengers on the other train, to which they responded. I had invested two cents in a morning paper, in order to have a quiet read on the train, but instead waved it vigorously out of the window, losing one-half of it, but retaining the other half in shreds. One woman waved her hat so vigorously that when she pulled it in $15.00 worth of trimmings were gone to the winds, with nothing left but the skeleton. Another, in her frenzy, had thrown her hat on my seat, in front of her, so that when seating myself afterwards, I came nearly turning the whole thing into brim, without a crown. She said that she did not care, so long as we won the race, which we did by a nose. The most amusing personage was a precocious girl in her teens. In her excitement and absent-mindedness she turned her back on the race and apostrophized the engineer, although unseen to each other, with three cars between them, and the noise of both trains deafening, with such terms as "Don't let them beat us," "Pull open the throttle," "Sit on the safety valve," etc., etc. It reminded one of the steamboat races of the old Mississippi days. The first station we reached after the divergence of these trains was called Rush, so appropriate after such an experience. For the time being we were possessed of a feeling that we had a propriety interest in that train, and no doubt would have undertaken to discharge our engineer had we not won the race. I would advise your readers to take it in. It is away ahead of the Pan-American as a show. It might be well for them to insure their lives before coming. I would not have missed it for anything, but would not want to repeat it.

The Rets of Salt Miners are holding their third annual picnic here to-day at Congress Park, but the day being wet, the Dago looks disgruntled, for they are nearly all Italians. It is an elaborate affair.

I never did understand why so many of our people go to Clifton Springs, when these springs are much stronger and the expense only half. I have tried both places, this being my third season here. I am comfortably located at St. George Hotel, which I can recommend to all of your readers.

Yours, etc.,
PETERBOROUGH.

TO PUSH THE WORK.

Mr. Aylmer, of the firm of Brown & Aylmer, contractors on the Trent Canal, was in town on Tuesday looking for men and teams to work on the Lake Simcoe end of the canal. The firm have just completed a contract between Nassau and Lakefield, and intend to push work on the new contract with vigour. They have built new dredges at Gamebridge this summer, and have them ready for work, and are advertising for men and teams. The firm have had a large tug built at Kingston for use on Lake Simcoe, and she will be unloaded from the cars here early next week. Mr. Aylmer will probably remove his family to Orillia if he can find a suitable residence to rent. —Orillia Times.

ONTARIO AND CENSUS

Representation of the Province Will Not Be Changed..

A RESOLUTION OF PARLIAMENT.

A Further Census Bulletin Giving the Population of Some of the Cities, Towns and Villages—Also the Returns of the Families and Dwellings — Mistake Made in Returns for Calgary.

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—Chief Census Commissioner Blue was last night asked whether the population as given out by the Census Bureau would result in any reduction in the Parliamentary representation of Ontario. Mr. Blue replied: "Something depends on the correct interpretation of sub-section 4 of section 51 of the British North America Act, which says that a number of members for a Province shall not be reduced unless the proportion which the number of the population of the Province bears to the number of the aggregate population of Canada at the then last preceding re-adjustment of the number of members for the Province is ascertained at the then latest census to be diminished by one-twentieth part or upwards. Perhaps the meaning of this language will be more clearly understood by quoting number 21 of the resolutions of the Parliament of Canada, which formed the basis of the Act of Confederation, and which reads: 'No reduction shall be made in the number of members returned by any section unless its population shall have decreased relatively to the population of the whole union to the extent of 5 per centum.' Assuming that the final figures of population will not materially change the proportion of the population of Ontario to the rest of the Dominion, it appears to be certain that no reduction whatever will be made in the present representation of that Province in Parliament. According to the census of 1891 the population of Ontario to that of the whole country was as 1,000 to 2,296, while by the present census the proportion is as 1,000 to 2,458. This makes the proportion of reduction about one-thirty-second, which, being less than one-twentieth, of course brings Ontario within the operation of the saving clause of the act, and not liable to any disturbance of its present representation. Assuming the population of Ontario to stand at the figures now published, the total population of Canada must be increased to 5,600,000 before any reduction can be made in the representation of Ontario.

Some Further Details.

Following is the population of some of the cities, towns and villages of Ontario which was not contained in the first bulletin:

A mistake was made in compiling the returns for Calgary. Some returns from another district were included, which made the population 12,142, whereas the correct figures are 4,894. This gives an increase of 1,018 as compared with 1891, instead of 8,266.

PROGRESS OF STEEL STRIKE.

Strike-Breakers at Monessen—Steel Officials Take a Hopeful View—Mr. Shaffer Ill—Strike May Spread to Other Trades—Blood Precipitated at Wellesville by Non-Unionists.

Montreal, Aug. 19.—At a meeting of the C.P.R. trackmen's committee, held here yesterday, one of the members, George McTaggart of Werner City, B. C., was expelled. It was alleged that McTaggart received and considered a proposition to make a settlement with the C.P.R. Company for part of the men upon his division, without consulting the other members.

The committee issued a statement last night, declaring that they would call the strike off, on condition that all the men who were not convicted of crime during the strike should be reinstated in their previous positions without prejudice; that an agreement should be signed by the proper officials of the C.P.R., specifying the conditions of employment, and that a reasonable and uniform increase in wages should be granted.

The committee also offers to have all the questions in dispute submitted to impartial arbitration, and expresses entire confidence in President Wilson.

Bayview Will Join Strikers.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 19.—The Bayview men will strike. Vote on President Shaffer's order is said to have been unanimous after a session of lodge lasting five hours. The plant of the Illinois Steel Company at Bayview will be shut down indefinitely and about 1,400 men will be thrown out of work.

Strike-Breakers at Monessen.

Pittsburg, Aug. 19.—A party of strike-breakers brought up from the South by special train were safely delivered in the steel mill in Monessen early yesterday morning, and the United States Steel Corporation expects to add that plant to the number running partly or in full with non-union men within the next 24 hours. The Carnegie properties also resumed last night without a break in the forces operating them, and that fact, joined with a promise of an early start at Monessen, leads the steel officials here to take a very hopeful view of the situation. The strikers claim that men enough to start the Monessen mills cannot be obtained, and that they have not yet shown their hand at Duquesne and the other Carnegie plants, but promise that later developments will indicate their strength to better advantage.

The strain of the strike is telling on the physical strength of President Shaffer. He was ill yesterday, and kept to his bed most of the time. He declined to see any of the many callers who sought him and his wife, who met them in his stead, explained that he was worn out and sick and must have rest in order to carry on his work.

There was talk last night of the possibility of an extension of the strike to other trades. The structural iron workers and bricklayers are becoming directly interested through the question of handling material made by the United States Steel Corporation. The strike leaders say they have the absolute promise of support from these two trades and that they will refuse to handle non-union made material.

Yesterday afternoon a party of non-unionists precipitated a riot at Wellsville. They left their lodgings and started for a restaurant, where supper had been engaged for them, and were immediately pursued by a party of strikers and chased back into the house, which was surrounded by a mob that hooted and jeered at them.

THE CENSUS RETURNS.

The official figures of the census of 1901 have been given out, and although they are not complete, as regards certain portions of the Dominion, they are sufficiently accurate to establish the fact that the total population of the Dominion is disappointingly small. The increase in the past decade has not been numerically as great as it was expected to be. Some explanation of this may lie in the fact, if the statement made is correct, that the figures of the census of 1891 were considerably inflated. If the figures of the census were then made larger, for party purposes, than was actually the case, the extent of that inflation, if it could be ascertained, added to the actual increase at the last census, would represent the exact growth of the population, which would, of course, be considerably larger. Not only the disappointing rate of increase, but other circumstances, point to the fact that the figures of the 1891 census were inflated. There was a natural desire on the part of the Conservative Government of the day to make the best possible showing for the "N. P.," which was claimed to be the means of largely increasing the growth of the country, both industrially and otherwise. It was also claimed by the Liberals that the result of the N. P. was to decrease the population by creating conditions that caused an exodus to the United States. To offset this claim, as well as to confirm their own contentions as to the benefits of the "N P.," the Conservative Government may have felt warranted in procuring census returns that would show a larger growth of population in the decade, '81 to '91, than actually existed. We know, because in this case verification was easy, that the census returns respecting the increase of manufacturing establishments and the number employed in them, were extravagantly overdrawn. To make out a case in this regard the most absurd classification of industries was resorted to — blacksmiths, weaver shops and even granddams, knitting socks to furnish snuff money, were counted in the returns of manufacturing establishments, boomed into existence and new life by the wonder-working "N. P." If this, as we know was resorted to to fictitious evidence of the beneficial working of an extreme protective policy, there remains little doubt that for a similar purpose, and to a similar degree, the figures of the population were also greatly exaggerated. If the inflatation of population was in proportion to the padding of the returns respecting manufactories, it must have been very great, and if the excess was as much as half a million this added to the actual increase of half a million over the figures of the census of '91, furnished by the returns of the last census, would make a million as the real increase of population in the ten years from 1891 to 1901. Then apart from the consideration just urged, Ontario has lost considerable population by removal to the North-west, British Columbia, the Yukon, etc., but this could not account fully for the unexpectedly small increase in the total population of the Dominion.

While the increase of the population of Canada, as shown by census returns, has been slow, it is by no means an unmixed evil. As the Examiner has often contended, our population may be small, but it is quality that counts. We have before in this regard used the illustration that a hundred well-drilled, hardy, well-knit and well-trained soldiers, is worth a thousand raw, untrained, undeveloped recruits. We have received population slowly enough to permit of the perfect assimulation of the new elements. Consequently our population is more homogenous than, say, that of the United States, where the foreign element comes in in droves, and so greatly in excess of the native and assimulated population, that they do not mix, and instead form separate foreign communities which menace and in the future will possibly more seriously menace the peace of the communities in which they dwell, and in time, perhaps, lead to national complications and social deruption. We in Canada, with our better quality of population, are threatened with no such dangers. The superior quality of the Canadian population is shown in more ways than one. It is more intelligent, generally better educated, the distribution of wealth is more equable, the moral condition is better, we have a much smaller ratio of crime, our people are more law-abiding and more moral and more temperate, the consumption of drink per head of population being in Canada 5 1-8 gallons, and in the United States nearly 30 gallons per head. But the superior quality of our Canadian population is shown more by their comparative achievements in the fields of action. The total trade of Canada is 381 millions per year. This gives us a total of $70.95 per head. At this rate the trade of the United States, which boasts of its great population of 75 millions, would be three hundred and twenty one millions, while the actual trade of the United States per head is only $29.11, that is, the United States with a population, counting noses, fifteen times greater than that of Canada, has a total trade one-third smaller than this Dominion. If this comparison is extended to other countries it holds good. The total trade of Canada is twice as great per head as that of any European country, great or small. Great Britain is the only European country that exceeds Canada, her value of trade per head being $97.74, as against Canada's $70.95. It is quality that counts, and we Canadians can regard with more complacency the comparatively slow growth of our population when we reflect that it is like that of the sturdy oak, slow but sure, its fibre tough and strong, and with the qualities and capacities for achievement far superior, as shown by facts, to peoples of a more rapid growth in numbers.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The transportation corporations do not, the Brantford Expositor points out, get much chance to escape the persistent vigilance of the Minister of Public Works. Some time ago he wrote to the railway companies for an explanation of the falling off in the exports of breadstuffs by the St. Lawrence route. He was informed that it was due to the refusal of the steamship companies to furnish freight accommodation for flour. Mr. Tarte very promptly wrote to the agents asking an explanation, and now the public will await their replies with some curiosity.

The protest of certain members of the Ontario Lumbermen's Association against the recently enacted laws to provide for the medical inspection and care of lumber camps is, the Ottawa Free Press thinks, ill-timed and illogical. It is idle to assert that small-pox has not been known in lumber camps, or to pretend that they are not very likely to be the means of promoting disease. The public interests required such legislation as was passed last year, and if there is any cause for complaint in connection with the matter it is that the law only made its appearance last year. The lumbermen ought to be thankful for its passage, and co-operate with the government in enforcing it.

The Bad is All Out.

To be sure you can't take the bad out of everything. But you can out of some things at any rate. Take cod liver oil for instance with its disagreeable odor and taste; in Scott's Emulsion all the bad has been taken out, and you have just the oil without anything disagreeable. It is called "Cod Liver Oil made easy."

ANGRY HARVESTERS.

Men From the East Make Fierce Demonstrations for "Work or Bread" at Winnipeg and Brandon.

Winnipeg, Aug. 19.—A demonstration occurred in the City Hall and C.P.R. depot on Saturday, when crowds of hungry men gathered around and demanded "bread or work." They were harvesters lately arrived from the east, many of whom had been out along the main line of the C.P.R. Several returned, having found the labor market filled to overflowing. They had come west expecting big pay and light work, on a binder or such like, and now found themselves in a strange country with neither bread, money or employment. The situation certainly was urgent and unpleasant, which features were fully impressed on the city relief officials and city clerks. The wrath of the mob burned fiercely, and the railway and the local government officials for having, as they said, deceived honest men by glowing reports and big promises. After receiving all the satisfaction they could at the City Hall, an adjournment was made to the C.P.R. depot, where a similar scene took place. In order to pacify the mob, and show them they were misjudging the emigration officials, a message was hastily sent to Mr. Hugh Keller of the Agricultural Department, who gathered up the letters received by him from the government agents in the east, regarding hiring of men and went posthaste to the depot. He then addressed the crowd, and read the letters to show that no false representations had been made. He thought there was work on the branch lines if they could go out and look for it, and finally succeeded in getting the crowd called off. It is claimed by the government that the season will not start until next week, and that after that every man now in the country will be needed.

A Demonstration at Brandon.

Brandon, Man., Aug. 19.—Harvest excursionists who have failed to secure work made a demonstration here Saturday night. The meeting was held in the station, where a number of excursionists made speeches. They claimed that they had been lured to this country by promises of big pay and lots of work, and when they arrived here they found neither. This was the thread of the story told by each. About 25 men were then lined up by a young man named Mitchell, a returned soldier, and marched through the streets to the residence of Mayor Fraser. He was at the City Hall, and there the excursionists met him, and demanded food. He gave them an order for meals. There are several hundred excursionists in town, and apparently very little demand for men. Many of these young fellows have no money, and they have been sleeping under trees and in the station houses. As far as can be learned, there is a scarcity of men at points, such as Rapid City and Souris and smaller places, but too many seem to have gotten off here. The men state freely that they intend taking possession of the passenger coaches and compelling the C.P.R. to take them back home.

Demonstration on Sunday.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 19.—Unemployed harvesters from Ontario and the east made things lively around the C. P. R. depot Sunday evening. It is estimated that several hundred were present, and the grist of their grievance was that they had no money and no work. Several men made speeches to this effect.

In the midst of the oration another train load of eight hundred men arrived from the east and were informed of the proceedings. The new comers felt rather dejected. The civic and provincial authorities provided suitable sleeping accommodation for the penniless last night.

What the Field Will Be.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 19.—It is learned from official sources that the Manitoba Government crop report for August, which will be put out in a day or two, will give the following estimate of yields for the principal grain crops:

Grain.	Acres.	Yield per acre.	Tot'l yield bushels.
Wheat ...	2,011,855	24.28	48,857,255
Oats	889,050	43.78	40,206,775
Barley	191,000	33.08	6,433,919

Total grain crop, 85,497,949 bushels.

This estimate has been made by crop reports of the department during the past ten days.

Woman Frightfully Burned.

Hamilton, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Hannah Badger, 11 William street, was frightfully burned Saturday afternoon. Her clothes caught fire from the cook stove and in an instant she was enveloped in flames. Before they were extinguished her hands and the upper part of her body were terribly burned. She is in a critical condition.

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty. Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurance in force to the extent of $16,759,355,-92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634.68. The increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,278.76.

BOTHA'S CONCENTRATION.

Has Been Construed to Mean That He May Surrender to Lord Kitchener—I. N. Ford Doubts.

London, Aug. 19.—The Sun on Saturday says it hears that the concentration of Gen. Botha's forces at Hondweni, on the borders of Zululand, announced in a despatch from Durban Friday night, which said Lord Kitchener was moving with a strong force on the place, does not foreshadow a fight with Botha, but his surrender, in pursuance of an understanding reached between Gen. Botha and Lord Kitchener.

The Sun adds that the government is so satisfied that the war is virtually over that Lord Milner, now on his way back to South Africa, has in his pocket the draft of a complete constitution and plans for the future government of the annexed territories.

London, Aug. 19.—(Tribune Cable)—The effect of Lord Kitchener's—or rather Mr. Chamberlain's — proclamation is not distinctly noticeable in South Africa. There are rumors of a renewal of negotiations between Gen. Botha and Lord Kitchener, but these are probably fictions like the vagaries respecting Mr. Kruger's letters of marque to privateers. The number of voluntary surrenders has not increased, but possibly it is premature to look for a result of this kind when the proclamation allows several weeks in which the Boers can reconcile themselves to the idea of submission.

New Vital Force for Cells and Tissues.

Chronic Disease Overthrown and the Whole System Revitalized and Reconstructed by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Disease is a tearing down, wasting away, and destroying of the tissues of the body, and a shrivelling up of the nerve cells and blood corpuscles. This wasting process may attack the lungs, the heart, the liver, the kidneys, the bowels, or, as is most frequently the case, result in collapse of the nervous system, prostration, paralysis, or insanity.

You may rest assured that disease will search out your weak spot and gradually gain the upper hand. Nature alone cannot end this wasting process. External assistance is absolutely necessary, as you know too well, if you have been observant of what is going on around you. As a result of centuries of investigation and research, science now offers certain restoratives and revitalizers which have a wonderfully beneficial effect on a weakened and run-down system. These are combined in the most successful proportions in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which is by far the most thoroughly effective tissue builder and nerve restorative that is known to the medical profession today.

Mr. Joseph Giroux, 22 Metcalf street, Ottawa, Ont., writes:—

"I was nervous, had headache and brain fag. I was restless at night and could not sleep. My appetite was poor, and I suffered from nervous dyspepsia. Little business cares worried and irritated me. After having used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for about two months, I can frankly say that I feel like a new man. My appetite is good, I rest and sleep well, and this treatment has strengthened me wonderfully. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is certainly the best medicine I ever used, and I say so because I want to give full credit where it is due."

At least nine-tenths of the ailments from which people are suffering and dying to-day are the result of thin, watery blood, exhausted nerve force, and general debility of the body. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food stops this wasting process, puts new life and energy into the wasted nerve cells, fills the shrivelled arteries with rich life-sustaining blood, and overcomes disease. It will be interesting to note the gradual increase in weight while using the famous food cure.

Big French Wheat Shortage.

Paris, Aug. 19.—Experts say the French wheat crop this year will not exceed 304,000,000 bushels. E. M. Grunebaum, secretary of the Parisian-American Chamber of Commerce, declared some time ago that France would be compelled to import 60,000,000 bushels of wheat this year. The latest information about the crops would indicate that 40,000,000 bushels will have to be added to this estimate.

SIXTEEN STAGES ...OF THE... SLATER SHOE.

No better object lesson can be found to teach how thoroughly a thing may be done when the object is to have it well done, than the exhibit in our south window, of the progressive

16 Stages of the Slater Shoe.

Here one sees the successive several operations from the skin of leather to the finished shoe. It shows the building up of the shoe, its gradual and symmetrical progress, the thorough work, the minute attention to detail, the determination of the manufacturers to produce the best of shoes —the Slater Shoe. There is no skimping of detail, no lack of fitting and finishing, of accurate, systematic work that results in the perfect shoe.

We sell the Slater Shoe. Any up-to-date dealer does. But in addition—for Slater Shoes are only a part of our selling—we have hundreds of excellent and reliable shoes. The variety is not so wide, that sizes so numerous, the differences in shape so important, for there is as much difference in feet as in faces, and we have to carry an ample stock to meet the requirements of all. Nothing that a good shoe store should have is lacking. But where the average dealer stocks fifty pair we stock five hundred. Just a few lines to suggest to men a nice shoe that will be comfortable, shapely, dressy and reliable:

Men's Dong. Oxford Shoes, machine sewed,	1.50	Men's Camping and Boating Lace Balmorals	.85
Men's Dong. Chocolate Kid Bals., an up-to-date shoe in every respect	2.50	Men's Lacrosse Shoes	.55
Men's Dong. Kid Congress, Goodyear Welt,	3.00	Boys' Lacrosse Shoes	.50
		Youths' Lacrosse Shoes	.40
		Children's Lacrosse Shoes	.55

Just a mention of Ladies' Shoes. The stock is ample, the variety more than great, and the prices most reasonable.

ROBERT NEILL

Were Buried Side by Side.

Prescott, Ont., Aug. 19.—The saddest sight that has been witnessed in Prescott for many a day was the funeral of the three victims of last Monday's drowning accident in the Galops Rapids, Messrs. James H. Whitney, Charles White and Ezra Lane, which took place yesterday afternoon. Owing to the terribly decomposed condition of the bodies, it was thought advisable not to take the remains to their saddened homes. The funeral procession was the largest ever seen in these parts, being over two miles in length.

Foundered Off Tory Island.

London, Aug. 19.—The Nova Scotia built barque Rounanoff of Belfast, in command of Captain McLeod, which left Belfast on July 26 for Campbellton, N. B., has foundered off the Tory Island. Five of the vessel's crew have landed safely at Inny Bay, but the fate of the remainder of the crew is unknown.

APPEAL ALLOWED

In the Indian Liquor Selling Case—New Information.

The appeal case in the Police Court action of Crown vs. Mein, which was tried some weeks ago was disposed of before His Honour Judge Weller this morning. This was a case in which Wm. Mein, a bartender at the City Hotel, was found guilty by Police Magistrate Dumble of selling liquor to an Indian and was fined $100.

The appeal as before stated came up before His Honour Judge Weller this morning. The appeal was allowed, and conviction quashed on the ground that the information did not disclose an offence against the Indian Act, in not alleging that the liquor was not for use under direction of a physician, and that the information not having been amended at the trial, when objected to, could not be now amended.

Mr. G. W. Hatton represented Mr. Mein.

It is understood that a new information has been sworn out and the case will come up before Magistrate Dumble a week from Friday.

WAS FINED $5.

Frank Arkles was Charged With Cruelty to Animals.

Frank Arkles owns a horse, a rather thin looking beast, so it is said. On Thursday Frank took a day off. It was Civic Holiday and he went down to enjoy the beauties of the Otonabee River and Rice Lake. His horse was left standing in front of the Oxford Hotel without anything to eat or drink all day, which satisfied the local authorities that there was sufficient grounds for having the owner of the beast up for cruelty to animals. At the police court this morning Arkles was fined $5, and it is not likely that he will repeat the offence.

ANOTHER SIX MONTHS.

Wm. Kitely an Inmate of the County Jail for Almost 15 Years.

Wm. Kitely came down from the County Jail this morning for his regular half yearly sentence at the Police Court. William has been an inmate of "Castle Nesbitt" for about 15 years and he says that he is well pleased with his quarters. Though 15 years a resident on the hill, the time has passed so pleasantly that Kitely imagines that he is getting no older. When first sent up he he gave his age as 35 years and this morning he tried to make the court believe that he was no older. Had Kitely been a lady inmate of the jail the Chief might have placed some credence in his story. However, William was given another six months for which he was thankful.

Mr. W. H. Hill and Other Representatives of the Sun Life.

Mr. W. H. Hill, District Manager for Central Ontario of the Sun Life Insurance Company, and Mr. R. J. Daly, Lindsay, District Inspector of the Company left this morning for Kingston, where they will be joined by the remainder of the Sun Life party, on their annual outing. The party will be made up of about 75 representatives of the Sun Life, including the president, the secretary and some of the directors. They will visit the Rideau Lakes and the waters of the Ottawa Valley during the next week. The party has representatives from Michigan, Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North Carolina and the Dominion of Canada. This is an outing that is much appreciated by the Sun Life representatives.

SOLDIERS IN TOWN.

The Cobourg Garrison Artillery Passed Through on Saturday.

The Cobourg Garrison Artillery was in town for a few hours on Saturday night. They were on their annual trip to Quebec, where they will take part in the artillery shooting competition. The Cobourg soldiers visit Peterborough about the same time each year, and are becoming quite well acquainted in town. This year they are about 35 strong, and are under the command of Captain Battell, a young looking officer, indeed, but one who is exceedingly popular with his men.

The Cobourg Garrison Artillery was until recently under the command of Major Neil F. MacNaughtan, who is now commanding officer of the 14th Durham Field Battery.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

CRICKET.

Mr. Alex. Culverwell is in correspondence with the Campbellford Cricket Club for a game here on Friday next. Mr. Culverwell says that he thinks it a sure thing.

SPRINTING.

On Civic Holiday an exciting foot race took place on Nicholls Oval before a good-sized crowd, between Messrs. Chas. Martin and Fred McGrath, both of town. The distance was 100 yards, best two heats in three. McGrath proved the speediest man, winning two heats quite handily. The event aroused considerable interest.

Mr. Wm. Hefferman called at the Examiner office to-day to say that he will accept Taylor's challenge to run either a 100 yard or a 200 yard dash, the event to be pulled off in about three weeks time.

BASEBALL.

The Oshawa team will play here on Saturday next against the local nine.

The game of base ball which was to have taken place on the P.A.A.A. grounds on Saturday afternoon between the Peterborough and Auburn teams did not materialize as the northenders did not put in an appearance.

THE REGATTA ENDED.

The Finish of the Events not run off on Thursday at Stony Lake.

The campers again assembled in force at Juniper Island on Saturday to witness the finish of the events on the regatta programme. The weather was delightful and the four numbers which were not run off on Thursday proved to be the most exciting part of the programme.

The tandem canoe race brought out four entries, and there was a magnificent contest for first place between Norman Bell and Miss Gwen Hall as against Gerald Roxburgh and Miss Beatty Roxburgh. The former pair won out.

There were only two entries for the upset race, Claude Rogers winning handily from Norman Bell.

In the mens' single canoe race, Norman Bell won from Gerald Roxburgh in fast time. There were two other entries.

The pleasure launch race was the "Mollie's" all the way. She had no difficulty in winning from Mr. Fiske's "Libelulu" and Mr. Carter's yacht.

By long odds the best race on the entire programme was that of the "men's fours—canoe." There were three entries and the fight for first place between two of the crews was a sight such as was never before witnessed on the lake. Only a quarter of a length separated the bows of the first two canoes at the finish. The winning crew was composed of Messrs. Frank Bradburn, Claude Rogers, Gerald Roxburgh and Norman Bell. Second place went to Messrs. Arthur Piper, Hal. Burnham, Frank Roxburgh and Dr. Vic McWilliams. A crew of younger paddlers stroked by Mr. Colville was third.

The concert and hop in the evening at the pavilion was largely patronized.

A general meeting of the Stony Lake Cottagers Association will be held in the pavilion on Thursday evening.

BROKE HIS ARM.

Archie Bates Fell From a Hay-loft on Saturday.

Archie Bates, the little seven-year-old son of Mr. Walter Bates, Stewart street north, met with a painful accident on Saturday evening while attempting to climb up into the hay-loft of his father's barn. He in some manner lost his hold and fell to the ground, breaking his arm.

A physician was summoned and the broken arm set, and the little patient is now doing as well as could be expected.

WE ARE GROWING.

Peterborough's Population Increased by 1607 Within the Last Ten Years.

It is very pleasing to note that the census returns show that Peterborough has increased in population during the last ten years from 9,717 to 11,224, or by over 1,500. Ashburnham has remained about stationery, showing a decrease of 27, the number of residents dropping back from 1,674 to 1,647.

In the event of the amalgamation of the two municipalities, Peterborough's population would amount to 12,871, which would enable the town to take precedence, in point of population, over such places as Belleville, 9,117; Stratford, 9,959; Berlin, 9,747; Chatham, 9,075; Woodstock, 8,833; Guelph, 11,496; St. Thomas, 11,485, and Windsor, 12,154.

Peterborough has already surpassed all of these cities except the three last mentioned.

THE I. O. O. F. PROSPEROUS.

Annual Meeting of Grand Lodge at Guelph.

The Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Oddfellows commenced its annual session at Guelph last Wednesday, Grand Master O. L. Lewis presiding.

The report of the Grand Master demonstrated that the Order has just passed through a most successful and prosperous year. On the 30th June last, according to the official returns the total membership for Ontario was 25,318, with some 18 lodges yet to be heard from, representing a gain of 1,195 during his term of office. The assets of the Order in Ontario, the Grand Master further stated, over and above liabilities, amounted to about $1,100,000 during the same period and there had been disbursed in financial relief the sum of $87,995.74. The returns showed that while in 1898 there had been suspended for non-payment of dues, 1,082, in 1900 there had been only 832 suspensions. Four new lodges were instituted by the Grand Master during his official year.

Great efforts on the part of the membership to augment the fund for the establishment of a home for aged Oddfellows was urged. The fund, the report stated, now amounts to $4,502.80 in cash, with further subscriptions. Twenty thousand dollars is required to place the proposed home on a safe and permanent basis.

The age limit, which is fixed by the laws of the Order at 21 years, is the subject of repeated complaint by the lodges. He recommended that the hands of the Grand Representatives to the Sovereign Grand Lodge be strengthened by a strong petition or other suitable proceeding from the Grand Lodge, in order that the limit be reduced to 18 years.

Grand Secretary, J. B. King presented his report. The membership on June 30th, 1901, totalled 25,331 and number of lodges 286. There has been a net increase for the six months just ended of 855; for the year 1900 the net increase was 886. Those receiving sick benefits for 1900 numbered 3,112, and for the past six months 1,851. During the latter period $35,041.78 was paid out for sick benefits, $3,647.96 for funeral benefits, $7,071.30 for special relief and to the widows and orphans, total relief being $46,361.04 for the six months. During the year 1900 $87,921.86 was spent in relief.

The total expenditure of the Order for sick benefits, relief of widows and orphans, funeral benefits, death indemnity, and special relief for the past 44 years up to and including December 31, 1900, amounts to the sum of $2,492,372.59. A large factor in this splendid showing is the amount paid out by the Oddfellows' Relief Association and other kindred associations.

The Grand Treasurer, W. J. McCormac, of Toronto, reported that the receipts of the Grand Lodge for 1900 were $19,973.93, and the expenditure was $19,739.10.

THE SEPTEMBER SMART SET.

The September number of The Smart Set fully sustains the reputation of that fascinating magazine for vivacity and cleverness. The number opens with an amusing novelette by Caroline Duer, entitled "A New Bonnet for Mary." The adventures of the ingenuous and unconventional heroine, a society heiress, who assumes to be a dressmaker's assistant for sweet charity's sake, and dramatically assists in the recovery of a large quantity of stolen gems, are diverting to a degree.

Mrs. M. E. W. Sherwood writes entertainingly on the subject of divorce under the title of "Untying a Knot." Mrs. Flora Bigelow Dodge, a sister of Poultney Bigelow, is the author of a brilliant and humorous society satire entitled "Mrs. Mack's Example," while Edgar Saltus writes another of his pyrotechnic essays entitled "The Pomps of Satan." One of the strongest stories in the number is "The Price of Honour," by Lloyd Osbourne, and Prince Vladimir Vuniatsky contributes a strange tale called "The Queen of the Far Country." Other features of this attractive issue are:—"Underbrush," a mystery of the woods, by Julien Gordon (Mrs. Van Rensselaer Cruger); "His Prophylactic Flirtation," the wooing of a delightful duchess, by Guy Somerville; "The Transmogrification of Dan," a San Francisco story, by H. J. W. Dam; "Brocton Mott, Realist," a $100 prize story, by Kate Jordan; "The Companion to Virtue," by Gertrude F. Lynch; and "The Picture Over the Mantle," an idyllic love story of Paris, by Justus Miles Forman. The leading poems are "The Wish that Came True," by Guy Wetmore Carryl; "Twilight in the City," by Clinton Scollard; "Marionettes," by Theodosia Garrison; "Compensation," by Paul Laurence Dunbar; "The Supreme Hour," by Madison Cawein, and "Fulfilment," by Duffield Osborne.

SOUND ADVERTISING ADVICE.

The many publications which are devoted exclusively to the art of advertising seem to have pressed advice on business men in regard to every feature of publicity. An experienced merchant, however, has needed only a little space to present the most important advice on the subject. "In every community," he says, "there are mediums of well known worth. Use them to the limit of your appropriation, and do not waste a dollar by outside appropriations."

DON'T GIVE IN.

If you have tried various so-called remedies and obtained no relief, don't say that there is no cure for rheumatism. The trouble is, you have not taken the right medicine. What Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure has accomplished for thousands of sufferers it can do for you. Mr. S. O. Taylor, Charlcottte, Ont., suffered with rheumatism in the back (lumbago) for four years; five bottles of Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure completely cured him. He has been free from pain ever since. As a blood purifier it has no equal. This preparation is put up in bottles containing ten days treatment. Price 50 cents at all druggists or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

TURKEY AND CORDWOOD.

From the Hamilton Times.

A few days ago the Times made reference to the value to a newspaper of apparently unimportant personal items, which many critics of newspaper management affect to despise, illustrating its point by a story which Mr. Mathison used to tell about the Cathcart House sign. The story with moral attached has been prettily extensively copied by exchanges, which have so strong a claim to the rest of it that we are tempted to print the following letter, which was not written for publication:

Belleville, Aug. 12, 1901.

Friend Gardiner,—The Times, a few days ago, published a story I told at the Watt banquet in Brantford, in reference to the proprietor of the Cathcart House, and an item sent in by a correspondent to the Expositor, Brantford, about thirty years ago: "The Cathcart House has a new sign." (Cathcart was not the place, but that does not matter,) and the fact that the proprietor subscribed for the paper, paying in advance, and induced others to do so, in consequence of the line referred to. But then you did not tell all. The boniface owned a farm near his hotel, and had a sale of farm stock and implements in the fall. He ordered 100 half-sheet posters and a notice in the paper; during the winter he had a ball and supper at his house, and tickets and programmes were printed. Afterwards a stray cow entered his field and he advertised it. As a direct tangible net result of the line, which I thought at first was of no interest to anyone particularly, except the proprietor of the hotel, I received $1.50 for his own subscription, six other subscriptions, $9, posters of sale and notice in paper, $4.50, tickets and programmes for ball, $4.75, and advertising cow, $1—in all $20.75, besides his goodwill which I could not reckon in dollars and cents. This is the way country editors get rich. He happened to be politically opposed to us, but reading the Expositor induced him to adopt the views which we promulgated. The Expositor is a better and more metropolitan paper now than it was then, perhaps, but the same idea has been maintained as to the publication of country items, and I venture to say that no part of the paper is read with more interest and profit than the items of country correspondents from the various localities in and around Brantford. I might add, in addition to paying in cash as above, my friend fattened a good turkey each year, which he christened "Expositor," and every Christmas the editorial table was graced with one of the largest and best turkeys raised in Brant county, famous as it is for its poultry. We lived on the fat of the land then. I am only an official of the Ontario Government now, and since I left the Expositor I have never been able to afford such a magnificent turkey for Christmas time. I do not want you to think that all of our subscribers were equally liberal, nor did they all pay in cash at that time; some reduced their indebtedness by bringing in cordwood, a load made up of crooked limbs they could not sell anywhere else, and big knots that the office devil himself was not able to split. If I demonstrated some of them had the effrontery to say that the wood was as good as the paper. We are all children, and like to see our names in print. Yours faithfully,

R. Mathison.

TRICK ELEPHANTS AT CENTRAL FAIR.

The Central Canada Fair at Ottawa September 13 to 21, will be a circus and an exhibition combined. Besides delightful displays of all kinds, a showing of hundreds of fine horses, keen races, a grand military spectacle and pyrotechnics, of an exhibition proper, there will be acrobatic work, comic sketches, trapeze performing and other circus features. There will even be performing elephants. It is not often that elephants are seen outside of a circus tent, but they will be seen at the Central Canada Fair in September. Four specimens of the king of the forest, all of which have been marvellously trained to do clever acts, have been secured to amuse the people. Three of these elephants, the "Three Graces," as they are called, dance, ride tricycles, balance themselves on see-saws and barrels, play mouth and hand organs, and perform feats equally difficult for such heavy animals. Indeed, they are said to be the most sagacious ever brought to America. They recently delighted immense audiences in London, England.

Now if there is one animal that people of all classes and ages like to see, it is an elephant, and the directors of the Ottawa exhibition showed great wisdom in securing such an attraction. We understand the price came very high, but we are sure the Fair people will be recompensed by an increased attendance at the Fair. It is an attraction that even octogenarians of both sexes will look forward with pleasure to witnessing.

ACROSS ATLANTIC IN 41-2 DAYS

English Port Will Be Liverpool or Southampton Until New Works at Dover are Completed—Government of Nova Scotia Makes a Big Bid for a Modern Shipyard.

London, Aug. 17.—S. G. Fraser, the Dublin engineer, who has prepared the plans for the new harbor at Berehaven, Bantry Bay, Ireland, in connection with the proposed steamship line, which is to have steamers capable of crossing the Atlantic in four and a half days, informed a reporter of the Associated Press yesterday that the line will consist initially of six large steamers, four for the New York and two for the Canadian trade.

It is the intention to burn Texas oil. The Canadian port will be Sydney or Halifax. By building 65 miles of railroad and connecting Berehaven with all the Welsh lines, the new company will be able to take passengers and mails from Berehaven to London in 12 hours, thus landing passengers in New York and London in five days. The English port will be London or Southampton until the new works at Dover are completed.

Austin Chamberlain, Gerald Balfour and George Wyndham, respectively, the Financial Secretary to the Treasury, the President of the Board of Trade, and Chief Secretary for Ireland, besides Lord James of Hereford (Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster), actively supported the bill and advised silence on this side of the Atlantic until the bill was passed. Mr. Fraser says much American capital is interested in the scheme.

TO PROMOTE SHIP BUILDING.

Nova Scotia's Premier Makes an Important Announcement.

Halifax, N.S., Aug. 17.—The policy of the government of Nova Scotia, with reference to the promotion of the steel shipbuilding industry in this province, was announced yesterday by Premier Murray. He says: "I am prepared to state on behalf of the government that we will be willing to make an appropriation of $100,000, payable to the first company establishing a shipyard in the province, equipped with the most approved mechanical appliances, upon specifications to be approved by the Governor-in-Council, capable of building at least five steamers a year, of the capacity of 5,000 tons each; and, in addition to such an equipped shipyard, having sufficient working capital for efficiently carrying on the business. The terms upon which the government bonus shall become payable to be settled by an agreement, with any company, furnishing evidence of its bona fide and financial ability to successfully carry out what is contemplated."

Dodd's Almanac the Means of Helping Mr. Thomas Barter Down There—Read That Dodd's Kidney Pills Would Cure Heart Trouble—Tried Them and Proved it True.

Cape La Hune, Nfld., Aug. 18.—The most popular remedy down here this last few years is undoubtedly Dodd's Kidney Pills. It is the only one of the best advertised which universally shows that it may be relied upon.

Medicines for Heart Trouble have been advertised before in Newfoundland but nobody placed any reliance in them. The trouble was they did not act at the root of the matter—the kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills are entirely different to any other treatment for Heart Trouble; they act on the Kidneys first, and for that very reason are so successful.

Mr. Thomas Barter, of Cape La Hune, had trouble with his heart for years, and could find nothing to help him. But his own words will better tell the story.

"For over six years," writes Mr. Barter, "I suffered intensely with palpitation of the heart and had to give up work. I could not do anything at all until I saw in Dodd's Almanac that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure me. I then sent for six boxes. I used five of them and am completely cured. I can do my work again now as well as ever I could. I am not much of a writer but if you think this letter would help any other person by being printed in any of your publications you are at liberty to print it, for I am thoroughly grateful for Dodd's Kidney Pills."

His Marksmanship.

"Did—did you ever shoot a man?" questioned the tenderfoot timidly of Pepperbole Pete.

"See here, young feller," bawled Pepperbole Pete in a voice that shook Pike's peak, "don't you never redject on my marksmanship ag'in. Shoot a man! I never missed one, you dern galoot!"

THEY ADORED JIMMY

A HERO THAT ALL THE OTHER BOYS LOOKED UPON WITH AWE.

Though He Was Only a Fair Fighter and a Duffer at Baseball, His One Piece of Luck Made Him Envied by All His Companions.

"We must have Jimmy," said the small boy who was to give the party.

"Who's Jimmy?" asked his mother.

"Why, he's a fellow at school! His father's janitor over on Forty-seventh street."

The mother gasped under the cold douche of democracy, but put Jimmy's name at the head of the list and wrote the names of the swell little boys her boy knew afterward.

When the party came off, she met Jimmy. He had a shrewd, bright little face, with a snub nose and jolly eyes, and he seemed well behaved, but judging by the standards of an Olympian she could not see anything to account for the deferential admiration which all the boys displayed toward Jimmy.

Where he was there was the crowd. He was not arrogant, but he evidently accepted the homage as his due, and he had the air of easy superiority that a boss politician shows to his faithful henchman. He patronized the youthful heir of the millionaire steel man and condescended to the cerulean blooded scion of the ancient Knickerbockers. They didn't resent it. They were humbly grateful and elated at being noticed at all.

The hostess tried to solve the problem by sounding a little boy whom she captured and held, a restless but polite captive.

"Is Jimmy a great fighter?" she asked cannily.

She gasped. Evidently her theory was wrong.

"Does he play football or baseball?"

"Don't play football, and he's a duffer at baseball."

"Is he very clever in school?"

"Not much. He's no greasy grind, Jimmy ain't."

The butler appeared at the door and looked appealingly at her. She abandoned her Sherlock Holmes tactics and went to decide whether the mountain of cake was high enough and the sea of ice cream broad enough for a crowd of boys.

Later she found the clew for which she had been looking. The boys were tired and very, very full of good things. Active exertion was not to be thought of until digestion had a fair start. The young host appealed to his mother.

"Tell us an Indian story about when you lived on a ranch, mamma." Then he added, with a hopeful tone in his voice, "Maybe if you do Jimmy'll tell us some fire stories."

"What does Jimmy know about fires?"

All the boy faces looked incredulous, scornful. Surely she couldn't be so ignorant as she seemed.

"Know about fires!" echoed the chorus. "Why, he's mascot at the engine house!"

Jimmy looked nonchalantly at the chandelier. He was used to fame. Still he was not beyond feeling proud when his glory was sprung upon a new admirer.

"I don't think I understand," faltered the hostess, much impressed. "What do you do, Jimmy?"

"Oh, I just go to all the fires," said Jimmy in an offhand way.

The crowd of boys drew deep breaths. They never could get used to Jimmy's luck.

"You see," he explained, "I'm at the engine house most all the time, and I know all the men awful well. I've been staying over there ever since I was a little shaver. I always liked fires."

The boys' faces said that they all liked fires, but few were, like Jimmy, favored of the gods.

"The men kind of took a shine to me, I guess. They used to scold about having a kid around underfoot at first, but I got so as I didn't get under their feet, and Billy—that's the bulldog—liked me, and I was awful good friends with the horses. Bimeby the men got to jollying me and asking me to do things for them, and I did any old thing.

"And then they used to tell stories, and I liked the stories so much that that sort of tickled them, and I knew a lot about the engines and didn't forget anything they told me and went to all the fires within running distance. Then I got my bicycle and kept it around at the engine house. The minute a call came in I'd jump on my wheel and go lickety split to the place. Sometimes they let me go on the cart now, and when they're just out for exercise I ride with the driver.

"Gee, it's great! I'd rather be him than 'most anybody. You'd ought to see him go through a crowd. He got upset once. I was racing right along beside him on my wheel, and I thought everything was coming on top of me, but it didn't.

"I've seen lots of people killed jumping out of windows and such fool things. You'd ought to see Dan—Dan's my best friend. He's the fireman that owns the bulldog. You'd ought to see him going up the side of a building with a scaling ladder and carrying women and kids down. He don't care what he does with fire. He says to me:

"'Kid, some day I'll be a fricasseed Irishman, but I'm going to have a hot time while I can.'"

The boys were all listening breathlessly. They had heard it all before, but to be on familiar conversational terms with a fireman, to have a niche in an engine house, to ride on a hose cart—could life hold bliss greater than that?

Dick, the fighter, bent his proud head. Tom Miller, the football captain, took a back seat. They recognized their superior. By the unwritten laws of the kingdom of boyhood Jimmy was king of the gang.

The Cause of Hay Fever.

It's a microbe that floats in the air, gets into the throat and the lungs, developes rapidly, excites inflammation, etc. The cause is as simple as a thistle in the finger. Extract the thistle, away goes the pain. Destroy the Hay Fever germ—you get well. That's why Catarrhozone acts so marvellously in Hay Fever. Its fragrant vapor to you brings cure, but to the microbe death. Catarrhozone is as quick to act on these microscopic organisms as lightning. Prevents as well as cures, and is always successful. How Colorado Desert Was Formed.

Everybody knows, without looking at the map, how Lower California runs south from the Pacific coast like a sort of tail, separated from the United States—for it is a part of Mexico, as some people are not aware—by a long arm of the sea called the gulf of California. Once upon a time the gulf extended in a northward direction 300 miles beyond its present inland limit. Into this northerly extension the great Colorado river emptied millions of tons of detritus annually until the deposit accumulated in quantity sufficient to shut off the upper part of the gulf, which was thus transformed into a lake. To begin with, of course it was a salt lake, bnt it gradually became fresh through the influx of water from the Colorado. Thereupon fresh water fishes, mollnsks and other creatures not of the brine were developed in it, and in this way it happens that the dry bottom today is covered with their fossil remains.

When Lives Were Cheap.

In the prison of Luxembourg one of Fouquier Tinville's agents could only make up 17 convicts out of the list of 18 which had been given him. "I want one more," he said. He asked the first suspect who passed by his name and on hearing it said, "Yes, it is you." He had him carried off, and the next day he was guillotined.

On another occasion a warder called out the name of an aged prisoner. A lad who was playing ball in the gallery mistook the name for his own and asked if he was wanted. "Yes," was the answer, "come along," and the next day the boy was guillotined instead of the man.

At Bordeaux a boy of 16 named Mellet was guillotined instead of an old man of 80 named Bellay. On objecting, he was told that he was 80 years old in wickedness.

Not only is the victim of Rheumatism a constant sufferer, but he lives in continual dread that the disease will reach the heart, which means sudden and unexpected death. Irving and the Imprecation.

Irving was always severely accurate. Shortly before he put on the "Merchant of Venice" he inquired of a brother actor if he could supply some stage "business" for the part of Shylock. The actor being, like Shylock, a Jew, thought he might, and asked Irving how he meant to do the "imprecation scene," which occurs upon Shylock discovering that Jessica has fled with Lorenzo and the jewelry of her late mother, Mrs. Shylock.

Irving knelt, held his hands prayer-like and rehearsed the terrible imprecation, "I would my daughter were dead at my feet and the jewels in her ears."

Upon the actor's saying he was wrong, Irving rejoined that he had followed the stage direction in the book, and that all the best Shylocks so did it, as the Keans, Brooke, Fechter and Phelps.

"Yes," said the actor, "but they were all Christians. A Jew in imprecating never kneels, but stands upright, passing his open hand over his face."

Irving adopted the hint.

Soon afterward a well known London solicitor, also a Jew, who had seen the new version, told the actor in question that he had not before been aware that Irving was "one of us," and he refused to believe the contrary.

CHARACTER SKETCH

MR. J. J. HILL, A CONQUERING SAXON, BORN TO RULE.

A Canadian Who Has Raised Considerable Talk About Himself and His Railway Projects in the Immediate Past—His Physical Appearance and His Mental Make-up—How He Got His Start.

The face of James J. Hill, railway magnate, is one of singular interest. The eyes are dark and piercing, now twinkling with keen appreciation of your joke, if it be neither seasoned too high nor yet too abjectly tame, curiously interesting eyes, reflecting many an electric change in the keen mind. The forehead is high, broad, commanding. Back of it falls away, well down to the shoulders, a shock of silver-streaked hair, while the lower part of the face is covered with a bushy, straggling beard, here and there whitening. The nose is prominent, the mouth a curious combination of the severe and the gentle; delicate, indeed, from one point of view, from another, strong and virile. You may look for all sorts of words from such a mouth, but the trivial and vapid—words of keenest enjoyment of the beautiful, words that bite like scorpions, words that ring with the tense but never strident resonance of authority. The figure is rather under the normal, well-knit and strong of frame. Seen in some lights you would think the man foreign-born, from the Latin half of Europe, so swarthy the tones of his face, but again, and when he speaks or moves, particularly, he is no more the man of the South, but a conquering Saxon, born to rule.

It is an inadequate picture of one of the commanding figures of modern commercial life, James J. Hill, President of the Great Northern Railroad, just now one of the leading members of a company of men, small in numbers but mighty in financial power, a company that makes the world pause and wonder what will be next, what move they will make upon the fascinating, ever-changing chessboard of finance, where skill is everything, luck nothing.

While perhaps finance, or in a more restricted sense, the feature of modern commercial life which we call railroading, might be called the chief passion of his life, that to which he gives himself with an untiring devotion, yet it would be unfair to set him down as a man of one idea, and that the size of a piece of gold. In his beautiful home in the city of St. Paul, on the show street of that city, Summit avenue, Mr. Hill has built for himself and his large family a noble residence, one of the finest private residences in the central West. In this residence he built a splendid art gallery and stocked it with the best that money could buy. Years ago he began buying pictures: as soon, in fact, as he was able to make investments of that kind he bought and bought, and he keeps buying. It is supposed that he has a gallery in money value worth at least $1,000,000, but it represents a sum far and away beyond this, that not-to-be-estimated sum which represents the ever-enhancing value of great works of art. If you chance to meet Mr. Hill personally and you know of a new artist who is sure to "arrive"—and he does not know of the same man—be sure you have hit upon a fruitful topic, for he is ever on the lookout for the new man in art just as he is on the lookout for the new man in railroading. He is quick and keen to find and follow up merit.

He has devoted himself to art just as he has devoted himself to everything else, whole-heartedly. He must know all about a picture, he must know its genesis, its author's character, its story. You will find him, if you chance to be his guest, as delightful a conversationalist on the subject of pictures as he is direct and laconic should you meet him in the line of business.

It does not seem too great a stretch of statement to call Mr. Hill a born promoter of transportation. It was but a short time after he arrived in St. Paul before he became interested in that subject. It was not railroad transportation that first enlisted his attention, nor steamship transportation; it was, if current local history is to be relied upon, a city dray. When he went to St. Paul he was a young man, not yet out of his teens. He was ready to do whatever came to his hand. If he did indeed drive a dray, be sure he drove it to the very best possible advantage, taking into account the prevailing conditions, and availing himself of every opportunity to give his patrons a prompt service at a minimum of expense and a maximum of profit.

He was born in Guelph, Ont., in 1838, and it was in 1856 when he reached St. Paul—young, sturdy, ambitious, moneyless, hopeful, shrewd, industrious. What more was needed? He was not ashamed to turn his hand to manual labor, when other opportunities did not appear to his taste, but it was not long before he attracted the attention of older men, and a year or two after he reached St. Paul, then a thriving town of 6,000 inhabitants, he became the local agent of a Mississippi steamship company, the Northwestern Packet Company, and remained with the company until 1867.

In the year 1873 a railroad which had been struggling along in the region—the St. Paul and Pacific—defaulted on the interest on its bonds. There was $33,000,000 in principal and interest outstanding against the road, the bonds being held mainly in Amsterdam. The outlook for an early funeral was promising. A young man who by dint of much hard work and thrift had accumulated a fortune of well on to $100,000—no small sum for the day and region—made up his mind that there was an opportunity, coming but once in a lifetime. How to get hold of this property with so small a capital was a problem yet to be solved, but the young man, this same "Jim" Hill, wasted no time in speculation. He said he would have the road, and have it he did. It took tremendous work; it involved arrangements of various kinds with men far more prominent in the financial world than himself; it called into play every element of diplomacy at his command.

It was not smooth sailing by any means. Many predicted failure and a lesser man would have succumbed. At last, however, he secured control of all the property and the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba road was born. Mr. Hill became general manager of the new road, and when it was at last merged into the present property, the Great Northern, he became president, a position which he still holds.

Perhaps the reason for the success of this man may be included in these brief suggestions:

1. Large native ability diplomatically handled.
2. An iron will.
3. Supreme confidence in the excellence of his own judgment.

SUPERSTITION

Has been responsible for much of human mortality. Men and women die by thousands in an Indian famine, not because of lack of food but because caste superstition prevents them from accepting it. Even in America there are still to be found those who believe that healing herbs lack virtue unless gathered during certain phases of the moon.

The great foe of superstition is science. Every year science increases the territory of the natural at the expense of the supernatural.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery achieves its successful cures because it is a scientific preparation originated by a scientific man. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, purifies the blood and establishes the body in sound health.

As the writer of the following letter says, "It is the best thing for nervousness and for a weak run-down condition that anybody would want. It gives a person new life and new blood."

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol and is free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics.

"I must again send a few lines to you to let you know how I am getting along since taking the wonderful medicine which cured me two years ago," writes Miss Bertha Hoeler, of 1416 Benton Street, St. Louis, Mo. "I still continue in very good health and think there is not a better medicine on earth than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the best thing for nervousness and for a weak, run-down condition, that anybody would want. It gives a person new life and new blood. I can now work all day long without feeling the least bit tired. I was very nervous and weak last summer. I took five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and it just made me feel like a new person."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets stimulate the liver.

A STORIED FLAG.

History and Appearance of the Flag of Montmorency's Scouts.

An important and interesting addition has been made to the museum of the United Service Institution, says Lloyd's Weekly. It is in the shape of a flag worked by the ladies' loyal to the core, of Sterkstroom, Cape Colony, and presented to Montmorency's Scouts, raised by Captain R. H. de Montmorency, who won his Victoria Cross in the charge of the 21st Lancers at Omdurman, and was struck down fatally near Stormberg. The flag is of black material, with inscription worked in white, "3rd Div. Scouts," intersected by a big skull and crossbones. Near the historic addition to the collection is another notable link with the history of the episode—namely, one of the hats of the same corps. It is nearly identical in shape with the headgear of the C. I. V., but has a black feather and ribbon of the same hue, and on the front are displayed a skull and crossbones. It should be said that the objects have been lent by Captain Angus J. McNeill, of the Seaforth Highlanders, the hat having been worn by Sergt. E. McDonald, who was wounded at Scholman's Kop.

Acute and Chronic Rheumatism

are equally influenced by the almost magical pain-subduing power of Polson's Nerviline, equal in medicinal value to five times the quantity of any other rheumatic remedy. Nerviline cures because it reaches the source of the disease and drives it out of the system. Nerviline is an unusually good rheumatic cure, and makes many unusual cures. Just rub it in the next time you have an attack. The immediate result will surprise you. 25c.

Out of It.

A large number of colliers in Lancashire are accustomed to spending a portion of each week in the public house, instead of following their work regularly, and thus not having more than two or three days a week to draw for at pay day.

The mother of one of these men, on being told of 5 per cent advance in wages, asked her neighbor the meaning of 5 per cent.

Her friend replied:

"Why, Mrs. Hodson, dost not know? It means as every toime they gettin a peaund they'll get 21 shillings for it."

"Oh, dear me," Mrs. Hodson returned, "it'll mak' no difference to our Jerry; he never gets a peaund!"

The Secret of Beauty

How Anyone May Obtain It.

Thousands of people who bathe themselves with soap and water, and clothe themselves with fine hats and garments, in order to appear well, neglect the spring of beauty. A fine complexion, bright eyes and buoyant step, and vivacious spirit can be maintained only as due attention is paid to the blood, the stomach, the bowels and the kidneys. Merrill's System Tonic meets every requirement in this particular, and the use of a few bottles brings about in every instance the desired results. Merrill's System Tonic cures constipation, and thus keeps the body clean within. It purifies the blood, thus giving the health glow to the skin. As a remedy for the kidneys it has no equal, and it is the best blood, bone and tissue maker known to-day.

Use Merrill's System Tonic to keep you in perfect health, if you are already so, and use it to gain perfect health if you've lost it.

Each 50c bottle contains 50 pleasant-to-take doses, and is sold

HON. MR. MULOCK'S RETURN.

His Wireless Message to Sir Wilfrid Laurier—An Interesting Talk About Australian-Canada Trade.

New York, Aug. 19.—Hon. Wm. Mulock, Postmaster-General of Canada, was a passenger on the Lucania, and while still on Friday evening 259 miles from New York availed himself, as did many other distinguished passengers, of the opportunity to send a message over the Marconi wireless telegraph which was offered by the enterprise of The New York Herald in installing the instruments on board. Mr. Mulock's message was to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and read as follows:

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Ottawa, Canada: New York Herald, having installed Marconi system on Lucania and on Massachusetts coast, I avail myself of their courteous invitation to telegraph you by way of illustration of working of system. Lucania about fifty miles from shore. Am now in telegraph operating room on board ship, and messages to and from shore passing with as much accuracy as between land offices. Expect to reach New York Saturday morning. Leave Saturday night for Toronto. All well. William Mulock. Postmaster-General, Canada.

Mr. Mulock in Toronto.

Toronto, Aug. 19.—The New York Central train arriving here yesterday morning brought with it Hon. William Mulock, Mrs. Mulock and Mr. Cawthra Mulock, who returned from their trip to Australia, where the Postmaster-General was the Canadian representative at the inaugural ceremonies in connection with the Australian federation. They were greeted at Union Station by a large party of friends.

The rumor's regarding Hon. Mr. Mulock's health gave rise to the belief that an invalid would step from the train, but those who were awaiting the arrival of the party had a most agreeable surprise in finding the Canadian representative to Australia in splendid physical condition, Hon. Mr. Mulock's only disability being a lame arm that has not yet recovered from an attack of rheumatism which he contracted in the damp fogs of the Atlantic in March last. This trifling ailment caused Mr. Mulock to carry his arm in a sling, and he was forced to greet his friends with his left hand, but it is expected that he will leave this trouble behind him at his country place near Newmarket, where he will spend a few days with his family. After a short rest there Mr. Mulock will go to Ottawa to take up the work of his department.

During his brief stay in the city the Postmaster-General found time to give a hurried interview to the press.

Hon. Mr. Mulock, among other things, was asked regarding the position of Canadian trade in Australia, and he said that everywhere throughout the Commonwealth he found a feeling of great kindliness towards Canada and the Canadian people, and he thought that there was no reason that a great commerce should not be developed between the two countries. "The Australians are strong Imperialists," said Mr. Mulock; "they are intensely loyal and most anxious to be in close touch with the rest of the Empire, both in sentiment and in trade. I met everywhere throughout Australia representatives of Canadian manufacturers and business houses, and they all expressed their grateful appreciation of their treatment by the Australians." The chief difficulty in the way of extending trade between the two countries appears to be the lack of regular transportation from the Canadian ports. At present there is but one line of steamers, namely, that between Vancouver and Sydney, N. S. W. Its sailings are not sufficiently numerous, and the route is greatly handicapped for eastern Canadian shippers, because of the long land haul through the Dominion, and also because of its terminus being in Sydney, on the east coast of Australia, freight charges have to be added for the haul between that port and Freemantle, a distance of about 2,500 miles.

"It will, I think, be necessary for Canada, if her trade is to acquire a foothold there, that cargo steamers shall sail at regular intervals between some of our eastern ports to Australia, touching at Freemantle and other cities along the Australian southern and eastern coasts.

"The United States has already adopted this course as regards their own country, with the result that a market for American goods in Australia is being rapidly secured, and I think that the earlier Canada moves in this direction the better for her own trade. It is easier to occupy a new field than to have to fight later on to dislodge other nations."

THE LIQUOR HABIT.

Rev. A. J. McCallen's Lecture.

On the occasion of a lecture delivered before a large and appreciative audience in Windsor Hall, Montreal, in honour of the Father Matthew anniversary, Rev. J. A. McCallen, S. S., of St. Patrick's church, and president of the St. Patrick's Total Abstinence Society, paid the following grand tribute to the value of Mr. Dixon's new discovery for the cure of alcohol and drug habits.

Refering to the physical craze engendered by the inordinate use of intoxicants, he said: "When such a craze manifests itself there is no escape, unless by a miracle of grace, or by some such remedy as Mr. Dixon's Cure, about which the papers have spoken so much lately, and if I am to judge of the value of the Dixon remedy by the cures which it has effected under my own eyes, I must come to the conclusion that what I have longed for twenty years to see discovered, has at last been found by that gentleman."

Full particulars of this new medicine are sent sealed free to all applicants. Address, Mr. Dixon, 81 Willcocks street, Toronto, Ont.

Dozens in England.

Don't imagine that a dozen always means 12 things. In the Staffordshire potteries and in the earthenware trade a dozen to this day represents that number of any special article which can be offered at any fixed price.

For instance, the pitchers, which are called jugs in the trade, are sold as 2, 3, 4, 6, 9, 12, 18, 24, 30 and 36 pieces to each dozen, the price for a dozen being constant.

The ordinary pitcher holding a quart represents 12 to the dozen, while a pint pitcher is 24 to the dozen and is so called when dealing with that size.

Few of the articles of the trade are sold in dozens of 12, plates being almost the only ones and some of them being sold 60, 70 and even 80 to the dozen.

Besides these curiosities in figures the potters have peculiar names, such as cockspurt, twifiers, etc., that make up a trade language of itself.

The baker's dozen of 13 is a recognized figure in their trade.

A publisher's dozen is usually 13 copies.

Among fishermen in Cornwall a long dozen consists of 26.

Work of the Earthworm.

When we behold a wide, turf covered expanse, we should remember that its smoothness, on which so much of its beauty depends, is mainly due to all the inequalities having been slowly leveled by worms. It is a marvelous reflection that the whole of the superficial mold over any such expanse has passed and will pass again every few years through the bodies of worms. The plow is one of the most ancient and most valuable of man's inventions, but long before he existed the land was, in fact, regularly plowed by earthworms.

It may be doubted whether there are many other animals which have played so important a part in the history of the world as have these lowly organized creatures. Some other animals, however, still more lowly organized—namely, corals—have done far more conspicuous work in having constructed innumerable reefs and islands in the great oceans, but these are almost confined to the tropical zones.

Howitzers are steel breechloading weapons weighing 2,500 pounds and having a length of 6 feet 10 inches.

IN LOVING REMEMBRANCE.

Of Lily Kennealy, who died June, 1901, in St. Joseph's Hospital, of Diphtheria

Dear friends, it would ill become my part
To probe afresh the deep wound in your heart,
Or fan grief's embers smouldering in your breast,
For her you loved, now in her grave at rest.

No words of mine, no sympathy most dear,
Can ease one sigh, or check the rising tear;
No earthly friend can ease your grief or pain,
Nor bring dear Lily back to life again.

My friends, Death warneth you and I
Each times he strikes the blow,
We watch our friends and dear ones die
And we must shortly go.

We must obey that solemn call
And mix with kindred clay,
While time is granted, may we all
Prepare to pass away.

Her sudden, unexpected death,
Proves clearly to our view
The frailty, brevity of life,—
Yes, and uncertain, too.

Let each of us a warning take,
Still let us bear in mind
That our frail life is not more safe,
Though we are left behind.

Let each o fus a warning take,
Prepare to meet the blow,
For, ah! we little know the hour
When death may lay us low.

HER LOVING COUSIN.

What we have good we give to the people. This is the reason so many people go to Whiten's to have photos taken. 6d36

THE TENDENCY TO SCREAM.

The Montreal Witness draws attention to the fact that a certain class of newspaper reader has grown so accustomed to great events, or big happenings, that he looks for something every day which shall excite him or keep him guessing. In this respect he is like the opium fiend; the habit grows with feeding. This class of reader is the creation of "yellow methods of journalism. His delusion is that an item of news acquires importance in proportion as it is given with scare-heads and fantastic typography. He wants his news typographically screamed into his eyes. Sometimes, as the disease progresses, he even ceases to appreciate news unless it be given in the languago of slumdon, and in defiance of good taste and grammar. Nothing is "smart" that respects good usage. In severe cases nothing strikes him as "good" unless it savor of the horrid or the salacious. There are journals which pride themselves on successfully catering to such depraved tastes. Fortunately, we in Canada have less of this than some of the great cities across the line. Decency is still respected; such truthfulness as a newspaper can reasonably be expected to secure in getting news is demanded, and our people recognize a fact or an argument in brevier or minion as readily as in double-pica or twenty-line gothic. Display type has a proper use, but the poster newspaper, like the strident-voiced woman, is an abomination.

Both Prayers Answered.

The last time I interviewed General O. O. Howard it was on the subject of answers to prayer, and I thought I had him. In his famous fight with Stonewall Jackson the Union forces were defeated, so I inquired of General Howard:

"You prayed before that battle?"

"Yes," he answered.

"And Jackson was a praying man. He prayed also."

"Yes," he assented.

"Then how was it he gained the victory? Did that mean that the Union cause was wrong?"

Very gently the good old general replied: "Both our prayers were answered. Jackson prayed for immediate victory and I for the ultimate triumph of our cause. We both got what we prayed for."

Baby's Ailments

Baby's food is hard to keep these hot days. It ferments, through vigorous germ life, and when it reaches baby's stomach it won't assimilate or allow itself to be assimilated. Instead, it form gases, sour liquids, and causes bowel disorder. Mothers should sterilize baby's food with Powley's Liquified Ozone or else give it in doses diluted with water or milk after feeding. Just read this letter.

"My baby was nearly a skeleton from indigestion, and I could not get anything to stay on her stomach, and I had given up hope of raising my darling, when by merest chance I was advised to try Powley's Liquified Ozone. I had not given her the Ozone for two days when all vomiting ceased, and in one month I scarcely knew my child, so great was the change. It is now two months since I first started giving her the Ozone, and her picture is proof of the work it has done. Mothers who desire their babies to live would profit by giving them Ozone. Any mother wishing to verify this can do so by calling or writing to my address, 391 Church street, Toronto, and find living proof.

"Signed, MADAME SAMPSON-LIVINSKI, 391 Church St. Toronto."

Ozone is oxygen in stable, liquid form. It rectifies any organ of the body that is not working properly. It destroys germs of disease. Unlike other preparations of like object it can be taken internally freely. It is especially adapted for baby's ailments. Many a baby will live through this summer, thanks to Powley's Liquified Ozone.

Consult our physician about your case. Write full details and you will get a specialist's advice free. Your letters are absolutely confidential. Address the Consulting Department, The Liquid Ozone Co., 229 Kinzie St., Chicago, U.S.A.

THE ISLANDER WRECK

The Estimates of the Lost Range Between 20 and 80.

PARTIAL LIST OF THE DROWNED

Capt. Foote Went Down With His Ship—Mrs. Ross, Wife of the Yukon Commissioner, and Other Canadians, Drowned—Fears at Belleville Concerning Sir Mackenzie Bowell—Full Particulars.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 20.—Fuller details of the wreck of the S. S. Islander have been received here, showing that the disaster is the most serious one in the history of the passenger traffic between this city and the Yukon.

It is now estimated that between 75 and 80 passengers were lost.

The Islander was the flagship of the fleet owned and operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway Steamship and Navigation Company of Victoria, and plied between this port and Skaguay. She was a well-equipped twin-screw steamer, divided into seven watertight compartments. There was on board 107 passengers and a crew of 71.

The Islander left Skaguay last Wednesday evening, going by way of the Linn Canal. An iceberg was struck as the boat emerged from the mouth of the canal, off the south end of Douglas Island, at 2.16 a. m., on Aug. 15. The crash came suddenly. It was so violent that the door of nearly every stateroom was driven home with such force that the terror-stricken passengers, when they tried to gain the dock, found themselves blocked. So swiftly did the boat settle that many persons were left in the rush and went down with the ship. Capt. Foote jumped from the vessel as she settled and was lost.

She foundered in 40 fathoms of water in about 16 minutes from the time of the accident.

Many of the persons who perished were killed by the exploding boiler after they had been taken off by the small boats, but could not push away from the sinking ship in time.

The six boats and two lifeboats were promptly lowered and all available cork jackets torn down and distributed among the passengers as soon as the stewards were given the alarm and could get among the passengers.

The officers and the engineers, with some of their respective crews, who had assisted them, took to the water as the stern went under, the ship having gone down head first. They were afterwards saved by boats returning from the shore.

In spite of its being in the early hours of the morning and quite dark, there appears to have been little or no confusion or excitement. The boats landed the people on the southern end of Douglas Island and the chief officer and the engineer called for volunteers to pull to Juneau for assistance, where they obtained two steamers and prompt attention in way of food, clothing and restoratives, and despatched them to the scene of the disaster.

Some of the passengers declare that the shock of the collision with the iceberg was not sufficient to awaken everyone. Some had to be called after the contact.

Two hundred thousand dollars in treasure from the Alaskan and Yukon gold fields, over $100,000 of which was the property of passengers, sank with the steamer.

Latest accounts indicate that about 14 passengers and 18 of the crew, among whom was the captain of the ill-fated steamer went down with the Islander in Steven's Channel on Thursday morning last. All the boats and rafts got away, and some one hundred and thirty-four passengers and crew were saved.

Partial List of the Dead.

Victoria, Aug. 20.—George McL. Brown, executive agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, after interviewing the officers and passengers who returned, said.

"The purser is remaining in the north attending to the forwarding of through passengers. It is impossible to give an exact list of those lost, but from the fact that 113 were saved, the loss must be very much below figures obtained. The loss will not exceed 20, in his opinion."

Drowned.

Mrs. Ross, wife of the Governor of Yukon Territory, her child and niece.
Dr. John Duncan, Victoria.
W. G. Preston and bride of Seattle.
F. Mills, Victoria.
Mrs. J. C. Henderson of Victoria.
W. H. Keating and two sons, Los Angeles.
J. V. Douglas, Vancouver.
Mrs. Philips and child, Seattle.
P. W. Bell, Victoria.
Mrs. Nickerson, wife of Capt. Nickerson.
Mrs. W. Smith, Vancouver.
J. A. Beltham, Vancouver.
Mrs. J. L. Wilcox, Seattle.

Crew Lost.

The members of the crew lost are:
Capt. Foote of the Islander.
George Allan, third steward.
S. J. Pitts, cook.
Horace Smith, second steward.
Two Chinamen.
Buck Hooder and Burke, oilers.
Two firemen.
Night Saloon Watchman Kendall.
Joe Bard, second pantry man.
Two waiters.
G. Miller, barber.
N. Law.
M. P. Jock.
Porter and Moran, coal passers.

Bodies Recovered.

The following bodies have been recovered:
Dr. John Duncan, Victoria; P. Burke, H. P. Burke, H. Potter, Nail Folk, —. Doll and two children.

No accurate list of the dead will be available until the arrival of the purser on the steamer Farallen.

Is Sir Mackenzie Lost?

Belleville, Aug. 20.—It is feared here that Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Mr. J. F. Mills, barrister of this city, his brother, Dr. A. E. Mills of Dawson City, were lost on the steamer Islander. They are believed to have taken passage on her, as Sir Mackenzie and J. F. Mills went up on her.

Her Brother-in-Law Lost.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—Miss Dupont of 101 Madison avenue received a telegram from her brother in Victoria, informing her that her brother-in-law, Peter W. Bell, had perished in the wreck of the Islander. Mr. Bell was born in Red River about 60 years ago. He was Hudson Bay Factor at Michipicoten and at La Cloche for many years. He had gone up to Dawson with Dr. Duncan to superintend a canoe expedition.

Some Acted Inhumanely.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 20.—Reports received here say that some of the passengers on the Islander, when she struck, acted most inhumanely, cutting the ropes as soon as they got into the boat and pushing off from the steamer. The chief criticism to the operation of the steamer is that she should have been slowed down as soon as it was found that she was running into ice.

CAN A . . . HOLE SWELL ?

If not, it may be made larger, and there is one thing certain, that the swelling of the sales has caused a larger hole than ever we had anticipated. Yet the great number of garments disposed of yesterday are barely perceptibly missed to-day.

Still, hundreds of filmy, fluffy, dainty pieces of Whitewear are here to greet you, and we cannot expect to dispose of them all in even a week's selling, but you might by waiting just miss "the special article at the special price that you are wanting." Hadn't you better come to-morrow and secure some of this beautiful Whitewear at fully 1-3 off what the regular price would be.

TEMISCAMING RAILWAY.

Suitable Location Found for Twenty Miles—Prospects for Easy Construction of the Government Line.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—Deputy Commissioner of Public Works A. W. Campbell, returned to his office in the Parliament buildings yesterday after a trip through the Temiscaming District, where he went to lay out several colonization roads. This he has done, and the townships of Bucke, Harris, Casey, Dymond, Hudson, Armstrong, Harley, Eventurel, Beachamp and Hilliard will be opened up by four main thoroughfares, with a total length of 50 miles.

A suitable location has been found for the first twenty miles of the proposed Government railway to connect old Ontario with the Temiscaming region. This is the report brought by Mr. Campbell. The location decided upon by Chief Engineer Russell starts at North Bay, and, after skirting easterly along Trout Lake, turns to the north in the valley of the North River. The twenty-mile section carries the line beyond the watershed or height of land immediately north of Lake Nipissing, and it is gratifying to know that what is the most difficult section of the whole line has been found quite feasible, and will be overcome with lighter gradients than was expected. The line traverses a fine hardwood section of country, with good clay land. Mr. Russell proposes to go on with the reconnaissance work, and will, it is expected, complete the location of a line through to the head of Lake Temiscaming, a distance of 100 miles, during the present year.

SURPRISED A BOER LAAGER.

Constabulary Attack Over 600 Boers and Inflict Heavy Loss.

London, Aug. 20.—Lord Kitchener, in a despatch from Pretoria dated yesterday, says that a party of South African Constabulary on Sunday surprised a large Boer laager near Middleburg, Cape Colony, killing 23 men. The Constabulary numbered 150 men, but, owing to the strength of the enemy, 600 to 800 men, they were unable to follow up their success, and, during their retirement, they lost one man killed and had six men wounded. Fourteen men are missing.

Kruger and Privateers.

Brussels, Aug. 20.—The Petit Bleu says Mr. Kruger has rejected the privateering proposals recently made to him, but reserves the right to have recourse to corsairs if the British shoot Boer prisoners captured after Sept. 15. The promoters of the privateering plan intend to ignore Mr. Kruger's refusal of their offer.

At Uxbridge the corner stone of the new music hall and court house was laid on Monday by Judge Chapple of Rat Portage, a former resident of the town. The ceremony was witnessed by a large crowd, the day being Civic Holiday.

ONTARIO AND THE CENSUS.

There is a natural disposition to express surprise at the small growth of the population as revealed by the census returns, and to compare the increase in Ontario with that of Quebec, in which the latter has much the better showing. In the last ten years, according to the returns, the population of Quebec has increased by 132,439, and in the same time the total increase of Ontario's population has been only 53,657. This assumes the census returns to be correct. But a difficulty in doing this is presented by the fact that while the population of Quebec has increased 132,439, while that of Ontario has increased 53,657, the families of Quebec have increased by only 31,310, while those of Ontario have increased by 37,041. The figures of increase in population divided by the increase in families gives the average number of members of each Quebec family represented in the increase as 4.2, and the same applied to the Ontario increase in population gives the average number of members of each Ontario family represented in the increase as 1.2. Thus the relative increases of the two provinces may be accounted for to a large extent on the grounds of more rapid natural increase in Quebec. It is well known and generally admitted that the Canadians of Quebec are much more prolific than those of Ontario. In Quebec marriages, followed by births at frequent periods, are the rule; in Ontario marriages especially those of recent years, followed by births beyond one or two, are the exception. It stands to reason, therefore, that the natural rate of increase is much greater in Quebec than in Ontario, sufficient, perhaps, to account for the much larger percentage of increase of Quebec's population over that of Ontario during the past decade. Then another element in creating the disparity of increase is the fact that there has been a much larger movement of Ontarians to British Columbia, the Yukon, the Northwest Territories and Manitoba than from Quebec, while to increase the disparity large numbers of Quebec Canadians who had removed to the United States, have within the past three or four years returned to their native province thus swelling the population figures and contributing to the larger relative increase of Quebec as compared with Ontario. Conservative journals refuse to see this superior increase of Quebec as a result of palpable causes; the Mail and Empire sees in it a plot to decrease the representation of Ontario in the Canadian Parliament. According to the Confederation Act, Quebec is the pivot of representation. Her number of members in parliament remains always the same, namely, sixty-five, the representations of the other provinces increasing or diminishing in number according as their population increases or diminishes in relation to that of Quebec as determined by each decennial census. The clause enacting this provision is modified by a clause which provides that unless the reduction of the population of a province in relation to the entire population of the Dominion, is to the extent of five per cent., there shall be no reduction. Assuming that fuller returns will not change the proportion of the population of this province to that of the whole Dominion there will be no reduction in the number of members Ontario is entitled to send to parliament. That there is nothing in the charge of the Franco-phobe press that an effort was made to give Quebec undue representative advantages, is thus clear and it is further shown by the fact that the gain of Quebec in population was less in the ten years from 1891 to 1900, when it was 8.2 per cent. than it was in the ten years from 1881 to 1891, which was 9.5 per cent., according to the census taken under the auspices of a Conservative government. The affected alarmists over "French domination" haven't any cause for alarm, though it is probable that they will not cease trying to sow discord between the provinces of Quebec and Ontario. Judging by past, that is too much to hope for.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Toronto World is homeopathic in its politics. It declares that there are a million of Canadians in the United States who would come back to this country if we would restore a high protective tariff. The N. P. sent these Canadians across the border and the World believes in the similia-semilibus-curantur theory that the bite will be cured by the hair of the same dog which inflicted it.

The cost of caring for the insane in New York State has increased from $1,346,019 in 1893 to $5,544,821 in 1900, and Governor Odell is trying to find out where all the money goes. This is greatly in contrast with the conditions obtaining in the well-governed province of Ontario. While owing to the increase of inmates in our institutions for the insane, the total cost for maltenance cannot decrease very appreciably, the rate of per capita maintenance per annum is smaller — a third less — than in any other country, and it is decreasing in Ontario. In 1891-7 the average annual cost per head of maintaining inmates in our asylums was $130.97; now it is only $122.19. If the asylums in New York were, as are those of Ontario, economically managed on business principles, the Governor of the State would not find it necessary to interfere in order to discover leaks.

Dodd's Almanac the Means of Helping Mr. Thomas Barter Down There—Read That Dodd's Kidney Pills Would Cure Heart Trouble—Tried Them and Proved it True.

Cape La Hune, Nfld., Aug. 18.—The most popular remedy down here this last few years is undoubtedly Dodd's Kidney Pills. It is the only one of the host advertised which universally shows that it may be relied upon.

Medicines for Heart Trouble have been advertised before in Newfoundland but nobody placed any reliance in them. The trouble was they did not act at the root of the matter—the kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills are entirely different to any other treatment for Heart Trouble; they act on the Kidneys first, and for that very reason are so successful.

Mr. Thomas Barter, of Cape La Hune, had trouble with his heart for years, and could find nothing to help him. But his own words will better tell the story.

"For over six years," writes Mr Barter, "I suffered intensely with palpitation of the heart and had to give up work. I could not do anything at all until I saw in Dodd's Almanac that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure me. I then sent for six boxes. I used five of them and am completely cured. I can do my work again now as well as ever I could. I am not much of a writer but if you think this letter would help any other person by being printed in any of your publications you are at liberty to print it, for I am thoroughly grateful for Dodd's Kidney Pills."

The Basis of Settlement Proposed and the Amendments Made on Request of the Conciliation Board.

Montreal, Aug. 20.—Yesterday the Conciliation Committee in the C. P. R. trackmen's strike issued an additional report, giving the full details of the basis of settlement offered by the company. The terms are these: "The second vice-president and general manager will approve circulars setting out the rates of pay for trackmen, in accordance with his letter of June 12, and also reciting rules and regulations governing the employment and service of the trackmen, and, at the end of one year from this date, if the trackem of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company have effected a responsible and workable organization, the company will meet a committee and grant them a schedule, provided, however, that such a schedule shall only apply to foremen and first and second men of one year's standing in the company's service, and neither the schedule nor any of its conditions shall apply to others employed, either on section work or on extra gangs, nor shall any committee representing the organization at any time interfere or attempt to interfere with the relations between the company and employes on its maintenance-of-way department, to whom the said schedule will not apply as above set forth. The company will reinstate all men in their respective positions, provided such positions have not been filled under promise of permanency during the absence of strikers. In the case of positions having been filled, the company will give such remaining men preference in filling other similar positions as near to their old location as possible. This clause is not applicable to those who have been guilty of violence. The fact that men have been engaged in the strike shall not prejudice their positions once they are restored to the service.

"The company will always be glad to meet any committee of its employes, whether engaged in the maintenance-of-way or any other department, for the purpose of discussing suggestions calculated to remove any disadvantages under which the men may labor, or to promote the interests of the company. (Signed) D. McNicoll, second vice-president and general manager."

Revisions Secured.

The Conciliation Committee then requested certain revisions as to basis of settlement and amendments to rules and rates, and to their request the general manager replied: "Agreeable to your suggestion. I will include all sectionmen in yards who take second men's ruting. Among those to whom the schedule referred to in my memo to you of the 13th Aug., may be made applicable. I will add to rule 4 the following: Where lamps are located at a distance from trackmen's residence, they will be attended to in regular working hours.'

"I will also insert the following notice on circulars of rules and rate: "(13) Employes suspended or discharged will have the right of appeal from the decision of their immediate superiors. 'Above rules and rates will not be changed without 30 days' notice.'"

Yours truly, (signed) D. McNicoll, second vice-president and general manager."

Mr. McNicoll also wrote that "should the question of the responsibility of work ability of the organization be questioned by the Railway Company, and they are unable to agree on that head with the Committee of Trackmen, they will be willing to leave the question to the decision of the chairman of the five leading brotherhoods on the road. I should also be willing, as then stated, that if any question arises as to the carrying out of the conditions in my memo of the 13th August, in intent, as well as word, to take the decision of the same chairman."

The Conciliation Committee add that they consider this a fair and reasonable settlement and regret the trackmen could not accept it.

The report is signed by Chas Pope of the B. of L. E., George K. Wark of the B. L. F., and W. H. Allison of the O. R. T.

Confidence in Committee.

Winnipeg, Aug. 20.—At a meeting of the C. P. R. striking trackmen the following resolution was carried unanimously:

"Be it resolved that while regretting any temporary check in the negotiations between our committee and the chairman of the orders now in Montreal, we herewith record our unfailing confidence in our committee and pledge to them our faithful allegiance until a fair and honorable settlement is secured. (Signed) Local Committee."

Paris Green in a Well.

Chatham, Aug. 20.—Wilson Price, a farmer of Dover, was startled yesterday morning to find in his well enough Paris green to kill a whole regiment of soldiers. Price lives on the river road and is a tenant of the Dolsen farm. He has had troubles of late. Last Wednesday he was away, and during his absence some one entered the tool house and took out many implements throwing them into the river. These have since been dragged for and found. Price claims he knows the perpetrator and has consulted his attorney.

Light on a Great Question.

"It is my opinion," said one sage, "that a man who has a college degree is very likely to be successful in life."

"Yes," answered the other, "and it is a rule that works both ways. A man who is successful in life is very likely to get a college degree."

MANY CASES OF FATAL ACCIDENT

Lady Laurier Will Accompany Sir Wilfrid to the Opening of the Toronto Industrial Fair on Tuesday Next—Big Entry of Horses—Sir Charles Tupper Declines to Discuss Politics.

The entry of horses at the Toronto Industrial Fair this year has exceeded the 800 mark.

The steamer City of Golconda was struck by a squall Monday night, eight miles from Paducah, Ky. Fifteen are reported drowned.

Daniel McDonald, a miner, was killed in the Cafedonia pit, near Halifax, on Monday. He was blasting, and the shot went off too soon.

Last week at Melita, Man., the 18-months'-old child of Charles Clement was run over by a binder while lying asleep on a bundle of wheat. The child was badly lacerated.

At Philadelphia Monday a benzine tank exploded at the Atlantic Refining Company's plant. It is reported three persons have been killed and about a score injured.

Spontaneous combustion caused a fire Monday evening at 46 Colborne street, Toronto, P. D. Dods & Co., dealers in paints, oils and varnishes. Their loss will be about $10,000.

William Hale's barn containing the whole year's crop was burned near Harriston on Monday afternoon by lightning. He had just stowed away the last load. The barn was almost new.

Seven of the fourteen men injured by the explosion of molten metal in the blast furnace department of the Ohio plant of the National Steel Company at Youngstown, Ohio, are dead.

Four masked men, armed with revolvers, held up a tram car in the suburbs of Melbourne late Monday night and rifled eight passengers of their money and jewelry, after which they decamped.

Sir Charles Tupper is at the Queen's in Toronto. He leaves in a couple of days for New York to take the steamer Pretorian for London on Saturday. He will be away a couple of months. Sir Charles declined to discuss politics.

Hon. J. I. Tarte has consented to attend the launching of the fine new hydraulic dredge which is being built at the Polson shipyards, Toronto, for use on the St. Lawrence, on Sept. 2. The dredge is expected to be completed by Oct. 15.

John Hudson of Toronto, employed on the new hospital at the Royal Military College, Kingston, fell a distance of twenty feet off the building Monday morning and met with severe injuries about the head and body. An ambulance took him to the General Hospital.

Lady Laurier will accompany Sir Wilfrid to the opening of the Toronto Industrial Exhibition on Tuesday next, the 27th inst., and will probably be with him at the luncheon. They will also attend the Tattoo in the evening, in which will be 15 bands and 500 musicians.

By the explosion of dynamite in the Mohawk roundhouse at Herkimer, N. Y., at 10.15 Monday night, by which the building was wrecked and burned, 12 or 13 men, all members of the New York Central bridge gang, who were sleeping in a car which stood on a side track, were killed.

John Sutherland, mechanical foreman of the Hillsboro bridge construction at Charlottetown, N. S., was walking along the engine dredge on Monday evening, when he was drawn into the machinery and his body frightfully mangled. His head was crushed to a jelly. He was 50 years of age.

A company of experienced ranchers from the Northwest, with 27 horses, will give exhibitions of bare-back riding, fancy riding, roping, broncho breaking, etc., at the Toronto Industrial Fair next week. Roman standing races, and, in fact, every kind of exhibition in equestrianism that is possible.

Miss Walsh of Canada Killed.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—A young woman who was killed on Saturday evening by an Illinois Central Suburban train in the South Park Station in the presence of a throng of suburbanites, was Sunday night identified as Joanna Eugenia Walsh, a student of the University of Chicago. Miss Walsh is a native of New Brunswick, Canada, where her mother still resides. Eye witnesses to the tragedy affirm that Miss Walsh deliberately threw herself upon the track in front of the approaching engine, and allowed herself to be ground to death. Her friends declare their belief that she, being afflicted with heart disease, fell accidentally before the train.

Sultan Accedes to Claims.

Constantinople, Aug. 20.—The Sultan has agreed to raise a loan of 4,000,000f, with which to purchase the quays constructed by a French company, on the understanding that they would eventually be taken over by the Turkish Government. This is a signal victory for M. Constans, the French ambassador to Constantinople.

Rodney and His Wife.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Retired Admiral Rodney has made a humorous reply to his wife's petition for divorce. He calls her a "beautiful devil, with alimony on the brain."

"Poor Health"

Is the worst kind of poverty. However rich a woman may be, if her health is "poor" she is poor indeed. She has no appetite for food and the choicest dishes cannot tempt her. She turns and tosses through a restless night on a couch which might woo an empress to slumber. She has no strength for household cares, no delight in social pleasure. She sits "perked up in a glistering grief wearing a golden sorrow." She is a wife and mother. But she has no happiness in either relation. She knows her husband's life is set in tune and time to the minor music of her own misery. If her child laughs or cries her nerves quiver with pain.

Ask such a woman if she would like to be well; to be her husband's comrade, her child's playmate. Could there be but one answer?

Such a woman can get well if she will. All her symptoms indicate a diseased condition of the delicate womanly organism. Cure that condition and the woman will be lifted up to the full enjoyment of health.

In ninety-eight cases out of every hundred Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure womanly diseases, will restore the womanly health. It has cured tens of thousands of women many of whom had been given up by physicians and friends. It is essentially a medicine for woman's ills. It dries enfeebling drains. It heals inflammation and ulceration. It cures female weakness and bearing down pains. It tranquilizes the nerves, restores the appetite and gives refreshing sleep.

"Favorite Prescription" differs from almost all other medicines put up for woman's use in that it contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and all other narcotics. It is in the truest sense of the term a temperance medicine.

A Constant Sufferer.

"I had been a constant sufferer from uterine disease for five years," writes J. A. Steorts, of Yankee Dam, Clay Co., West Virginia, "and for six months previous to taking your medicine I was not out of my room. Could not walk or stand, as there was such pain and drawing in left side and bearing down weight in region of uterus, accompanied with soreness. I suffered constantly with headache, pain in back, shoulders, arms and chest; had palpitation, nervous prostration, constipation, dizziness, ringing in ears; could not sleep, and breathing was so difficult at times I could not lie down. Words fail to describe my sufferings when I wrote to you for advice. In a short time I received a kind letter from you telling me I would be greatly benefited, if not entirely cured, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I had taken one bottle of the 'Prescription,' together with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets and the local treatment which you advised, I could walk (with the support of a cane), the drawing and pain in side and bearing down weight were not so bad, and when I had taken three bottles of the medicine the periods were regulated. I was not so nervous, could sleep well, and the pain in side and bearing down had vanished. I have taken six bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' two of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four vials of 'Pellets,' and my health is better at this time than it has been in five years.

"With grateful thanks for your kind advice, and with best wishes."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a most effective laxative for women. They cure biliousness and sick headache.

The Bad is All Out.

To be sure you can't take the bad out of everything. But you can out of some things at any rate. Take cod liver oil for instance with its disagreeable odor and taste; in Scott's Emulsion all the bad has been taken out, and you have just the oil without anything disagreeable. It is called "Cod Liver Oil made easy."

Dear Sirs,—My little girl was almost dead with summer complaint. I tried numerous remedies for her, but they did no good. A friend recommended Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so I procured a bottle, and by the time she had taken three doses it began to help her and two bottles effected a complete cure. I owe her life to your excellent remedy.

Wireless Signals From Cape Race.

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 20. — The British Admiralty intends to instal the Marconi system of wireless telegraphy on Cape Race in order to communicate with the British royal yacht Ophir, bearing the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, when she approaches the Newfoundland coast in October. The idea is to prevent the possibility of an accident to the Ophir in waters where so many steamers have been wrecked during the present season.

Britain Will Not Withdraw.

London, Aug. 20.—"Sir Ernest Satow has notified the Chinese peace plenipotentiaries," says a despatch to The Times from Pekin, dated Aug. 19, "that unless the decree for the punishment of the authors of the Chu Chau massacre are carried out forthwith, Great Britain will reconsider the arrangements for the withdrawal of the British troops."

There's a Story in Morning Tiredness.

A story of poor blood, weakened nerves, of a starved brain. Plenty of food, mind you, but perhaps poorly prepared and too poorly digested to maintain a vigorous body. Ferrozone quickly makes blood, gives strength to the nerves, cures the fagged feeling that prevent vigorous thought and action. Use Ferrozone, it makes blood, and good blood feeds the nerves. Strong and vigorous nerves are just another name for good health. If you seek health, and a relief from the tired morning feeling, use Ferrozone. Sold only by Ormond & Walsh.

STRUCK IT PRETTY RICH.

Success of a Peterborough Man in the Klondike.

Mr. J. France Said to be Worth Over $50,000—How he Made it—Last Year's Clean-up.

Mrs. J. France, of Dawson City, is in town for a few days the guest of her sister, Mrs. Erskine, No. 60 Waterford street. She will be joined in the course of a few days by her husband, who has been on a brief trip to the south and then they will, after doing some little visiting elsewhere, proceed to their northern home in the land of golden sands.

Mr. France is one of those who has struck it rich in the Klondike region, and he can if he chooses live the remainder of his life in pleasure and luxury. He is not a stranger to the people of Peterborough as he was a resident of this vicinity up until the time he left to try his luck in the northern gold fields. It was in August, 1897, that Mr. France started out in search of wealth in the country that was at that time attracting thousands of fortune seekers from all parts of the world. On the way out he lost everything in the shape of an outfit, but he continued his journey nevertheless under trying difficulties. The first two years were not very successful, but Mrs. France followed her husband out north at the end of the second year. Finally one of Mr. France's claims began to turn out pretty well, and a second one, which he has since acquired is giving splendid results. This year's clean up brought him about $5,400. His claims are about 100 miles back of Dawson City, and he has about 15 men employed at the work.

Life in Dawson appears to agree with Mr. and Mrs. France, but living is very high. $30 a hundred is the price flour commonly brings.

Mr. France is yet a young man, being only about 38 years of age. He is worth anywhere between fifty and one hundred thousand dollars, but is not satisfied with this. He will continue working his claims in which he has great faith.

L. W. R. MULLOY.

The Blind Trooper Will Lecture at Stony Lake on Thursday Night.

Mr. Mulloy lost his sight in an engagement but he does not regret it. In his speech at Liverpool he referred to his great loss in these words, "For all the past has no regrets."

His lecture deals with the life of the Canadian soldiers in South Africa, and is filled with amusing anecdotes of the campaign. He has, in fact, a style of his own, and keeps his audience in roars of laughter from the start to finish.

It is earnestly hoped that the cottagers and others will assemble in full force to greet the blind trooper.

OUR TOWN.

Peterborough Must Grow—So Says a Correspondent to the Examiner.

A Peterborough citizen, concerning the recent census, says:

The census just taken shows our population to be 11,224. If we add to this the population of Ashburnham, say 1,800, our united population would be 13,024. This is a very respectable showing, but everything points to a much faster growth in the immediate future. The great factories now in course of construction will employ from 600 to 1,000 employees; this of itself means an increase of population of not less than 2,000. But success makes success, and our position as a manufacturing centre being established, industries will locate here of themselves. The new development of power on our river means cheap power. Cheap power and good shipping facilities are the prime factors which locate industries.

With all the ramifications of the two great systems of railway, going out from Peterborough like six spokes of a wheel, and the Trent Canal to keep down freight, what place in Ontario offers such facilities as Peterborough?

The fact is obvious—Peterborough must grow. Natural advantages will inevitably tell, for the factory that has them can more than hold its own in the struggle for supremacy.

Let our people then keep their courage up, and not be afraid, and let them bear in mind that Providence helps those who help themselves.

A HEALTHY WOMAN.

Queen Victoria lived to a glorious old age, but the very best care was taken of her health. She never suffered from headache, indigestion or dyspepsia, brought on in most cases by negligence at one time or another. "Climax" Iron Tonic Pills cure such complaints. Each box contains ten days' treatment. Price 25 cents, at all druggists, or mailed on receipt of price. Address: The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

BUSINESS CHANGE.

Mr. George Stevens has Bought out Mr. Wm. Mitchell of Town.

Mr. George Stevens, the "Ash King" of Ashburnham, has just purchased the junk business recently established by Mr. Wm. Mitchell, in the Fitzgerald property at the corner of Charlotte and Aylmer streets. It is Mr. Stevens' intention to run this branch in conjunction with his Ashburnham agency and he predicts that with the prices he is going to offer the public that his business will be enormous. Mr. Stevens has conducted a very successful junk business in Ashburnham for some years and there is no reason why a branch of his establishment should not prove a success in Peterborough. He has already assumed charge of Mr. Mitchell's business.

Something About Faith Cures.

What a great variety of faith cures there must be; some have faith in so-called divine healers, others in certain doctors, and still others in the medicines they use. Every person who has tested Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has faith in them, but faith or no faith, they act just the same for they act directly and specifically on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and make those organs healthy, active and vigorous. Judging from the enormous demands for these Pills there must be hosts of people that have faith in them.

WEAKNESS OF MEN AND WOMEN

Could we read the hearts of every man we meet, what a load of sorrow and despair would be disclosed. Indiscretions and Blood Diseases have caused more physical and mental wrecks than all other causes combined. They strike at the foundation of manhood; they sap the vital forces; they undermine the system, and not only do they often disrupt the family circle, but they may even extend their poisonous fangs into the next generation. If you have been a victim of early sinful habits, remember the seed is sown, and sooner or later you will reap a harvest. If your blood has been diseased from any cause do not risk a return later on. Our New Method Treatment will positively cure you and you need never fear any return of the disease. We will give you a guarantee bond to that effect. We would warn you sincerely against the promiscuous use of mercury, which does not cure blood poison but simply suppresses the symptoms.

WE CURE OR NO PAY.

Don't Let your Life be Drained Away, which weakens the intellect as well as the body. There is no room in this world for mental, physical or sexual dwarfs. Our New Method Treatment will Stop all Unnatural Losses, Purify the Blood, Strengthen the Nerves, Restore Vitality, and make a man of you. If you are in trouble, call and consult us. Consultation is Free. We treat and cure Drains, Blood Diseases, Varicocele, Stricture, Unnatural Discharges, Gleet, Kidney and Bladder Diseases. No cutting or operations. No detention from business. STAGE BANQUETS.

One That Caused a Performance to End in a Riot.

Stage banquets are not invariably merry, as witness a very old one—that in "Macbeth," where Banquo is a guest unseen by all but the host, whose ravings at the sight thmow everything into disorder and cause the hostess to dismiss the company. There is also an outdoor dinner going on in "As You Like It" when Orlando interrupts. In Shakespeare's time at these stage feasts the performers used as food marchpane, a sort of biscuit, to which one of the servants makes allusion in "Romeo and Juliet," "Good thou, save me a piece of marchpane." The actors grumbled at the constant use of marchpane and would have preferred something substantial.

In the eighteenth century, when the strolling players went more or less merrily on foot and were much of the time half starved, real food in the plays was more than welcome. There was a British manager who, whenever salaries were considerably in arrears and dissatisfaction prevalent, soothed everybody into good humor again by putting up the nautical drama, "The Cramond Brig," which calls for a dinner of boiled mutton and turnips. In "The Gentle Shepherd," which used to be given in Scotland, real haggis was introduced. There was also a very elaborate meal in the old farce "No Song, No Supper."

Persons in the audience are not aware, perhaps, that it is difficult to eat on the stage and carry on the dialogue at the same time. Not a little practice is required. The experienced players, however, do it gracefully and well. Before an audience one must eat very daintily, else well bred people in front will criticise. An actress must also know something about cooking, or at least about the preparation of food. Making bread on the stage is common, and in Robertson's "Ours" there is a charming scene where Mary Netley runs about in the hut in the Crimea with sleeves rolled up and in her hand the well dusted rolling pin. She also works out the dough.

Occasionally there is too much drinking. In a play entitled "The Wary Widow," which was acted in 1693, it is said that there was so much whisky punch consumed that all the performers became intoxicated.

Mr. Clement Scott, in his memoirs, relates the disastrous experience some years ago in London of Miss Nita Nicotina, a young woman who made her debut in a play called "Ecarte." The Australian tragedian, Boothroyd Fairclough, was in the cast. The picnic scene was of highly realistic character—genuine hampers from Fortnum & Mason's, Perigord pies, chicken, truffles and champagne. The repast was of sumptuous character, and the actors and actresses ate and drank heartily. The gallery, after awhile, becoming weary of so much feasting without being able to join in it, began to jeer. The champagne continued to flow, and Miss Nicotina displayed the effects of overindulgence. The jeers turned into yells, and presently, when she entered with a green boot on one foot and a yellow boot on the other, the yells became howls, and the lady unwisely attempted a speech. The piece ended in a riot, and the lights were put out.

A Shock to Richard.

Mabel had been waiting for her lover's return for what seemed to her an age. Her heart turned to stone as she thought of him, young, slender, but brave to rashness and recklessness, closeted alone with her stern father in the grim old library. The door opened at last, and he stood before her, a flush on his cheeks and an expression in his eye.

"Did you see papa, Richard?" she asked with trembling eagerness. He held her in his arms for a moment without speaking.

"Yes, dearest," he said at length.

"And what did he say, Richard? Tell me what he said! He refused you? Oh, your eyes tell me! He refused; he will not give me to you? But I will be—I am yours! I do not fear his harshness—we will fly!"

But Richard looked down into her pleading face and shook his head slowly, like a man in a dream.

"Tell me, then, for I cannot wait! Was he brutal and cruel to you? What did he do? What did he say?"

Richard drew a long, deep breath and again looked down at the face turned up to meet his troubled glance. He sighed and whispered slowly:

"He only said, 'Thank heaven!' and went on reading."

Massage For Dyspepsia.

A French medical journal cites a number of cases where great and lasting benefits were derived by people suffering from dyspepsia and abdominal diseases from a gentle massage treatment of the abdomen. One case mentioned is that of a young man aged 20 years who for six months had been suffering with his stomach. In spite of varied treatment he was gradually growing worse and looked like one in the last stages of phthisis. He suffered from constipation and insomnia. He was very nervous and was convinced that he was about to die. After instituting the abdominal massage his condition rapidly improved. His abdomen, which had resembled that of a child with meningitis, became supple and daily enlarged. The treatment was not severe nor very special. His pain disappeared, and he was able to digest all that was given to him. The patient gained in six months about 65 pounds, which he has not lost since that time, now five years ago.

A Medicine 300 Years Old.

Our readers will probably be surprised to learn that for nearly 300 years cod liver oil has been used as a medicine. During the past twenty five years nearly all the cod liver oil brought to this country from Norway has been used in the form of Scott's Emulsion. It is by all means the most pleasant preparation of cod liver oil you can buy.

Doctors

and people agree that Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil is the best thing to take for "don't feel well and don't know why," especially babies—they like it—men and women don't mind it, but babies actually enjoy it.

SCORN THE THORN.

There was never a rose without a thorn,
Never a cake that we ate and had.
The cow had ever a crumpled horn
To toss the maiden all forlorn
Until she was yet more sad.

The apples over the farmer's wall
Were probably grafted from Eden's tree,
But when we had eaten them after all,
Trespassing somewhere about nightfall,
They commonly failed to agree.

And love, my Phyllida, love the rose,
Love, the apple that tempted Eve?
Because of the thorn that about it grows,
Because of the greenness that nothing shows,
Apple and rose shall we leave?

No, my Phyllida; come what may,
Bleeding fingers or broken hearts,
Live and love for our little day,
Tear off armor and cast away
Shields against Cupid's darts!

BILE POISON IN THE SYSTEM

No organ in the human body has a greater influence on the general health than the liver.

A torpid, sluggish liver leaves poisonous, morbid bile in the blood, which upsets the action of the whole sytem.

There is indigestion, fullness, fermentation, flatulency and oppression in the stomach.

The tongue is coated, the head aches and there is loss of sleep, depression of spirits, and spells of dizziness and weakness.

The bowels are constipated and loose by turns, and griping pains are frequent.

Shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart and derangements of the menstrual functions are among the symptoms of liver complaint.

You should not expect to find all these symptoms in any one case, but if any of them are present, it is time to take prompt action to relieve the system of these morbid poisons.

The liver must have assistance.

The process of restoration will be hastened if the kidneys are also invigorated and strengthened.

Both these filtering systems are acted on directly and promptly by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It is through the liver and kidneys alone that the blood can be freed of all impurities and the morbid matter which collects there when the liver is deranged.

Many a suffering man, many a despondent woman, has been cured of the above distressing ailments by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the only remedy that has a combined action on both liver and kidneys.

The wisdom of Dr. Chase in preparing this wonderful remedy has been proven in scores of thousands of cases of complicated diseases of the liver and kidneys, which could be reached by no other remedy.

You do not require faith to be cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The first dose will help you, and a few boxes at most will positively cure the most severe case of liver complaint or kidney disease. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or postpaid by Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

WHEN GEORGE III WAS KING.

Police Had to Protect the Food at the Mansion House Ball.

The Lord Mayor's Dinner and the Lady Mayoress' Ball.

Here was a twofold entertainment on Monday for John Bull and his family. The first concluded rather too soon for honest John, for at a quarter past 7 the dinner party broke up, with the exception of a few particular friends, who retired with the lord mayor into a private room to partake of some excellent Champaign. The dinner and wine are supposed to have cost £1,200.—Mr. Rose had sent a noble sturgeon.

The ball in the evening was very crowded. Mr. Common Hunt (the Sir Clement Cottrell of the East), exerted himself greatly to preserve order. The Tea and Refreshment Room being small, was soon filled, and it was found impracticable to procure anything. Intelligence was brought to Mr. Common Hunt that a body of gentlemen had settled themselves at the sideboard, devouring everything within their reach—"Locusts, you mean, sir," said Mr. Common Hunt, "from Egypt, brought by Tallien from that flourishing colony."—It was asked if Lord Chesterfield was present, that he might read a [page] from his ancestor's Treatise upon Good Manners. The City Marshall told Mr. Common Hunt that he had some adepts at hand, who could give practical essays upon Good Order, which was instantly proved by a body of constables clearing away these gentlemen.

Mr. Common Hunt then gave orders to guard the avenues of the Egyptian Hall, where the dinner had been served, and he dispatched a courier to the Contractor General of Provisions to be upon his guard. The Gentlemen were again disappointed; and there was no prospect of success below, for the kitchen was fortified en marmiton.

The Dancing continued until a late hour. Several minuets were danced. Alderman Curtis gave his hand to Miss Langhorn. Though not a la pas de Nivelon, his minuet was correct and most gentlemanly.

Towards the close of the evening the Lord Mayor afforded his private friends a little divertissement, a la pipe du Tobac.

There was said to be no scarcity of refreshments, but it was impossible to come at them. There was only one small room for their distribution.

Penetration of Light.

Experiments show that light can be seen through a clean cut opening of not more than one forty-thousandth of an inch. This fact was determined by taking two thoroughly clean, straight edges, placing a piece of paper between the surfaces at one end, the opposite end being allowed to come together. The straight edges being placed between the eye and a strong light in a dark room, a wedge of light was perceived from the ends between which the paper was placed and the opposite, which were brought together. The thickness of the paper being known, the distance apart of the two edges of the small end of the wedge of light was easily calculated, and the result was shown as above.

A Bell That Never Rang.

A curious legend is that connected with the bell of St. Mura, in Ireland. The bell was said to have descended from the sky ringing loudly, but as it approached the earth the tongue detached itself and returned to the skies. The people concluded from this that the bell was never to be profaned by sounding on earth, but was to be kept for purposes more holy and beneficent.

An Act of Gratitude.

A gentleman saved the life of a clothes dealer who had been capsized in a boat. The latter was profuse in his thanks and said to his rescuer: "I see that you have spoiled your clothes on this auspicious occasion. Allow me to take the opportunity of handing you my business card. Ten thousand elegant summer suits at 46 marks!"

AT THE URN.

Ida sitteth at the urn
Every afternoon at three.
Since that summer at Lucerne
I am very fond of—tea.
"Sugar?" "Thank you; just a lump."
Ah, Pilatus, proud and free,
How my foolish heart goes thump!
I am very fond of—tea.

Ida sitteth at the urn.
"One more cup?" "Why, certainly."
While we watched Swiss sunsets burn
I grew very fond of—tea.
Now we're married, in a flat;
She paints things; I write, you see;
Cheese and kisses and all that,
And we're very fond of—tea.
—Robert Loveman in Criterion.

With a View to Matrimony.

"Can I dew anything moar for ye, Sally?" said Bob Heron, the cowman, to his sister as he finished banging the mud and "muck" off the mats against the outhouse wall.

"Why, whatever ha' come to ye?" said his sister. "D'ye want anything?"

For years Sally had taken upon herself the unenviable task of looking after her old father and of "mothering" her three younger brothers. Her efforts to keep them going in food and clothes were wont to meet with more unmerited abuse and foul language than any return in the shape of attention, gratitude or help. This she felt the more as she was a woman with ideas of refinement that were unusual in the neighborhood of Frogsthorpe and took to heart the complaints of her great loutish brothers that "they hadn't got noo mother." Bob's desire to assist her in any way surprised her.

"Narthen to sigerfy," said Bob sheepishly. "Can't I dew narthen moar?"

Sally bustled about and deftly tidied up the kitchen. Out of the corner of her eyes she watched Bob hanging around uncomfortably with an evident wish to ask something and a reluctance to make a start.

"Shall I sluch the bricks down for ye?" inquired Bob.

"Come an do," said Sally. "Tell us what 'tis. Surely to goodness ye ain't afeard."

"Will ye prarmus not to put the grin on tew me?" Bob asked.

"Why, what should I want to do that for?" said Sally, who was getting inquisitive and knew the only way to extract information from her brother was to evince no curiosity. "But just as ye like. I can't keep muddlin about here all the mornin."

"I want ye to tell me what to say," Bob gasped out.

"Say? Say what? Whatever are ye talkin about? I don't know the meanin on't."

"Well! There's a gal!" Bob began nervously.

"Ah! There's plenty o' them," said Sally, unconcernedly.

"I want ye to tell me what to sasy in a letter," burst out Bob. "Lor', Sally, she's a gre't wench; She's bigger'n yew. Har hair's that black! 'Tain't like yarn." (Sally was fair.) "She's big as me. An har eyes! Lor', har eyes fare to goo right trew ye they be so shiny an so black."

"A love letter?" said Sally. "No, Bob, I don't know nothin about love. I ain't goin to mix up along o' no love."

"Noo, noo!" expostulated Bob. "'Tain't come to that yit. But I see har brother t'other daay, an he axed me to goo oover an see har, an I axed him if I should write an tell har I wuz a-comin, an he said as he'd find out."

"D'ye want to walk out with her, then?" said Sally.

"I doan't knoo azackly as yit," Bob answered. "D'ye think she'd maake a good wife?"

"How can I tell?" asked Sally, with some show of reason. "Do I know her?"

"Noo," said Bob. "But she bain't like yew. She's a strappin wench, an my missus 'ull hev to wark to help to 'arn the grub."

"Do she wear a fall an gloves?" asked Sally slyly, reminiscent of fraternal remonstrances at her own occasional lapses into gentility.

"That she doan't!" said Bob. "She shan't wear noo fall nor noo gloves."

"Ye'll have to treat her different to what you do me," said Sally, "or she won't put up wi't."

"I'll trate her prarper," Bob promised. "She shall hev all the grub she can get down har, but she shan't hev noo bare nor stout. They doan't dew ye a might o' good."

Bob was an adolescent valetudinarian in his way and was just then strong on total abstinence.

"I wouldn't write no letter," said Sally. "That's dangerous. She might hev ye up for breach o' promise."

"D'ye think soo?" said Bob, who in all ceremonial matters was guided by his sister.

"That 'ould be best—to see her," said Sally. "How offen hev ye seed her?"

"I doan't knoo much on har, an tha'ss a fack," admitted Bob. "She's in sarvice out at Chetbridge, an bar brother axed me if I'd like to goo oover."

"Well, that appears funny to me," mused Sally, keeping her countenance, but chuckling inwardly. "What d'ye want to write for?"

"I'm a-gooin to dew the thing prarper," Bob explained. "Not saam's as yew an yar chap what never came to narthen. I want to hev a prarper understandin afoor I gits engaged, an I bain't got noo mother, wuss luck, an thote as yew'd help me."

"Ye get your onnerstandin talkin," advised Sally. "That fare strange to me she should set her brother on to ye like that."

"D'ye thiuk soo?" said Bob nervously. "Hev ye ever kissed her?" asked Sally slyly.

"Blaame it, noo!" Bob roared. "But I should wholly like tew," he added softly.

"Take her out an kiss her, then, an be done wi't," said Sally, more experienced in wooing. "But do ye miud ye buin't sucked in."

"What d'ye mane?" asked Bob.

"They say as fish hawkers cry stinkin fish the loudest," answered Sally sententiously, "an har brother wholly holler tew."

"D'ye think soo?" muttered Bob, alarmed at unconsidered possibilities. "But har eyes maak ye jump, they be so bright. She's the prattiest gal ye ever see. I'll maak ye a bet on't," he added by way of self consolation.

"I spooz," he said after a pause—"I spooz yew 'ouldn't write for me an ax har if she'd walk out wi' me. I bain't got noo mother to dew it, wuss luck."

It may be incidentally remarked that Bob was 23 years of age and, with his brothers, was always lamenting the want of a mother. That lady during her life left the charge of her young children altogether to Sally and neglected them and her home equally.

"Yew may take your oath o' that," answered Sally firmly in reply to Bob's hint. "If ye got sucked in, ye'd lay it all on me. Ye must hoe your own land. Ye'd better tell her brother ye'll meet her o' Sunday."

"D'ye think soo?" said Bob and subsequently acted on her advice.

* * * * * * *

When Bob had finished the milking on Sunday morning and arranged for an evening substitute, he grew into a fever of unrest. "Sally," he called, "wheer'u my clane shut? Wheer's my collar? Will ye black my bewts for me? I'll gi'e ye tuppence. Come an tie my tie. Shall a weer a flower? D'ye think she'll like to goo to chapel? How dew I look in my new clothes?"

At last Sally got him off and turned her attention to the midday meal.

She sat up for his return at night. He came in about 10 and found his sister alone. The others had gone to bed. His face wore an expression of mingled indignation and shame.

"Well, how did ye get on?" asked Sally. "Hev ye had your tea?"

"I doan't want noo tea," said Bob. "Le's goo to bed."

"Good night, then," said Sally, knowing there was more to come, but making a pretense of turning out the lamp.

"Blaame it!" struck in Bob hoarsely. "She an har brother met me at Chetbridge just as the Swan wuz oopenin. She said she wus dry, soo I axed her in to hev some'at. T'ree glasses o' stout fer har an t'ree glasses o' sale fer har brother I paaid foor, tha'ss ninepence, an a glass o' mild bare fer me is tenpence, an neither o' them offered to paay a farden. Then arterwards Tom left us, an we walked to St. Mary's-on-the-Fern, an she said as we wus travelers an walkin made har wbooily dry. Soo we went into the King's Head, an she had t'ree moor glasses o' stout an a half o' mild fer me. Tha'ss fivepence ha'p'ny, an tenpence is one and t'reppence ha'p'ny. She never paaid fer narthen."

"Why, Bob, bor, you must ha' been a fool," said Sally, chuckling inwardly. For Bob is notoriously parsimonious.

"D'ye thing soo?" he said uneasily. "Arter that," he continued, "we set under the hedge for a bit, an she axed me to kiss har. Soo I did, but she stunk o' bare soo I didn't think much on't. Then she kep' a-screwgin up ag'in me till she went asleeap. When she woke up, we walked to Turiham, an I axed her if she'd like too goo to chapel. But she said that wus past 6, an she wus dry. Soo we went into the Queen's Head, an she had t'ree moor glasses o' stout an a half o' mild for me. Tha'ss fivepence ha'p'ny an one an t'reppence ha'p'ny is one an nine. Gooin hooam to Chetbridge that wus gettin dark, but she wanted to set under the hedge ag'in. Howsomedever, I said the ground was damp, an she said as I wuz a sorft fewl, an we'd best git on to the Swan afore they shut. But I'd had enow on't an come hoosm. Thas's just like yew be, mixin me up along of a wench what cost me one an nineponce an would ha' done moor if I'd ha' let her. Now's the time when I feeal I hain't got noo mother. I shan't gi'e yew yar shillin this weeak out o' my money. I must look arter myself same as yew dew, livin bare, kep' like a queean a-dewin narthen. Nice dewin's I call tel"

Bob is still a bachelor, but he has another girl in his eye and wants Sally to test her quality before he commits himself to another one and ninepenny Sunday.—Black and White.

Clerking

Looks more attractive than housework for a woman, but it is also even more exhausting. The work is often done under high pressure, and the brightness of the eyes and the flushed cheeks of the attentive clerk indicate nervousness rather than health. If this is true under most favorable conditions, what shall be said of those who suffer from womanly diseases, and who endure headache, backache, and other pains day after day?

"No sick woman should neglect the means of cure for womanly diseases offered in Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It regulates the periods, dries enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"A heart overflowing with gratitude, as well as a sense of duty, urges me to write to you and tell you of my wonderful recovery," says Miss Corinne C. Hook, Orangeburg, Orangeburg Co., South Carolina. "By the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I am entirely a new being compared with the poor miserable sufferer who wrote you four months ago. I remark to my parents almost every day that it seems almost an impossibility for medicine to do a person so much good. During the whole summer I could scarcely keep up to walk about the house, and yesterday I walked four miles and felt better from the exercise. I now weigh 125 pounds. Mine was a complicated case of female disease in its worst form."

The Great Kidney Specialist.

The Famous Physician Who Has Made Kidney, Bladder and Urinary Diseases a Life Long Study.

DR. ZINA PITCHER.

For many years in the hospitals of Detroit and Professor of Genito Urinary diseases in Michigan College of Medicine, Dr. Zina Pitcher devoted his time to the scientific study of diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary System.

By this exclusive devotion to one branch of medical investigation Dr. Pitcher was enabled to perfect a treatment for Kidney troubles that far surpasses any other remedy.

After testing it extensively in private and hospital practice and demonstrating its incomparable superiority to all other forms of treatment, Dr. Pitcher decided to give this great boon to suffering humanity at large and not confine it exclusively to the circles of his private and hospital patients.

He has placed his remedy before the public under the name of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets and so confident is he of the positive curative qualities of these Tablets for backache, lame or weak back, drowsiness, headaches, pain in the loins, brick dust deposits in the urine, puffiness under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, scalding, irritation, frequent rising at night, dribbling, inflammation or ulceration of the bladder, gravel, Rheumatism, Bright's Disease and Diabetes (except in the last stages), bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, constipation, puffy and pasty appearance of the face, dropsy, backache and weakness of women, urinary weakness of children and old people or any symptomatic indications of Kidney disease that to anyone suffering from any of the above troubles, who uses the Tablets faithfully, according to directions, and derives no benefit therefrom, their money will be cheerfully refunded.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50 cents a box at all druggists or sent by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

The Cause of Nervous Headache.

This most distressing and common malady doubtless has its origin in some unbalanced condition of the nervous system. Probably the simplest, safest and most efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. Twenty drops in sweetened water gives immediate relief and this treatment should be supplemented by bathing the regions of pain with Nerviline. To say it acts quickly fails to express the result. Sold everywhere in large 25c bottles.

Respectfully Referred.

As The Green Bag has it, Chief Justice Marshall used to narrate with great glee the following correspondence on a point of honor between Governor Giles of Virginia and Patrick Henry. The governor wrote:

Sir—I understand that you have called me a bobtail politician. I wish to know if it be true, and, if true, your meaning. W. R. GILES.

Patrick Henry's reply came promptly:

Sir—I do not recollect calling you a bobtail politician at any time, but think it probable that I have. I can't say what I did mean, but if you will tell me what you think I meant I will say whether you are correct or not. Very respectfully, PATRICK HENRY.

This was leaving it to Giles with a vengeance; but, as there was no further correspondence, the governor of Virginia must have read satisfaction somewhere between the lines of Patrick Henry's brilliantly equivocal reply.

HEADACHES AND HAPPINESS

are like oil and water—they won't mix. The pleasure of many a day's outing has been spoiled by a bad headache. Headache is not a disease but only a sympton. The aching nerves serve as nature's signal to direct you to look inside for the trouble. Perhaps its the stomach, perhaps the liver, perhaps the kidneys and more likely than either from a general weakness of the system. It is this vague uncertainty that directs you to Merrill's System Tonic as the one remedy that is absolutely sure of permanently curing any kind of a headache from any cause. System tonic cures headache because it is an alterative or blood purifying medicine rendering the glands of the body sufficiently strong to eliminate through the bowels, kidneys, lungs, and pores of the skin, all accumulated poisons and to absorb into the circulation all the nourishment from the food eaten. System Tonic is also a valuable tonic for the stomach, nerves and bowels and from it's combined alterative and tonic properties cures dyspepsia, constipation and liver troubles. After you have taken Merrill's System Tonic awhile each organ in the body, namely, the stomach, bowels, liver, heart and kidneys become strong, healthy and active and nature is then able to throw off all diseases that are ravishing or annoying the body on account of a deranged condition of any of these important organs. As ninety nine per cent. of all diseases hinge on a lack of these conditions you are sure to find a cure in Merrill's System Tonic.

GOLF.

There is an unwritten rule in connection with all athletic games in Peterborough, by which the younger members of any organization are given as much chance of having matches arranged for them as those who are more expert in the game. These auxiliaries to the different clubs are styled "Colts," and had their inception with the curlers, spreading amongst the hockeyists, cricketers and footballers. Universal success has attended this attempt to foster the different pastimes by bringing in the younger members, and encouraging them by affording chances to play matches, which would not otherwise be obtained.

The Golf Club has now fallen into line, and a number of the novices in the game have formed a Colts' organization, electing Mr. E. C. Complin as captain of the first team, which is now challenging Lindsay to a match. Results will be awaited with interest.

BASEBALL.

The Oshawa team has made a splendid record this season, and the game on Saturday on the P.A.A.A. grounds should be very largely attended. Let there be a good turn out as it may be the last game of the season.

The Buffalos left for Bowmanville yesterday afternoon. They played a double-header game with the crack senior team of that town to-day.—Lindsay Post.

The Lindsay Post says that the Seniors of that town will journey to Peterborough on Thursday to play the Otonabee River nine.

LACROSSE.

In Cobourg on Saturday Port Hope won from the Cobourgs by 9 goals to 0. Of the nine goals Roly Glover scored five and Jack McCabe three. The Port Hopes have scored 73 goals this season to their opponents 12. They are a tie with Oshawa for first places in the district, and the play off will take place sometime this week, probably in Toronto.

In referring to Saturday's game the Port Hope Guide says: — "The boys put up good lacrosse and the large number of supporters who accompanied them had no occasion to feel anything else but happy, only when Jack McCabe was brutally assaulted by Grogan, and then they were mad. This affair was the worst exhibition of rowdyism recorded this year, and thoroughly disgusted everyone present. It happened like this. Fox fouled Wood, and they had a disagreement, McCabe stepped between the two and endeavored to stop the trouble. In an instant Grogan rushed down the field and landed with terrific force on the back of McCabe, simultaneously sending both fists against the defenceless man's neck and head. It was some minutes before McCabe recognized his friends, and in about 15 minutes pluckily wanted to finish the game, but found that he was ruled off for interfering, along with Fox and Grogan. It wasn't fair to Jack, but at Cobourg's request the game was shortly afterwards stopped, so he did not miss much."

The tie that is at present existing in this district of the C.L.A., between Port Hope and Oshawa, will be played off on the Island, Toronto, on Friday afternoon. Messrs. Rolly Glover and Jack McCabe, of town, will play with Port Hope.

WORK FOR THEM ALL

Harvesters May Have to Tide Over a Few Idle Days.

STICK TOO CLOSE TO MAIN LINE

Mr. McPherson, C.P.R. General Passenger Agent of Western Lines, Gives a Succinct Account of the Conditions as He Saw Them—Provincial Government Agents at Work Distributing the Men.

Winnipeg, Aug. 20.—Hugh McKellar of the Provincial Agricultural Department, was engaged all morning sending out harvesters to work in the country. He says there will be no difficulty in placing all the men who have arrived.

He showed the reporter a letter he had received from Charles Koster of the Threshers' Association, Brandon, which stated that all the men who had gone there had scattered throughout the country, having secured employment, and he was of the opinion that men would be scarce when threshing commenced.

A large number of the men who were complaining so strongly on Saturday last were provided with meals at the Immigrant Hall. Sunday night 120 sat down at the long tables; but the number yesterday morning had dwindled down to 70, and it is expected that employment will be secured for these immediately.

J. J. Golden, the Provincial Immigration Agent, has gone out with a train load of harvesters for the northwest section of the C.P.R., where a large number are required. He will remain with them until every man has secured employment. The Provincial Government has several men engaged in the work of distributing harvesters.

At several points where the railways do not touch, labor is reported scarce.

With regard to the men coming from the east this week, it seems a case of chance whether or not they will find work. There is no business-like method of locating the men. The hustlers will have no difficulty of getting some kind of employment, but the slower fellows may find themselves without a job.

WHERE THE TROUBLE LIES.

Men Have Congregated Too Much in the Centre.

Montreal, Aug. 20.—Mr. McPherson, general passenger agent of the C. P. R. western lines, who has just arrived from the West, stated this morning that there is work in the West for all the men who have gone out there and who are looking for farm work.

"The trouble has been that in many cases the men have congregated in large numbers in the centres. In Brandon and Winnipeg a thousand men could no more find farm work in a couple of days than they could if they were dropped down in Montreal. The trouble has been the men have stuck to the main lines instead of going out on the branch lines, and thereby getting into the heart of the farming country. The people we have carried out there fall far short of the number the Government intimated would be needed to harvest the crop. The Government's estimate was that twenty thousand harvest hands were wanted. We have carried about seventeen thousand people out on our harvest excursions. These have not all gone to the harvest fields of Manitoba, for we know that many persons have taken advantage of the extraordinary cheap rate to go to Winnipeg, and from there have gone to visit friends in the states along the border. When such large numbers of men are carried out it requires some days and some inconvenience for their distribution among the wheat fields, but I have no doubt that all who are looking for farm work will find it. The C. P. R. does its best to distribute them. Station agents send reports of the number of men needed in the districts where they are located, and the harvesters are notified of the number that can find work there. In some cases homesickness has caused complaints, and many men have gone out who are not looking for employment on the farms, but are seeking places as clerks. Not a few complaints have come from these persons."

Woman is as Old as She Looks.

It is not age but weakness, disease and ill health that makes women look old, care worn and wrinkled. You cannot look your best unless you feel well, strong and vigorous, with pure, rich blood and steady nerves. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food makes good looks, because it makes good health, restores the healthy glow to the complexion, rounds out the form and gives elasticity to every motion of the body.

MR. CHRISTIE'S SUCCESS.

A Former Resident of This Vicinity has Lived in the West for 15 Years.

Under date of August 14, a correspondent at Pincher Creek, N.W.T., sends the Examiner the following item:

Pincher Creek, N. W. T., Aug. 14.—Mr. Robert Christie, formerly resident near Peterborough, has sold his ranche on the Kootenai, (or more properly, Waterton) River, about 20 miles south from Pincher Creek, and will probably return to the east next May. The price realized was very satisfactory, and will prove ample to maintain Mr. and Mrs. Christie in solid comfort the remainder of their days.

About fifteen years ago, Mr. Christie, dissatisfied with his then condition determined to come west as a means of bettering it. He joined the Northwest Mounted Police, and subsequently with little capital, he took up the ranche recently sold, and by dint of hard work and careful management, succeeded beyond his expectations. What price he realized from the sale of his ranche and stock, Mr. Christie declines to state further than that the purchaser came to his figures. This is understood to have been $20,000.

Held in high respect and esteem by all who knew them here, Mr. and Mrs. Christie will be much missed and, when they leave, will carry with them the best wishes of all, and particularly of the older settlers, who knew them best.

Passengers Charge Bad Management Against Officers.

ONE SAYS THE PILOT WAS DRUNK

Another That Boats, Capable of Holding 25 or 30 Each, Pulled Away From the Stricken Vessel With Few in Them and the Greater Number of Those Lost Still on Its Deck.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 21.—The remainder of Islander's passengers came down on the steamer Farallon Monday and bring further details of the disaster. Some of the men state that in the confusion which reigned some of the boats got away with only a few in them. The steamer's complement was six boats and were capable of holding 25 or 30 each, in addition to two rafts, yet the fact remains, when the last boat pulled off the greater number of those lost were on the deck. This is partly accounted for by the fact that few realized the immensity of the danger and were caught by the rapidly rising water, which mounted so quickly that all those who had not life preservers were not able to escape suction as the steamer went down.

Ed. Young of this city said: "I heard distinctly cries of 'bring back the boat,' and saw one pull away with six men in it, most of whom were the crew. I stood on the steamer's deck beside Mrs. J. H. Ross and her niece and child, and called to the men to put in the women and child, but it did not stop and pulled away. In a minute or so the water forced us to climb forward, the deck being an angle of about 45 degrees. Very shortly after the boat blew up and I was hurled away from them and although they had life preservers on them, they did not survive. I myself was unconscious when picked up after being in the water 3½ hours. Some of those who got away from the vessel died from exposure. J. G. Morgan, well-known insurance agent of Winnipeg, had a very narrow escape, being drawn by the vortex as the vessel went down under the water. His life preserver saved him, though he was unconscious for some time after he was rescued.

Second Officer Powell made a statement Monday night that he and Captain Foote got on a raft after leaving the steamer, which sank under the mud. The passengers on the raft badgered the captain so that he dropped off and got hold of an oar, which kept him up until after daylight, when he sank. The second officer was threatened with a revolver in the hands of one of the passengers and slipped from the raft, getting hold of a cabin door, from which he was taken in the morning.

Says Pilot Was Drunk.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 21.—L. S. Robe, one of the passengers on the ill-fated Islander, wrecked off Douglas Island, returned here with a most vivid account of the terrible disaster. While he would not consent to be quoted on this branch of the subject, his demeanor unmistakably indicated that he believes the officers of the Islander were derelict in their duty. Indeed, the charge is being more or less freely made by the survivors that officers of the vessel had been drinking heavily. The vessel, too, had not aboard the marine law requirements, in the quantity and character of life-saving equipment. Robe declares that there were 181 persons on board, including the crew. There are 118 preservers, and he argues that 68 must have been drowned.

John L. Wilcox makes the unqualified assertion that the pilot was intoxicated, having gone on board in that condition, and that the captain had also been drinking during the evening. There was plenty of time between the time when the vessel struck the iceberg and the time she sank, to have beached her and rescued the passengers.

Not on the Islander.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell was not on the Islander and is coming home via St. Michael's.

Census lists for the Cossair district were on the Islander. Commissioner Blue has telegraphed for the census to be taken over again.

The Islander was built after the same pattern as the steamer Modjeska of the Hamilton line.

CAN A . . . HOLE SWELL ?

If not, it may be made larger, and there is one thing certain, that the swelling of the sales has caused a larger hole than ever we had anticipated. Yet the great number of garments disposed of yesterday are barely perceptibly missed to-day.

Still, hundreds of filmy, fluffy, dainty pieces of Whitewear are here to greet you, and we cannot expect to dispose of them all in even a week's selling, but you might by waiting just miss "the special article at the special price that you are wanting." Hadn't you better come to-morrow and secure some of this beautiful Whitewear at fully 1-3 off what the regular price would be.

KITCHENER'S REPORT.

The Weekly Round Up of the Boers—Over Four Hundred More—Great Patience Yet Required.

London, Aug. 21.—Lord Kitchener's weekly report from Pretoria, dated Aug. 19, shows that 64 Boers were killed, 20 were wounded, 248 were made prisoners, and 95 surrendered during that time. The prisoners include Landrost Steyn of Vredefort and Commandant DeVilliers, father of Mrs. Schalkburger, wife of the acting President, and Commandant Breytenbach of Lillie-fontein.

Kitchener Says Resistance Is Incessate.

London, Aug. 21.—In a despatch dated July 8 and detailing the condition of affairs at the front at that time, Lord Kitchener says:

There are no more than 13,500 Boers now under arms. Although they are not able longer to undertake extensive operations, their apparently inexhaustible supplies of food enables them to maintain an obstinate resistance without retaining anything or defending the smallest portion of this vast country.

The wearying down process is necessarily slow, rendering the employment of a large number of troops still necessary. Great patience is still required to see the inevitable end of an insensate resistance which, while it cannot affect the result, has become unjustifiable in prolonging the war and the sufferings of women and children.

Since the despatch was written the loss of Boers have brought their forces down to about 11,000.

Both at Bessie's Pan, on the 11th inst.

Lt.-Col. Gordon Ill.

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 21. — A cablegram was received yesterday announcing the dangerous illness in South Africa of Lieut.-Col. Gordon, late D.O.C. at Montreal. Lieut.-Col. Gordon went to South Africa as a special officer, going over with the Second Contingent. He was about to return with the Strathconas when he was intercepted by Lord Kitchener and given the command of a Cape Colony district. He has been there since. Mrs. Gordon and three children are living here.

Proposal to Shorten Transit to Australia.

SEVEN DAYS TO BE GAINED.

Plan of Mr. Ramsey, General Passenger Agent of the Australian Steamship Line—Formal Proposal to Brisbane Chambers of Commerce—A Hope for Its Influence on Canada.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 21.—(Special from The Star correspondent in London.)—It transpires here that Mr. Ramsey, the general passenger agent of the Australian Steamship Line, has made a formal proposal to the Brisbane Chambers of Commerce and Manufacturers for a direct service from San Francisco, thus creating a through mail service between Brisbane and London in 28 days, instead of the 35 days occupied in the transit at the present time. The hope is expressed that this proposal will stimulate the acceleration of improvement of the Australian mail service via Canada.

A WOMAN LEADS THEM.

Strike Breakers Escorted to and From Mills by Superintendent's Wife.

Pittsburg, Aug. 21.—Following the rapid moves of Monday on either side of the great steel strike, there was a lull yesterday, and neither side took decisive action that showed up in the surface. It has been a running fight so far, with small victories and minor defeats for both sides; but it now seems to be settling down into a hard, determined struggle, in which neither side will acknowledge defeat while there is hope left.

An interesting feature of the fight at the McCutcheon mills is contributed by the claim of the strikers that Mrs. Fred Daugh, wife of the superintendent, is escorting the strike-breakers to and from the mill.

The strikers meet the movement to reopen the mills with non-union men with the claim that it will be simply impossible to secure a sufficient number of skilled men to operate them.

The tying up of the Pennsylvania and Continental Tube plants of the National Tube Company in this city commenced Monday night, and was completed yesterday. Counting both plants, about 1,600 men went out, and both the properties were shut down.

The Death of Roy Lewis.

Toronto, Aug. 21.—Coroner Cotton's jury concluded its inquiry into the death of six-year-old Roy Lewis, who died from diphtheria at the home of his parents, 18 North Markham street, on Aug. 13. The jury returned the following verdict:

The Verdict.

"We find that the said Roy Lewis came to his death on Tuesday, Aug. 13, 1901, at the home of his parents, 18 North Markham-street, from diphtheria, and we find that Andrew Lewis, father of deceased, showed culpable criminal negligence in not providing medical assistance, medicine, nursing and comforts, and that Richard Perry, Christian Science demonstrator, was an accessory after the fact, inasmuch as he undertook to advise and treat a dangerous and contagious disease he admitted that he was totally ignorant of. The teaching of the sect known as Christian Science, as brought out in the evidence, is a danger to the community, and the jury would recommend that the law should make it a criminal offence for a demonstrator of this peculiar sect to attend or treat a case which is not being attended by a duly qualified medical practitioner."

After the inquest Crown Attorney Dewart stated that, as a result of the verdict, action would probably be taken to-day against the father of the deceased and the Christian Science demonstrator interested in the case.

Engineer Lecky's Recovery

He says: Ozone cured me of the disease which was a burden to me.

Mr. Chas. F. Lecky, 45 St. Maurice St., Montreal, engineer for the Whitham Shoe Co., has had a remarkable recovery from kidney disease through Powley's Liquified Ozone. His story is an interesting one; it indicates the extreme value of Ozone in chronic cases of kidney disorders. Here is his personal statement:

With the greatest of gratitude I send you my testimonial for publication, regarding the wonderful curative power of Ozone. For the last seven years I have been troubled with kidney disease, liver complaint, neuralgia of the hip and severe headaches. I have been treated by several of the doctors of Montreal, and have been an out-door patient of the General Hospital there. I have had injections of morphine, fly blisters, porous plasters and liniments for external use, but all these had fail to cure. Very often I was subjected to severe pains in my back, and when I stooped to work, I was unable to straighten myself without great difficulty. I am happy to say that on the 30th of May, 1901, I saw Powley's Liquified Ozone advertised in the Montreal Star, and started taking it on the 31st. I have used nearly three bottles of Ozone and feel quite a different man, and am thankful to testify that I am cured of the disease which was a burden to me.

I have recommended your remedy to a great number of friends and acquaintances, and I cannot speak too highly of the preparation.

I deem it a part of my duty to ask you if you will kindly publish this in any paper you wish, for the benefit of suffering humanity.

Any one doubting this statement can interview me personally or by letter and I will gladly furnish them with any information they may require.

(Signed) CHAS. F. LECKY, Engineer, 45 St. Maurice St., Montreal, P.Q.

Powley's Liquified Ozone is Oxygen in stable form. It has cured many cases, equally, if not more extraordinary than the one cited. EDITORIAL NOTES.

A League of Conservative ladies is proposed in Toronto. It is suggested that this nearest approach to adopting a policy arises from Mr. Whitney's feeling and belief that the Conservative party of Ontario has long enough been managed by old women in trousers, and thus the petticoated variety is to be put to use.

The contract for putting in the heating system at the Cobourg Asylum, has been awarded, says the Cobourg Post, to a firm in Ottawa, and the plumbing goes to a Kingston firm "Local plumbers were too busy to bother very much with a job that had to be cut very fine. Good work should be well paid for rather than put up to strong competition." Yet the stock howl of the Ontario Opposition is that the Government does not put up every petty job for tender, and when an effort is made to get the lowest prices, as the Post hints is done at Cobourg Asylum in regard to heating, blame is suggested because it is claimed strong competition is invited. It is difficult to please. It seems it can't be done, even when the right thing is done.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN WAR.

Not since the great battle of Dulmanutha, a year ago, when the Boers made their last combined resistance, and were finally dispersed, has such a progressive step been made as during the past week. Lord Kitchener's regular weekly statement last Tuesday said that 829 Boers had either been taken or put out of action. That was extremely gratifying. It has, however, been followed up from day to day with captures of important commandants. De Villiers has given up the cause and surrendered. He comes from Waterberg, in the western part of the Vaal River Colony, and was second in command to Beyers. Frederick Wolmarans was reported captured on Wednesday in the Magaliesbergs. He was chairman of the first Volksraad and a member of the executive council. Commandant Pretorius died at Magersfontein from a wound in the head. This was probably young Captain Pretorius, who was accounted by the Boers at the time Pretoria was taken as their best artillery officer. The victory of French over Kritzinger in Cape Colony was apparently a decisive one, as Commandants Erasmus and Cachett were captured. This Erasmus is probably not the Erasmus who was a member of the Transvaal executive, and whose commando long played an important part in the fighting to the north and east of Pretoria. He was wounded some time ago, and though not captured, has not been heard of for some months. Even had he recovered sufficiently to take the field again he would not be found fighting in Cape Colony, for the Vaal River commandos are not so much part of a national army as local armies to defend their own districts, and they do not even go down to Orange River.

TO ARMS!

Toronto Star.

The report that the Conservaladies of Toronto, are about to organize a Maple Leaf League to exercise an influence in politics is one that will probably carry dismay into the Liberal camp. In the first place it will mean that the Maple Leaf, hitherto the national emblem, is to be appropriated to the uses of one political party only, thereby delicately suggesting some flaw or inferiority in the citizenship of those not subscribing to the views of the league. Possession of the "old flag" has recently been divided, and it is retiring from party politics, but some resourceful Conservative lady has observed the widespread affection for the leaf of the maple, and proposes to introduce it into politics for her husband's benefit—or for her own.

The other cause for alarm is that the Liberal party, having good arguments to make, and a sound record to produce, must view with concern a movement which threatens to preclude arguments and to ignore records. If the Conservatives advance, trusting not in their swords and spears, but in the blandishments of their womenkind, the great and evident advantage which the Liberals have under the leadership of so able a man as Hon. G. W. Ross, is dissipated at once, and new tactics must be decided upon in hot and blushing haste.

Apparently the only thing to do is to call a mass meeting of the young and beautiful women of the Liberal party, and thus completely outrival and throw into dreary shadow the proposed Maple Leaf League.

SPRINGVILLE.

(From our own Correspondent.)

On Saturday morning three horses belonging to Mr. John Hamlin strayed out on the road and on to the C.P. R. track, and were killed by the morning express.

One day last week as Mr. William Pettie was assisting Mr. Geo. Hooten to operate a steam thresher, he accidently got caught in the belting with the result that nearly all his clothes were torn off, and he was otherwise injured.

We are sorry to hear that we are about to lose Mr. William Atcheson as a neighbour, he having rented a farm in the northern part of North Monaghan.

Something About Faith Cures.

What a great variety of faith cures there must be; some have faith in so-called divine healers, others in certain doctors, and still others in the medicines they use. Every person who has tested Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has faith in them, but faith or no faith, they act just the same for they act directly and specifically on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and make those organs healthy, active and vigorous. Judging from the enormous demands for these Pills there must be hosts of people that have faith in them.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock were not large—67 carloads, composed of 1107 cattle, 370 hogs, 1200 sheep and lambs, with about 50 calves.

Many of the dealers were not buying, having bought heavily last week.

A MADDENED MOB.

Two Negroes Lynched to Avenge Miss Wild—Armed Crowds Drive Every Negro From Pierce City.

Pierce City, Mo., Aug. 21.—For nearly 15 hours, ending about noon yesterday, this town of 3,000 people has been in the hands of a mob of armed whites, determined to drive every negro from its precincts. In addition to the lynching Monday night of William Godley, accused of the wanton murder of Miss Gazelle Wild, and the shooting to death of his grandfather, French Godley, the mob yesterday cremated Peter Hampton, an aged negro, in his home, set the torch to the house of five blacks, and, with the aid of the State Militia rifles stolen from the local company's arsenal, drove dozens of negroes from town. After noon the excitement died down, the mob gradually dispersing, more from lack of negroes on whom to wreak their hatred than for any other cause. Many of the negroes who fled from the city are hiding in the surrounding woods, while others have gone greater distances in seeking safety.

DEFENDS THE POLICY.

Deputy Minister of Agriculture on Locating Harvesters.

CRITICISM OF THE FREE PRESS.

Mr. McKellar Tells of Steps Taken to Obtain Work for Those Desiring It in the Harvest Fields of Manitoba—Excellent Wheat—Experts Say Samples Are Splendid.

Winnipeg, Aug. 21.—Hugh McKellar, chief clerk of the Agricultural Department, is out with a letter last evening defending the Government and C. P. R. in the matter of harvesters' excursions and the question of employment.

He says: "For several years this matter has been considered by Mr. Stitt of the C. P. R. Passenger Department, and myself, and we have invariably come to the conclusion that it was best to leave those coming alone, not to interfere with them trying to place them from Winnipeg.

"The general plan of distribution cannot be changed. Those who come, knowing where they are going, must be allowed to go on. As to locating the others, every practical method is now being employed by the C.P.R. and government officials. Telegraphic despatches are received daily by the C.P.R. and C.N.R. officials, advising how the supply and the demand are for the day. This information is promptly acted upon. Agents are sent out with trains to assist in locating as required.

"Mr. Scott, provincial immigration agent, went to Brandon last week as soon as it was known that there were too many there and succeeded in locating all. Mr. Golden, another immigration agent, was busy along the line of the M. & N.W. since Wednesday of last week, returning on Saturday. Now, he left on Monday morning again with a train load and stays with them until all are located on that branch. And other men will stay with the work until every man is placed. There are also many prominent men written to in the province to render all assistance possible in locating men.

"The difficulty has only occurred during the last few days. I might say, since Friday last, and has not been from want of organization, but from the fact that the heaviest rush of work is not yet on. A few days more and a little patience and the work with the present organization will be completed. I have given this explanation simply to show that adverse criticism of the work being done by the C.P.R. and the government officials is not merited."

Replying to Mr. McKellar's letter The Free Press says editorially: "No one wanted the Local Government authorities to bother about incoming laborers who had their plans laid. They could surely be trusted to sort themselves. The criticism to which the authorities have been subjected, very properly is based upon their patent failure to place those who came here ignorant of the country and friendless in touch with those who wanted help. On this point the case against the Local Government is established. That the difficulty is now being met in great part by the employment of local agents in the manner described by Mr. McKellar is due, we imagine, to the protest made by the harvesters and voiced by the press. Had equal care been taken a week ago we should have avoided these troubles."

Officials Called to Winnipeg.

Toronto, Aug. 21.—Mr. Hartney and Mr. Bradbury, two Manitoba Government officials in the city, left yesterday in response to a summons for Winnipeg. It is understood that the Government is investigating the alleged undue shipment of laborers into the Province and desire to get these two officials' statements regarding the steps they took to get the men to go out. Mr. Bradbury thinks that any mismanagement that may have occurred in connection with the matter is due to the C. P. R. and not the Government.

Excellent Wheat.

Winnipeg, Aug. 21.—General Manager Thompson of the Ogilvie Milling Company, questioned yesterday regarding the quality of wheat received by his company, said: The sample is very satisfactory. It weighed 63 pounds to the bushel. The reports I have received show that harvesting is progressing rapidly in all parts of the Province, from Thornhill in the east to Brandon in the west. Fifty per cent. of the wheat is already cut.

The chief grain inspector yesterday afternoon inspected the first car of Manitoba wheat shipped this season. It came from Dominion City, was consigned to the Ogilvie Milling Company, and graded No. 1 hard. It was a beautiful sample.

MAKES NO DISTINCTION.

London Hotel Proprietor Will Not Insult Black Guests.

London, Aug. 21.—Afro-American delegates to the International Ecumenical Council, which is to meet in Wesley's Chapel, in the City Road, London, next month, are already arriving. Their advent is causing unexpected difficulty at one of the big hotels in the West End, where a large number of Americans are staying. The latter, amazed by the announcement that some 200 colored men were coming, formally protested to the proprietor, assuring him that such a thing would not be permitted in the United States, and demanding that the colored people be accommodated in a separate part of the hotel.

The proprietor declined to interfere, with the result that some of the Americans are already arranging to leave. The proprietor said last night:

"I could not think of offering an insult to such men as Bishop Derrick of New York, Bishop Tanner of Philadelphia, Bishop Gaines of Atlanta and Bishop Arnett. I told the Americans that when the Indian princes were here no one objected to meet them, and I do not propose to make any distinction at the expense of Africans."

4,000 Persons Homeless.

St. Louis, Island of M. Gallantd, W. T., Aug. 21.—The fire which destroyed Grandbourg, the principal town of this island, broke out yesterday morning. Four thousand persons are homeless. The loss is estimated at $200,000.

SIXTEEN STAGES
...OF THE...
SLATER SHOE.

No better object lesson can be found to teach how thoroughly a thing may be done when the object is to have it well done, than the exhibit in our south window, of the progressive

16 Stages of the Slater Shoe.

Here one sees the successive several operations from the skin of leather to the finished shoe. It shows the building up of the shoe, its gradual and symmetrical progress, the thorough work, the minute attention to detail, the determination of the manufacturers to produce the best of shoes—the Slater Shoe. There is no skimping of detail, no lack of fitting and finishing, of accurate, systematic work that results in the perfect shoe.

We sell the Slater Shoe. Any up-to-date dealer does. But in addition—for Slater Shoes are only a part of our selling—we have hundreds of excellent and reliable shoes. The variety is not so wide, that sizes so numerous, the differences in shape so important, for there is as much difference in feet as in faces, and we have to carry an ample stock to meet the requirements of all. Nothing that a good shoe store should have is lacking. But where the average dealer stocks fifty pair we stock five hundred. Just a few lines to suggest to men a nice shoe that will be comfortable, shapely, dressy and reliable:

Men's Dong. Oxford Shoes, machine sewed,.....	1.50	Men's Camping and Boating Lace Balmorals.....	.85

Just a mention of Ladies' Shoes. The stock is ample, the variety more than great, and the prices most reasonable.

AS OBSERVER SEES IT.

Dear Sir,—I have noticed a circular to the towns of Ontario issued by Mr. H. P. Bell, of Cobourg, Ont., reading as follows:—

"The Bell Electric Transit Company, organized to operate Electric Railways, will run through your town, provided the town subscribes a bonus, viz.,

Towns of 500 inhabitants, ...$	250.
Towns from 500 to 1,000	500.
Towns from 1,000 to 1,500	750.
Towns from 1,500 to 3,000	1,500.
Towns from 3,000 to 5,000	2,000.
Towns from 5,000 to 8,000	3,500.
Towns from 8,000 to 10,000	10,000.

Being somewhat interested in transportation matters, the circular attracted my attention, and the following occurs to me. If Mr. Bell can afford to run an electric railway through a municipality of 500 inhabitants for a bonus of $250.00, surely in a town of 10,000 inhabitants he can afford to perform the service without any bonus whatever, as it is natural sequence that the revenue of a town of 10,000 inhabitants must be considerably in excess of the receipts from a municipality of 500 inhabitants.

It seems to me as if the figures are somewhat reversed in Mr. Bell's circular, and that they should read as follows:—

Towns of 500 inhabitants, ...$	10,000.
Towns from 500 to 1,000	3,500.
Towns from 1,000 to 1,500	2,000.
Towns from 1,500 to 3,000	1,500.
Towns from 3,000 to 5,000	750.
Towns from 5,000 to 8,000	500.
Towns from 8,000 to 10,000	250.

MICHAEL BIRD'S ACCIDENT.

Had His Right Leg Amputated Last Night.

He was Trying to Board a Freight and Fell Beneath the Moving Cars at Pontypool.

Michael Bird, commonly known as "Mick" Bird, who figured prominently in athletic circles some years ago, being the champion runner of his time around Peterborough, met with a horrible accident last night. Bird was at Pontypool yesterday, and was endeavouring to obtain a ride on a freight train to Peterborough. In his attempt to do so he fell underneath the moving train, and the wheels of several cars passed over his right leg, below the knee.

Dr. Lapp, of Pontypool, was summoned and rendered what assistance was possible, and the unfortunate man was brought on to Peterborough on the midnight train. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital, and Dr. Young, C. P. R. surgeon, assisted by Dr. Moher of town, and Dr. Lapp, of Pontypool, amputated the limb, just below the knee.

Bird has many friends here who will regret exceedingly to hear of his accident. He is at present doing nicely.

LABOUR DAY DEMONSTRATION.

First Annual Day off of the Local Federation of Labour.

At a meeting of the local branch of the Federation of Labour held last night, it was decided to celebrate Labour Day, Sept. 2nd, by a grand demonstration at Chemong, at which addresses will be delivered by prominent representatives and lay citizens. An excellent programme of amusements usual on such occasions will be provided. The demonstration should be successful and largely attended if all those interested in labour will signify that interest by their presence. All men work, or if they do not, they have no right to live. St. Paul, the grand old Christian Socialist, declared—that if a man do not work neither shall he eat. If labour does not deserve a holiday then no holiday is deserved. Labour is the source of all wealth and of all the comforts and advantages which belong to civilization. When one reflects that all capital is the result of labour it is remarkable that capital regards labour as its natural enemy, not in the sense of refusing its services, but by giving the least equivalent for the largest amount of labour. Capital claims and exercises the right to organize, but denies in many instances the right of labour, the creator of capital, to do the same. But that right exists and the labour of Peterborough in organizing has only done what it might have done long ago to advantage. Everybody, not entirely unthinking, recognizes in a sentimental way the dignity and nobility of labour, but the recognition of the right of labour to fair renumeration and a fair share of the wealth it creates, is very largely withheld. So that it becomes the duty of labour to adopt the only means to secure rights which should be freely accorded, and that means is organization. The workmen of Peterborough have organized and their first demonstration on Labour Day is a significent event and should attract a large concourse of people. The Examiner hopes that the demonstration may be in every sense successful, not only in the way of yielding enjoyment, but in promoting the important objects of the organization.

MURDER WILL OUT.

The Probable Truth About Daniel Shea's Death in 1894—A Hamilton Sensation.

Provincial Detective Greer is in Hamilton, and with the local detectives, it is said, is working on the case of Daniel Shea, an old soldier who disappeared on the night of Thanksgiving Day, 1894, on his return from Toronto, where he took part with the 13th Regiment in a sham battle. Shea's body was found floating in the bay in the spring of 1895, but was badly decomposed and eaten by fish, and as no wounds could be detected on the body it was supposed that he had fallen from the G.T.R. dock while intoxicated, and was drowned. Recently some of the men implicated in Shea's death had a quarrel, and one of them divulged the story of how the old soldier went down to his death, leaving a widow and several children to mourn his loss. It appears that Shea went to the Tremont Hotel, Stuart street, about midnight, after his return from Toronto, and there had a violent quarrel with several men, who ridiculed the Queen's uniform, which he wore. Shea retaliated by calling them Fenians, and upon this Shea was pushed into the yard and given his death blow. Later the body was carried to the G.T.R. dock near by and thrown into the bay, and as ice formed on the bay shortly afterwards the remains were not recovered until the following spring. It is now said that the police are in a fair way to lay their hands on the murders of the old man and that they will be brought to justice.

AT THE POLICE COURT.

Several Cases That are on the Tapis—Boys in Trouble.

At the police court this morning Mr. James Stevenson occupied the bench. An offender was up, charged with being drunk and disorderly. He was remanded until Friday.

Alexander Oliver owned a horse that was not very healthy looking. He had been charged with cruelty to animals, but he killed the beast and was allowed to go.

Two young men will appear this afternoon before County Police Magistrate Edmison, charged with throwing stones at a C. P. R. train. One of the men is named Curtis, and the other McKinley. The offence is alleged to have been committed near Indian river, but while the young men admit having thrown the stones, they claim that they were urged to do so by a scab section foreman, who said that the people in the car would think that it was the strikers who committed the offence. The case will likely prove of interest.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

GOLF.

An adjourned meeting of the executive committee of the Golf Club will be held this evening in Sam Ray's store at 7.45 o'clock.

The match with Port Hope on Labour Day will be the last regular foreign match of the Peterborough club for the season. A number of irregular matches, however, may be played.

The royal and ancient game of golf is to receive a masterful exemplification in Toronto next month, when amateur players from far and near will strive for the Dominion and inter-Provincial championships on the beautiful links of the Toronto Club. This, the seventh annual meeting of the Royal Canadian Association, gives bright promise of being a magnificent tournament in many respects. The various events will be participated in by at least thirty-five contestants, representing nearly, if not all, the seventeen organizations between Halifax and Vancouver. Unusual interest is attaching itself to the competition for the championship cup, presented by Lord Aberdeen, and the Association medals, as Mr. George S. Lyon, the Toronto crack, stands an excellent chance of duplicating his performance of last year, when he demonstrated marked superiority over all comers. If he should win the blue ribbon of the links again this fall, great would be the joy of Toronto's golfers, for a more popular player never essayed the game. Mr. Lyon possesses a remarkable physique, and no end of resource, his long drives being the despair of novices and his crafty shots the terror of more experienced golfers. He may find some difficulty, however, in disposing of Mr. Frank R. Martin, a Hamilton phenom, in the championship class. The latter reached the semi-finals at the Niagara tournament last year, and during the present season has done some magnificent work with the best clubs. His record as an international cricketer is well known. The last day of the meeting, which has been set down for September 25, 26, 27 and 28, will be devoted to a handicap for members of clubs affiliated with the parent association, and this match is expected to develop some good men. Young players never know what they can do until their capabilities are put to a severe test in open competition. Mr. D. W. Baxter, Secretary of the Rosedale Club, and the Royal Canadian Association, and Mr. Stewart Gordon, Secretary of the Toronto Club, are exerting every effort to ensure the success of the annual event. It goes without saying that their endeavors will receive the unstinted reward they merit.

Golf is a great game. Its neophytes and veterans play it with equal and unexampled ardor. The sport never grows stale. Those who are now swinging their clubs for the first time will be wielding them in years to come, with the self-same enthusiasm. To be initiated into the mysteries of putting and driving is to be converted into a devotee of the gentle pastime they represent. It is not an uncommon thing for the old as well as the young, in the first stages of golf fever, to prolong a full day's practice far into the night. Keen enthusiasts have been seen on the links at a late hour sending the gutta percha balls hither and thither in the dim, uncertain light, which lanterns throw. The novice dreams of fine shots and makes hundreds of them on paper, only to find that their actual accomplishment is outside the realm of his greatest power. With him, crooked umbrellas and canes are instruments for swinging at the nearest stones; church is a place to meditate on bad lies, and language has no use but that of conveying the golfer's thoughts. Tyros soon get over the first burning enthusiasm the game inspires, but always retain a passionate fondness for the sport the delightful uncertainty of which gives them an opportunity to distinguish themselves. Dark horses are frequently met with on the links, for luck forms no inconsiderable element in golf. It is just possible that the coming tournament will be marked by the brilliant playing of some contestant as yet unknown to fame.—News.

LACROSSE.

It is stated upon the best of authority that at least nine of the present members of the Toronto lacrosse club team will leave Rosedale at the close of the season, some by next Saturday, and will form another club and join the C.L.A. senior series. This move has been contemplated for some time and at a recent talk over affairs it was decided to quit Rosedale and strike out for themselves.

A Medicine 800 Years Old.

Our readers will probably be surprised to learn that for nearly 800 years cod liver oil has been used as a medicine. During the past twenty five years nearly all the cod liver oil brought to this country from Norway has been used in the form of Scott's Emulsion. It is by all means the most pleasant preparation of cod liver oil you can buy.

A LIVELY TIME AT CHEESE BOARD

Heated Discussion Regarding Alleged Methods.

CHARGES AGAINST BUYERS.

Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Galvin Have a Reckoning up—9 1-2 Was the Highest Price Paid—The Factories Boarded.

There was an exciting time at the meeting of the Peterborough Cheese Board this morning, and upwards of an hour was spent in an oratorical battle between salesmen and buyers, and, in fact, buyers and buyers. The trouble has been brewing for some time, and it was expected that the climax would be reached at this morning's meeting of the board. Consequently, everyone came prepared. The discussion, while it lasted, was "fierce," to say the least, and became decidedly personal. It will no doubt be of much good to the board, as it to a certain extent cleared up a long existing misunderstanding between buyers and sellers.

Before the bidding opened, Mr. Ed. M. Elliott asked that he be allowed to address the board regarding a certain grievance he claimed existed between the salesmen and certain buyers on the board. He alleged that the way matters had been running of late, salesmen did not know in reality whether or not their cheese was sold when they left the board meeting. The cheese may be accepted at the board by certain buyers but whether it would really be taken off the factoryman's hands was another thing. Mr. Elliott continuing said, that he had from all appearances of late been taken for a mark by a couple of the buyers. If the practice that of late had been instituted by Mr. Cook and Mr. Bailey was continued the board would be come demoralized. He then recited his own personal grievance, wherein he alleged that Mr. Bailey had refused to take the cheese of his factory according to the conditions of the sale made at the last meeting of the board. He contrasted this style of doing business with that of Mr. Rollins, who had purchased 1320 boxes at the last meeting at 9 3-16 cents, and had occasion to reject only 10 boxes. He (Mr. Elliott) had been treated most ungentlemanly by Mr. Cook and Mr. Bailey, and it became the duty of the salesmen to protect themselves. In conclusion he moved that Messrs. Bailey and Cook be expelled from the board.

Mr. Bailey immediately jumped to his feet. He contended that one side of a story is always all-right until the other side is heard. He proceeded to give his version of what had occurred between the salesman of the Trewern factory, and himself. He went on to say that the Trewern factory cheese was badly off colour, and also that Mr. Elliott had not acted in an open manner towards him. He had told Mr. Bailey that he could get the highest market price for them, whereupon the latter gentleman told him to do so.

Mr. Cook told of his dealings with the Trewern factory, and went on to say that his son's report of the output disclosed the fact that the cheese were away off.

Mr. Fitzgerald said that he bought the cheese at 9 1-4c., and found them for the most part all right.

The salesman of the Buckhorn factory had a similar grievance to that of Mr. Elliott, Mr. Cook being the alleged offender.

The motion to expell Mr. Cook and Mr. Bailey was seconded as far as the latter was concerned, but the seconder of the motion said that he had nothing against Mr. Cook. This caused another speech from Mr. Bailey. He grew very warm in his remarks, and asked why he and Mr. Cook should be singled out, when there were other offenders much worse, only that they did not do their business in an open manner as he had done. Who had made the most money out of the board, he would like to know? In the course of his remarks he made an insinuation against Mr. Fitzgerald, which drew from that gentleman a brief explanation of the circumstance to which Mr. Bailey had reference. Mr. Fitzgerald also directed a few of his remarks towards Mr. Galvin, whom he said had been abusing him to a considerable extent.

Mr. Rollins said that seeing his name had been mentioned he had to defend himself. He went on to say that his firm had provision made with the bank whereby they could carry out the conditions of any transactions that they might make on the board, consequently they were not forever coming forward with excuses. He pointed out that it was necessary, however, to look to the factories for the original trouble, as the Englishman wants no heated cheese, and if the salesmen of the factories wish to sell their cheese in a haphazard manner he did not want to be interested in the board at all. At the last board he had purchased 1326 cheese at 9 3-4 cents, and after inspection took 1316 boxes.

After Mr. Cook had made a few remarks concerning heated cheese, and in vindication of his policy on the board, Mr. Galvin waded into Mr. Fitzgerald for his alleged ill-treatment of the Lakefield Dairy Co. Mr. Galvin said that he had dealings with Mr. Cook and Mr. Bailey and had nothing to say against them, but Mr. Fitzgerald's deducting $180 after the shipment reached Montreal would have to answer for his action in this regard.

President Drummond at this juncture thought that the discussion had gone far enough and had become unnecessarily personal. He eulogized Mr. Rollins for his fair treatment of salesmen, and held that all the buyers should take the bitter with the sweet. They should not carry on such a practice, as most of them have been doing. Mr. Cook did not stand alone in this regard, but there were other just as big sinners as he was. However, they would be whitewashed this time, and he hoped that in future no more trouble of the kind would be encountered.

Some reference having been made as to Mr. Wrighton's ability as an inspector, Mr. Drummond said that he considered him well qualified, and he would not have held that position for the late Mr. Cluxton and other firms for so many years, had he not been capable of performing the duties attached thereto.

The discussion then closed, and the sales were proceeded with. The following buyers were in attendance: Messrs. Wrighton, Bailey, Whitton, Rollins, Kerr, Cook, Fitzgerald.

THE BIDDING.

The bidding opened by Mr. Fitzgerald at 9 cents, and it ran very quickly up to 9 7-16 cents by Mr. Whitton. He called Westwood, Villiers, Shearer and Keene, which accepted.

At the same price Mr. Rollins picked up Warminster, North Smith, Warsaw, Oakdale, Daisy D., Pine Grove, Maple Leaf, Young's Point, North Dummer, Cedardale, Stony Lake, South Burleigh.

Then Mr. Whitton went 9 7-16c, but Mr. Bailey brought the price up to 9 1-2, taking Ormonde, Shamrock, Norwood. He offeerd 9 7-16c. for further selections and called Bensfort, Otonabee Union, Oak Leaf, Mount Pleasant, Myrtle, East Emily, Missing Link, Lakefield and Fraserville, which accepted.

Mr. Whitton at 9 7-16 took as further selections Lang, Melrose Abbey, Indian River and Peterborough.

Mr. Cook at 9 7-16 carried off Cavanville and Fleetwood.

Mr. Rollins added Buckhorn to his selections at 9 7-16.

Mr. Kerr offered 9 1-4 and called Trewern, Ballyduff, which accepted but Darlington Union and Central Smith refused.

The board then adjourned.

BUFFALO BILL'S ROUGH RIDERS.

Just outside of the Exposition Grounds, at Buffalo, opposite the East Amherst street entrance, adjoining Delaware avenue, accessible by all lines of travel, in the great open field, on Monday afternoon, Aug. 26, will be located Buffalo Bill's famous Wild West and Congress of Rough Riders of the World.

The fact that this great American exhibition is not inside the inclosure in nowise detracts from its importance in connection with the Pan-American Exposition; as one could no more harness or hamper Buffalo Bill's Rough Riders within the confines or limited space than he could hope to bridle Niagara and turn the tide of the falls.

One of the leading attractions is the Battle of Tien-Tsin, or, The Rescue of Pekin, showing the allied powers of the world in military uniform and action. In the reproduction of this conflict in the Flowery Kingdom, the scaling of the walls of that Mongolian stronghold will be participated in by the Marines of Russia, Germany, France, England and United States and Japanese soldiers, as well as the Bengal native soldiers now in the British service. The defence, of course, being the Chinese citizens and soldiers.

A score of other new features have also been added to the Wild West, including a squad of Oom Paul's brave Boers, a detachment of the famous Strathcona Horse, Canada's crack regiment, fresh from the South African battlefields, will also appear daily in the great exhibition, together with a squad of Northwest Mounted Police.

Probably one of the most intensely interesting and exciting events on the programme will be the actual work and beach drill of a crew selected from the U. S. Life-Saving Service, showing the intrepid men who guard our stormy Atlantic Coast and dare death in efforts to save human life. All of these new features added to the previously complete and instructive Wild West Exhibition will make it a point of general interest and one to which every visitor to the Pan-American must surely wend their way again and again.

PEELING A SHRIMP.

Several Ways of Doing It, but It Is Really a Matter of Practice.

"While in one of the restaurants one day," remarked a rotund, good natured fellow yesterday, "I heard a stranger ask one of the waiters a question that attracted my attention because I have often pondered over the same weighty problem. 'Which is the best way to peel a shrimp?' asked the stranger, and the waiter proceeded to drawl out a long explanation which amounted, after all, to the quintessence of equivocation which Dickens put into the mouth of one of his characters—'still, at the same time, to a certain extent and as far as it goes, of course.' Really this problem of the best method of peeling a shrimp is very important to the man who is fond of tickling his palate with these brown dainties. Fashion has practically given the question over to individual taste and simply calls on every fellow to do the best he can under the circumstances.

"The nicer properties usually observed by the well bred man or woman at the table cannot be respected when one sails into a dainty dish of shrimp, and hence even the ultra fashionables are extremely liberal in the matter, allowing each fellow to use his own judgment. So there are ways and ways of shucking a shrimp, if I may use a cornerib expression. Ask one friend and he will tell you that the quickest and best way is to begin at the head and work your way gradually around the circle to the point of beginning. Ask another friend and he will probably tell you to pinch off the tip of the tail first, remove a few of the short claws, and then rip the monster up the back, as the saying goes, until the head is reached, and then pull off the two side scales that protect the gills—if shrimp have gills—and there you are. He is then skinned from the tip of his tail to his dark brown eyes. One may then pounce upon him without further delay.

"Still another friend will insist that the head should be pinched off first. This, it is contended, will produce a sort of relaxation in the compactness and rigidity of the vertebrae, loosening the cemented joints, as it were, and leaving the lower part of the body practically unattached to the thin shell which incases the meaty and eatable part of the shrimp. But other men who are equally as well versed in the anatomy of the shrimp insist that just the reverse is true, and that pinching the head off first produces a certain muscular rigidity which greatly delays the peeling process and makes the task more difficult.

"So there are many ways of peeling a shrimp, and the fellow described in the old saw who was so stingy that he would 'skin a flea for its hide and tallow' was confronted by no more difficult undertaking than the average man who sits down with a dish of river shrimp before him. For the benefit of those who are not accustomed to handling shrimp at the table and who rarely have an opportunity to enjoy this delicacy I would suggest that in the first place they remove the thingomado, then pinch off the dofunnys, slit the whatyoumaycallit, and pull it off, and then you have the whole capoodle. But really peeling shrimp is a matter of practice, and every fellow does it in his own way after all."

The Credit of a Good Dinner.

"Everything," says Yuan Mei, a Chinese writer, "has its own original constitution, just as each man has certain natural characteristics. If a man's natural abilities are of a low order, Confucius and Mencius themselves would teach him to no purpose. And if an article of food is in itself bad not even I-ya (the soyer of China) could cook a flavor into it."

Yuan then goes on to show what care must be exercised in the choice of food.

"A ham is a ham, but in point of goodness two hams will be as widely separated as sky and sea. A mackerel is a mackerel, but in point of excellence two mackerel will differ as much as ice and live coals. And other things in the same way. So that the credit of a good dinner should be divided between the cook and the steward, 40 per cent to the steward and 60 per cent to the cook."

Changing Butterflies.

Butterflies change their color according to the heat of the atmosphere. This interesting fact was discovered by M. Sandfuss of Zurich, Switzerland, who subjected 40,000 butterflies to experiments under different degrees of the sun's heat. On one occasion, it being unusually cold in Switzerland, a butterfly common there took on an appearance of a butterfly from Lapland. On the other hand, butterflies which were subjected to a higher degree of solar heat than the normal looked as if they had been born and raised in Corsica or Syria. One result of these novel experiments is the production of butterflies of an entirely new type, some of them being of bewildering beauty.

A Prune.

CORPORATION MAKES GAINS.

Three More of the Steel Trust's Mills Set to Work.

Pittsburg, Aug. 20.—The Steel Corporation made a series of gains yesterday. The Monessen steel mills were partly put in motion by strike breakers gathered in the Southern States. Two more mills in the Painter plant were also started up, and another large mill at the Clark property was opened for the first time. There was great disorder in the streets of Monessen. Preparations are being made for the re-opening of the Star tin mills in this city, and for increasing the force at the Lindsay & McCutcheon mills, and other strongholds will be invaded in a few days.

At a meeting of the Switchmen's Union of North America here yesterday it was decided that a strike in sympathy with the steel workers could not be ordered, but the heartiest moral and financial support was tendered to the strikers.

Chafing and Itching Skin

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

There is always mystery and doubt about the action of internal remedies. Time is required for the medicine to take effect. It is different with Dr. Chase's Ointment, for it is applied externally and you are sure to be surprised at the remarkable change it brings about in a few hours. Its cleansing, soothing, healing action allays inflammation and irritation, removes redness and roughness of the skin, and leaves the skin delightfully smooth, soft and velvety.

Notwithstanding its powerful action in the severest cases of skin disease, Dr. Chase's Ointment can be used with perfect safety on the most tender skin, and is especially suited for the chafings, itchings and irritations which are so troublesome during the hot summer weather. Ladies keep constantly in their toilet, and mothers who have used it in place of powders for their babies, would not think of changing. It does not clog the pores of the skin, as do powders, does not stain the linen, and is pleasant to use.

Mr. Hiram Frey, Norwood, Ont., states: "I was troubled for ten years with eczema on one leg. The itching was terrible, and when it was scratched the blood would come. The doctors could not cure me. Fortunately I heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and its persistent use has completely cured me. There is now no trace of the disease left. My little girl two years old has also been cured of eczema by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Her face was a mass of sores and we had to bandage her hands to keep her from scratching it. To-day her face is clear of even the scars which the ugly sores made, and she is thoroughly cured. I am glad of an opportunity to let people know what a blessing Dr. Chase's Ointment has proved itself to us."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is the standard ointment the world over. It promptly and thoroughly relieves and cures eczema, salt rheum, and the most torturing forms of itching skin disease. Sixty cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

BIRD CHIRPS.

The residents of Red Bank, N. J., place iron screens over their house chimneys to keep ospreys (fishhawks) from building nests therein.

English sparrows in groups will discuss and lament when one of their number falls into a trap, but when a robin or any other species is caught they pay no attention to the victim.

The delicate chimney swift secures the material for its nest by breaking tiny twigs from certain trees. It accomplishes this with its feet, in which the material is also carried to the home site.

The cries of sea birds, especially sea gulls, are valuable as danger signals. The birds cluster on the cliffs and coasts, and their cries during great fogs warn boatmen that land or rocks are near at hand.

A crow's nest was taken from the top of a 50 foot oak tree on Goat island, right over Niagara falls, and a pair of chimney swifts nested in the open top of a 15 foot sewer in Central park, New York.

In the deserts of Arizona there is a large species of woodpecker which pecks the telegraph poles almost to shreds, imagining the humming sound of the vibrating wires is made by insects beneath the wood surface.

The goldcrest is the least of British birds, it being only half the weight of a bronze halfpenny. Its tiny crown is decorated with a touch of vivid gold of a brilliance and beauty entirely unsurpassed.—Amateur Sportsman and Sportsman's Magazine.

They Don't Care For Dress.

Though Wall street men dress well as a rule, the brokers who do most of their work on the floors of the several exchanges seem at times like mobs of "ole clo'es" men. Antique coats, rumpled and rusty, are the rule—any old thing that will stand the strain of much elbowing and some pulling and hauling. Later in the day these men make themselves more presentable. It is only while they are busy with the gymnastics of buying and selling that they are a disreputable looking lot. One must go, though, to the New York real estate salesroom to see the choicest specimens of ancient and sorry attire. There you may look on men who, if they wished, could array themselves in the finest of garments and come and go in automobiles, but they do not care for that sort of thing. They can read their titles clear to lots and houses; they are at the real estate auction room with money in their pockets ready to take title to more lands. Why need they care for dress?

True to His Chum.

It might have been a mistaken idea of boyish honor that prompted him to do it, but who could but admire the spirit of the little fellow who while he lay dying in a New York hospital refused to tell the name of the companion who had pushed him from a freight car and brought him to his death? "Don't cry, mamma," he said after his crushed legs had been amputated. "It wouldn't be fair to tell. He didn't mean to hurt me." And, with his hand clutching his mother's tightly, the boy who was true to his chum even to death passed away.

No Excuse.

The Boss—If we are to retain your services, Mr. Lambkin, you must take more care of your appearance. You look as if you hadn't shaved for a week.

The Clerk—But, sir, I am growing a beard.

The Boss—That's no excuse. You must do that sort of thing out of business hours.

Qualifications of Sea Captains.

On some of the foreign steamship lines the captains are naval officers and in case of war would retain their commands. On the German steamers the officers must serve a year or so in the naval reserve. On the French line each member of the crew must serve for a time on a vessel of war. On the majority of ships, however, the officers are men of the sea who have fought their way up, step by step, entirely by merit and not at all by favor. On the American line even after a man has reached the rank of captain he must pass a rigid examination every five years.

PLANTS AND ANIMALS

AN ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF A BELIEF IN THEIR IMMORTALITY.

The Consciousness Displayed by Plant Life and the Intelligence and Powers of Reason Shown by the Lower Order of Animals.

Dr. Thomas G. Gentry in his book, "Intelligence In Plants and Animals," published by Doubleday, Page & Co., leaves no reason for doubt as to his position in the controversy over the immortality of animals. He says frankly:

I claim not for the lower animals the slightest equality with man. What I claim for them is a higher status in creation than is generally attributed to them. I claim for them a future life where they will receive a just compensation for the sufferings which so many of them have to undergo in this world. Most of the cruelties which are perpetrated upon animals are due to the habit which man has, in his exalted opinion of self, of considering them as mere automata, without susceptibilities, without reason and without the capacity of a future. * * * Not alone are we of the upper walks of being made the possessors of the inner life, but all nature shares it in common with us, and love is its expression and the method of its action.

What are the characteristics of man which justify, which indeed compel, belief in his immortality? First, his mind, intelligence, spirit—call it what you will. But does man alone possess this precious, this indestructible, spirit? The author emphatically rejects the theory. He asserts that the proofs of the spirit are to be seen in intelligence and in the affections, that animals possess both and that even plants show signs of the former.

Through the darkness of the earth the slender radicles of plants make their way. A stone impedes their progress; they turn to right or left before touching it, follow its outline round in an almost parallel course, but never touching. If a worm burrow or some chink in the ground a few inches away offers a path which need not be forced, the radicle turns abruptly and seeks it out. How does this rootlet at once sense and avoid the stone? How conjecture the neighboring but invisible crevice?

There are flesh eating plants, the drosera or sundews. Dr. Gentry says of them: "That these plants manifest a comparatively high order of consciousness there can be no question. Try them with insects or rare bits of meat as articles of diet and in a few hours the leaves will have folded around the food and commenced their curious process of assimilation. Mineral substances, such as bits of chalk, magnesia and small pebbles, have no such effect. They seem to ignore these things just as an intelligent animal would if they were placed by its side."

Certain minute plants have the power of locomotion. They will abandon an arid spot and creep toward moisture. If a poisonous fluid be placed in their path, they will avoid it; if a nourishing substance be placed at one side, they will wander toward it. Other plants change the position of their branches or leaves to meet or to avoid the sun. Consciousness, then, clearly appears in plant life. "It is to plants," says the author, "what mind is to man and animals, controlling their actions when such are for their well being and good. If mind persists in a future state, then consciousness, which may be considered as mind in plants, must also persist, for it is not likely that the source of all consciousness, which we worship as God, could be unmindful of the least of his children."

And animals? Among them we do not have to seek painstakingly for evidences of consciousness. All have that, all have intelligence in greater or less degree, many have reasoning power, some have the qualities which we are accustomed to regard as purely human—affection, unselfishness, generosity, magnanimity. Memory is a quality so general in animals that it is needless to recount here instances. Generosity is often shown by birds which feed the offspring of others that have been slain. The author cites several cases where the fledgelings and their sponsors were of different varieties. Magnanimity. Who hasn't seen a big dog gently set aside a snarling terrier which he might annihilate with a grip of the jaw if he would? Sometimes it is shown by brutes to less magnanimous men.

So, too, of the less admirable qualities of man—qualities which nevertheless presuppose possession of a mind. The animals have most of them. Malice, pride, jealousy, anger, revenge, have all their exemplifications in the life of dumb brutes. If they have souls to be saved, perchance they have sins to be expiated as well.

How closely the higher orders of animals approach in intelligence the lower orders of men is clearly shown in this book. For a time the exigencies of theology compelled us to regard this gulf as infinite, but one who contrasts the ways of the high bred, well trained house dog with those of some of the more brutalized aborigines will doubt whether the abyss which separates them is so very wide. Animals have some idea of numbers. "The crow has been known to count as far as the number six, and a dog I once had knew as well as I did when Saturday came." There are Australian savages who cannot equal these performances.

"The sense of beauty," continues the author, "which has been declared peculiar to men, is innate in birds. Certain bright colors and certain sounds when in harmony excite in them pleasure as they do in man. * * * If we are to judge from the hideous ornaments and the equally hideous music admired by most savages, it might be urged that their æsthetic faculty was less highly developed than it is in some species of birds."

The author's conclusion may not be shared by all, but all will surely recognize its beauty:

When man was placed on this earth, or rather when in the sequence of events, which was brought about by the prescribed scheme of divinity, he appeared upon the earth, he was given control of all the creatures of God's hands to rule them as his judgment seemed best. They were a necessary part of the plan of creation.

God gave the man directions concerning them and what they are, and we refer to the domesticated species especially. They have thus been made through man's wise, intelligent and thoughtful selection. * * * That they will pass into the future life with him, at least such as have shown their fitness to endure, there can be no doubt in the mind of any one who pauses a few brief moments in the rush and turmoil of everyday life and considers the matter with all due seriousness.

All existence, as we have elsewhere claimed, is a unit. All life, like all love, is divine. There can nothing exist that does not contain some sort of development of soul. There is no escape from this assertion. Instead of isolating ourselves, then, from the humbler creatures of God's workmanship let us recognize them as our kin and include them in the grand scheme of redemption and as partakers with us in the future state of Divine Love and in higher and endlessly higher developments and progress.

SURPRISE

GET UP!

That's the morning call of Chanticleer. It's a welcome cry to a well man. But to a man whose sleep seems to have been only an unrefreshing stupor; who wakes with burning eyes, throbbing head, and a bad taste in the mouth, it means only a new day's misery.

In such a physical condition health is most surely and swiftly restored by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition, and it cures through the stomach diseases of liver, lungs, kidneys, etc., which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It increases the activity of the blood-making glands, and every organ is benefited by the resulting increase of rich, pure blood.

"Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol and is entirely free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics.

"Your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy have been of great benefit to me," writes (Prof.) Pleasant A. Oliver, of Viola, Fulton Co., Ark. "Before I used the above mentioned remedies my sleep was not sound; digestion bad: a continual feeling of misery. I now feel like a new man. Any one in need of medical treatment for nasal catarrh could do no better than to take treatment of Dr. R. V. Pierce. I know his medicines are all right in this class of diseases."

The Common Sense Medical Adviser, cloth binding, sent free by the author, on receipt of 50 one-cent stamps, to pay expense of customs and mailing only. In paper covers 21 one-cent stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Arsenic Eaters.

Styria, a duchy having a population of about 1,500,000 and lying south of Grats, in the mountainous portion of the great German confederation, is noted for its arsenic eaters. Arsenic eaters abound in every city, village and neighborhood, and in thousands of cases every adult in a family uses it almost the same as sugar, consuming about five and a half grains in the 24 hours.

Why the Mole Is Blind.

The creatures which dwelt in the darkness of the depths naturally lost their powers of vision after awhile. It is the same way with the mole, which is doubtless descended from progenitors which could see. Blindness in the mole is the result of a degeneration of the optic nerve, the consequence of which is that images formed in the eye itself are not transmitted to the animal's consciousness. Occasionally a mole can see a little out of one eye which has retained its communication with the brain.

It is not that the mole is born blind, but that it inherits a tendency to atrophy of the visual organs just as people derive from their parents an inclination to consumption or other diseases. Some day in the future there may be no such thing as a mole that is not entirely and hopelessly blind.

Heads Much Alike.

Most expert craniologists insist that it is extremely difficult to determine sex from the skull, but admit there are a few distinctions which taken together indicate sex. Perhaps the most marked distinction is the prominence of the bony projection over the nose. The skull in man is thicker and stronger, and the mastoid processes beneath the ear are larger. Broca is authority for the opinion that if the skull rests on the mastoid processes it is almost certainly a man's. In woman the top of the head appears flatter, while in man the curve from before backward is more smooth and even. Greek sculptors always recognize this Family Prayers at the Jenkinses'.

A Harlem woman recently decided that family prayers were really necessary to the proper bringing up of her young son Johnnie. Mr. Jenkins, nominal head of the family, didn't exactly see the necessity, but, of course, yielded to his wife. The next morning after breakfast the Jenkinses assembled in the sitting room with a feeling of suppressed excitement at the novel proceedings. After the Scriptural reading they knelt beside a long sofa, Mr. Jenkins at one end, Mrs. Jenkins at the other and Johnnie in the middle. Then Mr. Jenkins offered up a prayer invoking the divine presence.

Jenkins' prayer was long and fervent. After it had continued for five minutes Johnnie got restless, decided it was too monotonous and interrupted in his thin, boyish voice with:

"Yes, Dod; come and stay to dinner!"

Mr. Jenkins concluded his invocation with an abrupt "Amen!" Johnnie safely out of the way, he strangely remarked to his wife, "That's the limit!"

Family prayers have been abandoned at the Jenkinses'.

Fishing Hooks.

Fishing hooks are as old as Adam, made of stone, bone, thorns and any old thing, not to mention deer horn and boars' tusks. The bronze hook of the bronze age was succeeded by the hook of iron. The aborigines of Colombia used gold hooks, while the ancient people of Peru made theirs of copper. The bronze hook of today is considered an expensive luxury. For years the most important seat of fishhook manufacture was Limerick, Ireland, but the once popular Limerick has been superseded by several styles of American make that are not only much cheaper, but are not inferior. As for our fine rods—well, we have them from two and one-half ounces up to ten pounds, and some of them can be tied in bowknots. Of course our lines are unequaled.

Wild Zebras.

The zebra when wild is a ferocious animal, and an unwary hunter is likely to suffer from its teeth and hoofs. The author of "Kloof and Karroo" says that a Boer in Cape Colony had once forced a zebra to the brink of a precipice, when the desperate creature turned upon him, attacked him with its teeth and actually tore one of his feet from the leg.

Another author writes of a soldier who mounted a half domesticated zebra. The creature, after making the most furious attempts to get rid of its rider, plunged over a steep bank into the river and threw the soldier as it emerged.

While the man lay half stunned upon the ground the zebra quietly walked up to him and bit off one of his ears.

The Penalty of Being Idle.

Idleness is at the bottom of the drunkenness, gluttony and sensuality which compass the destruction of one section of the community at the present time. It is at the bottom of that particular form of heartache which is the plague of women—the heartache of a purposeless, miserable existence. Such women often look forward to marriage to cure them, but when they are married and settled the old malady recurs, and in our own day we see them running hither and thither after that elusive something. Others try to find a cure in the suffrage and others again in cigarettes.

SKIN DISEASES.
BOILS AND PIMPLES.

These conditions, although seldom causing death, are not only annoying but loathsome. They indicate either an impure or else a vitiated or weak condition of the blood. Some cases are easily cured but others resist the action of all treatment except Merrill's System Tonic. This medicine has never failed to cure the worst cases when used according to directions. System Tonic cures because it is not only a blood purifier eliminating all poisons through the bowels and kidneys, but a blood builder and tonic as well. Thus after a course of this medicine the blood is pure, rich and healthy. This is the scientific and correct way of curing these diseases. Salves, ointments and washes have only a passing effect but the cures made by Merrill's System Tonic are lasting and permanent. If you have eczema, dry, itching and scaly, or scrofula indicated by sores in the head and dry, scaly skin on the face, or bleeding cracks indicating saltrheum, or boils and pimples of any kind, you will get a cure more rapidly and economically by using Merrill's System Tonic than any other medicine known. By this same combined blood purifying, blood building and muscle toning action Merrill's System Tonic cures all female troubles such as whites, leucorrhœa, falling of the womb and menstrual troubles.

PROVINCIAL RIFLE SHOOTING.

32nd Annual Matches of the Ontario Rifle Association at Long Branch—Slight Decrease in Entries.

Toronto, Aug. 21. — Yesterday morning the thirty-second annual matches of the Ontario Rifle Association began at the Long Branch rifle ranges. In the absence of Captain Cartwright, R. G., Major J. J. Mason, of the 13th, Hamilton, acted as chief executive officer. At 8.30 o'clock the first shot was fired. The light was at first rather hazy, and a tricky wind from around the left front somewhat annoyed the marksmen. It soon cleared up, however, and remained generally favorable all day.

This year the number of entries is slightly below the average. Just 235 men are enrolled on the entry list, against 250 for last year.

For the first time in the history of the association the revolver match was a distinct success, owing chiefly to the efforts of Capt. Mercer, who has devoted considerable attention to the details this year. Entry money was pouring in all day for this and the special series match, both of which will continue during the whole of the meet.

The Canada Company, or "greenhorns'" match is restricted to militiamen who have never won a prize at any rifle match in the Dominion. Five rounds are fired prone at 200 and 500 yards respectively.

These were the first five scores and prizes:

THE PETERBORO' TENNIS CLUB.

Results of Summer Tournament up to Date.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON TEAS.

They Have Been Very Popular During the Season, and Were Largely Patronised.

One of the most flourishing of Peterborough's athletic organizations is the Peterborough Tennis Club which so far this season has out-classed in point of enthusiasm and membership the record of any previous year in its history. The Courts of the Peterborough Tennis Club are on the lawns surrounding Mrs. John Burnham's residence, and they were put into excellent condition before the season opened. Throughout the summer they have been largely patronized by the members of the Club and have been the scene of some exciting finishes between not only the the gentlemen but the lady enthusiasts as well. A very enjoyable feature in connection with the season's sport so far, has been the Saturday afternoon teas which have become a much looked for event. However, no greater interest hovered around any particular feature of the Club's programme than the handicap tournament which has only recently been brought to a close. The annual open fall tournament will be commenced very shortly and the month of September will likely witness much gaiety on the Ashburnham Courts. In the handicap tournament just closed, Mr. G. L. Bourchier won the gentlemen's championship, defeating Mr. F. D. Kerr, by 6-2, 6-3 and 6-1. Miss Annie Hall is in the lead so far in the ladies' singles, and will play off with Miss Dennistoun.

The mixed doubles were won by Miss K. Meade and Mr. Cluxton, who won out from Miss A. Meade and Mr. W. D. Parker by 6-4 and 10-8.

The various draws resulted as follows. The names of the winners, it will be observed, are placed first in each case. The amount of each handicap is placed after the respective names:—

The Cause of Nervous Headache.

This most distressing and common malady doubtless has its origin in some unbalanced condition of the nervous system. Probably the simplest, safest and most efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. Twenty drops in sweetened water gives immediate relief and this treatment should be supplemented by bathing the regions of pain with Nerviline. To say it acts quickly fails to express the result. Sold everywhere in large 25c bottles.

INQUEST AT JUNEAU

Evidence Taken Concerning the Islander Wreck.

DENIAL OF DRUNKENNESS STORY

Mr. Snyder's Evidence at the Inquest Excuses the Captain for Refusing to Allow the Pilot to Beach the Steamer Immediately on Being Struck—Sacrificed for a Stowaway.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 22.—At the inquest held at Juneau into the wreck of the Islander evidence developed which may tend to excuse the captain for not beaching the steamer at once. Mr. Snyder said: "The pilot testified that he was on the bridge, and that as soon as she struck he told the captain that he was going to beach her, but the captain said: 'No, there's a better place about three miles from here, and she will easily float that long.' There was a stowaway in the forward water-tight compartment. When the vessel struck the water rushed in on him and he set up a big howl, and being immediately under the sailors' quarters, one of them thoughtlessly rushed down and opened the compartment, which allowed the sea to come rolling into the hold, carrying the body of the stowaway and the sailor with it. This was done without the captain's knowledge, and I think excused him for thinking the vessel would float several hours, which it would have done had the water-tight compartment not been opened, and he could have beached her in a small bay about three miles away." It was established that if the pilot had carried out his intention he could have gotten her on the beach without the loss of any lives except the stowaway.

The Officers Were Not Drunk.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 22.—Passengers give an unqualified denial to the report that the captain and pilot were drunk. When the accident occurred the skipper was enjoying refreshments after his turn on watch, but the moment the shock came he rushed up stairs two steps at a time, and all agree that on the bridge until the noble craft disappeared almost from under his feet, he was cool, collected and deliberate in giving his orders, attributes never associated with a drunken man. The same may be said of the pilot.

Judge Craig Not Aboard.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—The report sent out from Toronto that Judge Craig of the Yukon had resigned, and was coming out on the Islander is not credited. He has not resigned, but it is expected he will come out in September.

HORROR UPON HORROR.

Another Accident in Cleveland's Deadly Tunnel in Which Five Men Lose Their Lives.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 22.—As the result of an explosion of gas in the new waterworks tunnel under Lake Erie on Tuesday night five more lives were added to the already long list of casualties recorded since work began on the great artificial waterway.

The dead are: Ray Treadshaw, James Williams, Daniel Higgins, James Dallincourt, John Bert.

Crib No. 3, five miles from shore, two miles beyond crib No. 2, where nearly a dozen lives were lost a week ago, was the scene of the latest accident. The work of sinking the big intake shaft at this point was completed Tuesday, and five workmen were engaged in digging a tunnel in the direction of No. 2 crib, when the explosion occurred.

An immense volume of water from the lake rushed in upon the unfortunate workmen at the bottom. Two men who were at work at staging at the top of the shaft were blown high into the air, but alighted on the crib and were not seriously injured.

The accident occurred early Tuesday night, but nothing was known of it on shore until yesterday. For some unexplained reason no boats are kept at the cribs. Thirty men who were on the crib when the explosion took place, spent the night vainly signalling for assistance. It was long after daylight before a tug reached them.

WINDSOR'S GAS SUPPLY.

Waterworks and Street Railway at Present Cut Off.

Toronto, Aug. 22.—W. J. McKee, M.P.P. for North Essex, called upon Attorney-General Gibson yesterday morning.

Windsor people, according to Mr. McKee, are beginning to entertain hopes of a better gas supply. The Interior Construction Company was notified by the Provincial Government last April that within three months its occupation of the river bed must cease. On the 25th of July, then, the company's subaquatic gas main, which supplies Detroit, should have been removed. It is understood that the removal will take place immediately. On August 25th Detroit will have no Canadian gas.

At present the United Oil and Gas Company finds that both Detroit and Windsor cannot be supplied. The Windsor waterworks and electric railway have therefore been cut off.

On the first of next month the charge for gas will be raised from 25c. to 30c. per thousand feet, about the same as the price of coal.

Shelburne Farmer Dead.

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—John Patterson, a respected farmer of the Shelburne, Ont., district, who came to Winnipeg with the first harvesters, died Tuesday night in St. Boniface Hospital. Deceased was taken ill shortly after his arrival here, and went to the hospital for treatment. Death resulted from an obstruction of the bowels.

Clare Was Accidently Killed.

Toronto, Aug. 22.—At the General Hospital last night the inquest on the body of John Clare, the G. T. R. section foreman, who was fatally injured at Port Huron last Saturday night, was concluded. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

FRANCE AND TURKEY.

Diplomatic Relations Formally Broken Off.

BULGARIA AT TURKEY'S HEELS.

Ottoman Troops in the Disputed Territory Not Yet Withdrawn—Situation Is Critical—Danger of a Clash—The Cause of the Porte's Unpleasantness With France Fully Explained.

Constantinople, Aug. 22. — The French Ambassador, M. Constans, has notified the Sultan's First Secretary, that all diplomatic relations between France and Turkey are broken off, and that the Ambassador has informed his government to this effect.

It is reported that the Bulgarian forces on the frontier at Secatash have been reinforced, and it is feared that unless the two companies of Ottoman troops occupying Klisobair (disputed territory across the Bulgarian frontier) promptly evacuate the consequences will be serious.

The Situation Explained.

Paris, Aug. 22.—A high official of the Foreign Office yesterday informed the correspondent of the Associated Press that the exact situation at Constantinople is as follows:

"The Sultan, at the last audience which he granted to M. Constans, the French Ambassador, agreed to send the latter the same or the following day a document giving complete satisfaction to France regarding the claims of French citizens in the matter of the quays, in accordance with the terms arranged between the Sultan and M. Constans verbally. Instead of doing this, the Sultan waited until yesterday, when he sent M. Constans a document in which the terms differed essentially from those arranged at the audience. Thereupon M. Constans declined to negotiate any further or to hold other communications with the Porte, and referred the matter to the French Foreign Office. His despatch to that effect arrived last night. As the matter stands, relations between M. Constans and the Porte are broken off, but France and Turkey are still in diplomatic relations through the Turkish Ambassador at Paris.

"If the Sultan does not keep the promises which he made at the last audience," continued the informant of the correspondent of the Associated Press, "we will have to recall M. Constans and send the Ambassador his passports. A solution one way or the other is probable within the next two days."

NO CHANGE WEDNESDAY.

Many Steel Strike Rumors, But All Were Discredited by the Leaders on Both Sides.

Pittsburg, Aug. 22.—The steel strike situation underwent no change yesterday. There was no extension of the strike, and the steel managers did not attempt to start more mills.

The Monessen plant is moving ahead under full crews, and their Crescent Works at Cleveland has about half the machinery in operation. There has been no break in the Carnegie group, and the mills that have been started with non-union men since the strike began are going ahead with about the same force of men.

On the streets it was a day of exciting rumors, beginning with a circumstantial story of a plat to destroy the Monongahela tin plant, and ending with a tale of the removal of the largest plants of the United States Steel Corporation to England. Between the two, rumors again settled the strike in several ways. At headquarters, cold denial was given to all the interesting stories. It was another day of peace in all the strike districts, although the general probability of trouble still holds good at the places where the feeling runs high.

How Production is Affected.

National Tube Company—Capacity 1,000,000 tons, 55 per cent. idle.

American Tin Plate Company — Capacity 3,000,000 tons, 95 per cent. idle.

American Sheet Steel Company — Capacity 4,000,000 tons, 85 per cent. idle.

Federal Steel Company—Capacity, 2,500,000 tons, 35 per cent. idle.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Hon. J. M. Gibson, acting Premier, has received a letter from Hon. G. W. Ross, now in Great Britain, containing the pleasing information that the Premier's health is much improved by his journey, and that he will be home in September.

We congratulate our sister province, Quebec, upon having this year for the first time in her history closed its fiscal year with a surplus of receipts over expenditure. The surplus over total expenditures including everything in $60,214, and the provincial finances are in such a condition as to warrant the prospect of paying off the funded debt of $24,933,444. The Liberal Government of Hon. Mr. Marchand, began its career by decreasing expenditure and it has continued its betterment of the provincial finances till a surplus of receipts has at length replaced the deficets that were the rule for years.

It will be no fault of the Hon. Mr. Tarte, says the Ottawa Free Press, if the navigation of the St. Lawrence is not very soon brought up to a condition of security and efficiency for purposes of navigation, such as it has never before possessed. A very important report has just been presented to the Minister by Mr. H. E. Cowie of Sorel, who has been in charge of the works, stating that the channel from Cap St. Michel to Contrecoeur will shortly be completed, giving a continuous stretch of clear navigation thirty feet deep and four hundred in width. The channel will be so lighted as to make navigation at night as safe as by day. A novel improvement is also proposed, namely, the erection of beacons, or discs, on headlands, which are not visible to a ship by reason of windings in the river. These run up to a considerable height, will be seen by ships for some distance, and give a clear idea of the course.

One of the most important explanations, apart from unduly small natural increase, of the unsatisfactorly showing in the census returns made of Ontario, is furnished by the figures of homestead entries in Western Canada. What a draft upon the population these represent is easily demonstrated. Take the single year 1900, the total number of persons from the several provinces making homestead entries was 2,647. Of these 1,887 were from the province of Ontario and 760 from the other provinces. Ontario in the year 1900 lost nearly three times more population to the west than all the other provinces combined. Assuming that each homestead entry represents a family of three, that would make the loss of population of Ontario last year the considerable figure of 5,661. The homestead entries made by Quebec totalled only 201. So that while Ontario lost 5,500, Quebec lost only 600. This operating from year to year in a similar ratio would very largely account for the small increase of the population of Ontario compared to Quebec.

In an article published in another column, the Montreal Witness discusses the existence of social conditions in Ontario, which not only account for the lesser natural increase of population in this province, as compared with Quebec, but also threatens the perpetuation of the race. It is a serious matter, and one well worth careful study. In Quebec marriage is looked upon as an inevitable condition of reaching the years of adult manhood and womanhood, but in Ontario marriage is so serious a matter that the union of the sexes is becoming less and less a custom. Modern conditions discourage matrimony. Young persons have large ideas. They are not content, as their fathers were, to make humble beginnings, and few are willing when they undertake marriage and home-making to begin in any less pretentious style than their parents now live in—parents in many cases who began with little, and by thrift and co-operation of husband and wife, have reached comfortable conditions of worldly possessions. Therefore the feeling of young men is that they cannot afford to marry, and when we find young women generally prepared to demand as a sine qua non of marriage a domestic establishment as complete and elaborate as that which the toil, thrift and self-denial of years has brought the parents, the lack of marriage is to a large extent explained. And after marriage in Ontario children, which are welcomed in Quebec homes, no matter how fast they arrive, are apt to be in many cases regarded as more a calamity than a blessing. The causes lying behind these conditions present a subject for serious thought, all the more since they obviously cannot be discussed in the public press.

THE SUN AS A PHYSICIAN.

The latest health fad is one that may be easily and cheaply indulged by everybody, and it has the merits of being free from any deleterious effects and of having the approval of all schools of medicine. It is nothing more or less than the sun bath. Not the mere exposure of the hands and face to the rays of the sun, but the subjecting of the entire surface of the body to their influence. The success attending this form of treatment in Berlin is said to have been such as to make it quite fashionable. Open courts have been provided in which these sun baths may be enjoyed, and gymnasium conveniences are provided so that exercises may be combined with the sunning process The treatment has been found to be especially beneficial in cases of general debility, neurasthenia, and the various forms of prostration and malnutrition. It is proposed to combine with the sun treatment special remedies for individual cases, and the physicians are hopeful of working a revolution.

Sunlight and fresh air are the enemies of decay. Few of us take enough of either. The man whose blood is well purified by the sunkissed oxygen, who is regular in his habits and who takes sufficient exercise to keep his joints loose, is the best sort of patient to have.

Go out and take a sun bath and inflate your lungs.

JUST WHY

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablet has a Record of Cures Unparalleled.

Because it is not an experiment, not a "cure-all," but a modern, up-to-date formula, thoroughly tried and tested on many hundreds of cases in private practice, hospital and outdoor clinics.

A medicine that has kept pace with the times and the advancement of medical science. A medicine confined to a practical range. One that that does not promise more than it can do.

A backache, kidney, bladder tablet, pure and simple, the same yesterday, to-day and to-morrow. This great kidney medicine is a boon alike to the young, the middle-aged and the aged.

It was the people who successfully used Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets that applied to it the term: "The Great Kidney Medicine," because it removed symptoms like the following that were staring them in the face every day, all the result of disordered kidneys—

Backache.
Pain in the back.
Weak, sluggish circulation.
Puffy or dark circles under the eyes.
Urine cloudy, milk-like or stringy dark in colour, or offensive.
Painful, scalding sensation in passing it.
Dull, heavy headache, tired, dizzy feeling, faint spells, irregular heart beats.
Urinary weakness, compelling frequent attention during the day, and to get up many times during the night.
Restless, sleepless nights. Fagged out, run down and irritable.

These are some of the danger signals nature sets to show the track of health is not clear, but kidneys clogged and Bright's disease stealing in.

If you are convinced Pitcher's Tablets are what you want, you can purchase them at your druggist's for 50 cents a bottle. If not obtainable at druggists, mailed free of postage on receipt of price.

IRON INDUSTRY GROWS.

Heads the List in Ontario Mineral Production.

Native Ores Displacing the Imported Article—Mineral Product Increased 13 Per Cent. as Compared With Last Year's Production.

The output of the metalliferous mines and works in Ontario for the six months ending June 30th, as reported to the Bureau of Mines, shows an increase in value of 13 per cent. compared with the same period of last year. The total value in that period this year was $1,438,539, compared with $2,541,131 for the whole of 1900. A feature of the returns is that pig iron heads the list, with a value of $594,617. This required 69,763 tons of iron ore, of which 41,172 tons were the product of Ontario mines, and 28,591 tons were imported from the United States. Formerly the bulk of the pig iron produced in Ontario was smelted from Northern Michigan ore, but, as the present figures show, this is not now the case, hematite from the Helen mine at Michipicoten having largely taken the place of the imported article. Magnetite from eastern Ontario was also used to some extent.

The production of nickel was second in the list in the point of value, reaching $416,288. Nickel-copper ore to the extent of 132,370 tons was raised from the Sudbury district, of which there were smelted 95,573 tons. The Mond Nickel Company have started their plant at Victoria Mines, and are now producing matte. Of purely copper ores 9,000 tons were raised. Of gold ore 25,225 tons were crushed, and of silver ore 4,560 tons were raised. The old Victoria silver mine at Echo Lake has resumed operations.

Quantity.	Value.
Iron ore, 68,564 tons	$ 70,572
Pig iron, 41,294 tons	594,617
Nickel, 3,904,000 pounds	416,288
Copper, 3,638,000 pounds	178,476
Arsenic, 591,054 pounds	18,912
Gold, 6,646 ounces	116,898
Silver, 68,200 ounces	40,776

MOUNT PLEASANT.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Our public school teacher, Mr. Mills, has returned to town again, after spending his vacation in the country with his relatives. No doubt he will now feel better able to perform the responsible duties devolving on him.

Mr. H. J. McLean has gone to Toronto for the purpose of purchasing a stock of fall goods suitable for the fall trade. Look out for bargains now.

Mrs. Wess Elliott is enjoying life at the home of the late John Elliott. The bracing air of this town has a restoring effect on those who need a change of air.

We are pleased to see Miss Minnie McLean, of Toronto, returning again to her native home, to view the improvements made in the town during her absence. The want of that electric power from Burleigh Falls is a great hindrance to the prosperity of the town. Why the delay in erecting the poles, and transmitting the power to those distant points that require it? So as to errect places for the much needed and long looked for machinery to be put in motion for the benefit of this town and the surrounding country.

The root crops have been very much improved by the late rains.

The Canadian Settlement in North Dakota is rejoicing over the good crops that they are now cutting. In a letter received from W. H. Best, he says:—"We had a very dry spring up to June, which was all wet. July was very warm with some showers. The crops are the best that have been for some years; there are some good crops of flax, which is worth $1.75 per bushel. The weather is fine now for harvesting it will be a busy time now. Help seems to be plentiful, but wages are high; $2.00 and $2.50 per day is the wages paid men during the harvest time. It will require a great quantity of twine."

The above is from a letter written bya brother of Mr. Valentine Best, of Peterborough, which was dated the 13th of August, 1901, Centre N. Dakota. We are glad to hear of the prosperity of our Canadian friends in that far away frozen region of Uncle Sam's territory.

The sermon by the Methodist minister, Rev. Mr. Mounteer, on Sunday the 17th inst., was one of great moment, and worthy of publication. His text was the last clause of the 1st verse of the 8th chapter of 1st Corinthians.

Rev. W. Kannawin is giving a series of sermons on the 6th chapter of Isaiah.

There will be no service at Mount Pleasant on the 24th inst. in the Presbyterian Church, Mr. Kannawin is taking his holidays.

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty. Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurance in force to the extent of $16,759,355.92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634.68. The increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,278.76.

FILLED WITH GAS.

Every Meal was a Fresh Cause for Pain and Distress.

One of the most unpleasant results of Dyspepsia is the formation of gas in the stomach. This arises from the sodden, undigested mass of fermenting food which the weakened stomach has been unable to assimilate.

Any person troubled with gas in the stomach should remember that a Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablet swallowed after meals will prevent the fermentation of food and the subsequent formation of gas. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets actually digest the food sent to the over-charged or worn out stomach which cannot of itself manage its own work.

Pastry, for instance, causes pain and discomfort to a great many Dyspeptics. It doesn't to those who use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, because the moment one starts to use them one is, practically speaking, no longer a Dyspeptic.

One is no longer a Dyspeptic when one's food digests all right. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets digest the food food perfectly. Heart Burn, Gas, Waterbrash, Pain in the Stomach, cease, and it is only then a matter of time before Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure the stomach of its disease or weakness permanently.

"For eight years," writes Mr. William Bangerth, 20 York street, Hamilton, Ont., "I have been a sufferer with Dyspepsia. I could not eat a hearty meal for fear of being taken with those dreadful pains. If I should eat any kind of pastry I would suffer after with Heartburn, and my stomach would fill with gas. My digestive organs failed to do their work in spite of all the remedies I used. My friends advised me to take a treatment with the doctor, but I not thinking that any result would come from it, refused to have such an operation as was suggested. An acquaintance who had used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets advised me to try them. I have now used two boxes, and am able to eat a hearty meal without any fear whatever."

SIR WILFRID'S REPLY

The Premier's Open Letter to Mr. R. L. Richardson of Lisgar.

CANADA AND THE BOER WAR.

Canada Has Paid Out a Little More Than $2,000,000 for Contingents, But British Government Has Bought Over $4,000,000 Worth of Supplies for the War in this Country.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has addressed the following open letter to Mr. R. L. Richardson, ex-M. P. for Lisgar:

"Ottawa, Aug. 22, 1901.

"Sir,—Your open letter of the 14th inst. has just reached me.

"If the form of this attack was to draw my attention, I have no objection to express to you my appreciation of it, since it exposes in its true light, exactly as he is, the modern Pharisee, who has long proclaimed to the world that he is not as other Liberals.

"You charge me, for the hundredth time, with having abandoned the principles of the Liberal party since I became Prime Minister; with having deserted the cause of the settlers of the west; with having allowed corruption, political insanity and debauchery to flood the Legislature; and, summing up the whole of my iniquities, you aver as my 'chief crime the blow struck at the moral standards of the people.' You proclaim that it is 'within your right, to say nothing of your duty, to publicly protest if the platform is completely ignored and repudiated.'

"I leave the public, to whom you appeal, to judge of the sincerity of all this foam and froth, but just placing before their eyes the last crime for which you arraign me, and this I do in the language of your indictment. Thus opens your letter: 'As a result of recent judicial pronouncement, I find myself, so to speak, a statesman out of a job. It is probably not necessary for me to inform you of the decision in question, as you are doubtless fully apprised of it, and, I am convinced, far from disappointed at its affect. If there were any doubt on this point, you certainly would have raised the hand to interfere, and called off the political dogs of war whom you knew well were pursuing me. No man knew better than you the history and facts connected with the case, and that you stood by and allowed a political crime which you could have stopped by raising a finger to be perpetrated, proves that if you were not primarily responsible you were at least particeps criminis.'

"From all this it appears that you were accused of being elected through bribery, corruption and violation of the law; that for this you were brought to account before the courts; that the charges were found to be true, and that as a consequence you were deprived of your seat in Parliament by sentence of the judicial authority. From all this it likewise appears that, according to your construction of those principles of morality of which you have been the loud champion, it was my duty 'to raise my hand to interfere' in your behalf; to 'call off the political dogs of war, whom I knew were pursuing you,' and to allow the crime against the positive law of the land, by which you had obtained your seat, to remain undetected and unpunished, and this refusal on my part you call a crime.

"You say so in many words that 'no man knew better than I did the history and facts connected with the case,' and that, knowing such history and facts, 'I stood by and allowed a political crime which I could have stopped by raising a finger to be perpetrated,' and that all 'this proves that if I was not primarily responsible I was at least particeps criminis.' So, you call the public to witness that in your estimation when you were charged with having been elected by fraud, and assistance from some of those public corporations which you so often denounced with apparent indignation, it was a crime on my part to allow the law to take its course and to let it be proved that you were guilty as charged. If I were to enter into any defence, I might urge that little did I suppose that the apostle of virtue would expect to be shielded from his own derelictions by him whose chief crime he had often declared 'was the blow struck at the moral standards of the people.'

"But I enter into no defence. I do not feel called upon to do so. The public have now the exact measure of what is your conception of 'the moral standards of the people,' and they will now understand the true inwardness of your shrieks against 'political debauchery.' They will come to a conclusion which others, better and more early informed, had had an opportunity of forming and had formed.

"I have the honor to be, sir, your obedient servant. (Signed) Wilfrid Laurier.

"R. L. Richardson, Esq., Winnipeg, Man."

Canada and the War.

Canada's expenditure up to date in connection with the South African contingents has been a little over $2,000,000, but the country has already been repaid this summer in the shape of contracts for hay and food products for the British army, and, in addition, $2,000,000 have gone into the pockets of the people. Prof. Robertson, Commissioner of Agriculture, states that his department has paid out up to date $4,000,000 for supplies which have been sent to South Africa. The Department of Agriculture has, of course, acted as the agent for the British Government in this matter. Prof. Robertson left yesterday afternoon for St. John, N. B., to inspect a shipload of hay, oats, etc., which is required for army purposes in South Africa. Two more shiploads will leave during the balance of this month, and another five shiploads will be sent in September from St. John.

South African Medals.

A cablegram received from the War Office states that the clasps for the South African medals are being forwarded to Canada. There is now very little doubt that the clasps will be here in ample time for presentation to the men who served in the Boer war at the same time as the medals.

O. R. A. RIFLE MATCHES.

Second Day at Long Branch Ranges Was Not Favored by the Best of Weather —Two Matches Shot.

Toronto, Aug. 22.—Two more matches in the O.R.A. meet were shot yesterday under adverse weather conditions. Besides the shooting, the semi-annual general meeting was held at 1.30 p.m., in the pavilion, with Major. J. J. Mason, 13th, in the chair.

The following were appointed to represent the association at the Council of the D.R.A.: Lt.-Col. White, 30th; Lt.-Col. Anderson, R.O.; Lt.-Col. Macdonald, 48th; Major J. J. Mason, 13th; Capt. J. E. Hutcheson, 43rd; Capt. A. T. Kirkpatrick, Q.O.R.; Capt. A. A. Smith, 59th.

The committee to select the provincial eight in the London Merchants' Cup at the D.R.A. meet will consist of Col. J. Hughes, Lt.-Col. Bruce, 10th; Major Helmer, 43rd; Capt. J. Crowe, 80th.

Sgt. Davis, 68th, suggested that standing at 200 yards be abolished. Capt. Dillon complained of the conditions of the Osler match, which debarred the use of orthoptics, verniers, etc.

Capt. Ford, 12th, wanted the rules changed so that a tyro winning a prize in the Canada Company should still remain a tyro. Sgt. Phillips, R. G., suggested that the standing position be abolished entirely. All these proposed innovations were taken note of and will be duly threshed out at the annual meeting next March.

The Revolver match and the Extra Series matches continued merrily all day. The finals will be shot off today. Pte. Maclaren, 48th Highlanders, leads the revolver competition with a score of 85 out of a possible 42.

Shooting in the Osler match commenced punctually at 8.15. A heavy fog hanging over the targets troubled the men somewhat, but three possibles were made. The match was first fired under service conditions, which prohibited the use of slings, verniers, and orthoptics. Seven rounds were fired at 500 yards. The first four with scores were:

$8	Pte. G. Milligan, 77th	35
8	Capt. T. Mitchell, U. L.	35
8	Corp. W. Sutherland, 7th Fus	35
6	Surgeon-Major J. Ross, 77th	33

The first stage of the "City of Toronto" match was shot off under rather peculiar conditions. Towards 5 o'clock a dense fog settled down over the ranges, completely obscuring the targets. It was half an hour before the men were able to continue again. Seven rounds were fired at 500 yards and ten at 600. The first 50 competitors in the list shot yesterday at 500 yards, to decide their positions. The first five prize winners and their scores are:

Capt.	T. Mitchell, R. L.	82
Capt.	D. J. C. Munro, 44th	81
L. Corp.	W. J. Cook, R.G.	80
Gunner	A. Fleming, 5th R.C.A.	80
Major	A. M. Rogers, 43rd	77

First prize, Queen's Own Rifles, Ladies' Challenge Cup and $25, 371.

Second Prize, British Columbia Rifle Association, $25, 364.

Third Prize, 43rd Regiment, $20, 362.

Fourth Prize, Hespeler Rifle Association, $15, 362.

Fifth Prize, 48th Highlanders, $10, 360.

The Cause of Nervous Headache.

This most distressing and common malady doubtless has its origin in some unbalanced condition of the nervous system. Probably the simplest, safest and most efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. Twenty drops in sweetened water gives immediate relief and this treatment should be supplemented by bathing the regions of pain with Nerviline. To say it acts quickly fails to express the result. Sold everywhere in large 25c bottles.

It was decided to urge on the Dominion Government the necessity of reducing drop letters postage to one cent.

A motion was also passed that no elector be allowed to vote at civic or municipal elections without the payment of taxes.

Possibly the buyer who comes with the idea of getting just what one is looking for may not see the exact thing, but will find the very best value in Shoes, and well worth wearing. No question of style, durability or material. Just odd lines to clear.

The friends of Mr. Maguire will be pleased to note his recovery from his recent indisposition.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Hamilton are in town having just returned from a trip down the Saguenay.

Mr. E. W. Cox has recovered sufficiently from his recent attack of typhoid fever as to be able to sit up.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor returned last night from a six week's visit to the northern part of his diocese.

Miss King, of St. Catharines, a former graduate of Nicholls Hospital, is spending a while in town the guest of Mrs. (Dr.) Carmichael.

Mr. Dick Wilson, who has been visiting Miss Violetta E. Eyres, Antrim street, for the last two weeks returned home yesterday.

Mrs. W. J. Sims and children have returned from a very pleasant holiday spent at Cape Breton, N. S. Mr. Sims met them at Montreal on the return journey.

Mr. Percy Owens, formerly of town, who now has charge of the Carleton street Methodist Church organ, Toronto, will preside at All Saint's organ on Sunday evening.

Mr. Wm. Choate, of Aurora, Ill., passed through town yesterday, after an extended visit in this vicinity. While in town he was the guest of Mr. A. S. Maguire of McDonnell street.

Mr. Thos. Crowe, who for a number of years was engaged with the firm of Hall & Gilchrist, town, and who has been in Kingston for the last eight years, is in town for a day or so on his way through to Stony Lake where he will spend a couple of weeks. Mr. Crowe is reported to be doing well in the Limestone City.

Hon. J. R. Stratton and Mrs. Stratton returned last evening from a trip to Halifax, Boston and New York. The heat was too intense to permit of the stay in New York being prolonged and consequently Mr. and Mrs. Stratton are again in Canada. Mr. Stratton went up to Toronto this morning and Mrs. Stratton has gone to Stony Lake.

His recent trip to Europe appears to have agreed amazingly well with Hon. Senator Cox's health. He is looking very well indeed, and states that he is feeling exceptionally robust. He was absent for three and a half months, and stated, incidentally, this morning, this is the longest period which has elapsed without Peterborough having received a visit from him.

Mr. J. W. Steelbrooke, formerly a foreman of the Auburn Mills, who has been in California for some time has found it necessary to return to town on account of ill-health, the climate of the south not agreeing with him. Many invalids have gone from Canada to California to seek health, but in this case the conditions are reversed. Being an Oddfellow, Mr. Steelbrooke is receiving the kindly attention of members of Otonabee Lodge, I.O.O.F.

Campers Enjoying Themselves at Crawford's Grove—Boating and Bathing

There is quite a colony of Peterborough residents, who have been located at Craford's Grove, on the Otonabee, for the last month. The intention at first was to tent beneath the pines for a few weeks, but the experience has been so enjoyable that the tents will remain pitched for another month.

Amongst those who are enjoying the summer in this manner are Mr. R. J. Kidd and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Tully, and Master Jack Tully, Mr. Walter Stone and family, Mr. A. E. Metheral and family, and Mr. Nihil Munro and family.

The ladies and children are deserted during the day, while the men are in town attending to business. But six o'clock finds the families re-united to the bread-winners.

The boating and bathing are excellent and are enjoyed to the fullest limit.

SOLDIERS RETURNING.

The Cobourg Garrison Artillery in Town Again.

The Cobourg Garrison Artillery passed through town last night on their way back home after taking part in the annual target practice at Quebec.

The Cobourg boys are to be congratulated upon the success they attained in the competition. They were successful in out-classing the Montreal and Quebec Batteries, and they are in hopes that they will have beaten the Halifax and New Brunswick Batteries which are yet to shoot.

The Cobourg men came in at 4.45, per C.P.R., from the east, and left at 9 o'clock, per G.T.R., for home. They are a first-rate lot of fellows and about half of them are recruits.

Mrs. Morrow's Classes.

Mrs. J. W. Morrow's vocal and instrumental classes will open about September 1st, of which further notice will be given. Those wishing to take lessons will address P. O. box 295, (as Mrs. Morrow is also forming a class in Toronto) so as to arrange as to day and hour. It is seldom, if ever, any town has been found with such a talented artist, and those musically inclined should embrace the opportunity, and thereby reach a higher state of perfection in the art of music. Mr. Carl Friedman, New York's leading vocal teacher, gave Mrs. Morrow the greatest praise as a vocalist and teacher, while Rosenthal, the great European piano virtuoso, personally complimented Mrs. Morrow on her wonderful ability as a pianist. d1.

Our Cashmere Hose for ladies are receiving many warm praises for quality and duration of wear, from 25c to 50c. In children's they run from 15c up. See our boys' line with double knees, heels, soles and toes. They are great wearers. Port Hope Knitting Works.

CEREAL COMPANY NOTES.

Mr. Robt. Stuart, of Chicago, and Hon. Senator Cox Visited the Works This Morning—More Contracts.

Mr. Robert Stuart, of Chicago, secretary of the American Cereal Company, who has had occasion to be in Toronto for the last few days on business, came down to Peterborough last evening with Hon. Senator Cox, and this morning inspected the progress which is being made by Contractor Bogue. They found operations going ahead with a rush. A lot of the excavation work has been completed for the foundation, and the concrete work has been begun. Some difficulty was experienced in reaching a base firm enough for the south wall of the foundation to rest upon, on account of a layer of sand being encountered. This, however, has been penetrated, and the hard-pan was reached to-day. A good deal of excavation was entailed through this circumstance. Mr. Bogue has a large number of men at work, and the pay roll is said to have amounted to $1200 last week.

Mr. Stuart states that the plans and specifications for the big elevator have been completed, and estimates on the cost of erection obtained from a number of well-known contracting firms. Local contractors, however, will have the preference, if their figures are within a reasonable distance of the mark, as the Cereal Company is anxious to throw as much in the way of Peterborough men as can possibly be done, as instanced in the case of the work now under construction.

ILL TREATMENT OF HORSES.

Boys the Principal Offenders—Need of Some Action in This Regard.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir, — The manner and extent to which boys, especially, ill-treat and abuse horses placed in their charge demand some action on the part of authority or philanthropy to prevent or mitigate the cruel and injurious practice. The accident of yesterday afternoon in which five or six young ladies were injured, and narrowly escaped serious hurt, if not death, was, it is said, directly due to the ill-treatment of the horse used on the occasion by the boy who had been trusted to take it to Mr. Kelly's residence. It appears that the lad, instead of directly taking it to the house where it was ordered, drove it about the streets an hour or two, ill-treating it in the process. It is asserted that he would slash the poor brute with the whip, and then violently jerk it upon its haunches by the reins. This treatment set the animal's nerves on edge, and when the young lady took the ribbons, the horse judging from his recent sufferings, expected another blow of the whip, and plunging suddenly, overset the carriage. That he was not a vicious animal is shown by the fact that he almost at once came to a standstill, trembling, but otherwise quiet and tractable.

Every day one sees the boys driving delivery wagons, especially butcher boys, imitating Jehu, and driving furiously, to the injury of horses, and the danger of pedestrians at corners suddenly and recklessly turned by the young scapegraces. It is a wonder that owners of horses treated in this disgraceful way, have so little regard for the value of their horses, not to speak of the outrage to humane feelings involved, as not to prevent such conduct, which is not only a direct loss, but a source of unpopularity, as I can testify, with their lady customers, whose tenderer sympathies are with the abused horses, and their indignation directed against the drivers and their employers. Where is the Society for the prevention of Cruelty to Animals? Why is not some philanthropist looking after a matter which presents such an abundant field for the exercise of their beneficence? A great deal of zeal and righteous indignation is aroused over smaller matters. A man takes a glass of ale, or smokes a pipe or cigarette, and organized effort to suppress such vicious practices comes into action; a pavement is laid down half an inch off grade, and some indignant "Ratepayer" rushes into print to denounce the iniquitous inefficiency of the street authorities; a flower is uprooted in a border, or a boy "fobbles" a pocketful of astringent apples, and the cry of "vandalism," is raised loudly and the police called upon to put the machinery of the law in motion. Yet we see the noblest animal tributary to the use of man, abused, neglected, starved, overdriven, beaten, jerked by the jaws, etc., and no action seems to be taken for its protection. We see every day horses driven, pounded and pushed through the streets, under circumstances which leave no doubt as to which is the bigger brute, the one in the harness, or the other which holds the reins and wields the whip. We see horses worrying along with a dead-alive, listless, dragging gait, and with a display of bones grinning through mangy skins, which suggests on the part of the poor beast a painfully practical ignorance of the existence and use of oats — evidence of long-drawn-out daily cruelty. Will not some one take action? The pitying Lord, whose eye tenderly regards the fall of a sparrow, expects His children to follow His example with beast, as well as man, and also with,

Yours truly,

Woman.

MICHAEL BIRD'S ACCIDENT.

He is Resting Easily at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mr. Michael Bird, who lost his leg on Tuesday last through being caught under the wheels of a freight train at Pontypool, passed a restful night at St. Joseph's Hospital, where he is under treatment. Mr. Bird, who works in the C. P. R. yards at Toronto, has been in the habit of getting a pass over the line to Peterborough, and spending Sunday here. He missed the express train on Tuesday on his way back, and took the next freight which came along. The freight stopped at Pontypool to await the passing of another train, and Mr. Bird stepped off. The freight backed down the siding a piece, and the young man went to jump on between the cars, thinking that the train was leaving. He had a bundle in his hand which interfered with his movements sufficiently to cause him to fall beneath the wheels.

DISORDERLY WEST-ENDERS.

Boys Will Have to Behave Around Whyte's Pond.

Complaints have come in frequently of late concerning the actions of a gang of small boys who congregate in the evenings on the bridge crossing Whyte's pond. Sitting on the railing on opposite sides of the sidewalk, they make it decidedly unpleasant for those who have to run the gauntlet of a cross fire of personal remarks.

The police have determined to put a stop to such proceedings and broke the ice this morning by bringing two of the young urchins before Mr. J. Stevenson, J. P., charged with disorderly conduct. A fine of $1 and costs was imposed on each, and it is understood that in the event of a recurrence of the acts complained of more summary treatment will be meted out to the culprits.

A CARRIAGE OVERTURNED

And the Occupants Thrown out and Injured.

An accident took place yesterday afternoon at the corner of Reid and Simcoe streets, under circumstances which made it a wonder that more serious injuries did not result.

Miss May Kelly, eldest daughter of Mr. Thomas Kelly, Simcoe street, was entertaining Miss Mahoney, of Hamilton, her guest, by a drive around town. They entered a Gladstone carriage at the door of the residence, and they were accompanied by Miss Annie Bogue, daughter of Mr. James Bogue, contractor, and Misses Hilda and Annie Kelly. When the horse started it was seen that he was in an excited condition. The party had just reached Reid street, a few yards distant, when the animal made a sudden plunge or bolt, and the carriage was overturned, throwing out the occupants with more or less violence, the horse seeming content with the mischief he had done, and coming to a standstill. When assistance came the injured persons were looked after. Miss Bogue and Miss Annie Kelly were unconscious, the former sustaining besides the shock and sundry bruises, an injury to the wrist. Little Annie Kelly suffered a green-stick fracture of the collar bone. Miss Mahoney was somewhat bruised, but fortunately not seriously injured. Miss May Kelly, besides the shock and bruises, had her knee severely sprained. Drs. Halliday, Moher and Brown were promptly on hand and attended to the injuries of the party, which, it is a pleasure to say, are not of a serious or permanent character.

A MONSTER 'LUNGE

Caught by Mrs. David Law Down the River.

Mr. David Law has the honour of landing the biggest 'lunge which the Otonabee has given up out of its waters in many a season.

Together with Mr. Law and the family, Mrs. Law is camping on Robinson's Island, down the river, and when out trawling yesterday hooked on to what was thought to be a snag, but it turned out to be "the daddy of them all" in the way of a monster 'lunge. Mrs. Law played the big fellow to a finish, but had to have Mr. Law's assistance in lifting it into the boat.

When weighed, the fish tipped the scales at 24 pounds 8 ounces. It measured 3 feet 8 inches in length and 18 inches in circumference. Mr. Law will have the head dressed and mounted as a curiosity. The body of the fish was sent up to Mr. J. T. Braund, of the north end, who gave his customers a treat to-day.

COUNTY COUNCIL

Met in Committee of the Whole Yesterday Afternoon.

The County Council of the County of Peterborough met in Committee of the Whole yesterday afternoon, the following members being present: Warden Fitzgerald and Councillors Pearce, Eastland, Buck, Jeffs, Costello, Anderson, Shaw, Casement, Crowe and Peck.

The chief business transacted was the letting of the contract for the construction of the west pier of the new Chemong bridge. The same was given to Messrs. McDermid and Bogue at $225.

A deputation composed of A. E. Kennedy, ex-Warden Middleton, Reeve Armstrong, of Smith, and Dan Whetung were present and addressed the members in reference to making more adequate provision for the Indians in the Chemong reservation, getting out to the travelled thoroughfares in the early spring and late fall, when neither the ice or water is available for transportation purposes.

No action was taken, the question being left over to be dealt with at the January session of the council.

The Committee on Equalization of Assessment allowed the valuators, Messrs. Ed. Hawthorne and Robert Edwards, their travelling expenses in addition to their regular allowance of $3.00 per day.

W. KELSEY HALL HAS HARD LUCK.

Loses a Valuable Collection of Stamps in Buffalo.

ROBBED WHILST ASLEEP.

The Collection was Valued at $6000—The Case in the Hands of Detectives—Medals Also Lost.

The Buffalo Courier says: — "W. Kelsey Hall, a visiting philatelist from Peterborough, Ont., who is in the city attending one of the philatelist conventions now in progress here, was the victim of a daring theft on the Midway yesterday afternoon between 4 and 6 o'clock.

"His pocket was picked and $6,000 worth of rare and valuable stamps abstracted, together with a number of medals. Mr. Hall believes the theft occurred while he was in the beautiful Orient.

"The stamps range from $2 in value up to much larger sums and have a catalogue value of at least $6,000. They could be turned into cash immediately for somewhere between $4,000 and $5,000.

"Mr. Hall had the stamps between a book of thin sheets of paper, such as stamp collectors customarily use for that purpose. It did not occur to him that this was a dangerous proceeding, for he has been in the habit of carrying stamps in this way for the past twenty years and has never before had the misfortune to lose any, either by theft or otherwise.

"At the time the theft occurred Mr. Hall was in the company of T. M. Pate of the Magnus Metal Company, with offices in the Ellicott Square.

"Mr. Hall has a complete list of the stamps in the stolen collection and as soon as he discovered his loss immediately reported it to the Exposition police, going for that purpose to the headquarters station in the Service Building. While he was telling his story to a sergeant, Capt. Vallely came in. He immediately discovered that reporters were present and quite as immediately ordered them out of the place.

"When I want you to get any news here," he said, "I'll send for you."

"Mr. Hall, who in addition to being a stamp collector, is the general agent of the Montreal Life Assurance Company of Canada, arrived in Buffalo yesterday morning. While his stamps and medals were stolen his watch and money were left.

"The theft is the largest which has taken place at the Exposition, the value of the stamps exceeding by nearly $2,000 those stolen in the Government Building some weeks ago."

The Express gives the following version of the incident;

"W. Kelsey Hall, a stamp collector and dealer in old and rare coins, lost a valuable collection of stamps and two rare medals in the Beautiful Orient at the exposition yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hall lives in Peterborough, Ontario. He is general Canadian agent for the New York Life Insurance Co. He is in the city to see the exposition and to attend the sessions of the American Philatelic Association which is in convention here.

"Hall visited the exposition grounds yesterday afternoon. In his pocket he had what stamp collectors call an approval book. It is a book in which are pasted stamps which are intended for sale. The stamps are affixed to the leaves of the book in such a way as to be easily detachable. The book was full of rare stamps, which Hall hoped to dispose of to his fellow collectors at the meetings of the Philatelic Club.

"Hall met a few friends at the fair, and after seeing a part of the Midway with them he wandered into the Streets of Cairo. The stump collector was tired. He dropped down on a bench near the coffee house, and soon was fast asleep. During the course of his nap Hall says he dimly remembers being awakened by the sensation of someone pulling at his coat. That fact, it seems, did not impress itself on Hall's mind as being connected with the valuable collection of stamps he had in his pocket, and he slept on. When Hall awoke he put his hand in his coat pocket. The book was gone. Two valuable medals which were in the pocket with the stamp book, were also missing. Hall was dazed and confused. The stamps which he lost were of a variety which could not be duplicated. To a stamp collector they were worth over $2,000. The medals were rare and much sought after by coin collectors. One is known as the Martin Van Buren Peace Medal. It was struck in 1837, and presented to the Indians as a mark of esteem. There are but two or three more like it in existence. The other medal was struck by order of George III of England to be presented to a Chippewa chieftain in token of aid rendered to the British in the war of 1812. Of the stamp collection the cheapest specimen was valued at $2.

"Hall went to the office of the exposition detective bureau and reported his loss.

A BIG FISH.

A Southern Lady Lands a Huge Maskinonge.

Mr and Mrs. Bunch, of Arkansas, who are taking a holiday at the "Kenosha," in Bobcaygeon, on the "Karwartha Lakes," captured the largest maskinonge of the season, while out trawling together on Monday. It measured from tip to tip 4 feet 2 inches; length of head, 14 inches; mouth, open, 7 inches; around body, 22 inches, and weighed 27 1-2 pounds. Mrs. Bunch had to play the fish, while Mr. Bunch rowed the canoe three-quarters of a mile to a suitable landing, and the lady then pulled the monster on the beach.

WHO IS ANNIE YOUNG?

The Lindsay Post says: Annie Young, a Peterborough girl, has been around town for some days consorting with men in obscure places, and yesterday Chief Nevison secured a warrant charging her with being a vagrant, and handed it to Night Constable Reeves. The latter located her at 6 o'clock this morning in a boathouse on the river bank in company with a young man, named F. Kearney. When arraigned she pleaded not guilty and was remanded till Friday for the production of evidence. Her companion, Kearney, was charged with trespass, not being the owner of the boathouse he was occupying, but he proved that he had the right of entry at any time, and the complaint was dismissed.

A Medicine 300 Years Old.

Our readers will probably be surprised to learn that for nearly 300 years cod liver oil has been used as a medicine. During the past twenty five years nearly all the cod liver oil brought to this country from Norway has been used in the form of Scott's Emulsion. It is by all means the most pleasant preparation of cod liver oil you can buy.

MORE HARVESTERS ARRIVE.

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—Another harvest excursion train arrived yesterday morning, and brought about 360 passengers.

W. Stitt, assistant general passenger agent of the C.P.R., says: "We knew from our reports that of the 17,000 harvesters who came to this country from Eastern Canadian points, not more than 200 are now unemployed, and they will be placed in a few days. There was considerable trouble in placing the men, but the delay in suiting the work was apparently inevitable. We announced that there would be work for all who arrived, and our statement is borne out by the advices we received yesterday. If any of the harvesters are unemployed at the end of the week, it will be their own fault. There is work for all at good wages. Only a few of the harvesters have returned to the East."

Wet weather which prevailed for a time yesterday cleared up, and harvesting operations will be recommenced to-day at points where rain was falling yesterday.

New Vital Force for Cells and Tissues.

Chronic Disease Overthrown and the Whole System Revitalized and Reconstructed by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Disease is a tearing down, wasting away, and destroying of the tissues of the body, and a shrivelling up of the nerve cells and blood corpuscles. This wasting process may attack the lungs, the heart, the liver, the kidneys, the bowels, or, as is most frequently the case, result in collapse of the nervous system, prostration, paralysis, or insanity.

You may rest assured that disease will search out your weak spot and gradually gain the upper hand. Nature alone cannot end this wasting process. External assistance is absolutely necessary, as you know too well, if you have been observant of what is going on around you. As a result of centuries of investigation and research, science now offers certain restoratives and revitalizers which have a wonderfully beneficial effect on a weakened and run-down system. These are combined in the most successful proportions in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which is by far the most thoroughly effective tissue builder and nerve restorative that is known to the medical profession today.

Mr. Joseph Geroux, 22 Metcalf street, Ottawa, Ont., writes:—

"I was nervous, had headache and brain fag. I was restless at night and could not sleep. My appetite was poor, and I suffered from nervous dyspepsia. Little business cares worried and irritated me. After having used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food for about two months, I can frankly say that I feel like a new man. My appetite is good, I rest and sleep well, and this treatment has strengthened me wonderfully. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is certainly the best medicine I ever used, and I say so because I want to give full credit where it is due."

At least nine-tenths of the ailments from which people are suffering and dying to-day are the result of thin, watery blood, exhausted nerve force, and general debility of the body. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food stops this wasting process, puts new life and energy into the wasted nerve cells, fills the shrivelled arteries with rich life-sustaining blood, and overcomes disease. It will be interesting to note the gradual increase in weight while using the famous food cure.

The ostrich has long been laughed at for pushing its head into a bush when hunted. It is really far the wisest thing the bird could do, for its long neck is by far the most easily seen part of it. Its body plumage harmonizes perfectly with the desert sand.

THEY STAND BY WILSON.

Committee of C.P.R. Striking Trackmen Give Out Terms—Reasons for Conciliation Boards' Rejection.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—J. Lennon, J. B. Brunskill, A. F. Stout, E. E. Nason, J. W. Johnson, the committee here representing the maintenance-of-way men on the C. P. R., have drawn up a statement setting forth the principal conditions under which the committee representing the maintenance-of-way men on the Canadian Pacific Railway will make a settlement with the company. They are as follows:

1. All men now on strike who have not been convicted of crime in connection with the strike, shall be reinstated in their former positions without prejudice.

2. An agreement must be signed by the proper official of the C. P. R. setting forth the terms and conditions of employment of maintenance-of-way men, which will protect them against unjust discrimination by any of the company's officials.

3. A reasonable and uniform increase in wages must be granted sufficient at least to make the purchasing power of a day's wages equal to what it was two years ago, or before the general rise in prices.

4. The committee will submit the settling of the differences to impartial arbitration, the arbitrators to be selected in the usual way.

5. And this committee endorses and have always approved of the position taken by their President, John T. Wilson, in the controversy, and consider themselves entitled to his advice and aid without interference or dictation from any source.

When the above terms are accepted by the company the strike will be declared off, but not until then.

Why Recommendations Were Rejected.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—Yesterday afternoon a circular was issued by the committee. It deals with the reply of the committee to the recommendations made by the Conciliation Committee. The specific reasons for the rejection of the propositions are as follows:

First—Because the union, in the event of the acceptance of the proposals, would not be recognized, and the members could be changed without cause by the company at any time.

Second—The new foremen who have taken the places of some of the strikers would remain and the old hands would have to work under them.

Third—That there would still be no settlement of the wage question.

The circular concludes with the basis of agreement already published. The substance of this is that the matter should now be settled by a fair arbitration.

Will Try for a Settlement.

Winnipeg, Aug. 21.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Firemen, Railroad Trainmen and Conductors held a meeting last night. The action of the general chairman at Montreal in connection with the trackmen's strike was discussed. It is said that a decision was come to, to follow the footsteps of the Pacific Division brotherhoods, and send one representative of each of the five orders to Montreal to try for settlement of the strike.

Thirty-Five Lives Lost.

Paducah, Ky., Aug. 21.—At least 35 lives are known to have been lost when the river steamer City of Golconda turned turtle in a wind storm Monday night while the boat was being worked into the landing at Crowells, six miles from Paducah. There were 60 persons aboard. Of these 35 are reported missing, not including several colored deck hands, whose names are unobtainable.

The New Cable Laid.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—A new cable has been laid between Prince Edward Island and the mainland. The old cable was laid on the rocks, and was often out of repair. The next thing the Government will endeavor to do, now that the old cable has been lifted, is to remove the monopoly which gives to the island a day service only, and is said to be very poor at that. The morning paper can get no telegrams after 8 o'clock in the evening. For 12 hours out of the 24 the islanders are shut out from the world as far as telegraph connection is concerned.

HOW THE MOLE DIGS.

BURROWING METHODS OF THIS ODD LITTLE ANIMAL

The Amazing Rapidity With Which He Can Work His Way Into the Ground—Peculiar Anatomy of This Curious Creature.

Of all the animals which assist in making life miserable for the gardener perhaps the mole is the most provoking. Just as a certain bed of choice seeds has worked into perfect condition, the mole, which may not have been near the garden for a month, comes back as though by special appointment and plows that bed from end to end. Back and forth he works through the loose soil, close to the surface, heaving up a little ridge of earth wherever he goes. He rapidly destroys the bed, though that is not at all his object in coming. He is really out on a hunting expedition. He is hunting for earthworms, slugs, grubs and insects which live in the ground and on which he depends for food. When he has finished his meal, he leaves the bed and pushes through the turf of the lawn until he reaches the garden wall perhaps. This proves a little too hard for him to plow through, so he comes out into the open, runs at quite a fair speed across the walk and then burrows into the turf again on the opposite side.

He probably does this at night, and the next day the seeds which he turned up during his hunt through the bed will die. If the sun is hot, they will be baked in the loosened earth, or if it rains they will probably be washed away. When the gardener discovers the damage, he will stride about the lawn, stamping in the loose turf with his heel, and we can hardly blame him if under his breath he says some very unpleasant things about the mole. Then he will probably set a mole trap in the hope that his little enemy will come that way again. And there he may have another disappointment, for the mole is quite apt to stay away until a nice line of young peas or carrots has begun to show above the ground. Then some night, after a shower of rain has softened the soil, he will suddenly return, uproot the line from one end to the other and disappear as before.

A curious little creature is the mole. From the tip of his nose to the root of his tail he measures something less than six inches, and his total length is increased by a rather short, straight tail, sparsely covered with short hairs. His body is covered with a beautiful, soft, lustrous fur, which may look any one of a number of colors according to the light in which you see it. In one light it will appear dark brown, and in others black, dark silver gray or purple possibly, and perhaps the most astonishing thing about it is the fact that an animal living in the soil should be able to keep his coat so beautifully clean and bright. In front the body terminates in a naked, cartilaginous snout, on the upper surface of which, close together, are two oblong nostrils. The snout is very flexible—so much so, in fact, that the animal sometimes twists it round and puts it into his mouth, from which he afterward withdraws it with a pop resembling the sound which might be made in drawing a miniature cork. I don't know why he does this unless it be to wipe the soil off his nose. When his mouth is opened, it will be seen that it is full of little teeth of several sizes and shapes and that it somewhat resembles the mouth of a diminutive pig.

At the first glance one would say that he had neither eyes nor ears, but buried deep in the fur are two little shining black dots, which are doubtless big enough for anything he ever requires to see, and about three-quarters of an inch behind them are two very small, round holes which lead to his ears. His forearms are hidden by the skin, his curious, semihuman hands alone being visible. The fingers are united, forming broad, leathery palms, which in life are flesh colored. They are armed with large, slightly curved nails and are excellent tools for digging with. The hind feet are small and slender, naked on the under surface and clothed with fine, short hair on the upper surface.

When the mole wishes to enter the ground, he brings the backs of his flat hands together in front of his nose and, digging them into the earth, makes a stroke just as a man does when he is swimming. He repeats the stroke again and again until he is soon out of sight below the surface. As he goes through the earth he twists his head from one side to the other and up and down, searching for earthworms and other dainties, of which he eats great numbers in the course of the 24 hours. When he finds an earthworm, he seizes it with the outer surfaces of his fore paws and crams it into his mouth, bit by bit, munching all the while, like a greedy boy eating a banana. When he is fed in captivity, the crunching on the gritty particles in the bodies of the worms can be heard at a distance of several yards.

When in his burrow, a mole can move backward almost as fast as he can move forward, and when for any reason he moves over the surface of the ground he runs on the edges of his front paws, with the backs of the latter toward each other.

It is difficult to believe how quickly a mole can work his way into the earth unless one has actually watched and timed him. Last spring a kind neighbor sent me word that her gardener had with great trouble caught a mole which had been playing havoc in the garden and asked if I did not wish to come over and examine it. I accepted the invitation, and, finding the mole an unusually fine specimen, I at once began taking notes on the speed with which he could bury himself. The flower beds were well cultivated and soft from recent rain, and at the first attempt Mr. Mole was out of sight in five seconds. Just as his tail was disappearing I caught hold of it and pulled him out, to give him another trial. At the next attempt he was gone in a little over three seconds, and again I pulled him out, to see if he could better this splendid record. He did not try again at once, but ran about, as though searching for a particularly likely spot. At last he found it, and down went his front paws, with his long snout between them. I could see that he was going to break the record, and just as his tail was going into the earth I put out my hand to seize it. But, alas, my fingers closed on the air! My friend the mole had struck right into one of his old burrows.

What Makes the Home?

Not the house, however fine it may be; not its furniture, pictures and appointments. The wife and mother makes the home, and to speak of going home means to go back into the shelter of the mother's love and care.

And when womanly ills sap the mother's strength, the home-life suffers. The food is not cooked as she cooks it.

Everywhere the lack of wifely supervision and motherly thoughtfulness is apparent.

What a change, then, when this wife and mother comes back to take her old place in the family. Thousands of women who, because of womanly ills, had been shut out of home life and home happiness, have been enabled to once more take their place in the family after being cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

"I commenced taking your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' about the 10th of last December one year ago," writes Mrs. Eliza Wright, of Mountainview, Howell Co., Missouri. "I have been very slow about writing to you, although I am thankful I am here to-day and have the privilege of saying I thank you a thousand times for your kind advice. I can truthfully say that it was through your kind advice and your medicine and the will of the Lord that I am living to-day; I am in better health than I have been for three years. I have taken one-half dozen bottles of each medicine. I am able to do my washing for four in family, and all my housework, cooking and milking. In fact, I feel like a new woman."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation and its almost countless consequences. They do not react on the system nor beget the pill habit.

Most Tattooed Man In France.

Languishing in a prison cell in Paris, to which he was relegated the other day for assault and battery, is one Auguste Formin, an ex-soldier, who claims to be the most tattooed man in France. His body presents an illustrated version of the Dreyfus case, in which the most dramatic episodes in that world famous drama are reproduced with great skill.

His right arm bears the portraits of the officers who testified at the Zola trial, together with a picture of the novelist. On his left arm is the portrait of the late president of the republic, Felix Faure, and other celebrities who figured in connection with the case of the prisoner of Devil's island. Then, beginning with the tragical incident of Dreyfus' degradation in the presence of the troops, scene after scene is unrolled. The spaces between are filled in with flags and allegorical devices, such as a bleeding heart pierced by a dagger and a boa constrictor crushing a man. In all there are 120 scenes, portraits and devices.

This remarkable example of tattooing was performed while Formin was serving in a disciplinary battalion at Biribi, in Tunis. He claims that the surgeon of his regiment offered him 400 francs for the illustrations on his back, promising to remove the skin without pain and guaranteeing that he would speedily recover and suffer no ill effects from the operation. Formin, however, preferred to keep his pictures.

Bajfanas the Breadfruit of the World.

Bananas, probably the first fruit ever cultivated, possess all the essentials to the sustenance of life. More people live on bananas than live on wheat. When taken as a steady diet, they are cooked, either baked, boiled or fried. The fruit is very nourishing, as it contains so much starch and sugar.

Banana flour is highly nutritious and very valuable. The farinaceous food is so prone to undergo malfermentation in the stomach when the normal digestion is disordered that it becomes very important to seek some variety of starchy food which can be easily assimilated without the production of acid eructations of flatulence or heartburn. Therefore the flour has a decided advantage as a food for invalids. Thompson states that he has found that the finest banana flour, called "bananose," at the end of 1½ hours of pancreatic digestion was capable of developing twice as much sugar as the same quantity of oatmeal or farina and nearly 1½ times as much sugar as cornstarch.

A Kick From Mexico.

Tourists come here and shout to waiters, hotel clerks, shopkeepers, etc., believing that if you only yell forth your English it instantly becomes comprehensible. And a common error in breeding and one not confined to tourist foreigners is to make unpleasant remarks about men, women and things in a tone of voice which conveys at once to the natives that something disagreeable is being said. So we acquire not without reason the reputation of being muy groseros, or very rude, and too often we are.

The Seed.

As wonderful things are hidden away
In the heart of a little brown seed
As ever were found in the fairy net
Of which children sometimes read.

Over its pretty shining coat
We sprinkle the earth so brown,
And the sunshine warms its lowly bed,
And the rain comes dropping down.

Patter, patter, the soft, warm rain
Knocks at the tiny door,
And two little heads come peeping out,
Like a story in fairy lore.

A bluebird sang in my window;
A blue violet peeped below;
A deep blue sky was over them;
They said: "Spring has come! Did you know?"

Seeing Around Corners.

There are many insects which have a very much larger field of vision than we have. This is due to the greater concavity of their eyes, enabling them to see around the corner, so to speak, behind and at the sides. This development in man would have its objectionable points, but also its good ones, not the least of which might be the detection of pickpockets

Lets Him Out.

Mrs. Nagger—Oh, James, how awkward! Mr. Smith has come, and now we shall be 13 at table.

Mr. Nagger—What then?

Mrs. Nagger (with a shriek)—Why, one of us will die before the year is out!

Mr. Nagger (brutally)—Never mind. I'm tough.

Just In Time.

An Irish gentleman getting upon a street car found one place vacant, which he proceeded to occupy.

"Sure," said he, with a twinkle in his eye, "I came just in the nick of time."

"How is that?"

"Arrah! If I was to come now, I shouldn't find a seat in the car!"

There's a Story in Morning Tiredness.

A story of poor blood, weakened nerves, of a starved brain. Plenty of food, mind you, but perhaps poorly prepared and too poorly digested to maintain a vigorous body. Ferrozone quickly makes blood, gives strength to the nerves, cures the fagged feeling that prevent vigorous thought and action. Use Ferrozone, it makes blood, and good blood feeds the nerves. Strong and vigorous nerves are just another name for good health. If you seek health, and a relief from the tired morning feeling, use Ferrozone. Sold only by Ormond & Walsh.

Poindexter's Suicide.

"Is it true that Mr. Poindexter has committed suicide?" asked Miss Fosdick.

"Yes, it is true," replied Hunker. "I was an intimate acquaintance, and"—

"Was there no other reason for the deed?" interrupted the girl.

She Knew Him.

George (dramatically)—You have decided that I must give her up? Farewell, then, mother! There is nothing left for me but to go out and destroy myself!

Mother—Goodby! Not a minute later than 6 for dinner, George!

SYSTEM TONIC IS A SCIENTIFIC REMEDY AFTER THE SUGGESTIONS OF THE BEST PHYSICIANS IN AMERICA, DISPENSED BY A CHEMIST.

Fac-Simile of Genuine.

The Nervous System

Each organ of the body is of great importance, otherwise a wise Creator would have omitted it. Of no less importance is the great network of nerves running all through the body. They all connect with the brain, which is a central office or bureau of information. Is there inflamation in some part of the body? The nerves convey the news to the brain and the pain caused by irritation of the nerves is located. If there is a weakness in any part of the body or some organ is being overtaxed, the nerves convey the news. Symptoms manifested by the nerves are sleeplessness, headache irritability, nervousness, dizziness, forgetfulness, dispondency, lack of muscular control, and general loss of tone and debility. What's the cure? Not stimulants, for they only intensify the exhausted condition and result in harmful after-effects. Not opiates which only stupify and hide the danger signal, but Merrill's System Tonic which soothes the irritated condition of the nerves, feed and reconstruct the fast decaying sensibility and then by its general curative action on the different organs of the body, bring the general health back to its normal condition. System Tonic is an honest medicine, doing good in nearly every instance and doing harm in none. Its chief aim is to build up and strengthen each organ in the body and nature can and will then restore perfect health.

Each 50 cent bottle contains 50 pleasant-to-take doses, and is sold

OMINOUS FIGURES.

What Will the Decrease of Natural Increase Lead to?

It is a melancholy thing to compare the population figures of the once thriving towns of Ontario and find how a large proportion of them have actually less population than they were credited with ten years ago. It is said that the Minister of Agriculture proposes a sharp enquiry as to whether the figures of 1891 were not stuffed. His opponents say that it would be fair to extend any such investigation to the recent census. Should there be any evidence of a serious misrepresentation in the one case the same tests should certainly in all fairness be applied to the other. Unless the reduction of increase is in this manner accounted for, such an enquiry would seem to be only the preliminary of a further and very serious one as to what may be the causes of the lack of normal growth of population. The revelations of the census certainly seem to be big with portent for the future of Canada. Till now it has been assumed by all English-speaking people to be a matter of course that the future of the country was to be essentially an English future. There seems now to be a possibility that unless there shall be changes in the relative family life of the two peoples, it will be French. No one can take an exception to the gaining of ascendency in this way. Government by majority is a British idea and has been planted here by the British spirit. If another than the British, let the most wholesome race win. The question is, however, a very serious one for the Anglo-Saxons in Canada. It practically means to them whether they are to have a country, as it is easy to see what the fate of English Canada would be should the prospect of its becoming a French nation increase. It is therefore well worth honest inquiry.

People proves more Virile

It may be said that there is no use in probing the facts as no knowledge of them would alter them, the laws of population being more powerful than any precepts or considerations of national interest. This may not, however, be absolutely true. People's ways are largely governed by public sentiment; and it is possible considerably to sway public opinion. The wonderful development of the French-Canadian people is an example of this. Its forefathers and foremothers came from France. They consisted largely of such simple people as could be gathered together by the seigneurs among whom the soil of Canada was divided. Some were peasants, some were townspeople, some were virtuous, others were good material for exportation. All told they were not very many and it is long since they have been sensibly added to by immigration. Yet while their fellow-countrymen of France have long ceased to multiply these people have and replenished the earth according to the commandment and after a fashion that has few equals in history. This is due no doubt to their virtues and simplicity of life, to the unlimited space which the continent affords them to spread into and to the absolute peace and safety in which they have dwelt almost throughout all their generations. It is due, however, also to their having adopted a set purpose from the beginning. When the French colony was established, the peopling of the land was a matter of the first importance. Premiums were placed by government on large families, and early marriage and plentiful offspring became the usage and rule. Though political pressure ceased, the clergy, who had become the guardians of the people, did not relax their interest. The inflow of a large Protestant population, under Protestant rule, was a new incentive to encourage the increase of numbers from the only source available. While the English people in planning for increased population looked only to immigration, and thought only of that, the French had but one source of increase and their immigration agency far excelled that on which governments expended hopeless thousands.

Wherein does the different fruitfulness of the two peoples consist? Largely in differences of usage. In the one case marriage is kept before children as a matter of course. Every girl of fourteen is expected to have her cavalier; the thing is taken seriously. Early life is full of its natural romance. Prudence advances no veto, for and expensive ways are under the ban as criminal. At an age when prudent and preoccupied English-speaking Canadians are still thinking about getting married, these happy people have a dozen rising up to take their name, not one of whom they would wish to spare. On the other hand, what are the maxims which prevail among the English community, and what is the advice of English-speaking mothers and aunts? Don't get married till you can't help it, Punch's advice to those about to marry, "Don't." A young man who takes a wife without seeing his way clear to keep her in the necessary comfort is denounced, and one who shows timid signs of doing so is warned. It is largely true, too, that such warnings are necessary, for few of the women are able to combine happy motherhood with housework. As a consequence of all this, marriages are comparatively few and late in life, and many of them do not result in increase. Families must go beyond two to bring about increase, and must do far better if a large proportion of the people do not marry. For the most part the strain of life is so great on our young people that thoughts of marriage get shoved to one side. There can be question that the habits we have described tend towards

The Extinction of a Race.

The whole question remains whether they are wholesome for the individuals affected. It may seem wildly foolish from an economic point of view for young people with such income as is possible to youths to risk marriage. Yet a good many of the most prosperous men have married on nothing and have alleged that it was the best investment they ever made. Marriage is a normal condition, and probably for most people the most wholesome. One thing is certain, if we do not want to see our race perishing from the earth we must change our maxims and our ways. At the same time it is fair to say that whether owing to more artificial conditions or whether to necessary and wholesome immigration, the increase in this province is only about nine per cent., compared with our increase of 9.73 per cent. at the previous census, and 18.6 at the census of 1881. These figures are nothing to boast about really, except in comparison with Ontario, where the increase is only two and a half per cent., and neither percentage tells more than part of the story.

GRASS SEEDS FOR TEMISCAMINGUE.

Ontario Government Helps Burnt-out Settlers.

Eight thousand pounds of grass seed, mixed timothy, alsike, and red clover, were shipped by the Colonization Department yesterday to Temiscamingue. The seed will be distributed by the Citizens' Relief Committee to settlers who undertake to clean up their burnt lands sufficiently to allow the grass to get a start. It is anticipated that about a thousand acres will be put under grass in this way. The C.P.R. and the Lumsden Steamboat Company will transport this free of charge.

The gentlemen intending to enter in the mixed doubles are requested to hand in their names with the name of their partner at once to Mr. Cluxton, in order that the drawing may be made for these matches.

Croquet.

Croquet is a new feature of the Club this year, and has received a very warm welcome by many members of the Club. So much enthusiasm has entered into this department of the Club, that it has been found desirable to order a second set.

A Croquet Committee consisting of Mrs. F. J. Rogers, Miss Jessie Dennistoun and Mr. J. H. Burnham, has been named to commence a tournament and their drawing will be posted on Saturday afternoon on the Club House.

LACROSSE.

Port Hope and Oshawa are playing the deciding game for the District Championship on the Toronto Island to-day. Rolly Glover and Jack McCabe went to Toronto on the morning's train.

BOWLING.

Amongst the scratch matches which were played at the green yesterday, was one of eighteen ends, resulted in a draw, as appended:

S A Oke,	H Armstrong,
A H Stratton,	M Green,
R Kerr,	K Houston,
F H Dixon, sk...18	W Sallsbury, sk.18

The third draw in the competition will be made early next week. All matches not settled by then will be declared defaulted.

Brussels Herald.—Lawn bowling possesses more advantages than any other game extant. It is not, like lacrosse, a game where a player may lose ten teeth (as a Toronto player did the other day) or have the top knocked off his head by an opponent, but, on the other hand, it is much more exciting and muscle-producing than dominoes. It is a game that may be indulged in without loss of dignity by both the old and the young, the stout and the slim, the mechanic, the merchant, the professional man, the bank clerk and the undertaker. Then it's the best game that ever happened for making excuses when you get beaten. It don't matter how badly you get done up, there are a dozen and one ways in which the defeat may be explained. This last is one of the strong points of the game. As a rule, the more a man bowls the more enthusiastic he becomes — at some towns they keep the enthusiasm in a striped tent on the corner of the green — but, of course, that isn't done in Brussels. It requires all the available ground here to accommodate the rapidly increasing army of players.

AT THE BUTTS.

In the Ontario Rifle Association matches in Toronto yesterday, Mr. Duncan Cameron in the Osler match won 33 and scored 29 points, as against the winner's 35. In the individual prizes Mr. Geo. Fitzgerald won 34, scoring 69 points against the winner's 82.

BASEBALL.

Let the public not forget the baseball match on Saturday afternoon between the Oshawa and Peterborough teams. The game will be played on the P.A.A.A. grounds as usual.

Saturday's game of baseball should be well patronized, as outside of being probably the last match of the season, it will doubtless rank as one of the fastest. The Oshawas have been thrashing all the teams that came their way, and with their imported battery should give the Peterboroughs a close game.

A man who had long sat in the grand stand at ball games and been very much Disgusted with the incompetence or Worse of Umpires, suddenly found himself compelled, through the Death of his Mother to work for his own living. In this cruel pass he consulted an Alleged Friend, who strongly advised him to take up the career of a baseball Umpire, for which he said he was eminently fitted by his decision of charter, rapidity of judgment, and expert knowledge of the game. The advice jumped with the inclination of the Recipient, as all good advice should, and so he began to pull wires and to acquire the knack of slipping balls up the back of his sweater. Before the Mirror he practiced the Art of looking as if he had both eyes Glued on everything. There was no mad rush for the Umpiring Job, and he got it. When he came forth on the Grounds he looked so much like an Umpire that he was cheered. "Life," he said, "is worth living, once you get Right into the Middle of it." He opined that the crowd would know a good thing when they saw him. He called a strike a strike, and a ball a ball, but the players on the Home Team were not the only ones on the diamond who could play the game, and didn't get all of everything. In throwing to the bases the home players threw fast enough, but not Soon Enough, which is the Essential Thing. His Nibs was just. The crowd mistook it for parsnis. A young man from he had often Borrowed Money, and on whose Friendship he had a claim, stuck his face through the Wire Netting and told him he had mud in his eyes. Prattling children also screamed at him derisively. A red-headed child in shrill treble cried,—"Come on in an' let's lynch him." A Doctor of Divinity during a brief lull raised his scholarly voice and designated him Iscariot. Gentle and Refined Ladies Bawled at him the Intelligence that he was Rotten, and twenty yards away was the seat wherein he sat during his Glad Young Life. After the Game the Ground Man hid him in a Rain Barrel kept in reserve for such purposes. In the game next day he Shovelled it into the visiting team, and the crowd said, "He's going to pan out all right." They also admitted that he Knew the Game, and that Nothing was Wrong with him the day before except that he had Sissy-fright. But a Coarse Fellow on the Visiting Team, which like all Visiting Teams was composed of Toughs, told him that if he didn't Quit it they would Tie his long and Willowly Legs, in a Bow Knot. He added that his father and three brothers were all in States Prison for killing Better Umpires than him, and he was growing ashamed of being in the open air himself. So the umpire tried to Hedge by giving this Assassin a pass to First. Both teams were now enraged and the umpire pretending to run to second to see a slide got a start for the high fence, and escaped. Cured of many things by this experience, he studied law, and quickly rose to be a High Court Judge.—Star.

Moral.—Although this Fable is not as clever as those written by George Ade it may serve to remind the rooters of Peterborough that it is much Easier to Sit Back and Soak others than to do a thing oneself.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Lieut. W. T. Hall has just purchased an elegant new English hunting saddle that can discount anything of the kind in town.

Messrs. Milne Hamilton and Geo. Dawson have just purchased two elegant new Winchester rifles, and are anxiously waiting for the deer-shooting season to come in. The rifles are in the opinion of the owners, the best in town and are of a special bore. The gentle beasts of the back woods will most likely know whether or not the new fire arms are up to the mark.

Something About Faith Cures.

What a great variety of faith cures there must be; some have faith in so-called divine healers, others in certain doctors, and still others in the medicines they use. Every person who has tested Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has faith in them, but faith or no faith, they act just the same for they act directly and specifically on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and make those organs healthy, active and vigorous. Judging from the enormous demands for these Pills there must be hosts of people that have faith in them.

MEDIATION RUMORS.

Russia, Germany and France May Discuss South Africa.

REPORTED IN RUSSIAN CIRCLES.

Czar May Broach Intervention in South Africa to Emperor William of Germany and President Loubet of France—Kruger's Vain Hopes—Lieut. Moore of Winnipeg Died in Action.

Brussels, Aug. 23.—The Independence Belge to-day prints a despatch from Copenhagen, which says:

"It is currently reported in Russian circles that the Czar has decided to broach South African intervention to Emperor William and President Loubet. He considers the time opportune for friendly mediation."

The paper adds, under reserve, that the Czar during his stay in France will receive Mr. Kruger in private audience and obtain from him a direct statement of the Boer position, with the view of formulating a plan for action.

Kruger's Vain Hopes.

London, Aug. 23.—I. N. Ford cables The Toronto Globe: Kruger appears to be still hoping that the Cabinets of Paris and St. Petersburg will intervene on behalf of the Boers. According to a communication that purports to come from persons in the confidence of the ex-President, the Junta at Hilversham are engaged in preparing a formal protest against Kitchener's proclamation. If Kruger imagines that the moment when Russia and France are exchanging felicitations will be a favorable opportunity for bringing forward an indictment against England he is sure to be disappointed.

Lieut. Moore Killed.

Winnipeg, Aug. 23.—Another young Winnipegger has fallen in defence of the Empire. J. G. Moore received sad news in a letter from England yesterday morning, which announced the death in South Africa of his son, Lieut. Cyril Moore. Lieut. Moore left for South Africa early in the campaign, and became attached to one of the British Yeomanry regiments, in which he received rapid promotion. His death occurred several weeks ago in an engagement near Harrismith.

TO TURKISH WATERS.

A French Cruiser Has Already Sailed, and Naval Division Is Ready to Follow —France-Turkish Situation.

Paris, Aug. 23.—The Matin yesterday morning announced that the French second-class cruiser Cassard started for Turkish waters Wednesday and that a naval division is ready to follow.

Cabinet Meets To-Day.

Paris, Aug. 23.—According to the Foreign Office officials yesterday afternoon, there is no news and no change in the Turkish situation. To-day there will be a special meeting of the Cabinet, called, it is asserted, to arrange the program for the reception and entertainment of the Czar.

In the meantime, the Turkish Ambassador, Munir Bey, is absent, and at the Turkish Embassy only minor officials are visible. They assume an air of absolute indifference and ignorance of the whole matter.

The Temps, semi-official, has a note yesterday afternoon, saying: "The rupture as yet is only the personal act of M. Constans, the French Ambassador at Constantinople, and will only become official and complete if the Sultan persist in his present attitude, in which case, as Munir Bey is absent from France, it will only be necessary to notify him not to return until diplomatic relations are resumed."

The Sultan Will Yield.

London, Aug. 23.—"It is believed in official circles in Constantinople," says a special despatch from the Turkish Capital, "that the Sultan will accord full satisfaction to M. Constans, without coercion on the part of France, and that the incident will have ended in 48 hours."

ANXIOUS FOR AN INQUIRY.

Officers of Wrecked Islander Desire an Official Investigation.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 23.—Capt. Troupe, Canadian Pacific Steamship Superintendent, and the officers of the wrecked steamer Islander, are anxious for an investigation. Charges of drunkenness and bad management on the part of captain and crew have been freely made, and the officers ask that the whole affair be officially gone into. Arrangements to hold an official inquiry are now being made, and as soon as the bodies of the victims of the wreck are brought down it is expected that an inquiry will be held. There are plenty of statements that Pilot Leblanc was too drunk for duty. Capt. Foote, according to many witnesses, had perhaps taken one or two drinks, but was in perfect condition for duty. Leblanc's condition and the charge that Beach, one of the passengers, threatened to pull a gun if any more persons jumped on the raft on which he was, will also be inquired into. Second Officer Powell, who originally made the charge that Beach pointed a revolver, has modified his statement, saying now that Beach merely threatened to do that.

Sydney to Be First.

Sydney, N. S., Aug. 23.—It is understood that Sydney proposes to take advantage of the Government's bonus to encourage steel shipbuilding. A petition is now in circulation asking that a meeting of ratepayers be called to endorse a proposal to bonus the industry by a gift of $250,000. It is also stated that at this meeting an offer of a free site will be made. The site will not cost the town one cent, but will be a gift of public spirited citizens, and will be within four thousand feet of the Steel Company's works. Sydney does not intend to be left out of the race to be the first town in the Province to start a modern shipbuilding yard.

SHAFFER SEES PEACE.

President of Amalgamated Association Predicts Early Ending of the Strike.

Pittsburg, Aug. 23.—Aside from the partial equipment of the Star plant of the American Tin Plate Company and the preparation for its immediate resumption of business, there was no special developments in the strike situation in this city yesterday.

The manning of the Star mill by non-union workers is taken by the trust as a boom for it. While disclaiming any intention to sue for peace with the United States Steel Corporation, President Shaffer believes that the end of the strike is not far off. During the last two days he has been talking about "peace with honor." Yesterday he said: "It won't be very long until we have honorable peace. We are slowly getting what we started out to fight for. Just at present both sides are in the heat of battle, and there can be no talk of a truce, but it will come in a short while I think."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Mail says: "The Ontario Government must act." If the Ontario Government hadn't acted so much in the interests of the Province, the organ would have easier work in getting office for its policyless party.

Some persons illustrate their idea of the impropriety of ministers taking holidays during the heated term by remarking that the devil does not take a holiday. But then His Satanic Majesty is accustomed to hot weather.

War is a costly mode of settlement of misunderstandings—to the victors as well as the vanquished. The Philadelphia Record says that the payments for pensions in the United States since July, 1865, have been $2,666,904,589. "Two prices could have been paid out of this vast sum of money for every slave in the southern States at the outset of the war, and enough left over to have given each slave family 40 acres of land and a mule!"

Canada's sending of the contingents to South Africa was an act of loyalty to the Empire, and a practical evidence of her feeling of duty to assist in maintaining its unity. While this cost Canada $2,000,000, which was also cheerfully contributed, this expenditure was a paying investment. Not only has Canada been recouped by the expenditure in this country of about $4,000,000 for various supplies, but the prominence into which Canada and her resources have been brought, gives assurance of future profitable business trade relations with Great Britain and the Empire at large.

The Ontario Government has issued a pamphlet giving an exhaustive description of the land and resources of New Ontario, for the information of those proposing to settle in that part of the province. Hon. F. R. Latchford, Minister of Public Works, who has just returned from an extended trip up there, brings back a glowing account of this new promised land. To a reporter he said settlement was actively progressing about Sturgeon Falls, north and south of the C. P. R. main line, west of Mattawa about North Bay, and in fact at a dozen places along the line of the C. P. R. He declares from his personal investigation of the country that there is no better land in the world than in this part of Nipissing. The valley of the French River contains a large amount of valuable land, and he looks forward to the time when the whole valley will be settled, and the rapids of the French River improved, so that steamers from Fort William and Port Arthur, if not passing on to Ottawa and Montreal, will at all events be discharging their cargoes at North Bay, as they now do at Parry Sound and Owen Sound.

THE CENSUS FIGURES.

The Opposition press had its mind made up about the census long before it was taken. It would have been a remarkable lot of figures that they could not have twisted into an indictment of the terrible Tarte and fit fuel for the fires of faction. They had carefully prepared their readers by prejudging the matter, and there was not a reader of the Conservative press who was not prepared long before the figures had been taken for just such comments as are now heard. The whole tendency of the criticism is to arouse the feeling that the population of Ontario, and, indeed, of other English-speaking Provinces, has been designedly underestimated, and that of Quebec overestimated, for the purpose of giving the latter Province an unfair predominance in Parliament. Surely those who desire us to draw this inference scarcely realize what it would pre-suppose. It would constitute a vast conspiracy, of which thousands of people would be cognizant. We see no way by which the count of the Province could be deliberately underestimated, except by passing the word to the enumerators to act on that principle. Is it conceivable, even if anyone was capable of such rascally instructions, that there could be any hope of keeping the instructions secret? The universal experience will answer such a question in the negative, and no one outside the walls of an asylum would ever dream of issuing such instructions. Is it likely that out of so large a number of enumerators there would not be a considerable proportion whose local pride would lead them to resent such instructions? In fact, the theory of the Opposition press will not stand one blast of common sense, and if they were not blinded by their desire to create strife between the Provinces of the Dominion they would never think of advancing so preposterous a proposition.

The only fact that seems to support their view is that the increase in Ontario is not as great as would be desired. It is not alleged that the increase in Quebec is unreasonable. The natural increase in that Province, while perhaps not so remarkable as is popularly supposed, is nevertheless notable. Quebec is moreover, not merely an agricultural Province; it is an industrial Province also. Montreal, Quebec, Valleyfield, Hull, St. John's and Chambly are the seats of some of the largest manufacturing establishments of their kind in the Dominion. It is true that there has been a steady drain of population into the eastern States, but it will be remembered that when hard times prevailed across the border in 1894 and 1895 the railways crossing the border could scarcely get rolling stock enough to bring back the returning exiles. A visitor in Quebec at that time met them everywhere. No doubt with the return of prosperity in the New England States many went back, but it is also known that many never went back. Fortunately just about that time the prospects for agriculture in Quebec were much brightened. Both the Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture were working steadily to develop the dairying industry in Quebec, and with a great deal of success; and as a consequence many farm houses whose windows had been boarded up for years were once more opened to the light of day and the former owners resumed their old occupation of farming. The pulp industry has also done a good deal for the Province, as well as the opening up of the Lake St. John region. Quebec has not adopted modern farming implements to the same extent that Ontario has, and it is extremely probable that more people are required to do the work on a farm in that Province than in Ontario. Whether this is the case or not will be definitely ascertained when we have the full figures of the census.

To the change in farming methods and to the migration to western Canada may be attributed largely the small increase which Ontario shows. We have to recognize that, so far as old Ontario is concerned, we have become to a certain degree a colonizing country. The introduction of automatic farm machinery has no doubt helped this movement, although it must be confessed that the more general devotion to dairying and stock-raising led us to hope that the tendency to depopulation which machinery might cause would be neutralized by the greater amount of manual labour which mixed farming involves.

But Ontario is not alone in this loss of rural population. It is apparent in all similarly old-settled States in the adjoining country. In New York State, although favoured by the enormous market of the greatest community on this side of the Atlantic, the strictly rural portions of the State are declining in population. Twenty-two of the sixty-two counties of New York State show a diminution of population, and a number of others are virtually at a standstill. There is nothing unheard of, therefore, about the comparatively small gain in population in Ontario—nothing, certainly, to warrant the monstrous assertion that the unsatisfactory figures are due to a criminal conspiracy to minimize its standing in Confederation.—Globe.

BRITISH FAIR PLAY.

One of the best traits of British character was strikingly illustrated in the House of Commons last Thursday night. It serves to strengthen the impression that the Briton in his thoughtful moments is a lover of what humanity in general calls fair play.

The Irish Nationalists, though a force in the Commons that must be reckoned with at all times, are hopelessly in the minority. More than that, they are constantly and consistenly in opposition to the general designs of the dominant party. More than that, they are as a rule, arrayed in bitter hostility to the Ministerial benches. It is their policy to antagonize almost every measure emanating from the government. There is no reason why they should look for or be granted favours at the hands of the majority.

A couple of London editors, mistaking the sentiments of the Conservative and Liberal leaders with regard to their fellow members on the Irish benches, went out of their way a few days ago to charge certain of the Nationalists with corruption in relation to a certain measure. The Nationalists desired that these editors be brought before the bar of the House. The House complied with the demand. The editors appeared and apologized for making the charges, and the apology was accepted. Then, on motion of one of the Nationalists, the editors were ordered to withdraw the charges in the presence of the House.

All these proceedings occurred as a matter of course. The Conservative and Liberal members in demanding that full reparation be accorded the Nationalists apparently lost all consciousness of political or racial differences. They were as punctilious about it as if the insult had been offered to members of their own parties.

This was something more than parliamentary courtesy. It was something more than a mere observance of the rules and traditions of the House. It was fair play. —Chicago Inter-Ocean, Aug. 19.

BILE POISON IN THE SYSTEM

No organ in the human body has a greater influence on the general health than the liver.

A torpid, sluggish liver leaves poisonous, morbid bile in the blood, which upsets the action of the whole sytem.

There is indigestion, fullness, fermentation, flatulency and oppression in the stomach.

The tongue is coated, the head aches and there is loss of sleep, depression of spirits, and spells of dizziness and weakness.

The bowels are constipated and loose by turns, and griping pains are frequent.

In sympathy with the liver the kidneys become clogged and inactive, the urine highly coloured, and there are pains in the back and under the left shoulder blade.

Shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart and derangements of the menstrual functions are among the symptoms of liver complaint.

You should not expect to find all these symptoms in any one case, but if any of them are present, it is time to take prompt action to relieve the system of these morbid poisons.

The liver must have assistance.

The process of restoration will be hastened if the kidneys are also invigorated and strengthened.

Both these filtering systems are acted on directly and promptly by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It is through the liver and kidneys alone that the blood can be freed of all impurities and the morbid matter which collects there when the liver is deranged.

Many a suffering man, many a despondent woman, has been cured of the above distressing ailments by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the only remedy that has a combined action on both liver and kidneys.

The wisdom of Dr. Chase in preparing this wonderful remedy has been proven in scores of thousands of cases of complicated diseases of the liver and kidneys, which could be reached by no other remedy.

You do not require faith to be cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. The first dose will help you, and a few boxes at most will positively cure the most severe case of liver complaint or kidney disease. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or postpaid by Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty. Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurance in force to the extent of $16,759,355.92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634.68. The increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,278.76.

Battle Between Officers and Mob.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 23.—In a battle, which occurred at Ashville yesterday afternoon, between Sheriff North's posse and a mob of 400 men, who were seeking to lynch Bames Brown, the negro rapist, from Springville, three men were wounded, two fatally. The mob dispersed for the time being.

Jerseys Are in the Lead.

Buffalo, Aug. 23.—The report from the Model Dairy at the Pan-American for the week ending Aug. 13 shows that for the prize for the most profitable animals in point of butter fat the Jerseys lead with $9.70 for the herd of five, while the Guernseys are second with $8.72. The other breeds follow in this order: Ayrshires, Red Polled, Holsteins, French-Canadians, Polled Jerseys, Brown Swiss, Shorthorns, with the Dutch Belted, at the bottom of the list at $5.40.

Woman is as Old as She Looks.

It is not age but weakness, disease and ill health that makes women look old, care worn and wrinkled. You cannot look your best unless you feel well, strong and vigorous, with pure, rich blood and steady nerves. CRIME STATISTICS.

Increased Convictions in All Provinces But Quebec.

A HABITUAL CRIMINAL CLASS.

Canadians, English, Irish and Scotch Show a Decrease for the Year, But Criminals From Foreign Countries Increased Considerably—Yukon Contributed to the Sum Total —Number of Convictions.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—The criminal statistics for 1900 are about to be published by the Statistics Department. They show that, in the Province of Quebec excepted, the number of convictions in 1900 increased in all the Provinces, in comparison with 1899. The great increase was in the Province of British Columbia, where the convictions, making allowance for the normal increase in population, have increased by over 23 per cent. Nova Scotia, for a mining Province, has a low percentage of cases, only 7.07 per ten thousand of the population, against 26.40 per ten thousand of the population in British Columbia.

The total convictions in 1900 were 5,768. The number of convictions per ten thousand of the whole people were 10.72, compared with 10.75 in 1899. The increase of convictions for crimes committed in cities and towns was 193. Rural districts showed a decrease of 129 in 1900, compared with 1899. The returns show that the convictions for indictable offences were somewhat less among the laboring class in 1900, compared with 1899, and also among the industrial class. The commercial class showed a slight increase. A slight increase also appears among the agricultural class. The proportion of females in all convictions for indictable offences was slightly larger in 1900 than in 1899, but very much smaller than in previous years, the average for the period 1884-91 having been 8.7 per cent., and that for 1900, 5.8 per cent.

With respect to the birthplaces of the criminals of Canada, the Canadian-born show a decrease in 1900 as against 1899, and the same fact is shown in the contributions of England, Ireland and Scotland to our crime. Criminals from foreign countries increased considerably.

A diminution in Roman Catholic criminals is shown. Highwater mark was reached in 1892, when the Roman Catholic criminals made 48.7 of the total criminal calendar, while at the same time the Roman Catholics formed 41.2 of the total population. In 1900, however, that proportion had fallen to 38.8.

The tendency, as disclosed by statistics, appears to be towards a habitual criminal class, which means a smaller number of criminals and a larger number of repetitions of crime.

The Yukon has contributed to the crime of the country, as measured by convictions, 1.65 per cent. of indictable convictions, and 5.2 per cent. of the summary convictions. This is an increase over the previous year, when the record was taken for the first time.

The figures lead to two conclusions in the matter of infractions of the liquor license laws. The first is that women are engaging less and less in the business of distributing or selling liquor. The second is that the average number of women convicted of drunkenness varies but little. The average number of this class of convictions for the seven years was 9.68 per cent. In 1900 it was 9.47, a gradual decrease both relatively and absolutely.

The number of convictions in the order of criminality in each Province is as follows:

Number of Convictions.

Territories and Yukon	2,828	3,296
British Columbia	2,362	2,094
Ontario 16,784		18,419
New Brunswick	3,261	2,311
Manitoba	1,489	1,692
Quebec 10,275		9,917
Nova Scotia	2,259	2,595
Prince Edward Island	452	429

An Arbitration Decision.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—In the arbitration case between the Dominion Government and the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, judgment was delivered yesterday morning, refusing the motion of the Dominion Government. The dispute arose out of the desire of the latter to wipe out about $1,900,000 of trust funds, which were to be credited against a portion of the debt of the late Province of Canada due by the respective Provinces. The trust funds were to bear 5 per cent. interest in favor of the Provinces, while portions of the debt were to bear interest at 4 per cent.

W. D Hogg, K. C., appeared for the Dominion; G. F. Shepley, K. C., and Aemilius Irving, K. C., for Ontario; Eugene La Fleur, K. C., for Quebec.

Chancellor Boyd read the judgment, which was unanimous. Sir Louis Casault, Chief Justice of Quebec, and Mr. Justice Burbidge, of the Exchequer Court, concurred in the decision.

Ontario and Quebec are arbitrating over the reserved cases arising out of Common school funds accounts.

Snaps in Shoes!

Here's a lot of values for those who can make use of the opportunity. The sorting over of stock singles out a number of odd lines that might as well be cleared. There's not enough of any one line to warrant us keeping them on the shelves. We know the value. It is the best. Possibly the buyer who comes with the idea of getting just what one is looking for may not see the exact thing, but will find the very best value in Shoes, and well worth wearing. COUNTY MAGISTRATE'S COURT.

Two Young Men Threw Stones at a "Scab" C. P. R. Train.

Benjamin Curtis and Robert McKinley, the two young men, who were arrested on a charge of throwing stones at a C.P.R. train, were before County Magistrate Edmison this morning, when both entered a plea of "guilty." In extenuation they urged that they were urged to the act by one Warner, a section foreman. As the stone throwing on their part partook of the nature of a practical joke to frighten two "scabs" w o were in a C.P.R. boarding car, the Magistrate thought they had been punished quite enough by their two days' imprisonment and allowed them to go on suspended sentence.

WAS IT A JOKE?

Robbery of Peterborough Stamp Collector at Buffalo.

The Toronto Telegram publishes the following despatch from Buffalo:

Buffalo, Aug. 22.—Col. Byrne, chief of the Exposition police force, denounces as a fake the story that W. Kelsey Hall, a philatelist from Peterborough, was robbed of several thousand dollars worth of rare stamps while on the Midway.

"The story is not true, and the man who originated it knew it was not true," said Col. Byrne. "Mr. Hall had some valuable stamps with him, and while he was asleep at the Exposition two of his friends took the stamps for safe keeping. There never was any complaint that there had been a robbery. The stamps were returned to Mr. Hall by his friends."

FRUIT STEALING.

Boys Have Already Commenced Operations on the Orchards.

With the advent of the fruit season the usual crop of complaints regarding depredations in harvested at police headquarters. Matters have reached such a pass that it seems almost impossible to raise fruit inside the town limits with any degree of certainity as to who will be the beneficiaries. It does not seem to "cut any ice" with the boys no matter who the proprietor may be. Police Magistrate Dumble had to practically abandon his attempt at raising small fruit some years ago. Threats and shot guns are alike disregarded, and the only way to save the fruit seems to be by compromise with the boys. Whether the young urchins reached the present stage of degeneracy through being dealt with too leinently, or whether the tendency to "lift" fruit on any or all occasions is inherited, is beside the question. All the police know is that they have received instructions to keep an extra sharp look out this year for prowlers around fruit gardens

This morning, a couple of lads were before Mr. James Stevenson, J. P., charged by Miss Leonard with stealing fruit. They were discharged.

A MONTH IN NEW ONTARIO.

Official Visit of Bishop O'Connor to the North.

AN ALL ROUND PROGRESS.

New Churches and Church Buildings—Industrial Development of Mineral and Forest Resources—Great Steel Works at the Soo—Nickel Industry—Pulp Works Progress.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, who was accompanied by Mr. T. J. Crowley, student, is home from his triennial episcopal visitation to the northern part of his Diocese, in excellent health. He was absent seven weeks to a day, having left Peterborough on July 2nd, and returning August 22nd.

He did not cover the whole of his extensive Diocese on this visit, but will return in September or October to complete his tour of episcopal visitation. The districts visited were those on the northern shores of Lake Superior, extending 75 miles west of Fort William. At Port Arthur His Lordship found unusual activity and great improvement since his last visit. Work on the Rainy River Railway is progressing briskly at the Port Arthur end as well as at the Manitoba terminus, and west from Port Arthur about 80 miles are about completed, and work is going forward rapidly on a large million-bushel grain elevator, which is to be ready for the fall grain trade. Here church interests are in good condition, and improvement is pleasingly evident. The increase of population has made necessary the enlargement of the Roman Catholic Hospital, which is now nearly completed at a cost of between $12,000 and $13,000, and the repairs of the injury of the Convent by fire on May 25th, are also being made.

At the Soo, which shows wonderful improvement, new transepts to the church, similar to those added to St. Peter's cathedral here, and also of stone, are being built at a cost of $13,000. His Lordship reports the Soo as being the liveliest place he visited. The streets are thronged with people, like those of of a large city. Work on the Algoma Central Railway is going on rapidly, and thousands of men are employed in the construction of the great works associated with the Clergue Syndicate. About a mile and a half west of the Soo immense ranges of stone walls, 700 or 800 feet long, are rising for the buildings of the steel works, an industry that, it is claimed, will employ 5,000 or 6,000 men in the manufacture of steel rails, etc. In this vicinity the Clergue Company is erecting for the accommodation of the workmen, 200 cottages of uniform type, which in themselves will constitute no small village. They are placed about one hundred feet apart, and will be a very comfortable contrast to the hovels in which many great corporations house their workmen. The ore for the supply of iron to be used in these mills comes from the Helen iron mine, near Michipicoten, (on the lake), about 140 miles from the Soo. Already iron ore from this mine, which is brought by a branch line from the mines to the great wharves at the water's edge, is being used at the Midland smelter. This mine has only been as one might say, merely scratched on the surface, but it contains ore enough to last for centuries . Borings one hundred feet deep give signs of first class ore. In addition there is the Josephine iron mine, claimed to be as valuable and as extensive as the Helen, lies not far distant, and the Clergue Company is to run a branch from the Michipicoten spur to reach this mine. At the Helen iron mine and vicinity, three churches have been built since last fall, two of which are temporary, but sufficient for present needs.

His Lordship also went up on the Soo Branch, and last Sunday sang mass at Victoria Mines, where the great Ludwig Mond nickel smelter and refinery are at work. This is 22 miles west of Sudbury. At the Mond Works nickel is first converted into matte in the smelter, and conveyed in a molten condition to the refiner, thus saving fuel and the cost of transportation and securing economy in production. The refined nickel is 75 per cent purity. At Victoria Mines, opened only a year ago, mass was sung in the school house, but while there the Bishop gave a contract for the construction of a church.

At Copper Cliff, (near Sudbury,) which is now a thriving town of about 4,000, the Canadian Copper Co. is extensively engaged in smelting and refining, eight smelters being at work.

His Lordship did not forget local interests. He made a visit, not an official, but a friendly, personal one, to Webbwood, 45 miles west of Sudbury, the headquarters of the operations of the Spanish River Pulp and Paper Company, of which Mr. Wm. Irwin, Ashburnham, is a director with large interests. Here very active operations were in progress on water power development, and in the construction of the large buildings required by the company. There is excellent brick clay here, and the company will make the brick for its buildings, and will continue the manufacture for the purpose of sale. Already 200,000 brick have been manufactured.

His Lordship had a very pleasant journey, and was much pleased with the evidences of prosperity and progress presented throughout the north, both in regard to the interests in which he is concerned in his official capacity, a well as in regard to the more material interests connected with the development of the immense natural resources of this great expanse of territory.

WEDDED IN RICHMOND.

Union Between Two Missionaries Ends a Happy Romance.

The Mail and Empire publishes the following despatch concerning the recent marriage of Mr. Louis Turnbull, son of Mr. J. C. Turnbull, formerly of Peterborough:—

Eldridge, of Irvington, to Louis Turnbull, of Toronto, was quietly solemnized at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Turnbull left for Toronto today. In the fall they will sail for India, as missionaries, to remain seven years. The wedding was the final chapter of a happy romance which began two years ago in the Missionary Training School at Nyack, N. Y.

What's Going on at Miss Rudkins'.

Shoppers will find bargains unusual in every department. We're glad as anyone to make a reasonable profit on what we sell. Who else has as good a right to? But we have a better idea than to think that summer goods gain by being kept for a profit till fall comes. So, clear them out now, fast as you please, while the store is being altered and improved. Miss Rudkins.

AN AUGUST WEDDING.

Rev. L. S. Wight B. A. of Millbrook Takes Unto Himself a Wife.

A very pretty home wedding took place on Wednesday, August 14th, at Emmonsville, at the residence of Mr. Thomas Emmons, when his eldest daughter, Miss Emily, was married to Rev. L. S. Wight, B. A., of Millbrook.

The drawing room was decorated with cut flowers and evergreens.

The ceremony, which was performed by the resident pastor, Rev. G. E. Ross, took place under an arch and bell of flowers. At 3 o'clock, as the Wedding March was played by Miss Bella McLeod, the party entered the drawing room, the bride being escorted by her father.

The bride's gown was of white silk, beautifully trimmed with chiffon and ribbon. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations.

The groomsman was Mr. Walter Crews of Trenton.

After the ceremony the guests, who numbered about fifty, sat down to a sumptuous repast. Mr. and Mrs. Wight were the recipients of many costly and beautiful presents. The best wishes of their many friends accompany them to their new home.

TRENT VALLEY WATERWAY.

A Few Interesting and Importantant Fact Concerning it.

The Trent Valley Waterway is a matter of perennial interest to Peterborough and our readers should not tire of hearing too often of the advantages it offers.

Mr. Kilbourn, President of the Lakefield Portland Cement Company, has favoured the Lakefield News with a few facts relative to the Trent Valley Canal taken from the resolution moved by him at the meeting at the T.V.C. Association held in Peterborough last February as follows:—

This waterway of 200 miles in length can be completed for $3,500,000.

When complete it will give continuous navigation to barges of 500 tons burden (twice the capacity of the Erie Canal) from Montreal to Sault Ste. Marie via Georgian Bay, Lake Simcoe, Otonabee and Trent Rivers and the connected lakes and Bay of Quinte.

It will shorten the distance between all the great western lake ports and Liverpool by 727 miles

It is capable of being operated during a season of seven months in a year and of transporting 200 million bushels of grain per annum.

By means of the numerous lakes and rivers which it utilises and intersects, it will give a short line of 1,000 miles and lay under tribute six million acres of agricultural forest mineral lands capable of yielding from 50 to 100 tons of freight per acre.

It will utilize the finest continuous system of water powers on the globe. The fall downward from Balsam Lake to Bay of Quinte being 600 feet while that northward to Georgian Bay is 200 feet.

It will build up cities along its route to manufacture the hardwood timber into furniture and the iron and steel of Midland, Deseronto and Sault Ste. Marie into all things into which they are convertable and also develop marl lands for the manufacture of Portland cement, the lime quarries for lime and building stone, the mica mines, the lithographic stone quarries, the peat fuel beds, etc., to say nothing of the agricultural products of the rich counties traversed at its southern ends, each bushel of which will have an added value owing to cheaper transportation of 5c. per bushel.

It will act as a feeder to the railways which now very imperfectly serve the district through which the canal runs and render valuable an immense amount of material now only encumbering the ground, and valueless save for the pittance in labour which the unfortunate possessors get for it when cut into cordwood or burned for potash.

140 miles of this waterway is now completed but bottled up at both ends, yet it is giving employment for internal commerce and tourist travel travel to 50 steamboats, besides numerous smaller craft.

It has been estimated that a daily flow of 12 millions of gallons of water will be required to operate the canal, but 12 billions of gallons are available, and if placed under one control i.e., Dominion or Provincial, the flow of the streams would be more than doubled, and the water kept at a constant height throughout the year.

Shot a Loon.

County Magistrate Deacon of Lindsay, was summoned to Omemee, on Tuesday to hear a couple of cases. Percy Pierson, of the village, was charged by Game Warden Smith, of Belleville, with having shot wild ducks out of season. The charge was not sustained by the evidence, but Pierson admitted that he had shot a water fowl known as a diver. As all water fowl are entitled to the same protection as duck during the close season, he was fined $5 for being too handy with his gun. At the same court Arthur McElvain was charged with non-support of his family. The case was adjourned till the 26th inst., so that the parties might have an opportunity of arriving at a settlement.

THEY CHASED A BIG BUCK

And Headed it off in Stony Lake.

Yankees and Their Guides Have a Wild and Exciting Time Cornering a Deer.

Stony Lake, Aug. 22nd.

It is a well known fact among the many fishermen who frequent Stony Lake, that there is more genuine sport to be found at McCracken's Landing than elsewhere, but yesterday the guests were treated to an exploit which even the genial Fred Morgan had not found it possible to place on the bill of fare.

About eight o'clock on Wednesday morning there started out from the Landing Mr. Cox, of Rochester, in charge of the well-known Indian Madden Howard, Mr. Kale, of Pittsburg, with "truthful Jim" Pimmott, as guide, Mr. Cramer, of Cleveland, chaperoned by the redoubtable Jack Hunter, and "Bud" McWilliams.

They proceeded up the lake about seven miles, and were having excellent luck bass fishing, when the eagle eye of the swarthy Chippewa discovered a huge buck swimming across the lake, about 300 yards ahead of him, and notifying Mr. Cox he struck out in pursuit — and everybody knows how Madden can paddle when his blood is up.

The rest of the party seeing the race, joined in the chase, and it was not long before the deer was entirely surrounded by excited Yankees and delighted guides. On catching up to the deer, Mr. Cox in his excitement stood straight up in his canoe, and seizing the anchor rope succeeded in lassoing the deer, and then began what was probably never witnessed on these waters before. The deer struck out boldly for shore, and the rest of the party catching hold of Mr. Cox's boat, the entire fleet of canoes and skiffs were towed a distance of fully one hundred yards.

By this time Mr. David Breeze had arrived on the scene, and standing up in his skiff waved his oar frantically, yelling "Kill him; kill him," but realizing that it was about two months too early Mr. Kale showed his pluck by rowing up to within reach and cutting the rope about two and a half feet from the buck's horns, and in doing so his fish hook caught in the deer's flanks, and he was forced to cut his line.

The deer was an excellent specimen, and had a beautiful set of horns with six tines.

If any sportsman is fortunate enough to secure him this season we would remind him that the rope belongs to Madden Howard and the fishing tackle to Mr. Kale of Pittsburg.

DEATH OF WM. CARDWELL.

He was Well Known in Peterborough.

The Syracuse Journal says:—"The death of William Cardwell, a prominent member of the Foresters of America, occurred at his hotel, 101 South Cross avenue, yesterday. He was 47 years old. Death was due to heat. On June 28, he was prostrated by the heat from which he suffered intensely. Hopes were entertained for his recovery, until a few days ago when he began to sink rapidly.

Mr. Cardwell was born in the county of Tyrone, Ireland about 47 years ago and was the second oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cardwell. At the age of eight he was left an orphan, but he remained at the family home in Ireland until 12 years ago when he went to Perth and later to Peterborough, Ontario, Canada. Four years later he came to this city and entered the hotel business in which line he has since been identified. Mr. Cardwell was a member of Court Solvay, Foresters of America.

Besides a widow he is survived by six children, Mrs. William Cowden, of this city, Robert Cardwell and Mrs. Frederick Heath, of Toronto, Canada, Frederick Cardwell of this city, and Herbert and Miss Edith Cardwell, of Peterborough, Ontario, Canada.

The remains were removed to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Cowder, 122 Ashworth place, where the funeral will be held."

Deceased was at one time proprietor of the Cardwell House in Omemee, now known as the Commercial House. His family will have the sympathy of their numerous friends in their bereavement.

GOLF COLTS.

The Golf Colts have received word from Lindsay to the effect that the team from that place will be unable to come to Peterborough for a match before the first week in September. In the meantime it behooves the Colts to get in some practices.

BASEBALL.

The Lindsay Post says: The Lindsay Seniors are anxiously waiting for the Peterborough team to give them a game. Our boys can play there any day but Saturday.

The Oshawas who play here to-morrow, must be very strong. A game was played on Wednesday in Port Hope between Oshawa and the home team, resulting in a victory for the latter by a score of 9-8, with an innings to spare.

LACROSSE.

Port Hope won from Oshawa on the Toronto Island yesterday by 6 goals to 1. The Oshawas left the field at half time. This gives the District Championship to Port Hope.

The Ottawa Journal proposes that a reward similar to the Victoria Cross should go to a young lacrosse player in that city who had his jaw fractured in a game the other day and yet kept on playing till the end of the contest. when time was called it was found he had lost ten teeth as well. We hardly think the suggestion will meet with very wide approval. A soldier who takes a risk such as wins for him the most coverted military distinction does so to accomplish a useful purpose. Lacrosse is or should be merely a pastime and if a man is so severely injured as this young Ottawa player was he has no right to take the chance of still more serious consequences to himself by continuing on the field. Such injuries as he sustained could not be the result of an accident but must have been of deliberate malice. This explains why the Journal thinks Victoria Crosses might be held out as rewards. A man who goes on the lacrosse field practically takes his life in his hands. The struggle is not that between friendly contestants but between armed foes. If a lacrosse game is to be a real battle, why let us have Victoria Crosses. But wouldn't it perhaps be better to reform the game. If it can't be reformed, abolish it. As played by its leading exponents to-day, Canadians may well be ashamed to own it as the national sport.—Sentinal Review.

GOLF.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee held on August 21st, it was decided to have a permanent list of twelve names, arranged in order of seniority, from which the teams for all foreign matches should be selected. The Committee decided upon Messrs. Hamilton, Burnham, Ray, Burnett, Dennistoun, Eastwood and Garvin as the first seven on the list, and that members who wish to fill the remaining five places must drop a card, on or before Wednesday, the 28th inst. The Executive Committee will choose the best five for the team list. Rules of Medal Play will govern.

A new grounds rule was passed to to the effect that any player driving out of the bounds from the tee may drop a ball and drive again without further penalty than loss of distance.

The draw for the first round in the open championship will be made on Thursday, 5th September. Members to be elegible must have played 18 holes in 100 or better. Members who have already handed in scores of 100 or better need not again qualify, and those who have not already qualified must drop cards, initialled in the usual way, in the box on or before the 5th of September. Any two members may play together for the purpose of qualifying. As the ground in the Sutcliffe field (first two holes) is unfit for play, members qualifying for the open championship will omit the first, and second holes and play the fifth and sixth holes twice, in lieu of them.

To facilitate the arrangement of informal games with the members of foreign clubs, upon notice to the secretary, and so long as it does not interfere with any club arrangements, members shall have the right to arrange home and home games with members of foreign clubs; it being understood that such members do not represent this club.

THE TRACK.

Horse racing seems to be on the wane in Belleville. A two days' race meet was advertised for Wednesday and Thursday, but the events were all cancelled with the exception of a colt race on account of poor attendance on Wednesday. Peterborough, however, has not much the advantage in this respect, as it would take a pretty nervy man who would undertake to run a two days' meet the local track, although it is one of the best half-mile tracks in Ontario.

THE TURF.

The Seaside harness meeting at Brighton Beach closed Saturday, the feature race of the day being the free-for-all for pace. The field had dwindled down to two starters, Anaconda and Prince Albert, and before the start both drivers consented that the distance should be waived, presumably from the fact that heretofore Prince Albert has sometimes been erratic in his races. But he was on his good behaviour Saturday, and made Anaconda step a merry clip before the race was finished. The first heat was won handily by Anaconda in 2.05 1-2, but there was fast going from the start, when the pacers took the word for the second heat. They sailed around to the first quarter in 30 seconds, and at the half they were head and head in 1.00, and this clip was maintained to the three-quarters, which they flashed by in 1.30. Down the stretch they kept up this marvellous gait until the distance flag had been passed, where the Prince slackened, and Anaconda passed under the wire in 2.01 3-4, with the Prince a couple of lengths behind. This is the fastest race of the year, and is also a champion record, as it is the fastest time ever made in a race by a gelding.

A HEALTHY AUGUST.

Universal Absence of End of Summer Ailments.

In conversation yesterday, a physician with a large practice, stated that August had been a particularly healthy month this year, there being not only a remarkable but almost entire absence of what is known as "summer complaints." He added that two or three druggists had told him they had on their shelves yet the most of the large supply of the special remedies they had prepared for this class of ailments.

SCHOOL DAYS COMING.

It cometh on in giant strides,
The sad September day,
When school boys in reluctance must Desert their joyous play.

And hie them to the school house, where
Their ancient foe doth wait
To load them up with knowledge as
A box car's filled with freight.

And we who have escaped from it
Will sagely tell the boys
That in our youth our studies were
Our one and only joy!

The Average Count.

One striking good advertisement does not mean good advertising. It is not one hit which spells success, but a series, of which the average is good. Do not be worried if one week's answers are not quite satisfactory in number; it is not one week or one month, but the year's average which decides between good and poor advertising.

Any one troubled with boils, pimples, rashes, festering sores or any chronic or malignant skin disease, should use Burdock Blood Bitters externally and take internally. It will cure where others fail. f

MYSTERIOUS DEATH AT AUDLEY.

Jury Find That Stephen Westney Ate Porridge Containing Arsenic.

Toronto, Aug. 22.—Stephen Westney, a farmer of Audley, Pickering Township, died suddenly on June 28. The coroner's inquest held at Pickering yesterday, returned this verdict.:

"Stephen Westney came to his death on Friday, June 28, last, from eating porridge containing arsenic, and that it is not known to this jury by what means said poison came to be there, and that the rolled oats as purchased contained no poison."

Plays With Firearms.

Neepawa, Aug. 23.—A shooting accident took place at Orange Ridge on Sunday. William Featherstone, a lad of 18, and son of a well-known farmer in that district, went over to a neighbor's to see a friend of his, Thomas Madill, a lad of about the same age. The guns were standing in the corner of the room, one of which Featherstone picked up, and, pointing at Madill, said "Let's shoot each other, Tom!" Madill picked up the other and knocked the one pointing at him out of the way. The jar of the two guns exploded the cartridge in the one held by Madill, the contents striking Featherstone's head and killing him instantly.

Drowned at Wingham.

Wingham, Aug. 22.—A very sad drowning took place here yesterday afternoon, when little George Lediat lost his life. The boy and his elder sister were out on the river in an old punt, when the boat became fast in some rubbish and they were unable to free themselves. The little boy, thinking he could swim to shore, got out of the boat and attempted his perilous task. He sank almost immediately, and before his sister could give an alarm he was drowned.

Young Lad Lost.

St. Thomas, Aug. 22.—The 10-year-old son of Mrs. Binns, Malakoff street, went to the Scotch picnic at Rondeau Tuesday, but did not return Tuesday night with the excursionists. His parents are worried in consequence, as it is thought he met with an accident.

The Impact Was Terrific.

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 22.—In a head-on collision between the Chicago and Alton westbound "Hummer" and a freight train, at Prentice, early yesterday, five men were killed and six badly injured. None of the passengers were injured beyond slight bruises. The freight train had pulled into a siding from the west end, to await the passenger train. It is supposed the train gradually worked out over the switch unobserved by the crew, and, when the passenger came along at a high speed, the impact was terrific.

The Cause of Nervous Headache.

This most distressing and common malady doubtless has its origin in some unbalanced condition of the nervous system. Probably the simplest, safest and most efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. Twenty drops in sweetened water gives immediate relief and this treatment should be supplemented by bathing the regions of pain with Nerviline. To say it acts quickly fails to express the result. Sold everywhere in large 25c bottles.

A Dig at the Daisy.

One of my greatest mistakes, says Anna Lea Merritt, the artist, telling in The Century of her first gardening experiences in England, was to raise a large crop of daisies. This flower is the badge of the women's college at Cheltenham and of Lady Margaret Hall, Oxford, because it always turns to the light and is lowly and modest, yet flourishes everywhere. I am convinced that these learned ladies never had any practical acquaintance with that flower. It is the most underhand, grasping, selfish, ill regulated little plant that exists. It takes everything it can get and gives nothing except its little spot of white in some place where it is not wanted. It provides no food for beast or bee, it destroys the wholesome grass, and certainly its ugly habit of crouching out of harm's way makes it decidedly insignificant until one tries to dig it up, when its mighty power of resistance is unmasked. I do not think it at all a good emblem.

A Musical Tyrant.

Gluck as a conductor is said to have been an unmerciful tyrant. Frequently the musicians would have to repeat a passage 20 times before he was satisfied. The members of the Vienna court orchestra complained of this hard usage to the emperor, Joseph II, who appeased them by agreeing to give them 2 ducats instead of 1 for every performance at which Gluck should conduct.

Follows the Doctors.

De Witt—Yes, my son follows the medical profession.

De Witt—I didn't say he was a doctor. He's an undertaker.

HORSES FOR SOUTH AFRICA.

Col. Dent Has Bought 778 in the Northwest for $72,145.

Ottawa, Aug. 22. — Lieut.-Col. Dent, who has been in the Northwest for some weeks, purchasing horses for the War Office, has completed his tour, and returned to Montreal.

The following is a statement of the number of horses purchased in the Northwest and British Columbia by Col. Dent, with the prices paid for each class of horse, and the total amount expended:

Horses Bought.	No.	Price.	Am't
Mounted Infantry cobs...	377	$85	$32,045
Cavalry	255	100	25,500
Royal Artillery	146	100	14,600
Total	778		$72,145

Of these 778 horses, 26 were secured at Kamloops and Vernon, B. C.; the others at various points in the Northwest, as follows: Calgary, 217; High River, 98; Cochrane, 61; Lethbridge, 18; Macleod, 231; Pincher Creek, 48; Medicine Hat, 27; Maple Creek, 44; Moose Jaw, 8.

FILLED WITH GAS.

Every Meal was a Fresh Cause for Pain and Distress.

One of the most unpleasant results of Dyspepsia is the formation of gas in the stomach. This arises from the sodden, undigested mass of fermenting food which the weakened stomach has been unable to assimilate.

Any person troubled with gas in the stomach should remember that a Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablet swallowed after meals will prevent the fermentation of food and the subsequent formation of gas. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets actually digest the food sent to the over-charged or worn out stomach which cannot of itself manage its own work.

Pastry, for instance, causes pain and discomfort to a great many Dyspeptics. It doesn't to those who use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, because the moment one starts to use them one is, practically speaking, no longer a Dyspeptic.

One is no longer a Dyspeptic when one's food digests all right. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets digest the food food perfectly. Heart Burn, Gas, Waterbrash, Pain in the Stomach, cease, and it is only then a matter of time before Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure the stomach of its disease or weakness permanently.

"For eight years," writes Mr. William Bangerth, 20 York street, Hamilton, Ont., "I have been a sufferer with Dyspepsia. I could not eat a hearty meal for fear of being taken with those dreadful pains. If I should eat any kind of pastry I would suffer after with Heartburn, and my stomach would fill with gas. My digestive organs failed to do their work in spite of all the remedies I used. My friends advised me to take a treatment with the doctor, but I not thinking that any result would come from it, refused to have such an operation as was suggested. An acquaintance who had used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets advised me to try them. I have now used two boxes, and am able to eat a hearty meal without any fear whatever."

Four Perfect Women.

The prophet Mohammed is reported to have said that "among men there had been many perfect, but not more than four of the other sex have attained perfection—to wit, Asiah, Mary, Khadijah and Fatima." Asiah was the wife of the pharaoh of the Exodus. She forsook the faith of her fathers, on account of which her husband subjected her to many cruelties. The Virgin Mary was the second perfect woman, Mohammed stating that "she had been exalted above all the women of the world." Khadijah was the first wife of the prophet, "a princess among women." Fatima, according to Mohammed, was the fourth perfect woman, she being his beloved daughter.

The Bill Would Grow.

"I've brought you a little brother," said the doctor.

"No," said the impossible child; "the stork brought my little brother."

"Well, I'm the stork," said the doctor.

"But where is your bill?" said the impossible child.

It is claimed by those who should know that an impossible child is probably never wittier than upon the occasion of somebody being born into the family.

THE BRIDEGROOM WAS LATE.

Why He Arrived Tousled and Covered With Cobwebs.

"One of the most embarrassing situations I ever saw," remarked a gentleman at one of the hotels, "was at a big wedding celebration at one of the large churches in a southern city several years ago. It was the event, socially, of the season, and the church was filled with belles and beaus. The bride and bridegroom were among the most popular of the social set. The young lady was the very essence of grace in all things. But the man who had won her was one of the most awkward specimens of humanity I had ever seen. He was simply built that way. He looked it. He walked more like a camel than any human being I have ever seen. He was the kind of fellow, too, who was always blundering except in business. In business he was as keen as they made them, and among the older men in the commercial community he was held up as a splendid example of the young manhood of the time.

"But, getting back to the wedding, the wise, whispering folk who generally look after such things had arranged for the affair in the most popular church of the city, and in spite of his protests they had made it a trifle more elaborate than he had even expected. They had arranged for the bride and a number of attendants to approach the altar from the front part of the church, and 7:30 was the time exactly when the meeting between bride and bridegroom should take place at the altar.

"The bridegroom was to come from the back of the church. The organ thundered forth the usual strains, and the pretty bride walked down the aisle toward the altar with the attendants. They reached the altar. It was 7:30 p. m., on the last tick of the half hour. The bridegroom was not there. All eyes turned to the door through which he was to enter. But it never opened, and the seconds seemed to lengthen into centuries. It was awful. The bride's face flushed, and she was rapidly weakening under the trying wait.

"Five minutes nearly had passed, when the door was flung open and the embarrassed bridegroom entered. His face, too, was flushed, his hair was tousled and disarranged, his gloves and shirt front were soiled, and, in fact, he was literally covered with cobwebs and dust. But he had the smile of victory on his face when he broke through the door, and everybody seemed to be almost in a humor to applaud.

"After the ceremony he explained why it was that he did not arrive on time. The yard behind the church was not well lighted. A huge organ box had been placed up close to the church, and it was one of the boxes with a folding door that swung on hinges. In his excitement and hurry he had opened this door and had walked into the organ box, and before he could get his bearings he had managed to undo all the little tidy arrangements he had made for the occasion, and this accounted for the dust and the cobwebs which clung to his hair and clothing when he rushed into the church.

Kinder Than His Pop.

"Say, pop, you know Mr. Johnson 'cross the street?" asked 8-year-old Tommy Cross.

"Yes; know him most as well as I do you," replied the elder Cross.

"Well, he's got four beauteous ponies in his barn."

"Well?"

"An you know Jimmy Place?"

"Yes."

"Jimmy's awful smart. He says you can take a bunch of beeswax an push it into the keyhole of the lock in the barn an take away the hole, so's you can make a key that will fit it, see?"

"Oh, is that so?"

"Yep. An Jimmy's father makes bullets out of lead, an he can take the lead an make a key, an what do you expect?"

"Well, with an enterprising lad like Jimmy I should think that after taking away the hole he'd go back and get the barn."

"Nope; but he's going to take out the ponies some dark night, an, say, pop, he's going to give me one. That's more than you'd do for me."

"Hum! Guess it is."

Reasoning It Out.

"How is this, Throggins? Have you lost your opal ring?"

"No; left it at home."

"Where are you going?"

"Going to the races."

"Oho! Superstitious, are you?"

"Not a bit."

"Then why did you leave your opal?"

"Well, it occurred to me that if I should wear my opal in defiance of the popular superstition the same mental process that led me to do it might lead me to betting on the wrong horse."

Common Sense.

The term "common sense" puzzles so many people, for we all must sorrowfully admit its uncommonness. Common sense is that sense which is common to all the five senses or the point where the five senses meet, supposed to be the seat of the soul, where it judges what is presented by the five senses and then decides the mode of action.

A Medicine 300 Years Old.

Our readers will probably be surprised to learn that for nearly 300 years cod liver oil has been used as a medicine. During the past twenty five years nearly all the cod liver oil brought to this country from Norway has been used in the form of Scott's Emulsion. It is by all means the most pleasant preparation of cod liver oil you can buy.

SOME VIVID DREAMS.

WARNINGS AND VISIONS THAT HAVE COME DURING SLEEP.

Lady Andover's Dream and Her Husband's Tragic Death—The Murderous Butler Who Was Scared Away. The Young Woman In Gray Silk.

In "The Story of My Life," by Mr. Augustus J. C. Hare, are told the following dream stories: When staying at Ravensworth castle in November, 1876, General Stanhope, talking of dreams, said:

"Lady Andover, who was the daughter of Lord Leicester, was with her husband at Holkham, and when one day all the other men were going out shooting she piteously implored him not to go, saying that she had dreamed vividly that he would be shot if he went out. She was so terribly eager about it that he acceded to her wishes and remained with her in the painting room, for she painted beautifully in oils, and was copying a picture of the 'Misers' which was at Holkham. But the afternoon was excessively beautiful, and Lady Andover's strong impression, which had been so vivid in the morning, then seemed to wear off, till at last she said: 'Well, really, perhaps I have been selfish in keeping you from what you like so much because of my own impressions; so now, if you care about going out, don't let me keep you in any longer.' And he said: 'Well, if you don't mind, I should certainly like to go,' and he went. He had not been gone long before Lady Andover's impressions returned just as vividly as ever, and she rushed up stairs and put on her bonnet and pursued him. But, as she crossed the park, she met her husband's own servant riding furiously without his coat. 'Don't tell me,' she said at once. 'I know what has happened,' and she went back and locked herself into her room. His servant was handing him a gun through a hedge, it went off, and he was killed upon the spot."

Lady Vernon dreamed that she saw the butler, with a knife in one hand and a candle in the other, crossing the entrance hall, and she awoke with a great start. After awhile she composed herself to sleep again, and she dreamed—she dreamed that she saw the butler, with a knife in one hand and a candle in the other, on the middle of the staircase, and she awoke with a great shock. She got up; she thought she could not be quite well, and she took a little sal volatile. At last she fell asleep again, and she dreamed—she dreamed that she saw the butler, with a knife in one hand and a candle in the other, standing at her bedroom door, and she awoke in a great terror, and she jumped out of bed, and she said, "I'll have an end of this; I'll have an end of these foolish imaginations," and she rushed to the door, and she threw the door wide open. And there at the door stood the butler, with a knife in one hand and a candle in the other. And when he suddenly saw Lady Vernon in her white nightdress, with her hair streaming down her back, he was so dreadfully frightened that he dropped the candle on the floor and rushed off down the staircase and off to the stables, where there was a horse ready saddled and bridled, on which he meant to have ridden away when he had murdered Lady Vernon. And he rode away without ever having murdered her at all, and he was never, never, never heard of again.

Lord Denbigh sent the following story to Mr. Hare of a supernatural vision which he had heard from Henry Malet in 1869: In the winter of 1854-5 Malet was in Paris and saw a good deal of Palgrave Simpson, the dramatic author. One evening after a dinner Simpson expressed himself a believer in clairvoyant phenomena. A few days afterward Malet received an order to return to London and hold himself in readiness to embark for the Crimea with his regiment. On the night before his departure for Malta he received a note from Simpson inclosing an antique ring. The note said: "Do not laugh at me, but while you are in the Crimea wear the inclosed ring. It was given to me by the last representative of an old Hungarian family on her deathbed. In her family it was an heirloom and considered as a most precious talisman to preserve the wearer from any external harm." Malet slipped the ring on his finger without attaching any great importance to the matter and the next morning sailed from Portsmouth. We will let him tell the remainder of the story:

"We touched at Gibraltar, but it was not till our arrival at Malta that I heard from my family. Then I found a letter from my mother dated from Frankfort on the very day of our sailing from England. It said: 'I have been quite broken hearted about you, and could find no comfort anywhere, but now all is changed, for a most extraordinary reason. This morning as I lay in bed in broad daylight and after my maid had brought my hot water, just as I was about to get up, a most beautiful young lady, very fair and dressed in gray silk, drew aside the curtain of my bed and leaned over me and said: "Do not be unhappy about your son; no harm shall happen to him." I am quite certain I have had a vision, yet it seemed as if I were awake; certainly I was so the moment before this happened. The whole thing is as distinct as possible and as unlike an effect of imagination. Of course, I cannot account for it, but it has made me quite happy, and I know you will come back safe.' On receipt of this letter I bethought me of the ring, and begged my mother in reply to describe minutely the appearance of the mysterious visitor. My mother said it was a young woman about 27 years of age, rather pale, with very straight features, large gray eyes and an abundance of brown hair worn in rather an old fashioned manner. The sleeves of the gray silk dress were what we call 'bishop sleeves.' I sent copies of my mother's letter to Palgrave Simpson, and he answered me that the description was in the minutest particular the counterpart of the lady who on her deathbed had given him the ring, some 16 or 17 years before. It is to be observed that no communication whatever passed between me and my mother between the receipt of the ring and my arrival at Malta, and I will swear that I told no one the story."

Sugar Water.

Eau sucree is said to dispel thirst more efficaciously than any other drink, and it is simplicity itself. Put three large lumps of sugar in a tumbler with a tablespoonful of water and allow the sugar to dissolve, then fill up with more cold water. The French say that the perfection of this drink consists in letting the sugar first melt slowly in a small quantity of water.

Why She Was Mad.

One morning in kindergarten a wee mite of womanhood had been trying to attract the teacher by every resource of which she was capable without directly saying she had something to tell. Finally the young girl went over and sat beside her, whereupon little Rachel flounced her skirts, puckered up her forehead and, clinching her hand, exclaimed, "Oh, dear, but I'm mad!"

The teacher was surprised, for Rachel had seemed to be laboring under a delightful secret. "And why is little Miss Sunshine angry?" asked the instructor.

"Well, everybody was mad at our house this morning. Mamma scolded Sister Jane, and auntie scolded mamma, and papa said, 'Oh, darn!' and left the table, so I guess I can be cross too!" —Motherhood.

The English Are Unmilitary.

Partly from historical and partly perhaps from racial causes the English are essentially unmilitary. They resent the control of soldiers. They distrust military ideals. No government that ever existed in this country was more unpopular than that of Oliver Cromwell and his major generals. Its unpopularity left an indelible mark on English institutions. For many years it made it impossible to have a standing army. Even when the course of events made it necessary to concede that much to the military necessities of the time it still remained a maxim for centuries with all politicians that as little power as possible must be granted to the soldiers; that their business was to fight our wars, and, this being done, that there was little or no place for them in the body politic.

We do not think it necessary to defend this attitude of mind. Like most popular feelings, it is largely unjust, but also, like many popular feelings, it is based to some extent on a true conception. Politically, using the word in its largest sense, the domination of the military idea in a state is calamitous. It tends, we believe, to destroy individuality and is a serious menace to individual liberty.

The Third Handle.

The best account of the origin of the loving cup comes from the late Lord Lyons, British embassador at Paris. Henry IV of France while hunting became separated from his companions and, feeling thirsty, called at a wayside inn for a cup of wine. The serving maid on handing it to him as he sat on horseback neglected to present the handle. Some wine was spilled, and his majesty's white gauntlets were soiled. While riding home he bethought him that a two handled cup would prevent a recurrence of this, so his majesty had a two handled cup made at the royal potteries and sent it to the inn. On his next visit h called again for wine, when, to his astonishment, the maid, having received instructions from her mistress to be very careful of the king's cup, presented it to him by holding it herself by each of its handles. At once the happy idea struck the king of a cup with three handles, which was promptly acted upon, as his majesty quaintly said, "Surely, out of three handles I shall be able to get one!" Hence the loving cup.

Spirits Above and Below.

"Many years ago," writes a New Hampshire clergyman in the Boston Journal, "it was the custom to store liquors in church cellars in Boston; not all of them, but many of them. As late as 1850, and probably later, the cellar of the stone church on Bowdoin square was used by the Trull distillery near by (Pitts street, if I am right) for the ripening in hogsheads of New England rum. Some one found a hymn-book in a pew and copied in there the following verse:

"There are spirits above and spirits below,
The spirits of love and the spirits of woe.
The spirits above are the spirits of love;
The spirits below are the spirits of woe.
The spirit above is the spirit divine;
The spirits below are the spirits of wine.

"I have myself frequently watched the men putting hogsheads of rum into the cellars or taking them out."

There's a Story in Morning Tiredness.

A story of poor blood, weakened nerves, of a starved brain. Plenty of food, mind you, but perhaps poorly prepared and too poorly digested to maintain a vigorous body. Ferrozone quickly makes blood, gives strength to the nerves, cures the fagged feeling that prevent vigorous thought and action. Use Ferrozone, it makes blood, and good blood feeds the nerves. Strong and vigorous nerves are just another name for good health. If you seek health, and a relief from the tired morning feeling, use Ferrozone. Sold only by Ormond & Walsh.

A Crooked Town.

Northwich is the oddest town in all England.

There is not a straight street or, in fact, a straight house in the place. Every part of it has the appearance of having recently suffered from the visitation of an earthquake. Northwich, as every one knows, is the center of the salt industry.

On nearly all sides of the town are big salt works, with their engines pumping hundreds of thousands of gallons of brine every week. At a depth of some 200 or 300 feet are immense subterranean lakes of brine, and as the contents of these are pumped and pumped away the upper crust of earth is correspondingly weakened, and the result is an occasional subsidence.

These subsidences have a "pulling" effect on the nearest buildings, which are drawn "all ways," giving the town an upside down appearance.

If you will carefully read this advertisement, you will see how you may get absolutely free $500 in gold coin of the standard weight and fineness of the realm. We are manufacturers of Merrill's System Tonic, which is undoubtedly the best medicine in the world to-day. It is a thorough blood purifier, acting on all the glands of the body and enabling them to perform their natural work of eliminating all poisons from the system, and absorbing the valuable nourishment in the food. Hence, it cures skin diseases, such as pimples, itching sores, eczema, salt rheum, etc. Besides this, it is a muscular and nerve tonic, and this effect, combined with its alterative action, makes it a specific for constipation, which it cures on account of the combined action of its alterative and tonic properties. The cure it makes is permanent, and differs from the temporary effect of irritant drugs, of which most cathartic pills are composed. This alterative and tonic effect reaches every organ in the body, and cures the diseases attending them, such as dyspepsia, kidney diseases, pain in the back, urinary troubles, nervousness, sleeplessness, liver complaint and all female disease. Now, to win the above reward you have only to prove that our statements regarding the properties of Merill's System Tonic are false. We do not say it will be easy, but we do say if you have any of the above troubles, a cure is certain if you take Merrill's System Tonic.

BOY KILLED AT PLAY.

Boys at Vankleek Hill Blew Up Their Fort and Herbie Beaton, Aged 12, Is Dead in Consequence.

Vankleek Hill, Aug. 23.—Herbie Beaton, about 12 years of age, died yesterday at the home of his father, Matthew Beaton, Derby avenue, as the result of an explosion of gunpowder. His little brother Douglas was seriously burned, but not so seriously as was Herbie. About 15 boys gathered on Tuesday in Mr. R. Thistlewaite's grove to play at war. They built a fort and the attacking party was to storm it. They had clubbed together and purchased 50 cents worth of gunpowder. This was placed in a position to blow up the fort. The injured boy undertook to set fire to it by lighting a match to the powder. The result was an explosion in the boy's face. His clothing was set on fire, and his legs, arms, hands and face were fearfully burned. He was hurried to a stream of water which runs near by, and the fire extinguished. His brother was injured in an effort to save him. The boy was taken home and medical aid summoned. He suffered much pain and was delirious for several hours.

SIR GEORGE BURTON DEAD.

Late Chief Justice of Ontario Succumbs to Heart Failure.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—Sir George Burton, late Chief Justice of the Court of Appeal, died at his residence early yesterday morning. He had not been ill, but the intense heat had been very trying to a man of his great age, and heart failure was the immediate cause of death. He passed quietly away at 2 a.m. Lady Burton survives her husband, and he leaves also two sons, W. F. and George Burton, barristers, who are practicing law in Hamilton and Toronto, and four daughters, Miss Burton, Mrs. Malcolm Macpherson, Wellington, New Zealand; Mrs. C. L. Ferguson of this city; Mrs. Bain, wife of Mr. J. R. Bain, M. P. for Cumberland, Eng.

The funeral will take place on Saturday to St. James' Cemetery.

Sketch of His Career.

Sir George William Burton was the second son of the late Admiral George Guy Burton, R. N., and was born at Sandwich, Kent, England, on July 21, 1818. He was educated at the Rochester and Chatham Proprietary School, under the late Rev. Dr. Whiston. He came to Canada in 1836 and studied law with his uncle, the late Edmund Burton of Ingersoll. In 1842 he was called to the bar, commencing practice at Hamilton, and he became known from one end of the Province to the other as a sound and able lawyer. He was for many years solicitor for the City of Hamilton, for the Canada Life Assurance Company and for the Bank of Montreal. He was nominated a bencher of the Law Society in 1856, appointed a Q. C. by Lord Monck in 1868, and in 1871 was elected a bencher of the Law Society under the new system. He was appointed a Judge of the Court of Appeal of Ontario on May 30, 1874, and was for a lengthened period the senior Puisne Judge of that Court. In 1885 he served as Chairman of the commission then appointed for the revision of the Provincial statutes. He was appointed Chief Justice and President of the Supreme Court of Judicature of Ontario in April, 1897. In 1898 Sir George Burton received the honor of knighthood.

Chief Justice Burton was a member of the Church of England. He married in June, 1850, Elizabeth, the eldest daughter of the late Col. Charles Cranstoun Dixon, of H. M. 43rd Regiment.

Fell Under a Train.

Cornwall, Aug. 23.—Dr. Thomas Page of Brockville, son of the late John Page, for many years Chief Engineer of Railways and Canals, was run over at the Cornwall Junction by the Mocassin train at 6 o'clock Wednesday night, and one of his legs was taken off, while the other was badly crushed about the ankle. Dr. Alguire of Cornwall was on the train at the time, and bandaged the leg and had the unfortunate man removed to the Cornwall General Hospital, where he died during the night.

Li Was Again Sick.

Pekin, Aug. 22.—The Chinese peace commissioners have not yet signed the settlement protocol. Prince Ching, president of the Foreign Office, telegraphed to the Emperor requesting an edict empowering him to sign, but no reply was received. He telegraphed again to-day in stronger terms, and says he expects a speedy answer. Li Hung Chang had a serious attack of sickness, the result of over exertion in connection with the conference. He is better to-day.

Grand Trunk Train Derailed.

St. Thomas, Aug. 23.—One man was injured and two cars damaged as the result of the derailment of four cars in the Grand Trunk yards yesterday morning. Brakesman J. Lafavre was standing on top of the train, and was thrown off, alighting clear of the rails. He was badly bruised and cut about the head and back.

Unpleasant to Have Around.

"Are you still engaged to Mr. Briggs?"

"No; I broke it off last week. I was afraid to marry him. He knows too much. I gave him some ribbon to match. He found it in the first store he went to, and he bought it for 2 cents below the regular price."

Something About Faith Cures.

What a great variety of faith cures there must be; some have faith in so-called divine healers, others in certain doctors, and still others in the medicines they use. Every person who has tested Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has faith in them, but faith or no faith, they act just the same for they act directly and specifically on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and make those organs healthy, active and vigorous. Judging from the enormous demands for these Pills there must be hosts of people that have faith in them.

Among those present were: Col. Otter, D. O. C., Mayor Howland, Gen. Sandom, Lieut.-Col. Davidson, Lieut.-Col. Macdonald, Lieut.-Col. Bruce, Lieut.-Col. White, Lieut.-Col. Hood, Lieut.-Col. E. S. Cox, Major Leslie, Major Sankey, Capt. Carpenter, Major Macdonell, Major Orchard, Lieut.-Col. Todd, Capt. Kirkpatrick, Ald. Urquhart.

A HOUSE-BREAKER ARRESTED.

Prisoner Afterwards Escapes From the Lock-Up and has not Been Recaptured.

Eugene Bailey, a resident of Norwood, who has been quite a source of trouble to the village authorities, on Tuesday evening last week, entered the residence of Mr. W. A. F. Campbell, and appropriated Mr. Campbell's best black suit and some other articles. Shortly afterwards he appeared on the street attired in the suit. The clothes were recognized and Bailey was subsequently arrested by Constable Johnston and Jos. McNeely and lodged in the village lock-up. He was placed in one of the inner cells where he would be secure for the night. County Police Magistrate Edmison was communicated with and retribution swift and stern was soon to be the portion of the offender. Next morning, however, the constable allowed him the freedom of the lower part of the building, which he thought to be quite safe, the openings being all barred with iron, but shortly before the arrival of the Magistrate the prisoner managed by a cunning scheme to effect his escape and when the constable again visited the lock-up he was surprised to find that his bird had divested himself of some of his plumage and made his exit through an opening between the bars about 61-2 inches wide. It puzzled most people to conceive how he ever managed to get through such a small space and the constable is inclined to think that he must have drawn the hole in after him, as the boys sometimes say.

It is said that the prisoner hailed a small boy who was passing by and on the pretext that he wanted to converse with him got the boy to place a plank which was laying on the ground up to the window in order that he might come near and hear what he had to say. After the small boy had disappeared the prisoner dexterously drew the plank into the cell and with it twisted the bars apart.

After gaining his freedom he made his way eastward through the swamp and although an effort was made to run him down he managed to elude his pursuers and has not yet been recaptured.

Bailey served a term a few years ago for stealing a horse and rig belonging to Mr. J. S. Meikle, and has also to his credit on the police court records a charge for failing to provide for his wife and family.

THE "RUBY" IS SOLD.

She Will be Greatly Missed by Residents in Upper Stony Lake.

Prof. H. E. Ford of Washington, Penn., and Dr. Jos. Jory, of St. Catharines, who are spending the summer at "Killarney Cottage," Dr. Ford's summer residence, have purchased from Mr. H. G. Buck of Norwood, his staunch little pleasure yacht, "The Ruby."

Mr. Buck intends during the coming winter to build another boat after the same model, only much larger, so as to allow ample space for cabin, dining room, sleeping apartments, bath room, etc., and to furnish it with everything necessary for the accommodation of a number of persons.

The cottagers resident above Beschink are greatly indebted to Mr. Buck for many pleasant outings on the "Ruby," and will regret to see the launch change hands.

THE ISLANDER WRECK

Remains of Mrs. Ross and Her Child Reach Vancouver.

RECOVERY OF THE BODIES.

The Jurean Jury Find That No One Was to Blame for the Wrecking of the Steamer Islander—Purser Bishop Places the Death List at 41—19 Recovered—Some Looting by Indians.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 24.—With her flags at half mast and the caskets of some of the dead of the Islander disaster on her decks, the C. P. R. steamer Hating returned from the north yesterday. She was met by over 500 people, although there had been no warning of her coming. The scenes attendant to the landing of the bodies were pitiful. As one after another of the five caskets were carried ashore there were plaintive cries from the assembled relatives as they hurried forward to claim their dead.

Governor J. H. Ross, administrator of the Yukon, who started from Dawson as soon as the wires told him the dreadful news from Skaguay, arrived by the steamer accompanying the remains of his wife, her niece and child. Their bodies, together with those of the late Captain Foote, master of the lost vessel, Dr. John A. Duncan and Mrs. Minnie Ross were brought to Victoria. It is not known whether the remains of Mrs. Ross and family will be taken east, for it is understood that the parents of the dead lady here desire that they be interred locally.

Dead.

Passengers: E. D. Mills, Mrs. Dr. Phillips and Dorothy Phillips, J. W. Bell, Dr. Duncan, Miss Kate Larkin, Mrs. Minnie Ross, [illegible] M. J. Brocelen, Mrs. Nicker[illegible] and child, Andrew Keating, a millionaire, and his son, Arthur Keating, F. R. Douglas, F. Rekate, Mrs. J. C. Henderson, H. T. Rogers, William Meadows, N. Caspar, Louisa McKay.

Crew: Capt. Foote, H. Fowler, Miles Jock, Claude Burkholder, H. Porter, Norman Law, S. J. Pills, George Allan, A. Kendall, P. Burke, James Hatch, James Baird, E. Miles, coal passer, name unknown, and three Chinese.

The following bodies were recovered: Miss Kate Larkin, H. T. Rogers, Mrs. J. H. Ross and child, Dr. Duncan, Dorothy Phillips, Mrs. Minnie Ross, Joseph Dahl, two passengers, names unknown; A. W. Jerry of Jorg, Thomas Brocelen, Alf. Kendall, S. J. Pitts, Ah Yet, Chinaman, Miles Jock, Hugh Porter, P. Burke, Capt. Foote.

These make 19 out of 40 lost, 21 bodies are still missing.

The following bodies were buried last Saturday at Juneau: J. Dahl, passenger; T. Rogers, passenger; Miss Kate Larkin, passenger; an unknown passenger; S. J. Pitts, cook; A. Kendall, waiter; H. Porter, coal passer; Chinese boy, helper. On Sunday one unknown passenger and Burke, the oiler, were buried. These were first recovered and hence could not be kept longer.

George McL. Brown, executive agent of the C.P.R., said yesterday that the bodies of the victims buried in Juneau would be brought down to Victoria as soon as arrangements can be made. The recovery of the remains immediately after the accident necessitated their temporary burial at Juneau.

Some of the bodies recovered at Juneau have been looted by the Indians, who had been seen paddling among the wreckage and purloining any valuables they could lay their hands on. The United States marshall at Juneau has gone in pursuit of the Indians to endeavor to capture those charged with looting them.

An inquest was held at Juneau on the body of Dr. Duncan and the following verdict was rendered:

"We, the jury, empanelled, and sworn in the matter of the inquest upon the body of Dr. J. A. Duncan, deceased, find that he came to his death on Aug. 15, 1901, by wreck of steamship Islander, and by evidence produced, we find that we can blame no one for the accident.

Signed, J. J. Beaty, foreman; John Ola, J. C. Davies, C. Goldstein, J. L. Osborne, E. P. Nelson.

MR. BELCOURT, M.P., TALKS.

Says Steamers Like the Islander Run Altogether Too Fast.

Winnipeg, Aug. 24.—C. C. Rae of Ottawa and Mr. Belcourt, M.P., who were on the ill-fated Islander, passed through yesterday en route to Ottawa. Mr. Rae says of the eight who sat at the table from Skaguay only three were saved. He got to the railing of the Islander as the last boat was leaving.

Mr. Belcourt had to jump 20 feet to reach the boat. They landed an hour and a half after leaving the wrecked vessel. They gave three ringing cheers as a signal to other boats that they had reached land.

Mr. Belcourt was told that the first boat to leave the wreck was the best one and was occupied by seven seamen, while it was capable of holding 30. Mrs. Ross, and her niece, who were drowned, had on life-preservers. Fifty-five persons were drowned. There were 180 on board, and only 125 have been accounted for.

"Steamers run altogether too fast," Mr. Belcourt says he counted 25 icebergs in a narrow channel one mile wide. An effort was being made to break the running record of a steamboat. The cause of so much loss of life was on account of lack of apprehension that the collision was serious. It would have been a miracle to have escaped collision. Many passengers never got out of their cabins. He fully expects to hear of other accidents unless more care is taken.

Christian Scientist Arrested.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Detective Verney last night went to 18 North Markham street, and arrested Andrew Lewis, the street railway conductor, in connection with the death of his six-year-old son, Roy, who died from diphtheria on Aug. 13 last.

The information, which was laid by Acting Crown Attorney R. W. Eyre, charges Lewis with manslaughter. He is a Christian Scientist, and, when his son took ill on Aug. 8 he did not call in a regularly qualified medical practitioner, but Richard Perry, a Christian Science demonstrator. Lewis was locked up at the St. Andrew's Market Station.

Tremendous Fine.

Topeka, Kan., Aug. 24.— George Klauer, a "jointist," yesterday received the most severe penalty for violation of the prohibitory liquor law ever visited upon an offender during the 21 years since the constitutional amendment was adopted. Justice Disney fined Klauer $7,500, sentenced him to 1,350 days in jail, and placed him under $10,000 bond to appear in the District Court. He was found guilty on fifteen counts. Assistant Attorney-General Redden, who appeared for the state, will get $20 on each count, or $300, from the State Treasury.

London, Aug. 24.—Lord Kitchener, in a despatch from Pretoria, dated yesterday, says:

Col. Williams, after a sharp fight, Aug. 19, captured in the vicinity of Klerksdorp, Transvaal, an entire Boer convoy of 86 wagons, loaded with ammunition and supplies, much stock, and 18 prisoners, including the landrost of Bloemhof, and Dutoit, a telegrapher, with a complete wire-tapping apparatus.

Fresh Order.

Cape Town, Aug. 23.—A fresh order, proclaiming martial law, has been issued, providing for the closing of all the country stores in the Queenstown district, requiring that all goods, likely to be useful to the enemy, shall be taken to certain specified towns, and forbidding country residents to have in their possession more than a week's provisions.

A Chatham Man Invalided.

Chatham, Aug. 24.—Word has been received in Chatham that Pte. Gideon Albert Jewell, who enlisted in London with the Baden-Powell Mounted Police Force, is on his way home, having been injured in an engagement. Pte. Jewell is the son of Mrs. Jewell of Harwich Township, and has lived around Chatham all his life. Pte. Jewell was seriously wounded and is on his way to England where he will enter a hospital for treatment, after which he will return to his home in Canada. Pte. Jewell was the best shot in the contingent which enlisted from London, having stood the highest in the list for target shooting while on horseback.

Back From Africa.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Mr. J. M. Campbell, storekeeper of the Central Prison, received a telegram from Quebec yesterday morning, announcing the arrival there of his two sons, James and Robert, who have been fighting the Boers with Kitchener's Horse for the past year. They will reach home Sunday morning.

CANADIAN CLOTH SEIZED.

Large Customs Fraud Prevented by American Officials at Burlington, Vt.

Burlington, Vermont, Aug. 24. — Thirty-six bales of imported cloth, making nearly a full carload, have arrived in this city from Richford, and have been unloaded by the customs officers, to whom they were consigned. The cloth is that recently seized at Richford while on the way into the States from Montreal, and is one of the largest seizures which has been made in some time. It is valued at between $25,000 and $30,000, and is subject to nearly its value in duties. The cloth was ingeniously packed in two cars of paper stock, one coming from Montreal and one from Toronto, the stock being consigned to parties in Holyoke, Mass. The centre was made up of waste and the bales of cloth placed at the ends, where they were less liable to be detected by the officer. The car was filled as full as possible, so that in order to get at the smuggled goods the paper stock must be unloaded. No arrests have yet been made in the case. A short time ago a carload of wool was sent into the States in a similar manner. Collector Merrill of this port had the car followed, and it, with two others, were seized. The seizure of the cloth is, however, a more valuable one than that of the wool.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Sir Astley Cooper, the celebrated surgeon, was knighted for taking a tumour out of the head of George IV. Knighthood would be none too great a reward for some present day surgeons, who would successfully reduce the "swelled heads" of some great politicians and potentates on both sides of the Atlantic.

Mr. Whitney, leader of the Opposition, is not very sanguine as to the success of his party in the coming elections. He recently visited Kingston, where he said that if the elections came on this fall the Conservatives would surely win. This is preparing a soft spot on which to fall when the general elections really do take place.

Speaking at a picnic at Tweed, Mr. Whitney, leader of the Opposition in the Ontario Legislature, dealing with the advantages of our form of government, said that one of these was that it "enabled us to turn out a government that would ignore or neglect the interests of the people. Mr. Whitney thus pays a strong tribute to the Liberal Government of the Province. Mr. Whitney's party (and for the last dozen years himself) has been doing its level best to turn out the Liberal Government of this Province. That the attempt has failed, shows, on Mr. Whitney's theory, that the Government "has not neglected or ignored the interests of the Province."

It is learned from the Glasgow Herald that a conference of agriculturists and others interested in the Canadian cattle trade was held in Glasgow on Aug. 14th. The object of the conference was to consider what steps should be taken to remove the present restrictions on the importation of Canadian cattle. Lord Provost Chisholm presided, and the attendance was representative of harbour, shipping, fleshing, and farming interests. The subject was discussed at length, and resolutions were passed declaring the importation restrictions unnecessary, and a committee was appointed to wait upon the President of the Board of Agriculture with a view to having the restriction removed. The delegates to the conference were afterwards entertained to luncheon by the Executive Committee of the Local Authority of the city.

The purchase of public franchises by corporations appears to be a very costly process. The City of Kingston is purchasing the plant of the Kingston, Light, Heat and Power Company, and the arbitration proceedings in connection with the transaction is costing one dollar per minute, or $600 for a working day of ten hours. The electric plant is valued at $97,000, but one of the company's experts has offered to purchase it at $120,000, and as a guarantee of his bona fides, offered to deposit $5,000. This, however, may be an indirect way of advancing the value of the plant, and mulcting the city for additional purchase money. The manner in which municipal corporations are compelled to pay through the nose for the acquirement of public franchises, shows how great should be the care exercised in granting such privileges. After the experience of the past generation by municipalities, it is extremely doubtful if one-tenth of the franchisers could easily repeat the "cinch," which many of them have in the form of their respective franchises.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's reply to Mr. Richardson's charges against him and his party, the Montreal Witness, (Independent,) declares, certainly places his accuser in a somewhat ridiculous position. Mr. Richardson speaks of it as a crime on the part of the premier, whom he assumes to be the primum mobile in the Liberal party machine, that he did not intervene when he, a Liberal statesman, was being charged with having gained an election by corrupt practices. Had this complaint come from some subordinate of Tammany who himself made no pretence to political virtue it would have had a certain sympathy from the public, one of whose current maxims is that there should be honour among thieves. But as the exordium of a letter in which the writer claims the right to denounce the party in which he once held a place because it had forsaken the moral standards which it had professed when it and he were in opposition, the assertion that the leader had acted criminally in not protesting him from the effects of criminal acts practiced on his behalf, has a grotesque incongruity about it.

THAT DAKOTA RANCH.

(Ottawa Free Press.)

Ranching is only pursued where large areas of open, cheap land are available, and where the soil is of good quality, and markets readily accessible. Such land is too valuable for agriculture proper to be given over to pasturage. We have no areas suitable for ranching in New Ontario, and the policy which has been steadily pursued by the Ontario administration is to encourage compact colonization, giving the settlers the advantages of churches, schools, etc., instead of allowing it to pass into the hands of a few extensive proprietors, who will only establish homesteads at isolated points. A ranching country is one which offers no attractions to the poor settler, whose ambition is to become the owner of a farm. If every Minister and capitalist in the province were to buy stock in Dakota ranches, or any similar enterprises, it would not in the least affect Ontario agriculture, which is altogether upon a different basis. There is no fear that any desirable immigration will be attracted to Dakota by learning that Mr. Dryden is part owner of a ranch there, inasmuch as any man who knows anything about farming, knows perfectly well that a country where ranching prevails is a good place for the man of small means who wishes to take up land to keep away from.

NO JOY IN LIFE.

SO SAY THE SUFFERERS FROM CHRONIC DYSPEPSIA.

A Trouble That Makes the Life of its Victims Almost Unbearable—Causes Headaches, Heart Palpitation, Dizziness a Feeling of Weariness and a Distaste for Food.

From "L'Avenir du Nord," St. Jerome, Que.

Sufferers from dyspepsia or bad digestion are numerous in this country. Almost daily one hears some one complaining of the tortures caused them by this malady, and it is no uncommon thing to hear a sufferer say, "I wish I was dead." And no wonder; the suffering caused by bad digestion cannot be imagined by anyone who has not suffered from it. The victim is a constant sufferer from headaches, heart burn, heart palpitation and nausea. He has a bad taste in his mouth, is unable to obtain restful sleep and has always a feeling of weariness and depression. But there is a sure cure for this trouble, and it is found in the greatest of all known medicines—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

Among those who have been cured of this distressing malady by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, is Mr. Alfred Chasbot, a well known farmer living near St. Jerome, Que. To a reporter of "L'Avenir du Nord," Mr. Chasbot told the following story of his illness and subsequent cure. "For three years I was an almost continual sufferer from the tortures of bad digestion. After eating I felt as if some heavy weight was pressing against my chest. I was racked with violent headaches; my temper became irritable; my appetite uncertain; my nerves were a wreck, and I was always troubled with a feeling of weariness. I was able to do very little work, and sometimes none at all. Although I tried many remedies I was unsuccessful in my search for a cure, until a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Any doubts I may have had as to the merits of these pills were soon dispelled, for I had not been taking them long before I noticed an improvement in my condition. I continued the use of the pills some weeks when I considered myself fully cured. To-day I am as well as I ever was in my life, and would strongly advise all similar sufferers to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I am sure they will find them as beneficial as I have.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by going to the root of the disease. They make new, rich, red blood, strengthen the nerves and thus tone up the whole system. Sold by all dealers in medicine, or sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Puzzler.

ACCUSED MINISTERS.

Rev. Messrs. Sanderson and McAmmond Demand an Investigation Into the Charges Against Them.

John Achison of Colborne, Ont., was thrown from a rig at Winnipeg, Man., on Friday, and received concussion of the brain.

The Marquis Ito has abandoned his proposed tour, during which he would have received the degree of LL.D. from Yale, U. S.

There are a large number of applicants for the position of Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, vacant by the death of Mr. R. E. Kimber.

Edward Lloyd, Limited, has secured the entire output of the Laurentide Pulp Co., and the output will be increased from 90 to 240 tons a day.

Three bandsmen in the Pan-American Circus have been arrested in Winnipeg, charged with the attempted abduction of three female employes.

Miss Veronica Butler of Kalamazoo, Mich., who was struck by a N. Y. C. train at Niagara Falls on Monday afternoon, died at the Memorial Hospital Friday.

Robert Lyon, of Ottawa, while shoeing a horse on Friday, was kicked in the stomach and probably fatally injured. Lyon is 36 years old and married.

John H. Butler, a negro, was hanged in the jail yard at Baltimore, Md., on Friday morning. Butler killed his wife last October by beating her with a cobble stone.

John Bell, a laborer of Windsor, Ont., aged 73 years, suicided by drowning himself on Friday morning. He had been ill for six weeks, and walked the streets during the night to relieve pain.

Miles Scott of Howick Township, a well-to-do farmer, met with a terrible accident on Monday, from the effects of which he died the following day. He was at work in his barn, when he fell on a fork, and the handle penetrated one of his limbs.

Friday evening while the occupants of Samuel Ryckman's house, in Grimsby Village, were out, the house was entered, and Mrs. Ryckman's gold watch, valued at $50, was stolen. Ryckman is a section foreman on the H. G. & B. R., and afterwards fought a tramp for the watch and got it.

An inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the death of John McKenzie, M.C.R. freight clerk, who was killed on Sunday last at the Tenth Street Station by a N. Y. C. train, was held at Niagara Falls. Two witnesses were examined, pointing to the fact that McKenzie stepped in front of the train when it was not four feet away from him.

Rev. Foster McAmmond, pastor of the Methodist church at Perth, and Rev. D. C. Sanderson, pastor of the Methodist church at Almonte, have demanded an investigation into their alleged immoral conduct while on a visit to Syracuse recently. They emphatically deny the truth of the stories told in the newspapers of that city, and the investigation will take place as soon as formalities can be complied with.

Woman is as Old as She Looks.

It is not age but weakness, disease and ill health that makes women look old, care worn and wrinkled. You cannot look your best unless you feel well, strong and vigorous, with pure, rich blood and steady nerves. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food makes good looks, because it makes good health, restores the healthy glow to the complexion, rounds out the form and gives elasticity to every motion of the body.

Canada's Share.

London, Aug. 24.—A rough estimate of the weight of the letters and postcards despatched from this country to Canada during 1900 reaches 83,500 pounds, while the weight of the circulars, books and newspapers was 1,068,000 pounds. From Canada 70,000 pounds of letters and 375,000 pounds of circulars, books and newspapers reached this country. The number of parcels despatched during the year ending March, 1901, was 95,887.

Suicide Near Ottawa.

Ottawa, Aug. 24.—John Wesley Scoble of Westboro, yesterday committed suicide by taking carbolic acid. Scoble was about 28 years of age, married, and the father of two children. Mrs. Scoble and the children are away at Campbell's Bay, and deceased had been working as a special constable on the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The Cause of Nervous Headache.

This most distressing and common malady doubtless has its origin in some unbalanced condition of the nervous system. Probably the simplest, safest and most efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. Twenty drops in sweetened water gives immediate relief and this treatment should be supplemented by bathing the regions of pain with Nerviline. To say it acts quickly fails to express the result. Sold everywhere in large 25c bottles.

SITUATION SUMMARIZED.

What the Strike is Doing in the Mills of Steel Trust.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 24.—A summary of the steel strike situation last night shows the following conditions: Pittsburg, two mills running; Painer plant, four running; Pennsylvania Tube Works, mill idle; all Carnegie mills running full; McKeesport, everything closed down; Irondale, mill running; Wellsville, twelve mills running; Lisbon, fires started in Tin Plate plant; Wheeling, everything tied up; Bellaire, National Steel Co., idle.

A conference was held yesterday at the office of the Amalgamated Association to devise ways and means to aid the strikers. None of the participants would give out any particulars, further than to say that the leaders had been called together for the purpose of having the situation thoroughly explained to them, and to have some action taken looking to the aid of the strikers morally and financially, by all of the organizations represented, which were the National Mine Workers' Association, Industrial Commission, National Civic Federation and United Garment Workers.

Alaska Driftwood.

No trees grow anywhere on the coast of western and northern Alaska, and yet these shores for thousands of miles and the islands of Bering sea are strewn with immense quantities of driftwood, in places piled high on the beach, bearing good testimony to the work of the rivers. This drift is the salvation of the Eskimo, furnishing him with fuel and material for houses, boats and sleds. The entire northeastern half of Bering sea is very shoal, less than 500 feet in depth, while the southwestern half is mostly about 12,000 feet deep.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA.

Another Canoe Trip for Mr. Tarte, Minister of Public Works.

Ottawa, Aug. 24.—The Minister of Public Works returned this morning from Sorel, where he has been inspecting the Government shipyards and the improvements in progress there. He left last night for Montreal and on Sunday afternoon proceeds to Mattawa, from which place he will travel in a canoe down the Ottawa, accompanied by the member for Nipissing, Mr. Charles McCool.

Mr. Tarte yesterday morning accepted from Mr. Hebert, the sculptor, the monuments of the Queen and Alex. Mackenzie, which have been completed to the former's satisfaction. Mr. Hebert will sail in a few days for Paris, where his studio is located. He will devote himself to the completion of his monument of Bishop Bourget for the City of Montreal.

F. W. Hodson, Dominion Live Stock Commissioner, is at Amherst, N.S., conferring with the live stock breeders of Nova Scotia, in regard to the formation of a provincial association, on the same lines as exist in Ontario. Nova Scotia breeders strongly favor the proposition, and in all likelihood measures will be taken to render it effective.

Hon. William Mulock resumed the administration of the Postoffice Department yesterday morning.

C.P.R. Railway Lands Patented.

Ottawa, Aug. 24.—The Department of the Interior report, in connection with the patenting of railway lands in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, that there has been patented to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company up to date about nine million acres, comprising lands on the main line and also a portion south of it as well as a large quantity in Northern Alberta. The Department has also patented practically all the lands under the land grant to the Alberta Railway and Coal Company. This comprises about one million one hundred thousand acres. The Calgary & Edmonton have received patents for 45,000 acres. This makes over ten million acres for the bulk of which patents have been issued since February last.

Over Ten Million Bushels of Wheat.

Winnipeg, Aug. 24.—F. W. Thompson, general manager of the Ogilvie Milling Company, has returned from a trip to Rosenfeldt. He says the threshing in that part of the country shows yields running from 20 to 30 bushels to the acre, and at present, although perhaps a little too early to speak, he would estimate an average yield for Manitoba and the Northwest Territories at 23 bushels per acre, or a total crop of a little over 50,000,000 bushels. Mr. Thompson estimates that two-thirds of the wheat crop has already been cut. There would be a large amount of threshing done next week if the weather continues fine.

CONSTANS' ULTIMATUM.

French Ambassador Asks Sultan to Pay Up, Threatening to Withdraw His Entire Staff—Briefest Delay Allowed.

Constantinople, Aug. 24. — The French Ambassador, M. Constans, yesterday sent a letter to the Sultan, personally informing him that he would leave Constantinople with the entire staff of the Embassy if the matters in dispute were not settled immediately. The letter has the nature of an ultimatum. It accords the Sultan the briefest delay within which to comply with the demands.

Officials at Paris Are Mum.

Paris, Aug. 24.—While the officials of the French Foreign Office decline to confirm or deny the despatch announcing that the French Ambassador has sent the Sultan a letter which has the nature of an ultimatum, they admit having received a telegram from M. Constans, which has been laid before the Cabinet Council, now sitting at the Elysee Palace.

M. Constans has been given a free hand. Any step he finds proper to take will be fully endorsed. The Foreign Minister, M. Delcasse, if he deems it necessary, will withdraw the French Embassy from Constantinople, and Munir Bey, the Turkish Ambassador, who is now in Switzerland, will be notified not to return to Paris, in which case Munir Bey probably will withdraw the legation to Berne, as he is also accredited as Minister to Switzerland.

It has been suggested that the French Government issue orders for the bourse to cease dealing with Turkish securities. But it is not likely that this step will be taken, as it only injures the French bond holders. The entire Turkish group fell on the bourse yesterday, in some cases going down 10 to 12 francs.

According to a special despatch received here from Berne, Munir Bey has already leased a villa there for the use of the Turkish Embassy.

To Bluff Turkey.

Brussels, Aug. 24.—A despatch to The Petit Bleu from Vienna says: According to advices from Galatz, 20 Russian torpedo boats and several despatch boats have arrived at the Dniester Delta, and Russian troops are commencing to mobilize along the Turkish frontier.

Chafing and Itching Skin

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

There is always mystery and doubt about the action of internal remedies. Time is required for the medicine to take effect. It is different with Dr. Chase's Ointment, for it is applied externally and you are sure to be surprised at the remarkable change it brings about in a few hours. Its cleansing, soothing, healing action allays inflammation and irritation, removes redness and roughness of the skin, and leaves the skin delightfully smooth, soft and velvety.

Notwithstanding its powerful action in the severest cases of skin disease, Dr. Chase's Ointment can be used with perfect safety on the most tender skin, and is especially suited for the chafings, itchings and irritations which are so troublesome during the hot summer weather. Ladies keep it constantly in their toilet, and mothers who have used it in place of powders for their babies, would not think of changing. It does not clog the pores of the skin, as do powders, does not stain the linen, and is pleasant to use.

Mr. Hiram Frey, Norwood, Ont., states: "I was troubled for ten years with eczema on one leg. The itching was terrible, and when it was scratched the blood would come. The doctors could not cure me. Fortunately I heard of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and its persistent use has completely cured me. There is now no trace of the disease left. My little girl two years old has also been cured of eczema by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Her face was a mass of sores and we had to bandage her hands to keep her from scratching it. To-day her face is clear of even the scars which the ugly sores made, and she is thoroughly cured. I am glad of an opportunity to let people know what a blessing Dr. Chase's Ointment has proved itself to us."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is the standard ointment the world over. It promptly and thoroughly relieves and cures eczema, salt rheum, and the most turturing forms of itching skin disease. Sixty cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. 9

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Currants are delicious when served with bananas. Slice the latter fruit and add plenty of sugar because of the acidity of the currants.

For cleaning a hairbrush use a weak solution of soda water. When tepid, shake the bristles in it. They will be cleaned without being weakened.

Space in a closet can be much increased by using hangers or wire forms hung on slats put across above the wooden strips that hold the usual hooks.

How do you get the parafin on top of the jelly? Put a piece that you think when melted will cover the jelly in the glass. Pour the hot jelly in. The wax will come to the top.

When you wash handkerchiefs, collars, etc., put them in a pillowslip before they go into the boiler. You spend no time fishing for them, and they don't get lost or thrown out with the suds.

Pineapple juice drained from the fruit and mixed with currant, lemon, blackberry or raspberry juice makes a delicious drink. A few wedges left to float in the lemonade bowl improves the flavor of that beverage.

Sent to Mercer Reformatory.

Lindsay Post.—The Peterborough young woman named Annie Smith, who visited town recently and forgot to return from whence she came, appeared before Police Magistrate Steers this morning for sentence, having been remanded from Wednesday. She pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy, having changed her mind in the interval. As she had no home the Magistrate sent her to the Mercer Reformatory at Toronto for a period of six months. None of the young men about town, whose cards she had in her possession, appeared in court.

CHAT WITH CAPT. COCKBURN

Experiences on the West Coast of Africa.

White Men are Scarce in That Country and They do not see Much of one Another.

Captain Cockburn, who is home on three months' furlough, has many interesting reminiscences to tell of his sojourn on the West Coast of Africa. It seems that the coloured troops, under whose supervision the government of the country is carried on, are divided into companies of 120 each, which companies are each in charge of a white officer, and have a district of about ten thousand square miles to keep in subjection. As the natives are continually engaged in tribal warfare, the troops have more or less fighting on their hands all the time, and the lot of the officer is not always the pleasantest, taking into consideration the line of defence which is adopted by the tribesmen, when an expedition starts out for their village.

When a tribe takes affront at some action on the part of the residents of a neighbouring territory, and starts on the warpath, it does not take long before wind of what is in the air reaches the troops, and an expedition is at once organized to march to the chief village of the warriors. This distracts the attention of the tribesmen from their original idea, and preparations are made to resist the advance of the British troops. As the trails leading into the interior only permit of the men marching in single file, fortifications are easily constructed, and the tribesmen cunningly dispose of their warriors behind barricades erected on either side of the path in the dense jungle. It is next to impossible to detect ambuscades until a volley is poured into the advancing troops. Then the trouble begins. If the natives were good marksmen, the troops would be wiped out of existence, but after the first volley discovers them to the advancing force they do not wait for the charge of the Britishers, but content with the momentary confusion, fly to another barricade farther along the path, where a diversion is again created as the troops come up. As stronghold after stronghold falls, the natives gradually drop back on the village, where the last stand is made. When the village falls peace negotiations ensue, and the tribesmen settle down again until the need of more slaves, or some such thing, again induces them to take up arms.

In the intervals between the quelling of these ructions Capt. Cockburn's force was divided up into corporals' guards and stationed at outposts scattered throughout the territory.

Recruits are easily obtained, and the natives grow rich on 1s. 2d. per diem, as a cup of rice, with a little palm oil, is sufficient rations for a day.

There is little or no hunting done amongst the natives, although big game abounds in the district. The average native is content to raise enough rice to keep his family from want. As a rule they are expert boatmen, but of clumsy appearance on the land.

While the towns along the coast are large and thriving, the officer who goes up into the interior in charge of troops does not set eyes on the coast after he leaves it, until he comes out on furlough.

Captain Cockburn is undecided whether to return to his post in West Africa or not. If the proposed expedition up the Niger takes place in the spring, the captain will resume his duties in Africa, but in the event of the expedition not being decided upon he will join his regiment, the "Suffolks," in England.

ANOTHER LABOUR MEETING.

In the Sons of England Hall Last Night.

Mr. J. H. McClellan Addressed the Gathering—The McGregor Telegram.

The local branch of the Federation of Labour held another very successful meeting in the Sons of England Hall last night, when short but spirited addresses were given by Mr. Robert McGregor, of the Carpenters' Union, and Mr. J. Harris McClellan.

Mr. McGregor's address was devoted chiefly to a review of the organized system of Labour which is known as the Federation of Labour and has a membership of about 2,000,000 persons. He urged amongst other things that the nine hour a day system should be instituted and a fifteen cent an hour wage should be paid to corporation labourers.

Mr. J. H. McClellan was warmly received. He directed his remarks to a series of attacks which he said had been made upon him through the columns of the Evening Review. The idea of such a policy, was, he thought, no doubt to influence other business men from joining the union. Turning his remarks to the matter of the new power company. Mr. McClellan ridiculed the statement that it was a political scheme, and quoted the names of a number of prominent Conservative gentlemen who are interested in the same. He compared the rates of what the new company propose charging with the present rates for power in Peterborough.

Mr. McClellan also touched upon the matter of the McGregor telegram to Mr. Ralph Smith. He denied that he had anything to do with the authorship of the message and in this assertion he was substantiated by Mr. McGregor. In conclusion the speaker expressed the pleasure it will give him to join the Labour Demonstration at Chemong.

"SPORT" IS DEAD.

Mr. Dickson Jewett's Faithful Animal is no More.

"Sport" is dead. Everybody knows who "Sport" was; he was Mr. Dixon Jewett's faithful water spaniel, who for faithfulness and intelligence stood pre-eminently above any other dog in town. There can be no doubt as to this, as nearly every person has seen or heard of "Sport's" wonderful doings. In the evenings on the back verandah of the Snowden House he entertained the guests by his marvellous acts. At smoking concerts, too, "Sport" was often one of the chief attractions, and his demise will be greatly regretted. He was poisoned, and at six o'clock on Thursday night breathed his last, surrounded by a number of his friends. "Sport" was given a burial in keeping with the noble life he lived, and his remains were interred yesterday evening on one of the islands in the Otonabee River.

The sweet remembrance of the just,
Shall flourish while he sleeps in dust.

HAVELOCK'S BIG PICNIC.

It Was a Bigger Success Than Ever Before — Large Numbers in Attendance.

The third annual pic-nic of the R.C. church on Tuesday was a most decided success, and eclipsed all past events. Large numbers were present from Peterborough, Toronto, Smith's Falls, Tweed, Hastings, Campbellford, Norwood, Marmora and other points. The weather was all that could be desired, although the threatened shower in the morning doubtless kept a large number away. The Hastings' 40th Regiment band furnished the music, and everybody was loud in their praises. The baseball match between Smith's Falls and Toronto Junction was the chief attraction of the day and it proved to be as good as an Eastern League game. It was a pitcher's battle from start to finish but Toronto came out on top with a score of 7 to 6.

The following are the players:—

Toronto—Inglesbee, rf; Wilson, lf; Hooper, 1b; O'Neil, 2b; Wallace, ss; Irwin, ss; Lockart, cf; Cumplin, c; Douglas, p; Tug Wilson, manager.

Smith's Falls—Nolan, rf; Parnell, lf; Wadell, 1b; Brinkham, 2b; Cline, 3b; Jarvis, ss; Black, cf; Haight, c; Austin, p; Geo. Dart, manager.

The football match between Trent Bridge and Havelock resulted in a victory for the latter by 1 goal to 0.

Prof. T. J. McGrath's exhibition of balancing and other feats in mid-air was a great improvement on his work of last year. E. McNichol and Jas. McNichol, of Hastings, also gave a fine exhibition of slack wire work.

The contest for the most popular engineer was won by Mr. A. Connors.

The drawing for the Shetland Pony did not come off on account of the stubs not being all in but it will take place in the park on Friday evening of this week at 8 o'clock.

The Caledonian sports were very numerous and everything was run off satisfactorily. Mr. A. E. McGuire, of Havelock, succeeded in landing all the foot races.

Dinner and supper were served on the grounds by the ladies, and the good things prepared by them vanished like magic before the onslaught of the hungry merrymakers.

The booths did a large business as also the dancing pavilion.

The receipts will probably amount to $900.00.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

BOWLING.

Two rinks of bowlers grew so interested in the game last night that they were loath to leave the green, and two consecutive games were played resulting as follows:—

A H Stratton	Alf Terrill
J McIntyre	D H Moore
R Kerr	M Green
Dr. Moher, sk...22	K Houston, sk...6
W Sailsbury	K Houston
R Kerr	M Green
G E Whiten	D H Moore
Dr. McClelland, sk...5	Alf Terrill, sk 15

A couple of veterans from the ranks of the curlers visited the green last evening in the persons of Messrs. Thos. Rutherford and G. E. Whiten. Both tried a hand at bowling and found their trained eyes stood them in good stead in taking the grass.

It is up to the lawyers, doctors and bankers to combine and issue a challenge to the rest of the members to play a six rink match on Labour Day.

A CHAMPIONSHIP CUP.

Mr. F. S. Schneider has kindly donated a handsome silver cup to be known as the "F. S. Schneider Challenge Cup," to be held by the winner of a hundred yard race to be run best two out of three heats, for the amateur championship of the County of Peterborough. All races are to take place in the town. If the cup is held for three successive years it becomes the property of the winner.

A meeting of those interested will be held in the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, when rules governing the racing, etc., will be drawn up.

LACROSSE.

The brother of President McMillan, of the C.L.A., was evidently not cut out for a lacrosse referee. The Telegram hands him out the following "roast." "There is one man who stands out upon the lacrosse horizon who can give all other referees cards and spades. According to the directory his name is McMillan — 'Dunk' McMillan, but yesterday at the match between Oshawa and Port Hope at the Island, he was called several other names, foremost of which was 'lobster.' It was by far the worst exhibition of refereeing ever seen in Toronto, and compared favourably with any such work in the Eastern Lacrosse League, and that's pretty tough. If McMillan had a head he most certainly left it on the hat rack, for it wasn't visible at the Island grounds. He allowed rough work to go on when he should have had ten men off at a time. Yesterday's match could have been made a clean, enjoyable game, for Port Hope wanted to play lacrosse, and a referee, a good one, would have made Oshawa toe the mark. But Mr. McMillan let everything go, and only in one or two instances did he even raise his voice."

Moonlight Excursion.

THE LATE MR. NEWHALL.

His Demise Occurred at Nicholls Hospital Last Night.

The death occurred at Nicholls Hospital last night of John Newhall, of No. 516 Water street, after an illness extending over six months or more. His demise was ultimately due to typhoid fever. The late Mr. Newhall was born in Great Woodsworth, Cheshire County, England, and came to Canada about 30 years ago, settling in Port Hope. After residing one year there, he moved to Peterborough, where he has since lived. He married about 29 years ago, Annie Clarke, daughter of the late F. T. Clarke of Port Hope, who, together with one daughter, Mrs. John Holmes, of Buffalo, are left to mourn his demise. The deceased, of recent years, has been engaged in the dairy business. He was a member of the English Church. The funeral will take place from the family residence at 3 o'clock to-morrow to the Little Lake cemetery.

THE C. P. R. STRIKE.

"Things are Lovely," Says Mr. Wilson, Head of the Order—An Appeal to the People of Canada to Demand Justice.

(Montreal Witness, Aug. 21.)

The general committee of the C. P. R. trackmen now on strike meets in secret session; the representatives of the various orders of trainmen hold mysterious seances; railway men flit in and out, and group themselves together and whisper, and there is an air of mystery, and the Grand Union Hotel is an exceedingly busy centre these days. One hears it said that the representatives of the train orders who are in session have demanded the presence of their grand officers, which might mean a great deal; that the Laurier Government is disposed to intervene to have the strike settled before the arrival of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall; that something decisive may be expected before long.

Indeed, the hotel is a sort of whispering gallery. One group of railway men eyes the other with distrust; two men are in the corner; a trio have their heads together in the centre of the rotunda; and over all is the sense of expectancy.

Mr. Wilson said to-day that things were lovely. They were nearing the goal of their desire. It would be an immense gain both for capital and labour if they could bring pressure to bear upon the C. P. R. so as to induce the company to consent to arbitration. Arbitration was what they were aiming at, and it was what they would obtain. The C.P.R. was perhaps the greatest railway corporation in the world. If that company could be induced to say that it did not claim to make all the law itself; that labour had a voice and human rights; and that it was willing to arbitrate differences between itself and the men who helped it to create its wealth—why, that would be of such an educational character that it would sound the death knell of strikes. For if the C. P. R. arbitrated differences every other smaller organization must follow suit. And the C.P.R. would offer arbitration. Of that he was convinced. Events were moving in that direction. Mr. McNicoll probably did not fully understand the strength of the forces which were against him. He could not be explicit, but certain things were in process of development. For himself he had no doubt as to the issue. The men were not wanting a great deal. They wanted fair play. They wanted a living wage. They wanted reasonable terms of service, so that they might know where they stood. This strike was intended to be educational in its effects. The moment arbitration was conceded, he would bend every energy to the bringing about of the most cordial relations between employees and employer. He had not revolutionary ideas to impose upon the men. The strike could have been conducted in such a way that within twenty-four hours from its inception, the whole of the C.P.R. could have been blocked and obstructed. On the contrary, it was conducted in an honourable manner. There had been no disturbance. There had been no acts of violence. The men were respectable, law-abiding citizens. Their case was unanswerable. As for himself, he remained to see that justice was done. He had no other object in view. He was the representative of plain people and he desired to stand by them to the end.

Drowned at Strathroy.

Strathroy, Aug. 24.—Thursday evening, shortly after 6 o'clock, Charlie Cummings, a lad about 14 years of age, in company with Donald Brown, another lad, were in bathing in the river. Charlie was unable to swim, and just before Brown took a dive off the springboard he noticed his companion on the bank, but on coming to the surface saw that Cummings had disappeared. It is conjectured that he fell off the bank into the deep water. Every effort was made to rescue him, but without avail.

"PEACE TO ITS ASHES"

Is the soliloqy of the young men who smokes one of CHARLEY LEGROS' Pure Havana Cigars. The whole affair is invariably consumed in smoke.

HOW TO TELL A GOOD CIGAR.

A cigar made of Pure Havana Tobacco burns a clear, gray ash that does not flake, and clings solidly to the "butt" at the finish. When a man hangs on to a good cigar until he is obliged to use a tooth-pick to hold it and avoid burning his fingers to get the last few whiffs, it does not require the wisdom of a Soloman to infer that he has run up against a mighty good Cuban—the kind that Charley LeGros imports. That accounts for the large sales of these fine flavored and well made cigars at

GOOD CLAM CHOWDER

IT IS HARD TO GET, SAYS A METROPOLITAN EPICURE.

An Old New Yorker Compares the Modern Dish With the Delicious Palate Tickler That Was Made by Ancient Experts.

The young New Yorker was telling of the toothsome dishes of which he was fond and among them mentioned clam chowder.
The old New Yorker, who is a gastronomic epicure, regarded his young friend with a pitying glance and said:
"I suppose you think you have eaten clam chowder? Have, eh? Where? H'm! I thought you would say something like that. Well, let me tell you," impressively, "that you don't know what clam chowder is. I don't say that to hurt your feelings, as it is your misfortune and not your fault that you are lacking in a proper knowledge of the subject.
"You may think it a trivial matter for an old man like me to be bothering about clam chowder. That's because you don't realise the importance of the question of good clam chowder. Think of it! Here we are in the foremost city of the country—I think it the greatest city in the world in some respects—and neither you nor any other man in it, young or old, can name three places in it where one can get a plate of real clam chowder.
"I suppose the fate of the nation doesn't hang upon clam chowder, its use and abuse, because it is only we who are so blessed as to be along the coast who have at hand the fresh material from which the chowder is made.
"I would make no complaint were it not for the fact that there is nothing better than a plate of clam chowder when it it is properly made, and there is nothing worse when it is not made right. More than that, any old cook thinks he or she can make clam chowder, whereas they haven't the slightest notion as to what clam chowder ought to be.
"Don't smile, my gay young friend, for here is where I've got you. I'm not yearning for the kind of chowder that mother used to make, for mother, God bless her, never knew any more about clam chowder than the rest of them.
"For that matter—and I have no desire to traduce the fair sex or get into trouble with them—no woman can make clam chowder. Why? How should I know? Don't ask me to explain the inscrutable ways of Providence. I can only state the fact as I have found it.
"No, sir; the right kind of clam chowder can only be made by a man, and every good chowder cook that I have ever seen has been round shouldered. Oh, I thought you'd laugh! We old folks who have brought up children know perfectly well that they laugh and cry without any apparent reason.
"A bit odd? Of course it is. But I have seen square shouldered men and round shouldered men in chowder making contests—not here, but down east—and the round shouldered men always won. I would bet on them every time.
"Now, in every restaurant and hotel in town and in the places where they make a specialty of sea food you will find clam chowder on the bill of fare. And when you order it what do you get? Br-r-r-r! It makes me shudder to think of it. In most places you get a plateful of hot, greasy water with a waterlogged tomato in it and a couple of derelict clams, barely discernible. In others you are served with a fair quality of vegetable soup containing a few clams. Again, the waiter will serve you with something that has clams in it, but which, for the life of you, cannot be described properly.
"In all of these merry muddles of which I speak there is always a great quantity of sage and thyme and what not. Why? What better flavor is there than that of the clam? I don't wonder that clam chowder is not more popular than it is, and yet, after all, when you come to think, clam chowder must have an awful hold on the affections of the people in order to have retained even a shred of popularity after having been so much abused and misrepresented.
"Why, do you know," and the old New Yorker lowered his voice to a whisper, "I've actually seen so called clam chowder in which there were carrots and celery! Carrots and celery! Ye gods!
"Now I am going to tell what is in two kinds of clam chowder that I've eaten. I'm not going to tell you just how to make it, for if I did you could open a chowder house right in this town and make money. But I'll tell you what is in the chowders I speak of.
"The oyster dealers of this town had a man who made chowder for them some years ago, and they were willing to back him against the world when it came to making a proper clam chowder. He used so many clams that he'd scare the ordinary cook to death. It cost something to make the kind of chowder he served to his patrons, I tell you. In addition to the clams, which he chopped up fine, he used potatoes made into dice, salt pork cut up in the same way, onions chopped fine and about a quart of tomatoes to every five gallons of chowder. He also put in a few oysters, a small portion of curry powder and a wee bit of sage.
"There was not enough sage in it for you to know it was there, but it helped to make a flavor. He always liked to have his chowder cook for ten hours and longer, if possible.
"The other chowder, and the only chowder I eat now, is made in the good old fashioned down east way, and you can't beat it. It is made of clams, onions, clams, potatoes, clams, hard tack and clams. It is cooked slowly from 6 to 12 hours and is better the second day than the first. Why, young man, when a plate of that chowder is set before me I can imagine I am far out at sea and being swept by ocean breezes. The shame of it! People can get that kind of chowder or make it if they are willing to spend a little time studying it up, and yet they will buy canned clam chowder and say it's good. Do you wonder that I am grieved in spirit?"

BUTCHERS ARE IMMUNE.

Meat Dealers, It Is Said, Never Die of Consumption.

"Butchers never die of consumption." The big man with his sleeves rolled up, wielding the cleaver at the block, said this as he threw a beefsteak on the scale.
It sounded more like a trade superstition than a fact, but so far as diligent inquiry has been able to discover it is true, although not generally known outside of the meat chopping craft.
Butchers are no longer lived than men in other walks of life. They are subject to all the other ills that human flesh is heir to, but consumption they do not have. So far as a reporter was able to learn not a single case is on record of a butcher in this city being afflicted with the incurable wasting of the lungs which claims its hundreds of thousands of victims annually.
The fact is well known among butchers and has been often the subject of their comment, although none of them can give a reason for it.
"No," said a man who has swung sides and rounds in Washington market for the last 20 years; "I have had rheumatism and typhoid fever and lots of other things, but nothing has ever been out of gear with my lungs, and the same is true of every other butcher in this town. I know nearly all of them, and I never heard of one of them having consumption. They don't drink blood or take any especially good care of themselves either. I don't know why it should be so unless it's because the continual inhaling of an atmosphere of fresh meat is strengthening.
"I have often thought when hearing of consumptives going to Colorado and Egypt that I know of a climate nearer home that would do the business just as well. If they would stay in this stall for awhile and swing meat, they would get well quite as quickly as they would on the top of Pike's peak."

FILLED WITH GAS.

Every Meal was a Fresh Cause for Pain and Distress.

One of the most unpleasant results of Dyspepsia is the formation of gas in the stomach. This arises from the sodden, undigested mass of fermenting food which the weakened stomach has been unable to assimilate.
Any person troubled with gas in the stomach should remember that a Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablet swallowed after meals will prevent the fermentation of food and the subsequent formation of gas. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets actually digest the food sent to the over-charged or worn out stomach which cannot of itself manage its own work.
Pastry, for instance, causes pain and discomfort to a great many Dyspeptics. It doesn't to those who use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, because the moment one starts to use them one is, practically speaking, no longer a Dyspeptic.
One is no longer a Dyspeptic when one's food digests all right. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets digest the food food perfectly. Heart Burn, Gas, Waterbrash, Pain in the Stomach, cease, and it is only then a matter of time before Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets cure the stomach of its disease or weakness permanently.
"For eight years," writes Mr. William Bangarth, 20 York street, Hamilton, Ont., "I have been a sufferer with Dyspepsia. I could not eat a hearty meal for fear of being taken with those dreadful pains. If I should eat any kind of pastry I would suffer after with Heartburn, and my stomach would fill with gas. My digestive organs failed to do their work in spite of all the remedies I used. My friends advised me to take a treatment with the doctor, but I not thinking that any result would come from it, refused to have such an operation as was suggested. An acquaintance who had used Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets advised me to try them. I have now used two boxes, and am able to eat a hearty meal without any fear whatever."

Hard to Please.

WORK IN A LIGHTHOUSE.

Daily Tasks Performed in Keeping the Lamps Bright.

The duties of the lighthouse keeper are many and important. The top of the tower is usually a tiny room, all glass windows. The lantern is in the center of the room. It is a great prism of glass, in shape like a beehive. The lamp is set into this, and the lenses magnify the comparatively small light of the lamp and make it a great beacon seen far off over the waters. Should the luminant be a flashlight, there is machinery to be wound up every few hours to cause it to revolve. At sunset the keeper climbs the steep steps in the high tower, takes down the curtains that darken it throughout the day and sets the lamp inside the lantern. At midnight the lamp is changed. A freshly filled one is put in the place of the first lighted one.
When storms are raging or fogs prevailing, the keeper stays awake to wind the machinery that keeps the fog signal booming over the water. Many sleepless nights are thus spent by the light keepers in devoted vigil of the aids to navigation. At the gray of dawn the keeper is again climbing the steep iron ladder to the tower top. Before the red rim of the sun appears the lamp is extinguished, the fine prismatic lenses are covered, and the huge panes of glass that form the walls of the room are curtained. The large lamp is carried down the flights of an almost perpendicular ladder and when filled, trimmed and cleaned is ready for the sunset hour. The work of the keeper is not concluded with this feat. The most perplexing portion of the daily routine is now to be performed.
The light keeper must give an account of his stewardship. A record is kept of every gill, pint, quart and gallon of oil that is nightly consumed by the lamps, the fractional parts of inches of wick burned, the lamp chimneys broken and the general consumption of all supplies furnished yearly in large quantities by the government.

Shoemaker's Backache.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets a Positive Cure for This Complaint.

The constant bending over that of necessity a shoemaker must do when at work, comes hard on his back and hard on his kidneys. Backache and lame back are the great bugbears of a shoemaker's existence. That Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets can ease the aching back and cure the kidney trouble is amply proven in the following case:—
Mr. J. O'Shea, corner Main and Market streets, Lucan, Ont., the well-known shoemaker of that village, says:—"A shoemaker's work requires lots of sitting and leaning forward, and invariably, as in my case, in time brings on a pain in the small of the back and Kidney trouble. This has been my complaint for two or three years, and I was about tired of it. Some one told me about Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and I got a bottle at John Farrell's drug store. The taking of this one bottle was followed by complete relief. This is naturally a big lift to me in my work and I am correspondingly grateful. I can recommend the Tablets conscientiously to others."
If you are anxiously desirous of being cured insist on having Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. Price 50 cents a box, at all druggists. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto.

Old Church Lotteries.

This ticket will entitle the possessor to such prize as shall be drawn to its number, if demanded within 12 months after the drawing, subject to 20 per cent deduction. M. Wilkins, president of the board of managers, Pittsburg, June 3, 1807."

A Medicine 300 Years Old.

Our readers will probably be surprised to learn that for nearly 300 years cod liver oil has been used as a medicine. During the past twenty five years nearly all the cod liver oil brought to this country from Norway has been used in the form of Scott's Emulsion. It is by all means the most pleasant preparation of cod liver oil you can buy.

Pressed Flowers.

Several methods of preserving the natural color of pressed flowers have been suggested, but the best, it is said, is that used in the New York botanical garden. After the specimens have been under pressure for a day or two they are laid in papers heated in the sun, and this is repeated until the drying is completed. This, it is said, preserves the colors perfectly.

TWO SCHOOLS.

I put my heart to school,
In the world where men grow wise.
"Go out," I said, "and learn the rule.
Come back when you win the prize."

My heart came back again,
"And where is the prize?" I cried.
"The rule was false, and the prize was pain,
And the teacher's name was Pride."
I put my heart to school,
In the woods where wild birds sing,
In the fields where flowers spring,
Where brooks run cool and clear
And the blue of heaven bends near.
"Go out," I said; "you are only a fool,
But perhaps they can teach you here."

"And why do you stay so long,
My heart, and where do you roam?"
The answer came with a laugh and a song.
"I find this school is home."
—Henry Van Dyke in Atlantic Monthly.

AN EXCHANGE OF BAGS.

...By M. QUAD.

Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis.

I had been at a certain hotel in London for three months while making researches in the interests of a client in Canada and had come to a point in my investigations where I was required to go down to Canterbury to consult church records, and late one evening I began packing my bag for the trip. I was thus engaged when the door opened and a stranger entered my room. He was a man of about 50, well dressed and having the look of a gentleman, and there was a bland smile on his face as he quietly observed:

"I thought I heard you invite me to come in in answer to my knock. Pray excuse me if I intrude."

He handed me a card on which was engraved the name of Theodore E. Bliss, New Orleans, but his looks and accent did not go to show that he was a southerner. On the contrary, I knew he was a northern man. He was fairly posted about my own town of Toronto, and, according to his statement, he had been offered a large plat of vacant property at a bargain. I knew the property and its owner, and I knew the price to be low. We were talking away when there came a knock on the door, and as I rose to open it the landlord entered, and I saw a stranger behind him.

"Ah, Mr. Cook," said mine host, "please excuse me. I thought you were out and some one might have entered your room. It is all right—all right. Beg pardon, I'm sure."

He was gone before I could ask any questions, and Mr. Bliss at once led the conversation back to the property and kept me so busy answering his queries that I had no time to wonder over the incident. He remained for a full hour. As he asked me to act as his agent for the purchase of the property and as he paid me £100 on account I was forced to be more or less interested, though I could not get over feeling a bit put out at the way he had entered my room. Before leaving he found that I was going down to Canterbury in the morning, and he laughingly exclaimed:

"How very queer! Why, I'm going down there myself. I'll meet you at the station in the morning, and we'll make the journey together."

After I got to bed I began to go over the incidents of the evening in a lawyerlike way. I found I had some curiosity about the way the landlord had burst into my room and also as to the identity of the man who had remained in the background. Mr. Bliss had seemed to talk straight enough, but I was considerably puzzled over him. After a night's sleep I felt better, however, or at least less annoyed, and when Mr. Bliss joined me at the station I gave him cordial welcome. In a casual way I also noticed that he carried a Gladstone bag, but of course I thought nothing of it at the time. We were a little early for the train and had taken our tickets and were walking up and down the platform when I was accosted by a stranger who asked for a word in private. I suspected at once that he was a detective. When we had stepped aside, he respectfully inquired:

"Am I right in believing that you are Mr. Cook of Toronto, Canada?"

"Perfectly so," I replied.

"You are stopping at the King's Arms?"

"I am."

"And the party with you?"

"Mr. Theodore E. Bliss, sir."

"Ah, just so! Thanks, sir. Mr. Bliss, being in your company, must be all right. Good day, sir."

Had he lingered I might have put some questions myself, but as he hurried away instead I turned to my friend, Mr. Bliss was humming an air to himself and appeared cool and placid. He asked no questions, and I volunteered no information. I was upset again, however. If Mr. Bliss was all right because he was in my company, the detective must have had a suspicion of him previous to this meeting. I had in a way guaranteed the man, and had I been right or wrong? As soon as we had taken our seats in the train I began to pump him as if I had him on the witness stand. In the course of an hour he made a dozen slips about Toronto, and he dodged so many questions that I made up my mind he was a man I wanted nothing to do with. I insisted on returning his money and taking back the receipt, and I declined to act as his agent in any manner. He was certainly surprised and put out, but he did not argue the matter. Just before we reached Guilford Junction he said he must get off there to see to a little business, but we did not part in bad feeling. It was not until I arrived at Canterbury that I discovered there had been a change of bags. Mr. Bliss had taken mine and left his.

Perhaps it was not exactly the right thing to do, but in my room at the hotel I tried my keys on the lock of the strange bag and opened it. It was stuffed full of what I at first supposed to be clothing, but after a little investigation I grew white in the face and weak in the knees. Down below the clothing were English consols and railway bonds to the amount of half a million dollars. I didn't have to figure much to come to the conclusion that a big robbery had been pulled off and that Mr. Bliss was in it. It was my duty to inform the police at once, but before I could leave the hotel two officers called and arrested me. They had me red handed, as it were, and even at the police station they would pay no attention to my assertions or protestations. In England a person under arrest is deemed guilty, at least by the police. I was taken back to London, where the robbery had occurred, and, though I had money and credentials and was an innocent man, it took me four weeks to get out of the grip of the law. Meantime the asinine officers had given Mr. Bliss time to get half around the globe.

How the man knew I was from Toronto and stopping at the King's Arms I cannot say, but he had robbed a broker's office near by, left the satchel at a fruit stand and entered the hotel to escape the crowd on his track. He had come direct to my room and had thereby saved himself. When he left me after our conversation, he picked up his satchel and turned in somewhere for the night. He knew the railroad stations would be watched, and he planned to get out of town in my company. It cost me £100 in cash and no end of worry to get clear of the law, and when I finally returned to the hotel the whilom urbane and humble landlord met me with a smile and said:

"Yes, I know they failed to convict you, but just at present we are greatly overcrowded, and I cannot accommodate you. Innocent as a babe, sir, but you'll have to try some other hotel, dontcherknow."

When You Give a Dinner.

Let us suppose you wish to give a little dinner for six.

The tablecloth should be of the best damask you can afford. Underneath should be the "silence cloth," which may be of thick cotton flannel or a felt pad.

At the right of each plate should be the knives, sharp edges toward the plate and in the order in which they are to be used, beginning at the right.

To the right of the knives should be the soup spoon, bowl up, and the oyster fork, when oysters are served.

On the other side of the plate should be the forks, tines up, as many as are necessary.

The goblet is placed at the upper right hand of the plate.

If wine is served, the glasses may be arranged in a semicircle in the order in which they are to be used, starting at the right.

The large napkins should be folded four times when they are ironed. When placed upon the table, fold once more by hand, placing within the fold a dinner roll or a piece of bread 2 inches by 1½ thick. The napkin may be placed in front of the plate or at the left of the forks.

Always select a rather flat and never a very towering floral centerpiece, as this does not interfere with the exchange of glances and conversation across the table, and the guests are not compelled to keep dodging from side to side to see around and over the lofty mass of blossoms.

Chinese Barbers.

The barber's calling is supported by government. What if his little squat razor only covers an inch or two at the time and makes the operation unnecessarily tedious. He has the advantage of knowing that he represents lawful authority. He ought never to suffer from being out of work.

Then his perquisite, the combings, makes up for natural deficiency. He can sell at clear profits tails of his own collecting and making. Perhaps the fact that Chinese hair offers little variety in color simplifies this article of commerce. The more sable the better. Children's heads are shaved in order that it may be as black and thick as possible. Black is much more cheerful. A Chinaman plaits white silk into his hair when he goes into mourning.

Tales of a tail might be multiplied. The Chinaman's is more expressive than any that has not the power to wag with satisfaction or droop with dismay. For convenience in work it is fastened up in a coil, but for a man to speak to his superior without letting it down is an insult. No Christian would enter church in this dishabille. A stranger might possibly do so, and in such a case, before beginning the service, the officiating minister would fix him with a glance and politely—for the natives expect politeness under all circumstances—address him, "Sir, will you kindly let down your tail?"—Quiver.

SOME FACTS ABOUT YOUR HEART.

The human heart is composed entirely of muscles and weighs about nine ounces. It is the toughest organ in the body. It beats 70 times a minute, or 36 million times a year, and pumps 2½ ounces of blood each time. The most common ailment of the heart is weakness. This is caused by over exertion, the result of work, bicycle riding, breathing impure air or the excessive use of either tobacco or stimulants. The symptoms of this weakness are palpitation and irregular beating of the heart, smothering sensation, flushed face, burning feet, and pains in the breast. The best method of treatment for this weakness is to purify the blood, tone and strengthen the muscles, and build up the system generally.

This is just what you do when you take Merrill's System Tonic, a remedy manufactured by Merrill, the Druggist of Brantford, from a formula suggested by three of the most able physicians on the American continent, and dispensed with the same care given any of the thousands of prescriptions dispensed annually by this druggist. During the year 1900 more than 20,000 bottles of this valuable remedy were sold, and so gratifying and convincing are the results that you need no hesitancy in giving it a trial.

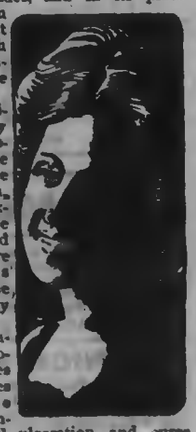
NO SHADOW

Of outward misfortune can darken the smile of the loyal wife and loving mother. But when disease comes the smile slowly fades, and in its place comes the drawn face and tight closed lips which tell of the constant struggle with pain.



When the delicate womanly organism is diseased the whole body suffers; the form grows thin, and the complexion dull. The first step to sound health is to cure the diseases which undermine the womanly strength.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries disagreeable drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. The wonderful cures of womanly diseases effected by the use of "Favorite Prescription" place it at the front of all put-up medicines specially prepared for the use of women.

"I was troubled with female weakness for eight years, and suffered more than I can tell," writes Mrs. Gust. Moser, of Ovando, Deerlodge Co., Montana. "My disposition was affected to such an extent that to say a pleasant word to any one was almost an impossibility.

"I had two operations performed by one of the most skilled surgeons of the West, but did not get relief. Then, against my doctor's strict orders, I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and also followed the advice given in the Common Sense Medical Adviser.

"I continued this treatment for three months, and to-day am as healthy and well as a woman can be. I cannot thank Dr. Pierce enough for his kind letters to me."

A STRANGE STORY FROM SYRACUSE.

Methodist Ministers are Charged With Misconduct.

CHARGES DENIED IN TOTO.

They Demand Rigorous Investigation—Church Authorities to Hold an Inquiry on Tuesday, Aug. 27th—Statement of Rev. Mr. McAmmond.

Sensational reports from Syracuse have appeared for a day or two in regard to serious charges involving misconduct of two Methodist ministers in that city. Now that the version of the ministers, denying in toto the disgraceful imputations of the reports concerned are available, it seems but fair to present a synopsis of the whole case contained in a dispatch from Smith's Falls.

Smith's Falls, Aug. 23rd.—A most painful sensation has been caused in all this district by the report from Syracuse, N. Y., that two well-known Methodist ministers were guilty of disgraceful conduct in that city. The ministers about whom the scandal is abroad are the Rev. D. C. Sanderson, pastor of the Methodist Church at Almont, and the Rev. Foster McAmmond, pastor of the Methodist Church at Perth. They are both talented, clever men, clergymen of the very highest standing in their Church, and enjoying the confidence and esteem of all who know them.

They went on a little holiday trip together this week, and on Tuesday night stopped at Syracuse. The sensational report from there is that Rev. Mr. Sanderson was arraigned in the police court there Wednesday morning on a charge of intoxication and of frequenting a house of ill-repute in the red light part of the city. Pearl Ashley, one of the demimonde of Syracuse, was also arrested, and told the story to the authorities, charging both Mr. McAmmond and Mr. Sanderson with having been at her house.

Both gentlemen deny the charge, at least with the meaning that is attached to it, although, as a matter of fact, they did fall among the Philistines while in Syracuse and say they were most outrageously used. Both clergymen are here to-day attending the district meeting of this Church, and your correspondent interviewed both. They say that they were in Syracuse together on Tuesday night. Mr. Sanderson says he was on his way to Massena, and Mr. McAmmond to Kingston. They put up at an hotel, and went to bed about 11 o'clock that night. They found their room stifling hot, and opened it up, and came down stairs again to ramble around a bit while it cooled. Within a hundred yards of the hotel Mr. Sanderson says they became separated, Mr. McAmmond slipping around a corner for a minute or two. While he was gone two well-dressed men came up and asked Mr. Sanderson where the Hotel Congress was. He told them he was a stranger and he did not know. They said they were strangers too, and at that produced some candy and offered Mr. Sanderson some. He said it was all done in a most friendly way, and he took some. They then asked him to come and have a glass of ginger ale, and he went.

That is the last he knows, he says, until he was stood up against a door of a house. He had missed his gold watch, and the men told him he would get his watch in that house. He rapped and went in. On demanding his watch he was told by a woman that his watch was not there. He sent a young man who was passing down to the hotel for Mr. McAmmond, and he hurried right up to the house. They went together to the police court and told their story, but Mr. Sanderson says the inspector immediately put him under arrest for being drunk. He says he does not think he was acting like a drunken man, but he was dazed and could not give a very good account of himself.

Mr. McAmmond and he both protested against the arrest, and told the policeman who they were, but nothing would placate them, and Mr. Sanderson was put in the cells, where he spent the night.

The woman was also sent for and put in the cells. The next morning they were both arraigned before the Magistrate, that is, Mr. Sanderson and the woman. She charged both Mr. Sanderson and Mr. McAmmond with having been at her house on Tuesday afternoon and again on Tuesday night. No evidence of having the lost watch was offered against her and she was dismissed. Both Sanderson and McAmmond strenuously denied the woman's charge, and say the circumstances were as above stated. Mr. Sanderson was dismissed from custody, and lost no time in getting home to Almonte.

Both Mr. Sanderson and Mr. McAmmond are here to-day and ask the most searching investigation of the whole matter by the church court, and this will doubtless be done.

In the report from Syracuse it is stated that both the rev. gentlemen registered at the Syracuse Hotel under assumed names. This is true, and they do not deny it, but they give a most satisfactory explanation of this. Mr. McAmmond, who is a smooth-faced gentleman, does not look unlike a priest, and had been called Father ——— several times when Mr. Sanderson and he had been together. In a spirit of fun Mr. McAmmond registered both their names putting down the name he had so often been called by, and some other fictitious name for Mr. Sanderson.

Mr. Sanderson saw it, laughed and thought no more about it. Your correspondent saw Rev. Mr. Pitcher, chairman of the district, and he gave him the following:

Both Rev. Mr. McAmmond, of Perth, and Rev. Mr. Sanderson, of Almonte, request the most thorough examination and investigation of the reports printed in some newspapers touching their conduct at Syracuse, N.Y. Rev. J. Tallman Pitcher, chairman of the Perth District, says the conference authorities will at once investigate the reports.

The inquiry, which will be begun by the church court next Tuesday, will be of the most searching character. As chairman of the district, Rev. J. Tallman Pitcher, of this place has already appointed the court, which will consist of three members from this district, one from Matilda, and one from the Brockville District, with Rev. Mr. Pitcher as presiding officer. According to the church law, the accused will not be permitted to have legal representatives present, and will prepare their own defence.

Rev. Mr. Pitcher, said to your correspondent to-night that as chairman of the Board of Investigation he desired it to be known throughout the country that the investigation will be most complete and thorough, and that no stone will be left unturned in the effort to bring out the real facts. "We shall go to the bottom of the whole matter," said Mr. Pitcher, "and there will be no whitewashing. We are all friends of these men. I have known them myself ever since they entered the ministry, and before, and have always esteemed them highly; but we have a duty to perform, a duty to them and to our church."

Mr. Pitcher would not say whether he would endeavour to secure any evidence in Syracuse. He said that he believed the committee should decide upon that point. Personally he was of the opinion that no reliance could be placed upon the testimony of a woman like the person known as Pearl Ashley. He paid a high tribute to the two ministers who will come before the committee, and while he properly refrained from discussing the points of the case, in referring to the matter of the false signatures, "Men pay for even such simple mistakes."

The evidence will be taken at the inquest in full, of course, and the case is expected to last several days.

Both Mr. McAmmond and Mr. Sanderson will fill their pulpits tomorrow as usual.

SIX HUMAN SKELETONS

Discovered in a Tomb of the Ancient Mound-Builders.

One of the Deceased was Burned at the Stake—Curious Find by the Curator of the Ontario Museum—Other Relics Secured.

Just across the lake from Toronto, in the County of Lincoln, and near the mouth of Twenty-mile Creek, a stream every school child is familiar with from the reading of Canadian history, Mr. David Boyle, Curator of the Ontario Educational Museum, this week opened up a mound of the Mound Builders. This is the nearest to Toronto that any of these ancient works have been found. Archaeologists now generally attribute them to the Indians, but there are yet eminent students of that science who declare them to be the monuments of an earlier and more highly civilized race.

Mr. Boyle returned from his work yesterday. The mound in question is situated on the farm of Mr. Peter Bradt, who kindly permitted the excavations. It is oval in form, 38 feet long by 30 broad and three and a half feet high. Remains of six human bodies were found in various parts of the mound. There was no order in the method of their interment, but most of them lay on their right sides. One skeleton had in its hands four or five flint arrowheads and a slate knife. Its legs were crossed and bent under it. This skeleton Mr. Boyle brought with him, imbedded in the earth as it lay. Only one perfect skull was found, and some principal leg bones, the rest having crumbled to dust.

One very curious discovery was the remains of a person who had been burned at the stake in the mound. The charred remains and other evidence were found, leaving no doubt in the curator's mind as to the fiery fate of the individual in question. This, as far as he knows, is the first instance of such a discovery in any of these mounds.

A few other relics were found, such as net sinkers, bone needles and other smaller articles. All of them are now in the museum.

Some of these mounds, the curator said, were constructed after the advent of Europeans in America, as was shown by the finding in some of them of articles of civilized manufacture. Some of the mounds were for funeral purposes and others for worship. The one just opened was for the burial of the dead. Reburial was the common practice among the Indians. At times the dead were left as first disposed of until the flesh had entirely decayed, then the bones were tied in a bundle and reinterred. Such bundles have been recovered, and some are to be seen in the Provincial Museum. In other cases reinterment takes place while the sinews are intact, as shown by the position of the the skeleton. Such an one was that just recovered, with the legs crossed and bent. The reason given for the custom of reburying the dead is that an occasion might be furnished of a feast for the living.

Some years ago Mr. Boyle discovered a serpent-shaped mound, one of those used for worship, near Rice Lake. He would not destroy it by excavating, but since then "pot-hunters" have greatly damaged it. Mr. Boyle is strongly of the opinion that such historic locations and the few remaining evidences of the Jesuit missionaries in the Orillia and Midland districts should be taken by the Government and preserved.

Something About Faith Cures.

What a great variety of faith cures there must be; some have faith in so-called divine healers, others in certain doctors, and still others in the medicines they use. Every person who has tested Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has faith in them, but faith or no faith, they act just the same for they act directly and specifically on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and make those organs healthy, active and vigorous. Judging from the enormous demands for these Pills there must be hosts of people that have faith in them.

Miller's Kidney and Bladder Pills are expressly for weak kidneys, bladder, pain in the back, etc. Sold by W. Madill.

A NEW CURE FOR THE DEAF.

If the prejudice so long entertained in this country that Deafness is incurable could be removed a long step would be made towards the eradication of that too common infirmity. Why people suffering from defects of hearing or ear diseases should not apply for relief with the same alacrity as when suffering from other ailments is difficult to understand; the more so when the misery these diseases entail is considered by excluding the sufferers from all social intercourse.

Possibly an explanation may be found in the fact that for a long time ear diseases were far beyond the knowledge of the great majority of medical men, and the treatments recommended were of so little efficacy that when, perchance, an attempt to relieve the disease was made, it was nearly always foredoomed to failure.

But great progress has been made of late years in the study of the various affections to which the delicate organ of hearing is subject, and the proportion of the cases actually incurable has been brought down to such an extent as to fully justify the statement that deafness is no longer incurable.

We wish to refer here to a new method known as the Drouet treatment, which has been for some time in general use in Great Britain and on the European continent, and is giving the most remarkable results. In fact, wherever the organ of hearing has not been subjected to any important anatomical changes, such as the complete destruction of the drum or the loss of the staples, it may be said that a cure is always certain. Based on external applications made behind the ears, on the mastoid process, this treatment is certainly the most rational and effective. It is not necessary to be well acquainted with the anatomy of the Ear to know that the most serious diseases which attack this organ have always their seat in the middle and internal Ear, and that this is the cause of the frequent failures which attend their treatment by means of instruments or apparatus. Completely hidden inside the skull these delicate parts are absolutely out of reach from the outside, and no instrument or apparatus, however, cleverly conceived it may be, can touch them; vapours or liquid drawn through the nose cannot have the slightest effect on the inner Ear. A few minutes attention before a picture showing the anatomical divisions of the Ear will show the utter impossibility of a cure by such means.

The Drouet system of external applications acts on the inner Ear in the same way, as for instance, liniments do when applied to a diseased joint, to reduce the swelling and inflammation — i. e., by gradual absorption — and this is the whole secret of the success of the method. It must not, however, be supposed that these external applications comprise the whole treatment. It is, of course, an important part of it, the principal indeed; but their are many different classes of ear diseases, and adjuvant treatment has to be prescribed according to the requirements of each case.

One can only desire that the Drouet treatment should be quickly known in Canada, where the number of deaf people is considerable. The Drouet Institute already has three establishments in Europe. The first, and oldest, is situated in Paris; another has been established in Brussels for the convenience of patients residing in Belgium, Holland, Germany, and the other northern countries. Lastly, the third establishment, which is in London, is extending its sphere of action to all countries where English is spoken. There is said to be now a prospect of opening a similar medical establishment in New York, in order to spread the application of the system throughout the North American Continent. Pending the realization of this project, our readers, who are the victims of deafness, or of any ailments of the ear, the nose or the throat, will learn with pleasure that in spite of distances, they may have themselves treated by the Drouet Institute in England, the address of which is 72, Regent's-park-Road, London, England. Gratuitous consultations are given to patients residing abroad by means of a pathological "Patient's Report," which allows them to describe in the most exact manner all the symptoms of their malady.

The Drouet Institute periodically publishes an Analytical Review of diseases of the ear, the throat and the nose, entitled the Journal for the Deaf, in which are reported the most remarkable cures effected by this establishment. This review also contains a great number of very interesting particulars. It is intended for the development of medical information, and for this purpose it is sent free of charge to all who apply for it. Let all our readers, then, who are interested in the subject, make direct application to the English establishment, whose secretary will make a point of giving them all needful information.

BRITISH TRADE DELEGATES.

Arrive in Montreal, and Tell of Their Mission to Canada.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—Several prominent English trades union delegates arrived in the city to-day on the steamer Lake Superior. They are Mr. E. A. Washer of Bricklayers Union, Bristol; Mr. J Flynn of Cumberland Iron Ore Miners Association, Cleator Moor; Mr. J. Sullivan of Lanarkshire Miners' Union, Lanarkshire; Mr. Sharples of Weavers, Winders and Beamers' Association, of Burnley.

In conversation with Mr. Washer, it was ascertained that the branch with which he is connected is about 33,000 members strong, the unionists representing about two-thirds of the bricklayers. He is going forward from Montreal to Akron, Ohio, where he will ascertain the conditions of trade there, and visit other parts. This delegate believes that the effort of Mr. Jones on behalf of British labor is worthy of the highest commendation, and has availed himself of it with the unanimous support of his society tho at no little cost to himself.

The other of the four delegates interviewed was Mr. Sharples of Burnley. He represents about 12,000 members of the local union, and there are about 4000 non-unionists in the district. Altogether the total strength of the weavers, winder and beamers thruout the country is close upon 100,000 men. He is paying expenses excepting traveling expenses, which are paid by Mr. A. L. Jones. He is astonished that many unions have not availed themselves of the exceptional facilities offered.

Yes, We've Told You of Them Before; And Probably Will Again,

For They are Deserving of a Lot of Space and much Telling.

THEY—means those Under Muslins that we bought so well that we can afford to give our customers the advantage of a third less than what we could regularly sell them at.

The purchase was a BIG one. This range of the manufacturers was never surpassed, if equalled, in Canada. That's pretty strong talk, and we realize it AND THE GOODS WILL STAND BY THE TALK.

If it hasn't dawned on you before try to realize it now, and think of the superb lingerie you can buy and only cost you an ordinary price. For instance, a $4.50 garment will cost you $3.00, and a $1.50 garment $1.00. Big enough saving to make it interesting, isn't it?

Well, we've had a big clearing of this Underwear, a clearing that has surprised us and shown us that the Peterborough ladies have appreciated the splendid bargains offered. We've got a big lot of Whitewear still, and though you cannot manage to come to-morrow, come while this lot lasts and you'll not be disappointed. Of course there is always a pick in samples—you're aware of that!

REMEMBER,

a week ago we advised you of three cases of Balayeuse worsted (sponged and shrunk) and all pure wool—heavy enough for perfect fitting suits. You may imagine that three cases of Dress Materials would last us a long while, but not so when 95 cent goods (sponged and shrunk) are being sold at 60c a yard, especially when they are the desirable goods for this season. We certainly want to advise our customers that this pile is cutting down extremely fast. Secure it while you may. We cannot say it will last till the end of the week. It may.

DELAREY'S DEFIANCE

Issues a Counter Proclamation to Lord Kitchener's.

STRUGGLE WILL BE CONTINUED.

A Despatch From Lord Kitchener Announces Delarey's Determination—Kruger Says There Are Still 10,000 Fighting Boers, and That They Will Fight On—Cutting Down Resisting Forces.

London, Aug. 25.—The War Office has received the following despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated at Pretoria to-day:

"Delarey has issued a counter proclamation warning all Boers against my latest proclamation, and declaring that they will continue the struggle."

Ten Thousand Fighting Boers.

Paris, Aug. 25.—The "Gaulois" publishes an interview with Mr. Kruger at Hilversum, in the course of which he declared the reports that he would have recourse to privateering to be "mere fables." He said he was aware that the Boers could only count upon ten thousand men still in the field, but that they were determined to continue the struggle.

Kitchener Marries the Commandoes.

London, Aug. 25.—(Tribune cable.)—The game of hide and seek goes on in South Africa, with small success scored from week to week by the British army. Gen. Kitchener's estimate that there were 25,000 Boers in arms early in July is reduced by recent weekly reports to a little over ten thousand. Where the fragments of commandoes making up this aggregate are is a mystery. The largest hostile force is in the Eastern Transvaal, but probably it does not exceed eight hundred burghers. Scheeper's commando is the only one south of the Orange River, and General French is operating against it. Kritsinger and Wessels have been reinforced in the Wepener district by the bands which Knox was driving thru the Orange River Colony, but this combined Boer force is about four hundred men. This force will be between two fires, but will probably escape by subdividing and scattering the commandoes, as has often been done before in the same section by Dewet, Olivier and other Boer generals. A casualty list given out last night betokened a serious fight, which had not been adequately reported.

The latest despatches from Holland indicated a despondent and almost hopeless feeling among Mr. Kruger's friends.

Indulgence Passages.

Sydney, Aug. 24.—Mr. Barton announced that "indulgence passages" will be granted by the Britannic to discharged soldiers desiring to return to Africa, on condition that they join a corps immediately on arrival and pay before embarkation eighteen pence per day for messing. Men from all over are volunteering, and a large total is certain.

Total Colonials.

London, Aug. 24.—A Parliamentary paper issued yesterday shows that the total strength of the 64 volunteer service companies who embarked for South Africa was 8496. The total wastage from all causes was 2633.

Held British as Hostages.

London, Aug. 26.—South African despatches show that the Boers continue active in Cape Colony. Sharp skirmishes have occurred near Uniondale, only a day's ride from the sea, while Commandant Scheeper's commando is threatening the important town of Outshoon, 30 miles from the Indian Ocean. In Brussels, it is asserted that Commandant-General Botha has ordered the Boer commanders in future to retain all captured British as hostages, in case Lord Kitchener carries out the threat of his latest proclamation.

FIVE MEN ARE UNDER ARREST.

Charged With Systematically Robbing Lawry Packing Company at Hamilton.

Hamilton, Aug. 24.—Between midnight and 2 o'clock this morning the police arrested five men, who, it is alleged, have been systematically robbing the Lawry Packing Company.

Their names are: Arthur Clark, foreman at the firm's stalls in the Market Hall; Alex. Keefer and E. Lambert, shippers at the packing house; Robert McBride, a driver of one of the delivery wagons; Arthur Cope, a butcher, who has a stall on the Central Market. The first four are charged with stealing lard, cheese and hams within the past week, and Cope is charged with receiving stolen property.

The men were arrested at the instance of A. Noble of the Dominion Detective Agency, Toronto. Noble and another detective have been working on the case for weeks. The former was engaged ostensibly as a clerk in the stall. It is alleged hundreds of dollars worth of stuff have been stolen within a month, and the firm suspects that it has been robbed for over a year.

The prisoners were arraigned before Magistrate Jelfs this morning. All pleaded not guilty and declined to elect. The examination was set for Tuesday.

Big Fight for Water Power.

Windsor, Aug. 23.—Legal proceedings were instituted yesterday at Sault Ste Marie by the St. Mary's Water Works Power Co. against the Chandler-Dunbar Water Power Co. and the Edison Salt Electric Co., in the form of a suit of ejectment in the matter of certain private lands defendants claim to control by reason of purchase and tax title. As the St. Mary's Power Co. was only organized a week ago, and is controlled absolutely by the Clergues and Messrs. Edward V. Douglas, W. P. Douglas and Frank S. Lewis of Philadelphia, there is good ground for the belief that it is the intention of the Clergue Syndicate to eventually control the entire water power at the Soo. It is estimated that the rights and holdings of the Chandler Co. are worth something over a million dollars.

A Son's Memorial.

Berlin, Aug. 25.—Emperor William has ordered that the late Empress Frederick's house regiment shall henceforth bear the title of "Queen Augusta Victoria's Regiment."

VISIT OF THE KING'S SON.

Royal Party Will Arrive in Toronto at 2 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 10—Will Stay Two Days.

Ottawa, Aug. 24.—(Special.)—The program arranged for the Duke of York's visit to Toronto is as follows: The royal party will arrive in Toronto at 2 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 10. There will be a procession to the City Hall, where addresses will be presented and the party will then proceed to Government House. In the evening they will dine at the Parliament Buildings, the guests of the Governor-General. After dinner Their Royal Highnesses will hold a reception.

On Friday morning there will be a parade and military review at the Woodbine to be followed by the unveiling of the monument to the late Queen Victoria. The royal party will then proceed to the University, where a degree will be conferred upon the future King. During the afternoon Their Royal Highnesses will attend a garden party at the inland quarters of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club. They will dine at Government House and in the evening will attend the Royal Grand Opera in Massey Hall.

On Saturday morning the royal party will leave Toronto for London, the train stopping a short time at some of the intervening stations. From London they will proceed to St. Thomas and then to Niagara Falls, where they will spend Sunday. On Monday they will touch Woodstock and Brantford and will spend nine hours in Hamilton, returning then to Toronto and remaining there for the night, leaving for Kingston on the following morning, making a short stop at Port Hope. From Kingston they will proceed thru the Thousand Islands.

FRANCE AND TURKEY

Sultan Comes Down and Yields to French Pressure.

AN IMPERIAL IRADE ISSUED.

The Quay Company to Exercise Unopposed All the Rights Granted Under the Concession—The Porte Abandons the Idea of Purchasing the Quays—Two Years Indemnity to Be Paid.

Paris, Aug. 24.—Turkey has yielded to French pressure, as was inevitable, and a full rupture of the relations between the two countries has been averted. The official communique, announcing the granting of the French demands, issued this morning, follows:

"In consequence of the declaration made to the Porte by the French Ambassador that he acts under instructions from the Minister of Foreign Affairs, an important irade has been issued, declaring that no obstacle shall be opposed to the free exercise by the Quay Company of the rights resulting from their concession."

A firman for the settlement of the other matters in question will, it is believed, be issued shortly.

An Imperial Irade Issued.

Constantinople, Aug. 24.—The Quays Co. question has been settled, as expected, in accordance with the desires of France. An Imperial irade has been issued ordering that the company shall be allowed to exercise freely all the rights granted by the concession.

Will Not Purchase the Quays.

Constantinople, Aug. 25.—M. Constans, French Ambassador, sent a note to the Porte last Thursday, saying that he would leave Constantinople Aug. 26 unless the French claims were settled. Thereupon Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish Minister of Foreign Affairs, called at the French Embassy and informed M. Constans that the Porte had abandoned the idea of purchasing the Quays, first, because convinced that the purchase would be a bad speculation for Turkey; and second, on account of the financial difficulty involved, as the Ottoman government had no hope that the Paris market would take up a loan to cover the purchase.

M. Constans then gave the Ottoman government until Monday (to-morrow) to issue an irade granting the Quays Company full rights and indemnity for the two years during which the company had been deprived of these rights.

A despatch to the Associated Press from Constantinople Saturday stated that an Imperial irade had been issued, ordering that the Quays Company should be allowed to exercise freely all the rights granted by the concession.

Delight Expressed.

Paris, Aug. 24.—The Foreign Office officials do not conceal their delight at the settlement of the Turkish difficulty. During the last few days it was evident that some anxiety was felt lest the affair mar the festivities on the occasion of the Czar's visit.

Regarding the other French claims, as their amount has been admitted by Turkey, the negotiations only turn on the manner of payment. It is believed this will be arranged very quickly.

German Coaster Lost.

Stettin, Aug. 23.—News has been received here that the German steamer Liban, which left Memel, bound for this port, on the evening of Aug. 21, sprung a leak during the night and sank. Sixteen of the crew put off in small boats. One of these capsized, and eight persons which it contained were drowned. The other shipwrecked men reached Krans in safety.

The Liban was a local coasting steamer hailing from Stettin, and was of 674 tons net. She was built in 1879 at Montoch. She was 100.00 feet long, had 27.7 feet beam, and was 14.7 feet deep.

Prince Kills Prince.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 25.—It has just leaked out that Prince Alexander Sayn-Wittgenstein-Berleburg, adjutant of the Czar's Circassian bodyguard, met his death in a duel with Prince Anatole Vladimirovich Bagratiunsky, an aide de camp of His Majesty.

The encounter took place near Sievertzkys, a station in the suburbs of St. Petersburg. Prince Alexander received a bullet in the abdomen. He managed to drag himself to the station, stopping his wound with his hands. He died on reaching the station building.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Asquith, M. P. delivered an address at Oxford University recently, in which he called upon all students to maintain the purity and to prevent the debasement of the English language. Mr. Asquith must have been reading the Toronto World's articles on "amended" spelling.

The Glasgow Exhibition is to be a great financial success. In addition to the guarantee fund which was raised before the buildings were erected, ninety thousand citizens bought season tickets at a guinea apiece. A profit of $500,000 is looked for, which will be principally devoted to free library purposes. Will the Pan-American show of Buffalo pan out as well?

The Mail and Empire and other yellow journals of the Conservative hue of politics, have been attacking the census returns, and among other things using the decrease of population of the town of Barrie as a "horrible example," and the mayor of Barrie himself wrote indignant letters to the organ and declared that the low population returns relating to Barrie were an outrage, and must be incorrect, since the village of Allandale was added to the corporation since the last census. Now it turns out that Allandale was enumerated separately, and will add 1,055 to the figures of Barrie's population. Thus the calm follows the tempest in the teapot.

The New York Commercial Advertiser recently said: "A conservative estimate places the number of Canadian-born in the United States at about 1,000,000, but there has been a sharp decline in the number of immigrants coming into the United States from Canada. The records of the Treasury Department show that less than 300 Canadian immigrants came to the United States last year. The Canadian records show that at least 12,000 Americans went to Canada, and at the present rate there will be 20,000 this year. The class of people going from the United States to Canada is very desirable. They are nearly all farmers from the South-Western States, and all take with them their own teams, agricultural implements, and considerable money."

A Syracuse, N. Y., woman bought a buckle in Kingston, Ont., and on going back to the New York side a customs officer accosted her and asked what it cost. She told him, but he refused to accept her statement, and as good as called her a liar. Now she is suing him for damages, and should succeed. This man is a fit mate for the Port Hope officer, if, as reported, the latter was guilty of siezing and making a fuss over a luncheon basket, carried by an American traveller, whose contents were half eaten. These facts illustrate the fact that human nature is the same now as in the time of Shakspere, when he made the ever-true remark respecting "vain man, dressed in a little brief authority." Some little souls in office put on more importance than their superiors, a clear case of the tail attempting to wag the dog.

It is a matter of common conversation that W. F. McLean, M.P., the pyrotechnic politician and proprietor of the pyrotechnic Toronto World, will be the Conservative candidate for the Local Legislature for East York at the next general elections. The Markham Economist, which gives this information, has heard it so often, and from so many leading Conservatives of the riding, that there seems little doubt of its truth. Mr. McLean is as resourceful as he is ambitious, and that is saying much. If the Economist is correct, he is taking a course he might be expected to take. He was a hot runner-up, so far as his own exertions were concerned, in the race for the Conservative leadership stakes, landed by Mr. Borden. Having failed there, Mr. McLean appears to be "scoring" to whack Whitney out of the saddle of the Ontario leadership. His organ, the World, has been preparing the way for such an attempt, by indirectly abusing Mr. Whitney, and pointing out the weakness of the Conservative leaders in Ontario. According to the Economist, Mr. Duncan, the Conservative candidate for East York, is to be cuckooed out of his position, to make room for Mr. McLean. History repeats itself. Macbeth has his knife sharpened for Duncan, and a diseased ambition is the Lady Macbeth who is urging him to drive it home.

TORONTO EVENTS.

Trinity Medical College Student Gets Both Arms Broken.

George Marks, a student at Trinity Medical College, had a narrow escape from death last night. He was riding a wheel up Bathurst-street about 11 o'clock, when he collided with a car coming south. He was hurled to one side, and Dr. Harington, who was called, found that both Marks' arms were broken. He was removed to the General Hospital in the police ambulance. His wheel was smashed. He lives at 804 Ontario-street.

$980 in Cash Stolen.

Great excitement was created on West Queen-street about 10 o'clock last night by the cries of two women, who had returned to their home and found that $980 in cash and their jewelry had been stolen during their absence. The women were Mrs. Ricardo Vinci and her sister, who live over a fruit store at 230 West Queen-street, conducted under the firm name of Vinci Bros.

Silver Wedding at 80.

London, Aug. 25.—The Most Reverend Frederick Temple, Archbishop of Canterbury, who is 80 years of age, celebrated to-day only his silver wedding. He was not married until he was 55 years of age, yet he is an excellent specimen of Queen Victoria's favorite type of a bishop and happy family man. His wife, who is the daughter of a nobleman, is not a platform woman, but shows a live interest in her husband's faith in active work and temperance. Her husband justifies his own faith, for he walks daily from one engagement to another, and he never has a postponed one on account of ill health.

To Come to Canada.

London, Aug. 24.—It is understood that the great shipbuilding firm of the Armstrong-Whitworth Company of Newcastle are considering the feasibility of building a shipyard in Canada. Inquiries at their London office to-day elicited the answer that the matter was too important to make a statement without consulting the directors, which seems to give confirmation to the report.

D.R.A. Opens To-Day.

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—The Dominion Rifle Association will open to-morrow at 9 o'clock on Rockliffe ranges. There are 400 entries this year, as against 358 last year. There are teams from the navy and Royal Engineers, and the militia is represented from Halifax to Vancouver.

Strathcona Will Get It.

London, Aug. 26.—Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal. The Daily Chronicle believes, will be appointed successor to the late Lord Herschell, as head of the delegation representing British interests in the Joint High Commission.

There's a Story in Morning Tiredness

A story of poor blood, weakened nerves, of a starved brain. Plenty of food, mind you, but perhaps poorly prepared and too poorly digested to maintain a vigorous body. Ferrozone quickly makes blood, gives strength to the nerves, cures the fagged feeling that prevent vigorous thought and action. Use Ferrozone, it makes blood, and good blood feeds the nerves. Strong and vigorous nerves are just another name for good health. If you seek health, and a relief from the tired morning feeling, use Ferrozone. Sold only by Ormond & Walsh.

SIR FRED. A. ROBINSON DROWNED

Belleville Man Killed by a Runaway—John Barr Loses His Life While Bathing Near the Toronto Sandbar—C. W. Deegan Commits Suicide—David Tees Drowned at Grand Mere.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—A particularly sad drowning accident occurred at Fairy Lake, Huntsville, on Saturday night, when Sir Frederick A. Robinson, Bart., clerk in the Surrogate Court office, Osgoode Hall, Toronto, lost his life.

Sir Frederick, who was one of the pioneer summer residents at Huntsville, went to his home there early in the present month, intending to remain for the balance of the season. On Saturday night, accompanied by his wife, he went boating, and returned to the wharf in front of his home a little before 9 o'clock.

On reaching the landing place Lady Robinson went direct to the house, leaving her husband to put the craft into the boat-house. That was the last seen of him alive. About half an hour afterwards his wife became alarmed at his non-arrival at the house, and hurried to the wharf, only to find the boat just as she had left it a short time before.

Lady Robinson summoned assistance, and a search was instituted, with the result that the body was found close to the wharf in about four feet of water. Dr. Seymour of Toronto, who was called, pronounced the man dead, and Coroner Reece decided that an inquest was unnecessary. Undertaker Francis took charge of the remains, and sent them to Toronto for burial yesterday. The body arrived here at 3.30 p.m., and was removed to J. A. Humphrey's undertaking rooms and prepared for burial.

Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

Physicians who examined the remains are of the opinion that deceased was seized with an epileptic fit while attempting to draw the boat into the wharf, and fell into the water.

Deceased was 48 years of age, and was a son of Sir James Lucas Robinson and a grandson of Chief Justice Beverley Robinson of Upper Canada. He was educated in England and at Upper Canada College in Toronto. Sir Frederick was one of the six hereditary baronets now living in Canada, and lived at 18 West Roxborough-st. He is survived by his wife and two sisters, Mrs. Osmund Cayley and Miss Julia Robinson.

Killed in a Runaway.

Belleville, Aug. 25.—A team of horses belonging to Peter Milne ran away this afternoon. Mr. Milne and a young man named William Picketts were thrown from the wagon, and the latter was injured so severely that he died at the hospital two hours later. He was about 22 years of age, and leaves a widow and two children.

Boy Drowned at Toronto.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—The first drowning fatality of the season at the free swimming baths on Fisherman's Island occurred late on Saturday afternoon, when John Clark Barr, a 12-year-old lad, who lived at 2 May-place, lost his life. He swam out too far and lost his depth by the swells of the steamer Kingston.

Deegan Shot Himself.

Ottawa, Aug. 25. — Charles W. Deegan, who lived on Main-street, Hull, committed suicide to-day. He shot himself in the breast. Death was instantaneous. He was in rear of his residence when he fired the fatal shot, and his wife was the first to arrive after hearing the shot. Deegan was at one time registrar of the county.

Lost Life at Grand Mere.

Montreal, Aug. 25.—David Tees, a well-known Montrealer, and bookkeeper for the Laurentide Pulp Company at Grand Mere, lost his life while bathing at Grand Mere yesterday.

Alcoholism Can Be Cured

REV. FATHER QUINLIVAN'S ADVICE.

To whom it may concern: The good points of Mr. Dixon's new discovery for the cure of the liquor habit in my opinion, are the following: First, if taken according to directions it completely removes all craving for liquor in the short space of three days; its use for a longer time is intended only to build up the system. Second, it leaves no bad after effects, but on the contrary aids in every way the health of the patient, whilst freeing him from the desire for drink. Third, the patient may use it without interfering with his business, or leaving his home. All other liquor cures I have yet heard of are very costly, operate slowly, are doubtful as to effects and often impair the health and constitution of the patient. I therefore look upon the remedy as a real boon, recommend it heartily to all concerned, and bespeak for it here in Montreal and elsewhere every success. J. Quinlivan, S. S., Pastor of St. Patrick's, Montreal.

Full particulars of this new medicine mailed free to all applicants. Address, Mr. Dixon, 81 Willcocks st., Toronto, Ont.

One Advance in Telegraphy.

London, Aug. 25.—The new Hungarian system of telegraphy, the introduction of which was announced 18 months ago, has been a marvelous success. The system has been installed between Budapesth and Fiume, a distance of 375 miles, and is in practical working order at a speed of 40,000 words an hour. The messages are written in Roman characters and require no transcription.

The system is an ingenious combination of the telegraph, the telephone and photography, the messages being written on sensitised paper by ray light and developed and fixed by an automatic process.

A Lawyer's Big Fee.

San Francisco, Aug. 25.—Joseph D. Redding, the attorney who represented Princess Von Hatzfeldt in the negotiations that have ended in a compromise of her claim against the estate of the late C. P. Huntington on the payment of $6,000,000 by Mrs. C. P. Huntington and H. E. Huntington, will receive $300,000 for his services.

STRENGTHENS THE STATE.

Life Insurance is for the protection of those dependent on a man's life; their dependence makes it an unavoidable duty. Those dependent we assume to protect by our contract, at his personal cost; our duty to them is to make that contract as large, as secure, and as certainly available to them as possible; thus every Policy written conserves the interest of the State. A man with a Life Insurance Policy is apt to be a good citizen. Anarchists have no use for Life Insurance, and the state has no use for anarchists. The State should encourage every citizen to carry insurance. This Strengthens the State, abolishes alms-houses, and creates property that can be taxed. Further, the income from Your labour ends with Your life. The cost of living to the family continues. Take measures to have the income continue also. The Life Insurance Policy Does It.

The most enterprising and progressive of all the Canadian Life Offices to-day is the Sun Life of Canada. Ten years ago the Company had Life Assurance in force to the extent of $16,759,355,92. On the 31st of December last, this amount had been increased to $57,980,634.68. The increase, therefore, of Life Assurance in force during the last ten years amounted to the tremendous sum of $41,221,278.76.

Of Exaggerating Facts, in Order to Seize Panama Canal.

Paris, Aug. 24.—The French press has not been giving much attention editorially to the Venezuela-Colombia question, but what comment has been made has, on the whole, been adverse to the United States, which is accused of exaggerating facts in order to have an excuse to intervene and seize the Isthmus of Panama and the Canal.

Verdict in the Walker Case.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—On Saturday night, after discussing the evidence for about half an hour the coroner's jury returned the following verdict.

"We find that the deceased, James Walker, came to his death from a violent blow from some weapon in the hands of some person or persons unknown to said jury. The said blow was delivered on deceased's head on Thursday night or Friday morning last, Aug. 22 or 23, in said City of Toronto, and deceased was found dead in the barn of the Commercial Hotel."

The case will now be placed in the hands of the police for thorough investigation.

Czar Will Visit Paris.

Paris, Aug. 25.—The Temps says the Czar will probably come to Paris for a few hours after he has witnessed the great army manoeuvres at Rheims on Sept. 19. He will take luncheon at the Russian Embassy and afterward visit the Champs Elysees and the Alexander Bridge. He will take dinner at the Elysee Palace.

At a meeting of the Cabinet and the president of the Municipal Council the question was discussed of building a special line to carry the Czar from Rheims to the manoeuvres.

Died at Owen Sound.

Owen Sound, Aug. 24.—James C. Stephens, formerly collector of customs at Owen Sound, died last night. He was 54 years of age, and one of the first children born in the settlement, being the son of the late W. A. Stephens, who was among the first group of settlers here, the latter's brother, the late A. M. Stephens, having accompanied the party that brushed the road from the village of Arthur to Owen Sound in the year 1840. Deceased was unmarried, and is survived by his mother and a brother and sister.

The King Can Do No Wrong

London, Aug. 25.—A reckless driver of a motor car, whose speed on a public highway is fixed at 12 miles an hour, was arrested the other day. In court he pleaded that "there is a person in Sandringham Palace who covered the distance to King's Lynn, which was 17 miles, in an hour."

The Magistrate replied: "I think it right to say in favor of His Majesty that the King can do no wrong."

The Ministers' Trial.

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—The Journal sent a man to Syracuse to follow in the footsteps of Messrs. Sanderson and McAmmond. His report relates the narrative from the lips of the demi-monde. There is nothing new in it.

The church court to try the two ministers will meet in Smith's Falls on Tuesday at 3.30 p.m. It will be a private trial.

Judge Rouleau Dead.

Montreal, Aug. 25.—(Special.)—Charles Berronvo Rouleau, Judge of the Supreme Court, Calgary, N.W.T., died here this afternoon, of heart failure.

Bounties Reduced.

Paris, Aug. 24.—A decree reducing the bounties on French sugars exported after Sept. 1 was published to-day.

HUBBUB SUBSIDED.

Manitoba Official Reports That There Are No More Men Idle Who Are Wanting Work.

Winnipeg, Aug. 26.—"The hubbub which was raised this time last week by men who could not or thought they could not obtain work has entirely subsided," said a government official, "and there are no more idle men hanging around either the C.P.R., the local government offices or the hotels."

Reports received by the Department of Agriculture indicate that the harvesters have been very well distributed thruout the province, and that there is neither a marked surplus nor scarcity at any particular point. The most of the reports show that the farmers are all supplied with help, but a few points are still in need of men, including Glenboro, Hartney, Baldur, Miami and Souris.

"This indicates," said Mr. McKellar today, "that practically every man who came out has obtained work, and if there are some still idle it must be their own fault, but I do not know of a single point where idle men are reported.. Our agents have done excellent service this week in locating the men, and we are in receipt of a large number of letters expressing appreciation of their services and the prompt action of the department."

The reports received from visitors and by letter at the Department of Agriculture indicate that thruout the country at large fully one half the wheat is cut and in shock.

The harvest in Southern Manitoba is far ther advanced, but on the M. and N. W. there is still considerable grain untouched.

In some places threshing has started, and stacking is quite general. The season's wheat crop has already commenced moving to Fort William.

"We have already sent two or three cars of new wheat east," said Mr. MacInnes, assistant C.P.R. traffic manager, to a Tribune reporter in reply to enquiries to-day, "and while we expect the number to increase daily the movement will not be general until the middle of September."

The Ogilvie Milling Company, in addition to the cars of wheat already reported, yesterday received a choice car of No. 1 hard from Stockton. They do not expect any more new wheat for several days, as the recent damp weather has interrupted the threshing to some extent.

A gentleman from Portage Plains says the crops in that district are fast being put into the sheaf, and the farmers expect an average yield of not less than 25 bushels per acre.

A gentleman who arrived by the Deloraine branch last evening says the farmers are further advanced around Morden than at any other point, and had it not been for the heavy rains of this week threshing would have been general.

CANADIANS WILL COMPETE.

Will Shoot for the Calama Trophy at Seagirt, Sept 5.

New York, Aug. 25.—The only foreign entry for the American Centennial Palama trophy contest on Sept. 5, at the tournament of the National Rifle Association of America, at Sea Girt, N.J., is that of the Dominion Rifle Association of Canada. Major J. J. Mason of Hamilton will be the captain of this team, and his men will be selected at the conclusion of their annual meeting in Canada this week.

On Friday, Sept. 6, the Creedmoor-Gallymount matches will take place between the New Jersey Rifle Association and the Ulster Rifle Association of Belfast. Sir Thomas Lipton is a member of the Ulster team.

The Irish and Canadian visitors will be the guests of the National Rifle Association during the tournament.

Cultivate Good Health

Feed the Nerves Enrich the Blood, Revitalize the Whole Body by Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Whenever there is an ache or pain, when the appetite fails, when there are sleepless nights, and momentary spells of weakness, look for the cause and see that it is removed at once.

Cultivate good health while yet there is something to build on, instead of waiting until the nerve force is depleted and vitality completely exhausted.

To persons suffering the results of thin blood and wasted nerves, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food supplies all the needs of the system and brings perfect health.

Mrs. E. McLaughlin, 95 Parliament street, Toronto, states:—"My daughter was pale, weak, languid and very nervous, her appetite was poor and changeable, she could scarcely drag herself about the house, and her nerves were completely unstrung, she could not sleep for more than half an hour at a time without starting up and crying out in excitement.

"As she was growing weaker and weaker I became alarmed, and got a box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. She used this treatment for some weeks, and from the first we noticed a decided improvement. Her appetite became better, she gained in weight, the colour returned to her face, and she gradually became strong and well. I cannot say too much in favour of this wonderful treatment, since it has proved such a blessing to my daughter."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food occupies a field by itself, and is unique in all respects, that it cures by forming new, rich blood and nerve force, building up the system and increasing the weight.

It is a reconstructant, restorative and revitalizer of most unusual merit, which sends new life and new vigor to every part of the body, and gradually and permanently cures all nervous troubles and diseases, resulting from weak blood and low vitality. 50 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Admiralty Over Hasty.

London, Aug. 26.—The report issued by the Admiralty regarding the boiler testing race between the British cruiser Hyacinthe, fitted with water-tube boilers, and the cruiser Minerva, having cylindrical or Scotch boilers, is the theme of extensive comment. It is generally admitted that the contest was not under conditions that would enable the formation of a decisive opinion. Considerable doubt is again thrown upon the supposed superiority of the Belleville boiler. It is urged that even if the superiority of it should be established the delicacy of mechanism accompanying the Belleville creates a liability to serious derangement. On the whole the press considers that the Admiralty are over hasty in adopting the Belleville boiler without further experiments of an exhaustive character.

Snaps in Shoes!

Here's a lot of values for those who can make use of the opportunity. The sorting over of stock singles out a number of odd lines that might as well be cleared. There's not enough of any one line to warrant us keeping them on the shelves. We know the value. It is the best. Possibly the buyer who comes with the idea of getting just what one is looking for may not see the exact thing, but will find the very best value in Shoes, and well worth wearing. No question of style, durability or material. Just odd lines to clear.

ROBERT NEILL

One Sixth From Canada.

Montreal, Aug. 25.—Mr. S. Charles Phillips, editor and proprietor of The Paper Maker and other trade journals of London, is now in the city, and, as usual, is interesting himself in the Canadian pulp wood trade. He confirms the report that Lloyds have contracted for the entire output of the Laurentide Pulp Mill, and says that already the sixth of Britain's total supply comes from Canada, and that it will reach one-half in two years' time, the yearly value of which will be $8,000,000. Mr. Phillips declares that the Scandinavian forests are depleted to a great extent, and while they may be wholly so in a few years Canada's spruce supply will last for 200 years or more.

Boys' School Suits.

The school holidays will soon be over, and parents will be planning to send their boys back to school dressed like little gentlemen. H. LeBrun & Co's stock of ready-to-wear school suits for boys was never more complete than now. We have been thinking about the boys and made great preparations for them. Bring them to the City Clothing Store before school re-opens. We show a great assortment of boys' single and double breasted suits and jaunty blouse and sailor suits — smart, handsome garments that parents love to see on the little fellows. All highly desirable suits that are well worth a quarter more than the prices we ask for them. Good news to mothers, too, who are looking for remnants in tweed, to make up at home. Lots of good all wool tweed from one to three yards long, for pants, coat or whole suit, at wholesale price. H. LeBrun & Co.

LOCALS WERE DEFEATED

By the Oshawa Ball Team on Saturday Last.

The Score was 8 to 3—A Fair Game of Ball on the P. A. A. A. Grounds—Notes on the Game.

The Oshawa baseball team visited Peterborough on Saturday and succeeded in deafeating the local nine by a score of 8 to 3. The game was at times most interesting, and an occasional fast piece of ball was to be seen, while again a succession of errors on the part of the locals told very heavily against them, particularly in the 5th and 8th innings.

The Oshawa team are on the whole quite young, though, perhaps, no younger than the locals. They play a gentlemanly game of ball, and as a result of their victory, went home jubilant. They had with them the celebrated pitcher, Bradford, of professional fame, who captained the team, and who was in a large measure responsible for the result of the game. Their playing was neat, and whilst they had 6 errors to their credit, still this is 3 less than the number made by the home team. There were a number of features in connection with the game that drew forth great applause. The fielding of Grady was of a very high order, and he pulled in three beautiful ones. Earls has no fewer than 6 put outs to his credit, and Graham also 6. Davidson caught a very pretty fly at centre in the 8th. Danny McCabe was in fair condition, and his home run hit over the fence was not an unusual occurrence. Cinnamon of the visitors also made a home run in the 8th.

The score was as follows:

FORESTERS ATTEND DIVINE WORSHIP.

Court Stanley A.O.F. at All Saints Last Night.

REV. MR. ARMITAGE'S SERMON

He Delivered a Very Excellent Address to a Large Congregation—The Duty of All Men to Each Other.

The annual church parade for divine worship of the members of Court Stanley, Ancient Order of Foresters, took place last night to All Saints' Church, where an excellent sermon was preached to them by Rev. W. L. Armitage.

The members of Court Stanley turned out in large numbers, and marched in a body from their rooms in the Sons of England Hall, Hunter street, to the church.

At the opening of the service, Rev. Mr. Armitage welcomed them, not only as citizens but as members of a society whose principles were in common with the church, and as those who had come to worship a common Father.

The music was of a special nature. The choir sang Plummer's evening service in D, and the anthem was "Saviour, Breathe an Evening Blessing."

THE SERMON.

Rev. Mr. Armitage took for his text 1st John, iii, 18—"Let us not love in word, neither in tongue, but in deed and in truth."

He began by saying that the presence of a society whose principles were such as those of the A.O.F., impressed upon us one of the strongest features of modern times. In summing up the history of nations, or even mankind, all would think of the different periods of advancement and retrogression, the times of persecution and reformation, the days of peace and war, of literature and science, but to-day we live in an age of philanthropy; when men, not only of the church, but all men of character and humanity, demand that life shall show itself in goodness and in good deeds—not merely a piety in the cloister, or faithful attendance at services or prayers but a giving forth of our love in deed and in truth. We cannot but feel that this indicates the growing in favour of the life of Christ, that, while the world does not accept Him as their Lord, they are yet demanding that His principles shall be put forth in life. The books of to-day will make their heroes examples of His teaching, and those societies, commonly called secret societies, impress their principles upon their members from a scriptural foundation, whether it be from the example of prophet or patriarch, or some parable of our Lord.

Rev. Mr. Armitage then gave a description of the beginning of such societies as the A.O.F., in England, when men banded together for social purposes or to commemorate some event of national interest, or for the purpose of protection or mutual help. Of these societies the A.O.F. was one of the oldest, the original being founded about 1742. Feeling the power and possibilities of organized effort it was spread to the wide world, and including nearly a million souls. By its principles it had aimed men to express the highest ideals of love in deed and in truth. If men are to be gathered in social organizations it is necessary that the best influences should be thrown around them. It is better that they hear of the examples of the good, and the scriptures, as in their ritual, than the language of the club and on the streets. Love does not mean merely a motion, but love is in force and in action, and by the following of this principles such societies have done much to overcome some of our social difficulties. One of the greatest hindrances to the progress of good has been the great differences in the social standing of men. We hear of the east and west end of London, the east side and up-town of New York — in the one, wealth, and everything tending to self-gratification, and the other poverty, misery, and lack of opportunity. Between these two a great gulf is fixed. The lives of the two do not touch, and there is ignorance one of the other. The rich think the poor discontented and a menace to society; the poor think that the rich are utterly selfish. One cannot bridge the gulf by the giving of food, neither can you fill it with gold and silver, but with sympathy and help — "Love in deed and in truth." Such is the purpose of these societies. The members meet on equality, and while not wishing to destroy social distinctions they bind themselves together in fellowship and brotherly love. They do not know merely birth and wealth, but piety, wisdom and nobility of character. We learn to love true manliness, as all have loved such characters in fiction and heroes as Uncle Tom. A second difficulty that is overcome is that we learn to love not only those who are agreeable and congenial, but it gives us an opportunity to meet and know each other better, and encourages us to settle our differences amicably, and follow the divine example to love our enemies and pray for those who despitefully use us—to be interested in the uninteresting, the disagreeable and the forlorn.

We hear a great deal about Heaven and its glories, said the preacher, and the streets of gold, but what about the earth in which we live, with its streets of sin and want? The demand to-day is for a Christianity with Christ in it—going about doing good, drying tears, protecting the weak, and filling lives with sympathy, love and fraternity. Even if there is a "business" in it, it gives many an opportunity for doing a noble work, to visit the sick, and share the sorrow of the bereaved. This is done by the contributions to the funds of the society which goes with every visit and every payment made.

In conclusion Rev. Mr. Armitage pointed out a still higher sick benefit in the society of Christ, to whom we can go when the soul is sick, and reap eternal benefit. In Him we are partakers of eternal insurance, the premiums of which are already paid up, and the seal of Heaven attached thereto.

THE ROYAL CHORUS.

A Meeting to be Held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall To-morrow Night at 8 O'clock.

Mr. George Mulligan, who is interesting himself concerning the Royal Chorus to take part in the reception to the Duke and Duchess of York and Cornwall at Toronto, is enthusiastic over the prospects. He has been in correspondence with Hon. J. R. Stratton and Mr. Torrington of Toronto concerning the matter, and Peterborough will make an effort to send at least 100 voices to Toronto. Trenton has promised to send 70 voices and other towns have promised to send equally as large delegations.

However, there is a difficulty to contend with and that is the financial arrangements. There is no prospects of the local committee receiving any financial assistance from the Reception Committee from Toronto. The Peterborough people as well as the Trenton vocalists will have to pay their own expenses and this will come rather heavy. The expenses will amount to at least $200 and the members of the chorus will be willing to pay at least $100 of this. The remainder of the amount will have to be raised by private subscriptions, and already liberal promises have been made.

However, the chorus will be fully organized at a meeting which will be held in the Y.M.C.A. hall to-morrow evening and a full discussion of the project will be had. All singers in the town and any others interested in the scheme are asked to be on hand to-morrow night at 8 o'clock.

REAR COMMODORE ENGLISH.

He Returned From the Annual A. C. A. Camp.

It was a Great Success—Mr. English's Views of the Association—Big Representation From Peterborough Next Year.

Mr. Walter English arrived home from the A.C.A. Camp at Muduata Island, St. Lawrence River, on Saturday morning after a pleasant two week's outing there.

Mr. English says that the camp was one of the most enjoyable in the history of the Association, owing particularly to the great number of the older members of the Association who had gathered together, and also to the increasing number of representatives from the eastern division, who have for next year had the Commodore and the location for the meet selected from their own division, and all the members of the Association are looking forward with interest to the salt water meet which will be the first that has taken place on salt water in 12 years.

The officers elected for the coming year were:—

Commodore — Louis A. Hall, of Boston.

Secy-Treas. — Mr. Lewis L. Drake, Boston.

The officers for the Northern or Canadian Division, were as follows:—

Vice-Commodore—Harb Hegg, of Toronto.

Rear Commodore — W. J. English, Peterborough.

Purser — Harry Page, Toronto.

Executive Committee — E. R. McNeil, Ottawa, and J. MacDnald Mowat, Kingston.

Representative of Canadian Division on Board of Governors—J. N. McKenrick, of Galt.

It was decided at a meeting of the Northern Division to hold a one day's meet for racing only at Carleton Place, Ont., or at some other point which in the opinion of the Executive will suit the purpose of the Division.

As has been stated before in these columns the Association has purchased Sugar Island in the St. Lawrence River, from the Department of the Interior, and every member of the Association who visited the Island is particularly pleased with the advantages which the location affords for a successful A.C.A. meet. A contract for furnishing the Association with a topographical survey of the Island has been given to Mr. Lent, an architect of Boston.

A Committee of Gananoque citizens have kindly consented to act as overseers of the Island and will assist Mr. Lent in laying out his plans for the proper location of the camp.

The races this year were well contested as well as representative, and the success of the Toronto crews in the races is very creditable to that club. It is hoped that a good large representation will be made at the camp next year and the old members of the Association look forward to a great number of Peterborough members attending the annual event.

RUGBY MEN ARE ACTIVE.

The Local Club Will Organize in a Week or Two.

Prospects are Bright for a Fast Fifteen—Players That Have Left Town—Great Enthusiasm.

The summer vacation season is drawing to a close, the boys are returning from their respective holiday trips, and Rugby talk is becoming more animated each day. This is not the case merely in Peterborough, but throughout the province the teams are beginning to look about themselves, and the dates of organization meetings are being announced. Peterborough Rugbyists are not idle, and while the boys have not been making a noise they have been doing considerable thinking, and talking over the situation among themselves.

That the Peterborough Rugby Club intend playing a fast and husky fifteen on the field is a sure thing, and they feel confident that the championship of the Intermediate Series of the O.R.F.U. will come their way this season. The gallant fight they put up for the championship last fall is yet green in the minds of all, and the manner in which they were "bull-dozed" out of it only serves to inspire more determination in the local representatives to enter the green with greater enthusiasm than ever before.

While there will be considerable shaking up in the personnel of the team this year, still the heavyweights of last year are ready to get into the game once more and several new men have located in town during the past winter and summer seasons.

Andy Scott, the reliable full back of last year, is ready for the opening. McPherson, who played half back, and who is at present enjoying the beauties of the Old Land, will be back in time for the first union game. Vic. McWilliams and Hal. Burnham, of the half-back line, are waiting patiently for the first practice. As to McDonald, the speedy quarter, there is some doubt as to whether he will be here, and Brundrette, of the scrimmage, having been in poor health of late may not go into the game. However, Hurtubise is on hand and as enthusiastic as ever. O'Connor, the other scrimmage man, is not in town. Smith is also away, but Revell, Maher, Graham, Crowley, Hollingshead, Rickey and Ex-captain McWilliams are all available. In addition to these there are a number of the younger element, amongst them being Paterson, Bell, Geo. Burnham, Norman Cameron, Herb. Wood, Ham. Munro and Jack Dainard, late of the St. Mary's team, of Toronto.

Perhaps no other athletic organization in Peterborough is run under as rigid business principles as the Peterborough Rugby Club. The affairs of the club are carried on under the guidance of a constitution that leaves few, if any, loop holes for errors of any kind.

At the first semi-annual meeting of the club, which was held in November of last year, the consitution was submitted and adopted. The annual organization meeting, which will be held in the course of a few weeks, will be the first to be held under the new rules and regulations, so to speak. Consequently, there will be several new features with the rules of procedure. One leading feature is that every Tom, Dick and Harry, will not be allowed to vote, but the franchise will be extended to those only who have paid their membership fees to the club for the previous year. This is a rule that has been broken in many clubs for some time, as too frequently organization meetings are packed with fellows who have no right to vote at all, and who kill that particular line of sport from the very beginning of the season, through the foolish manner in which they exercise their "nerve" in voting.

According to the constitution the date of the organization meeting is governed by the following clause: "The annual meeting of the club shall be held within the first ten days of September in each year, the particular time and place to be determined by the executive." It is quite evident from the above clause that the date of the annual organization meeting is not far off, and it remains now for the executive to pull themselves together and carry out the provisions as laid down in the said clause. The present executive consists of Messrs. H. R. H. Kenner, president; Hal. B. Burnham, 1st vice-president; A. A. Hollingshead, 2nd vice-president; J. M. McLeod, manager; R. F. McWilliams, captain; E. S. Clarry, secretary; H. Rush, assistant-secretary; and Messrs. W. B. Rickey, Norman Campbell, A. W. McPherson, and A. J. McClellan.

Of course this is the committee as elected at the annual meeting last year, but there are some changes, inasmuch as Mr. Hal Burnham, last year's 1st vice-president, is now also captain, having been appointed to that position last fall, after the winding up of the season, according to a clause embodied in the constitution which provides that "The captain for the next following season shall be elected by the members of the senior team which shall include all who played more than once on the senior team in a union or other especially important match. For this purpose a meeting of the team shall be called by the captain not later than Dec. 31st in each year, and a majority of all possible voters shall be necessary to elect, but such meeting shall have the right to postpone the election. Any member not able to attend the meeting shall be entitled to vote by mail."

In accordance with the provisions contained in this clause, when the first team were photographed last fall, they took the opportunity of electing their captain and Mr. Hal. Burnham was appointed by a unanimous vote. While it is not always good policy to have meetings "cooked," so that any particular set of officers may be railroaded into office, still it is well that the members of the club should weigh the merits of their respective candidates, and come to the annual meeting with some idea of who may be put up for election. There is nothing so dry at an annual meeting as to see a room full of members endeavouring to think who is the best man for a certain office, when the thinking should have been done weeks previous to the annual meeting.

INTERIOR DECORATIONS.

Local Branch of the Bank of Montreal Brightened up.

The interior of the premises occupied by the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, has just undergone a thorough renovation at the hands of W. S. Cocks, who has made a fine job of the work. The paper has been removed from the walls and ceiling, and the same have been scraped and most artistically decorated. The ceiling is of cream colour and the walls of old gold, the cornice and centre piece are of white. In the manager's office a rich wainscotting of olive green has been added to the other colouring, and the mantel is tinted in black and gold. A new oak floor has been laid in the manager's room. The other portions of the wood work are handsomely grained.

A Medicine 300 Years Old.

Our readers will probably be surprised to learn that for nearly 300 years cod liver oil has been used as a medicine. During the past twenty five years nearly all the cod liver oil brought to this country from Norway has been used in the form of Scott's Emulsion. It is by all means the most pleasant preparation of cod liver oil you can buy.

HOW TO TELL A GOOD CIGAR.

A cigar made of Pure Havana Tobacco burns a clear, gray ash that does not flake, and clings solidly to the "butt" at the finish. When a man hangs on to a good cigar until he is obliged to use a tooth-pick to hold it and avoid burning his fingers to get the last few whiffs; it does not require the wisdom of a Soloman to infer that he has run up against a mighty good Cuban—the kind that Charley LeGros imports. That accounts for the large sales of these fine flavored and well made cigars at

A LIGHTNING STORM

Wrecked Barns and Houses at the Royal City of Guelph.

SEVERAL VERY NARROW ESCAPES

Many Were Struck Down. But Providentially There Were No Fatalities—Tricks of the Electric Fluid in Its Ramifications Through Many Dwellings—Great Rush of Water in Streets on Friday.

Guelph, Aug. 24.—The severest electric storm Guelph has experienced in a long time passed over the city Thursday night, and a great deal of damage was caused by the flooding of cellars and by lightning. The house of T. F. Grant, Howitt street, was struck, and his wife and five little children, who were in the kitchen, miraculously escaped. Bolts entered by both chimneys, tearing the plaster, lath and sash off and igniting the curtains. The lightning cavorted through the entire house, doing destruction everywhere. A parasol which stood in the corner of a room had the cover burned off so completely that there was not a trace of it left. After leaving the house the bolt burned a path about five inches wide in the ground, and split several posts of the fence. Mrs. Grant says the house was illuminated by a ball of fire which she saw come through the dining-room into the kitchen and pass between two of the children, who were standing at a window.

J. H. Parker had a valuable Jersey cow killed. Harry Rhodes, John Brandford and William Laidlaw, employes of the Guelph Carpet Co., were knocked down, but were not injured. John McGuire, G. T. R. switchman, was knocked off a ladder, but landed on his feet and escaped with a sprained ankle. A little daughter of George Truckle received a shock, which affected the side of her face for some time, and Mrs. George Newton's maid was also injured.

John Colson, 82 years of age, had a very close shave. He had just returned from the Grant House, which was so badly damaged, when a shaft entered his room by a telephone wire, and knocked the plaster from the ceiling all over him. He escaped injury. The residence of Prof. Thomas was struck, and Caretaker Hyde received a severe shock, while ringing the fire bell.

The Electric Light & Power Co.'s plant was struck, and the power demoralized for half an hour. The long-distance telephone was deranged, and over fifty private instruments were put out of business.

The barn of Cornelius Collins of Puslinch Township was struck by lightning yesterday morning and totally consumed with all the season's grain and a few implements. The building was insured for $1,200.

Yesterday morning's storm played havoc with many cellars, especially on Quebec street, the damage at the residences of George Chamberlain and Charles Hicks being considerable. For a time traffic was suspended owing to the great rush of water in the streets.

WAY FREIGHT HOTEL

Proprietor of the Popular Montreal Hostelry Talks About Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Used Them Some Years ago for a bad Case of Kidney Weakness—Recommends Them Highly to all Those who are Worried by any Urinary Sediment.

Montreal, Aug. 25.—Dan W. Allan, proprietor of the Way Freight Hotel here, made a strong statement about the well-known remedy Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Allan's hotel is at 463 St. James street and enjoys considerable popularity with railroad men.

Some of the latter were discussing ailments peculiar to engineers, brakemen, firemen, conductors and train crews generally. It was acknowledged that the greatest difficulty a railway man has to contend with is Kidney Trouble. The continual jarring of the train weakens the filters of the system and various forms of Kidney Trouble result.

"Every man that works in an engine cab or on any part of a railroad train ought to use Dodd's Kidney Pills," said one man.

"Are Dodd's Kidney Pills what they're cracked up to be though" put in a second.

"Yes, sir," returned the first emphatically, "Dodd's Kidney Pills are what they're cracked up to be and I'll leave it to Mr. Allan."

"Gentlemen," said Mr. Allan, "I firmly believe Dodd's Kidney Pills will do everything that is claimed for them. They are a genuine medicine. They cured me of Kidney Trouble, I know that. My urine was full of a kind of red brick dust for years. I knew it was my kidneys, but could get nothing to stop it. Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills did the work finally and I've been all right ever since."

SHEBAIL.

She drank the sea's salt breath, Shebail,
Glory of day, glory of day,
And hope was strong, and life was young.
"My love will come ere set of sun;
O'er the dark sea furrow sports the cold spray."

"The sea is high, Shebail, Shebail;
Breakers at play, breakers at play.
And life is long when love is gone."
He ne'er will come ere set of sun;
O'er the dark sea furrow sports the cold spray.

"Thy love is gone, Shebail, Shebail,
Dead and away, dead and away,
And life is long when love is gone,"
But life was done ere set of sun;
O'er the dark sea furrow sports the cold spray.
—A. Foster in Longman's Magazine.

HE MEANT WELL.

An Obliging Man Who Made an Embarrassing Mistake.

A young editor took an apartment on South Twelfth street. The landlady said frankly to him: "I will tell you, sir, that my husband is a worthless fellow. I have to support him, and he sometimes comes home very late, drunk. There is no other objection to my house." The editor said this was no matter and thought no more of it until a few nights later, when a great uproar in the street awoke him. He looked out of the window and saw a man lying on the doorstep shouting ribald things. "The husband," thought the editor. "I'll go down and let him in."

He ran forth in his pyjamas, grabbed the husband by the neck and, jerking him into the hallway, proceeded to drag him up stairs. But the man made strong objections to this treatment. He howled oaths and abuse, kicked, struggled, even pulled out a handful of the young editor's hair, but this was in vain, for the youth is strong and of a determined mind, and he was bound that he would do his landlady a good turn.

He had got perhaps three parts of the way up stairs with his burden when two heads were poked in the dim light over the balustrade, and the landlady's voice said, "Why, Mr. Blank, what are you doing?"

The editor panted as he took a fresh hold and at the same time ducked a sharp uppercut; "I'm bringing your husband up, ma'am. He's drunk again, I'm sorry to say."

From the other head on the landing these words then issued in a deep bass voice: "What do you mean, young feller, by 'drunk again?' I'm this lady's husband. That man doesn't belong here."

Instantly realizing his mistake, the editor dumped his charge out into the street again. Then he returned and apologized lamely to the rightful husband for his strange words.

Something About Faith Cures.

What a great variety of faith cures there must be; some have faith in so-called divine healers, others in certain doctors, and still others in the medicines they use. Every person who has tested Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has faith in them, but faith or no faith, they act just the same for they act directly and specifically on the kidneys, liver and bowels, and make those organs healthy, active and vigorous. Judging from the enormous demands for these Pills there must be hosts of people that have faith in them.

All on $90 a Year.

A clergyman by the name of Mathson was minister of Patterdale, in Westmoreland, England, 60 years and died at the age of 90. During the early part of his life his benefice brought him only £12 a year. It was afterward increased to £18, which it never exceeded. On this income he married, brought up four children and lived comfortably with his neighbors, educated a son at the university and left behind him upward of a thousand pounds.

With that singular simplicity and inattention to forms which characterize a country life, he himself read the burial service over his mother, he married his father to a second wife, and afterward buried him also. He published his own banns of marriage in the church with a woman he had formerly christened, and he himself married all his four children.

Varying Values of Food.

Fourteen oysters are equal to only one egg. Pea soup is nutritious, but to live on it you would need a daily supply of 24 platefuls. A purely vegetable diet is too bulky, yet it may be good for the gouty and the obese. It is true that the Scottish peasantry, their country's pride, are nurtured on oatmeal, but it is liberally supplemented by milk. Rational life is a compromise. You want the happy mean "between the tiger pacing its cage and the cow lying upon the grass."—Dr. Hutchinson's "Dietetics."

The Passions.

We say of a man who has no will mastery, "He is ruled by his passions." They govern him, not he them. Centuries ago an Arab wrote, "Passion is a tyrant which slays those whom it governs." It is like fire, which once thoroughly kindled can scarcely be quenched, or like the torrent, which when it is swollen can no longer be restrained with its banks. Call him not a prisoner who has been put in fetters by his enemy, but rather him whose own passions overpower him to destruction.

A Victim of Summer Complaint

Mr. Armstrong cured of a Desperate Case of Diarrhœa by Ozone.

Mr. Chas. Armstrong is at present employed at Augustus Newell & Co,'s organ reed factory, 29 Hayter Street, Toronto. He suffered from dysentery so greatly that he almost died from weakened system. Maybe you would like to read his story:

June 21st, 1901.

OZONE CO.

Dear Sirs.—For three years I have been a martyr to diarrhoea. So badly did the disease attack my system that I was at death's door. I tried doctors, and every remedy I heard of, but all to no effect. I saw Mr. Francis' testimonial in the paper and decided to try Powley's Liquified Ozone. I procured a bottle, and by the time I had taken this I was entirely cured, and have been well ever since, with the exception of a slight attack this spring. I used Ozone again and now feel as well as ever I did in my life.

I keep Ozone in my house as I know its value in my case, and esteem it a great family remedy in any event of sickness.

(Signed) CHAS. ARMSTRONG, 44½ Gerrard St. West, Toronto.

Powley's Liquified Ozone is splendid for any affection of the intestinal tract. It heals quickly and stops the terrible weakening drains which accompany bowel disorder. If you have a severe attack take it in dessert-spoonful doses pure. It will soon give you relief. If you wish to prevent the disorders so common in summer, drink water in which you have Ozone—generally a dessert spoonful to a tumbler. This sterilizes the water, and makes your system healthy. Just try it once.

Consult our physician about your case. Write full details and you will get a specialist's advice free. Your letters are absolutely confidential. Address the Consulting Department, The Liquid Ozone Co., 229 Kinzie St., Chicago, U.S.A.

WORDS WE SWALLOW

ON THE TIP OF THE TONGUE, YET WE CAN'T GET THEM OUT.

This Hitch in the Working of the Brain Is Called Aphasia in the Medical Profession—A Trick the Chinaman Uses For the Emergency.

Everybody knows what it is to have a word on the tip of the tongue and yet not be able to speak it. The word is known perfectly well, and yet we cannot for the life of us give it utterance. More often than not it is a common word in everyday use. But it will not be spoken when wanted. What is the secret of this "word forgetfulness?"

Doctors call it aphasia. They cannot explain it, but say it is a little hitch in the working of the brain or intellect. The Chinese, who have done so many quaint and clever things, recognized the difficulty thousands of years ago and invented a very ingenious way of making the best of things.

They manufactured a number of words and sentences that meant absolutely nothing, mere sound without sense. When a Chinaman in the course of conversation comes to a word that he has on the tip of his tongue, but cannot speak, he just makes use of the meaningless phrases invented for that purpose until he recalls the word he wants and goes on with the conversation.

The trick, for trick it is, is much in use in public speaking and certainly is an improvement on the "er—er—ers," coughings and throat clearings that so plentifully besprinkle our own after dinner orations. The speaker preserves his dignity and gives himself time for thought.

Very often the greater the desire to speak the missing word the greater the difficulty or sheer impossibility. The man in the Arabian story could not remember the words "Open sesame," although he was in danger of his life. There are many cases on record of soldiers, even officers, forgetting the password and being shot down by their own sentries. At the critical moment the all important word that they thought they knew as well as their own names escapes them. They struggle to recall it, but the very effort makes it more difficult, and they pay with their lives.

A man may sometimes be tortured and yet be unable to speak the word he most desires to utter. Spies have been captured and have gone to their death in silence not because they have not been eager to betray their comrades, but because under the stress and excitement of the situation they have totally forgotten the information they would convey. A celebrated case of this kind was made the subject of a play produced in London some years ago, called "A Question of Memory."

No doubt every reader will be able to recall instances in which he has suffered from this "word forgetfulness." One can often remember the initial letter of the word, but not the word itself. It is still on the tip of the tongue, even after one has given up the struggle to recollect it.

Actors sometimes forget a word or two in their parts that no effort of their own can give back to them at the moment. But the wings reached and the strain removed they are again immediately word perfect and at a loss to explain their forgetfulness. A whole part is sometimes forgotten. This usually happens after a very long run. During the run of "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" Mrs. Patrick Campbell one night found herself on the stage as innocent of any knowledge of her part as any member of the audience. She made desperate efforts to "find herself," but it was no good. That performance she had to read the part through from beginning to end.

Names of people are the words that slip our memories most frequently. We see a face we know, and yet we cannot fit a name to it. We are shaken by the hand or slapped on the back, and all the while we are hard at work trying to think of the name of the person who is doing it. Kings are credited with royal memories, and it is rare to find a sovereign who has not a wonderful memory for faces. But he usually has some one at his elbow who can jog his memory for names.

It is not always safe to fish for a name wanted. When Ellen Terry and Henry Irving were in America one year, they met a gentleman who, they knew, had reason to expect that they could remember his name. But this they failed to do. So Miss Terry approached him and said: "Sir Henry and I cannot agree as to the exact spelling of your name. Will you please put us right?" "Certainly," was the reply. "It is J-o-n-e-s!"

Aphasia is divided by those who have studied the subject into "word blindness" and "word deafness." A man who is "word blind" may be able to pronounce the name of letters, but cannot understand the meanings of the words they form. A man who is "word deaf" can understand ordinary sounds and music, but cannot understand spoken words. His speech is often mere senseless jargon.

But the passing forgetfulness of a word has little to do with these more serious forms of the complaint. We swallow words under the influence of excitement or more often of fatigue. People getting better from a serious illness are tormented by the loss of common words. This is particularly the case after influenza. One of our leading statesmen after an attack of this malady suddenly lost the thread of his speech in the midst of a public discourse.

"Word forgetfulness" is, however, mainly the result of careless observation or of want of training. What we never knew well we very easily forget. An experienced police detective never forgets a face or name.

Neuralgia

is Rheumatism of the face. Uric Acid left in the blood by disordered kidneys lodges along the nerve which branches from the eye over the forehead, and across the cheek to the side of the nose. The cause is the same as in all Rheumatism—disordered Kidneys. The cure is likewise the same—

Cough, Cough,

Night and day, until the strength is entirely exhausted, and that dreaded word "Consumption" begins to be whispered among friends. That's a common story, familiar to the people of every town and village.

There's another story which ought to be as widely known as the story of disease, and that is the story of the cures effected by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Bronchitis, asthma, obstinate, deep-seated coughs, bleeding of the lungs, and other forms of disease which affect the respiratory organs, are permanently cured by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

"Only for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I think I would be in my grave to-day," writes Mr. Moses Miles, of Hilliard, Uinta Co., Wyoming. "I had asthma so bad I could not sleep at night and was compelled to give up work. It affected my lungs so that I coughed all the time, both night and day. My friends all thought I had consumption. My wife insisted on my trying Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—which I did. I have taken four bottles and am now a well man, weighing 185 pounds, thanks to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for book in paper covers or 50 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

DOGS.

There are nearly 200 distinct varieties of dogs.

Foxhounds give cry, but deerhounds hunt in silence.

The greyhound is the only dog which hunts by sight.

Only in the temperate zone is the dog found perfect in courage and speed.

The Italian greyhound is reputed to be the most symmetrical of all animals.

Skye terriers have been known to jump into the river and land hooked fish, which they take carefully by the back.

Eskimo dogs are capable of drawing a well laden sledge 60 miles in a day. Their harness is of the lightest, only a single trace and no reins.

Women Cannot Boss Each Other.

The old theory that woman is man's helper seems incorrigibly well founded, says E. S. Martin in McClure's Magazine. If the situation isn't satisfactory to her, there is no help for it, for the conditions it came out of seem to be eternal. Women may vote. They will be none the less man's helpers if they do. They never will band together to put man down and teach him his place. They will push him ahead if they can, they will pull him along when they must, they will influence him enormously, as they always have done, but they will never conspire together on any very great scale to make him play second fiddle. Some one has got to be master. Women in general will never agree to have women bosses so long as there are competent men for that use.

Kaffir Banking.

The Kaffirs have a simple method of banking. Before setting out to trade they select one of their number as their banker and put all their money in his bag. When an article is purchased by any of those who are in this combine, the price is taken by the banker from the bag, counted several times and then paid to the seller, after which all the bank depositors cry out to the banker in the presence of two witnesses selected, "You owe me so much." This is then repeated by the witnesses. The general accounting comes between the banker and his several depositors when all the purchases have been made, after which all the natives go home.

SOMETHING ABOUT BOILS

Slight Injuries, High Living and Close Shaving May Cause Them.

Contrary to the common belief, boils are not indicative of blood disease. They are really indications of local poisoning by pus bearing germs, and the boil is an abscess. Every pus prick, every scratch, every abrasion, every cut with a razor or pocketknife, every splinter that enters the skin may cause a boil. Nor need the wound be a serious one. It may be so minute as to be invisible to the unaided eye. Nor is the result always produced, for if it should be, every slight wound, every thorn prick, every scratch of a cat, every bite of a dog, every abrasion of the skin, would be followed by disastrous, if not fatal, consequences. The reason for this immunity is that there is a certain inherent power of the body to resist these noxious agents, and it is only when the powers of the body are weakened by disease that the morbific agents can thrive in the body and accomplish their evil work.

In this sense, then, boils are diseases due to diseases of the blood, but it is not a disease in itself. High living also favors boils. Dr. Reid, speaking of pus and incidentally of boils, says: "Job was probably run down by a long period of debauchery. We read that the devil had him in tow some time before his boils broke out. If, now, he could have had the counsel of three good physicians instead of as many tiresome theologians, he would have had his system toned up; his broken potsherd, with which 'he scraped himself withal,' thus spreading sympathy, and infection would have been taken from him, and he would have been taught a few lessons in sanitary science instead of theology."

The reason why a boil is always in the worst place is because that is the most exposed place. The back of the neck, where the collar rubs the microbes into the skin; the wrist, where the cuffs irritate and make the entrance of germs more easy; the top of the foot, where the shoe pinches; the razor swept chin, are all favorite "worst places."—American Druggist and Pharmaceutical Record.

The Cause of Nervous Headache.

This most distressing and common malady doubtless has its origin in some unbalanced condition of the nervous system. Probably the simplest, safest and most efficient remedy is Polson's Nerviline. Twenty drops in sweetened water gives immediate relief and this treatment should be supplemented by bathing the regions of pain with Nerviline. To say it acts quickly fails to express the result. Sold everywhere in large 25c bottles.

Dog Days.

Dog days are so called from Sirius, the most brilliant of the fixed stars in the head of the constellation Canis Major, or the Greater Dog, and include the period from July 3 to Aug. 11. During this period this star and the sun rise within the same hour, and the ancients, who worshiped the dog, attributed the existence of summer to the influence of this constellation, a superstition which has been perpetuated to the present day in the use of the term.

He Was "It."

"I don't believe you love me a bit," sobbed his wife.

"But I do, darling. I"—

"Don't tell me! It's unnatural you should. No man could love a woman who wears such old hats as I do."

Not Afterward.

"Does it hurt to be lynched?" asked the tenderfoot timidly.

"Not after it's over," replied Lariat Luke sagely.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS ARE.

The Kidneys, two in number, are composed of a network of blood vessels and delicate tissues surrounded by a muscular coating. They are about four inches long and two inches wide. Their peculiar function is to abstract from the blood, fluid impurities. They act very much like a filter, the heavy portion of blood passing on through the veins and the watery portion draining out and down through the uretha into the bladder. Diseases of the kidneys consist of a lack of tone of the muscles surrounding the arteries and a lack of sensitiveness to the delicate nerves found in these organs, caused either by inflamation or general debility. Kidney diseases manifest themselves in the urine and also by a pain in the small of the back. Merrill's System Tonic exhibits the best form of treatment for any disease of the kidneys. It contains the healing and soothing properties of Buchu combined with the muscle and nerve toning properties of the hypophosphites. Besides it is a blood purifier and will remove from the system uric acid poisoning caused by kidney weakness and resulting in various forms of rheumatism. We don't weary you with testimonials, but we have more of them than most medicines. The use of one bottle will convince you that Merrill's System Tonic is an extremely valuable medicine of extra ordinary merit.

Each 50c bottle contains 50 pleasant-to-take doses, and is sold

An Easy Way to Amuse Little Folks at Their Parties.

The following printed list of twenty-eight games for young people is taken from the official course of study for kindergarten division of the summer playgrounds maintained by the School Board of the borcughs of Manhattan and the Bronx. They are published as offering valuable suggestions to those upon whom falls the sometimes difficult duty of amusing little children during the summer months:

CONTEST GAMES.

1. Drop handkerchief.
2. Spin platter.
3. Frog in the middle. One, two or three children sit in the centre of the ring with legs crossed under. All the others stand in a circle around—running toward frogs in the centre they try to touch them without being caught. Children caught must be frogs.
4. Bridge. Children stand opposite each other, raise and join hands, forming a long bridge; two at one end under and join at the other end. Next two run etc., until all have had a chance to run under the bridge.
5. Pass in the corner.
6. Button, button.
7. Button on a string. String the length of the row of children or long enough to go around the ring; place it on a button, ring or small spool; children move button along, not letting the child outside know where it is; the one on the outside touches the hand under which he thinks the button is hiding; if successful the one whose hand was touched must go out and try.
8. Stoop tag.
9. Blind man's buff.
10. Jacob and Rachel. Two children in the centre A are blindfolded and say "Jacob, where art thou?" B goes about in the ring and calls "Here I am Rachel." A must locate and touch B by the sound, and if successful in catching, B becomes A for the next game, is blindfolded, and must try to catch another.
11. Tapping the stick.
12. Tom Tiddler. Draw long chalk mark on floor, all but one child stands on one side of the mark; one child alone on a side is Tom Tiddler; all step over teasing Tom Tiddler, and calling out "I'm on Tom Tiddler's ground." Tom tries to catch one, and if successful the one caught must be Tom Tiddler.
13. Handkerchief game. Children stand in a ring, one in centre. Those in the ring keep throwing a handkerchief from one to the other. The object of the one in the centre is to touch a child while she is holding a handkerchief; those on the ring do not want to be caught holding same, and throw it before the child in the centre reaches them.
14. Little lassie. Ring. Child in the centre is lassie. Children call:

Little lassie, give us a chase,
Get one quick to fill your place.

Then all run and lassie follows till she touches some child. Where the latter is touched (on the exact spot) she places her hand; she then goes in centre, keeping her hand on spot and helps little lassie to catch. Game is repeated, two now being in centre. These two each catch one, and in so doing they touch those caught in different parts of the body; this makes four in the centre, each having and keeping the hand on the part of the body touched.

This game causes much merriment.

15. Drop, drop, drop. Children stand on ring, about 18 inches apart, not joining hands. One child walks around with handkerchief, saying:

"One, two, three,
Come follow me,
Drop, drop, drop,
Where shall I stop?"

At the word "stop" she drops handkerchief. Child near which it is dropped picks it up and follows her as she threads her way in and out among the children until the first is caught; the second than goes around the ring with handkerchief.

16. Wolfe and sheep. One child is wolf—stands on one side of the playground; the rest are sheep and stand on the opposite side.

Wolf—Where's your shepherd, pretty sheep?

Sheep—In his cottage fast asleep.

Wolf—I will catch you as you run.

Sheep—If we let you, there's the fun.

The wolfe and sheep then change sides, and in crossing the wolf catches as many sheep as she can; these all go to the wolf's side and help the wolf to catch as the game is repeated.

17. Thimble. The children are sent away, with the exception of one who places a thimble or other object where it is partly hidden, and yet, if found, is within view of all. Children return, and the one who sees the thimble must say nothing but simply sit down; the next one who sees it also sits down, until a dozen more are seated, when one is sent to tell where the thimble is hidden.

Try to find the thimble out,
Use your eyes and look about.

18. Daffodil. Two children stand facing each other and raise clasped hands high; other players form a ring and skip around and under the arch singing:

We're looking for a daffodil, a daffodil,
We've found one here.

At last word arms are lowered and a child caught; one caught takes the place of one forming the arch, and the latter joins the ring.

19. Hill Dill. Draw two long parallel chalks on the floor, about eight feet apart. A child "A" stands between the marks—all the others stand on one side of the chalk mark—when "A" calls "Hill, dill, come over the hill" all the children must run over the two chalk marks and over to the opposite side. "A" catches as they run across, and the one caught must remain in between the lines. "A" calls again "Hill, dill" etc., and those who are in between the lines must assist her in catching some more; repeat until all are caught, and the game is at an end.

20. Hiding. Place a number of objects in centre of a ring. Child hides eyes and someone removes two or more of the objects. (Similar to "When all Playing Together.)

21. Feather. Children sit in two rows. A and B opposite each other, about three feet apart; a feather (one from an old duster would do) is blown by the children on A's side; their object is to blow it over to those on the opposite side, B. Keep blowing, so as not to let it alight on any of them; should the feather alight on any of those on side B, that child is out of the game. The second side, B, then tries to blow the feather over so as to send "out" some of them on the A side. The game continues in this way until all are out, or as long as the interest lasts.

22. Magic Music. Some one plays on the piano—all the children are sent away while something is hidden. Loud playing indicates that children are near the hidden object; soft playing that they are far away.

23. Duck Under Water. The children stand opposite each other, holding hands or handkerchiefs to form arch; the two at one end go under the arch; any child who breaks the arch or lets go of hands is out; keep up as long as interest lasts.

24. Red Rose. Players on one side of the goal—one child in centre, and another empty goal on opposite side. One in centre says;

"Red rose, red rose, see where 'Eddie' goes."

Eddie must come out and run across the one in centre to opposite goal; one in centre tries to catch before he is in this goal; if successful, the two stay in centre and repeat, etc.

25. Skip Away. Children clasp hands and form a ring outside; a child goes around, touches one in ring; both run in opposite directions around the ring until one is back in the empty space the one out then goes around again and touches a different child.

26. Touch Wood. (Iron, glass, etc.) One stays out, trying to catch children who are not touching wood; children must keep going about, trying to touch different things made of wood. While going from one place to another, children are caught by the one who is "out." One caught becomes the one who is "out."

27. Cat and Mouse. A ring; two children chosen, one outside and one inside the ring; one on outside is called the cat; the one inside is the mouse. The cat runs in and out, trying to catch the mouse. Mouse also runs in and out, in her efforts not to be caught. Children raise arms to permit the free passage of the mouse, thus trying to help her in every way; they lower arms to prevent the cat from getting at the mouse. Cat may get under arms, or even break the clasped arms, without, of course, hurting anyone.

The interest is intensified by having two cats try to catch one mouse.

28. Sheep Gathering. Two rows of children facing each other, joining hands—long chalk line between them—first row saying; "Give me a sheep." Second row answers; "Let some one come and get one." Teacher will then choose one from each side; children named come to chalk line, join hands, and try to pull each other over the line; the one pulled over must join the line to which it is pulled. The new ones are then chosen.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

BOWLING.

Since the introduction of the electric light at the green, the bowlers may be found there at any time of the evening until half past ten o'clock.

Dr. Burnham and Mr. W. F. Johnston skipped a close and interesting game against each other on Saturday. It resulted in a victory for Mr. Johnston by the score of 29 to 20.

LACROSSE.

The blue and white of the Athletics of St. Catharines triumphed over the red and black of Brantford at the Island on Saturday, the great C.L.A. struggle of the season ending in a decisive victory for the "home-brews" by a score of 4 to 2. The result was a surprise of the most pronounced kind, even to the supporters of the winning team, while to the Brantfordites it came as a shock, compared to which the battle of Paardaburg was a mere episode. A team more confident of winning never stepped on a lacrosse field than the Brantford aggregation, and their adherents were fully as sanguine. Extravagant odds were offered by the men from the west, and though the people from St. Kitts were a little dubious as to the outcome, they were loyal to the core and nearly all the Brantford money was covered. It was another case of a "good thing" going wrong, as the Athletics held their opponents safe all the way. In the first quarter St. Kitts notched the initial point after a few minutes' play, and retained the advantage until the second period was partially over, when Brantford evened up matters. This reverse only spurred the Athletics to renewed effort, as before the quarter was completed they netted the ball twice, making the half-time tally 3 to 1. In the third 20 minutes' play both teams scored singles, and though Brantford forced the issue for the balance of the time, nothing else was done in the counting line. St. Catharines' victory was well earned, Brantford being outplayed and outgeneralled from the start. The defence of the winners was absolutely impregnable, and the fast Brantford home players could not begin to handle their stalwart checks, who refused to be drawn out. On the other hand the Brantford guardians of the flags were at times easily enticed from their positions, and Kelly, in goal, made the mistake of rushing out from between the sticks whenever the ball was anywhere in his neighbourhood, and two of the games were scored when he was not on guard. Considering the importance of the match it was fairly clean, although the checking was hard and close. The Williams brothers and Elliott put up a superb article of ball for St. Kitts, while Dixon, the junior, between the flags, got away with a number of almost impossible stops. Harris was always on the ball, and along with C. Downey and Cameron, kept the home well fed. McIlwain was the star of the home field; he was here, there and everywhere, and he was a factor in all the scoring combinations. Hare and Hagen played a steady, sure game, and Gourley and Todd Downey engineered some plays that were brilliant in the extreme. There was not a weak spot on the team, which was handled admirably by Courtenay Kingstone. For Brantford, Allen and Neely, on the defence, and Bailey and Durkin, on the home field, were the best of the bunch. Kelly did not by any means display any more than mediocre ability in goal, and when he was moved, up on the home he made a sorry showing. The absence of Connor, from Brantford's home, made a great difference to the team, as Wilson did not begin to fill his shoes.

Almost transcending the game in point of interest was the crowd, and such a crowd it was. Never in the history of lacrosse in Toronto has there been a larger turnout, fully 9,000 people viewing the match. Both the large stands were filled to their utmost capacity, and the big south bleacher was crammed to suffocation. Occupying seats around the fence there was a wall of humanity, while in the large space in front of the stands the spectators were literally piled in heaps. And they come from everywhere, nearly every town within 200 miles of Toronto being represented. From Brantford and St. Catharines huge excursions were run, about 1,000 enthusiasts from each place being on hand to cheer on their pets.

The gate approximated closely to $2,500, and after deducting expenses it will be divided equally between the clubs. The betting was fast and furious before the game, Brantford being the favourites at about 10 to 8, and it is estimated that thousands of dollars changed hands. Referee Roberts made a good officer, although he was a little inclined to be lenient.—Globe.

BASEBALL.

There was a big time on at the Nicholls oval on Saturday afternoon, when the Roseneath baseball team came up to play their return game with the Matthews packing house aggregation. The game ended in a score of 12 to 4 in favor of the visitors, and a free fight between all hands, so it is said. The police were called to the grounds, but quiet had been restored by the time they got there. The chief also received a telephone message to proceed to the Wolfe street wharf, where it is said another fight was in progress as the boat on which the excursionists were pulled out.

THE TEMISCAMING DISTRICT.

Its Soil, Climate and Suitability for Settlement.

In the course of an interesting letter, a special correspondent of the Globe has the following to say respecting this promising district of New Ontario:—

Regarding the soil in all parts visited by us, we found it to be of the very best; hay and grain was growing luxuriantly, and when it is considered that in point of latitude it is only some 300 miles north of Toronto, no further north than Rainy River District, and very far south of any part of Manitoba, the question of climate ceases to be a matter of much anxiety. The settlers claim, too, that the summer season is very little shorter than obtains in older Ontario and that summer frosts do not as a rule cause very much damage. It would seem to me to be infinitely more suitable for the present settler and future farmer than Manitoba. As in Temiskaming, the settler has abundance of timber for building purposes, for sale and for fuel, which is not the case in a prairie country. Another strong point in favour of Temiskaming is the wonderful adaptability of the soil and climate for the growth of clover. This one fact is of far-reaching importance from a farming and stock-raising point of view, as rob a farmer of the clover and you deprive him of one of the most efficient factors in restoring and maintaining the fertility of the soil, to say nothing of the great value of that plant as a suitable food for farm stock in general. To these features must be added the great advantage that accrues to the country in the abundance of good water that is to be found in every direction; fine spring creeks are numerous, and, by digging, water may be had anywhere at very moderate depths.

It would, however, not be complete to omit mentioning some of the disadvantages that at present the country is labouring under, namely, the lack of railway connection with outside and older parts of country. Regarding the railway, it would seem that the Government is fully alive to its importance and is endeavouring to supply that want as efficiently and speedily as possible. I can think of no other projected line of railway more needed or more likely to be a paying concern from the start, and when it is considered that already there are probably close on 2,000 people settled in the district; that large tracts of land have, in addition, been located this summer, and that each boat is taking in numbers of fresh settlers, the necessity of furnishing these people with railway convenience becomes paramount. The distance from North Bay, which will be much the best starting point, is not great, and the building of the road would at once open up the outside market for timber and lumber, of which the settlers can sell large amounts when clearing up their land.

THE SUBJECT OF GROCERIES

Is dear to the heart of every housekeeper. In these days of good crops and big harvests and steady work, good groceries are so very moderate in price that the BEST grades are within the reach of farmers and townspeople.

STRIKERS PROPOSE PEACE.

Programme in Preparation for Submittal to the Steel Trust.

Pittsburg, Aug. 25.—In furtherance of the "peace" program, which is said to have been in the course of preparation for several days, it was given out to-day by one of the insiders that the Amalgamated Executive have consented to have certain propositions made to the officials of the United States Steel Corporation, thru members of the Conciliatory Committee of the National Civic Federation, which proposals are expected to bring about a settlement of the strike. Those interested in the matter were in waiting all day to-day for Ford to proceed with the program as outlined at the conference of the Amalgamated Executive and the Conciliatory Committee of the Federation last Friday.

The propositions which are to be taken to New York carry certain concessions by the Amalgamated officials, which, it is hoped, will pave the way for the re-opening of direct negotiations between the association and the company. The proposition carries much of the terms under which President Shaffer and his advisers stand willing to settle. The terms and the manner of the presentation are carefully guarded secrets. The proposal contains nothing looking to arbitration. This mode of settlement was waived on the advice of the Civic Federation.

Three Boer Leaders Send Defiance to Kitchener's Notice.

BUT SURRENDERS STILL GROW.

Kruger, in an Interview on the Proclamation, Says It Recognizes Boer Administration, But Will Exhibit for the Fight Still Further —Nephew of the Old Man Taken.

London, Aug. 27.—A despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, yesterday, says:

"Three officers and 65 men, who were sent north of Ladybrand, Orange River Colony, on the right of Elliot's column, were surrounded on unfavorable ground and captured by a superior force Aug. 22. One man was killed and four were wounded. The prisoners were released. Am holding an inquiry.

"Have received a long letter from Steyn containing an argumentative statement of the Boer case, and saying he will continue to fight; also a short letter from Dewet to the same effect.

"Botha writes acknowledging the receipt of my proclamation and protesting against it. He states that the Boers intend to go on fighting. On the other hand, the surrenders lately have increased considerably."

One Kruger Surrenders.

London, Aug. 27.—Another despatch from Lord Kitchener, says:

"Since Aug. 19, 32 Boers have been killed, 138 have been made prisoners and 185 have surrendered, including Kruger, a nephew of the ex-President.

"The columns are meeting with no appreciable opposition in Cape Colony. The rebels and armed bands are hiding and avoiding our columns with some success. Gen. Beaton alone having been in contact with the commando of Scheeper, whom he is driving north."

Interview With Kruger.

London, Aug. 27.—The Daily Telegraph publishes to-day a long interview with Mr. Kruger at Hilversum on Lord Kitchener's latest proclamation. He contended that Lord Kitchener's proclamation itself recognized that the Boers had a regular administration and army. The proclamation could have but one effect—to embitter and intensify resistance.

Combatant Claimants.

London, Aug. 27.—Newton Crane, in behalf of the American Embassy, has presented another claim to the South African Compensation Commission, that of Charles B. Nelken, a native of Prussia, and a naturalized American citizen.

Major-General Sir John Ardagh, representing the Foreign Office, pointed out that the claimant's letter said he had joined the Boers in order to protect his property seized by the Boers, and remarked:

"No person who has fought against Great Britain will receive any compensation on the recommendation of the commission."

Nelken, said Mr. Crane, was a man who had laid down his arms and resumed his neutral status at the time he was deported, and was entitled to the benefit of his neutral status.

Chairman Milvain said: "No person who has fought against Great Britain will receive compensation."

Sergt. Black Shot.

Cape Town, Aug. 26.—C 2,415, Sergt. J. B. Black, 105, Canadian Scouts, was dangerously wounded through pelvis and left thigh near Heilbron, on Aug. 22. Please inform father, Jameson Black, St. Catharines, Ont. (Signed) Casualty Department, Cape Town.

Black left St. Catharines with C Battery, second contingent, and when they returned he joined the Scouts. His six months' time was out in June, when he was expected to return, but he rejoined for another six months' service. His father last heard from him in June.

No Change.

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—A cable received at the Militia Department yesterday from Cape Town says that there is no change in the condition of Lieut.-Col. Gordon, who was reported seriously ill a few days ago.

Yes, We've Told You of Them Before; And Probably Will Again,

For They are Deserving of a Lot of Space and much Telling.

THEY—means those Under Muslins that we bought so well that we can afford to give our customers the advantage of a third less than what we could regularly sell them at.

The purchase was a BIG one. This range of the manufacturers was never surpassed, if equalled, in Canada. That's pretty strong talk, and we realize it AND THE GOODS WILL STAND BY THE TALK.

If it hasn't dawned on you before try to realize it now, and think of the superb lingerie you can buy and only cost you an ordinary price. For instance, a $4.50 garment will cost you $3.00, and a $1.50 garment $1.00. Big enough saving to make it interesting, isn't it?

Well, we've had a big clearing of this Underwear, a clearing that has surprised us and shown us that the Peterborough ladies have appreciated the splendid bargains offered. We've got a big lot of Whitewear still, and though you cannot manage to come to-morrow, come while this lot lasts and you'll not be disappointed. Of course there is always a pick in samples—you're aware of that!

REMEMBER,

a week ago we advised you of three cases of Balayeuse worsted (sponged and shrunk) and all pure wool—heavy enough for perfect fitting suits. You may imagine that three cases of Dress Materials would last us a long while, but not so when 95 cent goods (sponged and shrunk) are being sold at 60c a yard, especially when they are the desirable goods for this season. We certainly want to advise our customers that this pile is cutting down extremely fast. Secure it while you may. We cannot say it will last till the end of the week. It may.

THE DUCHESS' HEALTH

H.R.H. May Be Unable to Undertake Tour Through Canada.

OTTAWA'S ELECTRICAL DISPLAY.

Its Illumination in Honor of the Royal Visitors Will Surpass Anything Ever Before Seen in Canada—On Pan-American Lines—Quebec to Be the First Port of Call.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—The Globe's Ottawa correspondent hears, but is not in a position to confirm the report, that it is extremely unlikely that the Duke of Cornwall and York will be accompanied any further than Quebec by the Duchess on the occasion of their Royal Highnesses' visit to Canada. It is said that the health of the Duchess is such that her physician is opposed to her undergoing the fatigue of a long railway journey. Accordingly, the report is that her Royal Highness will proceed to Halifax from Quebec, and await there the Duke's return from his tour.

Ottawa's Blaze of Glory.

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—The great feature of the Capital's reception to their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York will be the electric illumination of the Parliament buildings and the Interprovincial Bridge, at present the longest cantilever bridge in the world. The work of preparation for the illumination, which has now been under way for some weeks, is being carried out by Ahearn & Soper, Limited, who, after considering various plans, decided, with the concurrence of the Government architects, to follow the method of illumination so successfully adopted at the Pan-American Exposition. The unexcelled Gothic architecture of the Parliament buildings affords scope for even better illumination than the Renaissance of the Buffalo buildings and the private tests of parts of the Ottawa illumination made from time to time after dark as the work proceeds give promise of results more beautiful than any attained hitherto. Unlike previous illuminations, there will be no mottoes or designs of any kind. The thousands of lights are being placed on the arched lines of the windows, doors, pinacles, etc., of the buildings. On the Interprovincial Bridge, which will receive its new name on the occasion of the Duke's visit, the outlines are being strictly followed, and surmounting the centre span the words, "Royal Alexandra," formed by electric letters, each letter twelve feet in height and altogether two hundred feet in length, will burst forth upon the touching of a button by His Royal Highness.

The illumination of the Parliament buildings will begin each evening during the visit of the royal party at a fixed hour and will continue until midnight. At the hour for beginning the illumination absolute darkness will prevail upon Parliament Square, the faintest red glow will then slowly appear in the thousands of electric jets and gradually increase until full brilliancy is attained, the effect produced being that of creating the buildings in lines of fire out of the darkness. The exact hour at which the illumination will begin every evening will be officially announced later.

The Naval Escort.

Halifax, N.S., Aug. 27.—On Saturday afternoon the naval authorities received word that Quebec would be the Ophir's first port of call in Canada. The same afternoon a cablegram arrived announcing that the Powerful and the cruisers Diadem and Niobe were to have left England on Saturday for Quebec. They have four funnels and resemble the Powerful and Terrible. Each vessel will have an equipment of eight hundred men. They will, with Admiral Bedford's fleet, accompany the Ophir to Halifax from Quebec. The cruisers Indefatigable and Tribune and torpedo boat destroyer Quail have orders to leave here on Monday, Sept. 16, to meet the Ophir off the coast and accompany the royal yacht on Friday for Mucay Bay. From there they will go to Quebec.

Must Sell Panama Canal.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—The Record's Paris correspondent says: The Panama Canal is for sale to the United States. If the American Government wants the Panama route and will exercise a little patience in the negotiations, it may buy virtually at its own price. Next winter a definite proposal of sale to the United States will be made by the Panama Company. The price asked will be $150,000,000. But a much smaller sum will be accepted.

The Attorney-General's Belief.

Montreal, Aug. 27.—Attorney-General Campbell of Manitoba, who is here on his way home from England, stated yesterday that he believed that the Privy Council would decide that the Manitoba prohibition case would be held to be constitutional.

Mere Armenian Atrocities.

London, Aug. 27.—Special despatches from Odessa and Vienna give unconfirmed reports of Kurdish atrocities in the hill districts of Armenia and of fighting between Turks and Bulgarians in Macedonia, several persons being killed at Pawsonwitz.

Another despatch says that the Bulgarians seized five Turks, drenched them with petroleum and burned them alive.

Four Votes Against.

Maganetawan, Aug. 27.—Only four votes were polled here yesterday against the bylaw which carried to guarantee a loan of $2,500 to L. F. Purdy, who is putting in a roller process in his flour mill in this village.

NO PEACE MOVE.

Shaffer Says He Knows Nothing of It, and It Can't Be Official.

Pittsburg, Aug. 27. — Reported peace negotiations for the settlement of the steel strike through the mediation of disinterested parties, officials and members of the National Civic Federation, received a setback when President Theodore J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers last night declared absolutely that he had no official knowledge of such proceedings, and that if such a move had been started it did not have the official sanction of the organization.

Nevertheless, the subject will not down, and last night it is said the conciliatory committee of the Civic Federation, already prominent in the matter, is fully prepared to carry on negotiations, and will, if necessary, endeavor to secure the good offices of Archbishop Ireland, Bishop Potter, Daniel Hanna and Seth Low, co-members of their organization, to give such prominence to the committee that the proposal will be received by the Steel Corporation.

In the meantime both sides to the controversy make claims to a victory.

HELP YOUR OWN.

The London Daily Express just to hand contains a very remarkable article on Canada which it is to be hoped, will have due effect in Great Britain. It is written by one who knows Canada and her resources, and he is a believer in the principles more than once laid down in these columns, as those which ought to be followed by the people of the mother country, in their dealings with the "possessions beyond the sea," and more especially with Canada. It has always appeared extraordinary that the British people should expend enormous sums of money in investments in South America and elsewhere, and not attempt to benefit their own kith and kin and empire. This is duly noted in the article referred to and referring more especially to Canada the writer attributes its apparently slow progress as compared with the United States to the apathy of the mother country. There is, of course, no reason why the progress of the Dominion should not be quite as great as that of the United States, and it is not unworthy of notice that in the early stages of the career of the country, when it was more directly under the fostering care of the Imperial authorities, its progress was relatively as great, if not greater than that of the republic. It is only reasonable to ask, why the imperial government does nothing to promote emigration to Canada. The common interest of the country ought to encourage such a course. We have a granary and as has been facetiously said, a "pantry" for Britain sufficient to supply all the imported food stuffs she needs if we only possessed the rural population necessary to produce the quantity. More than that such a pantry would tend to create a shield and buckler for British interests which in the hour of trial would be a great strength. What has lately been seen on a small scale would, had we twenty-five or thirty millions, be seen on a very large one. And the Express writer reasonably asks why it is that "British capital does not seek investment in civilized, law-abiding Canada instead of going to semi-savage South American Republics, in which they hold annual revolutions instead of annual elections?" That is a question that is most difficult to answer, for the course of the British capitalists in this respect is apparently inexplicable.

Sarnia Man Killed.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Aug. 27.—Between 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday morning the body of a man was found on the New York Central tracks near the brewery. A card in his pocket indicated that he was John McIntyre of Sarnia, Ont., a conductor on the Grand Trunk Railroad. Later the body was identified as that of McIntyre, but his friends cannot account for his death. He had not been run over, but a cut on the head and a swollen eye indicated that he had fallen from a passing train. Coroner Slocum has charge of the case.

COLLISION AT HALIFAX.

Maritime Express and the Engine "Regina" of the "Flying Blue Nose" Express Crash Into One Another.

Halifax, Aug. 27.—One of the worst railway accidents at this end of the Intercolonial Railway in recent years occurred last evening, when the Maritime Express from Montreal was crashed into by the engine "Regina," which draws the "Flying Blue Nose" Express over the Dominion Atlantic Railway. The Maritime Express was No. 34, and it was drawn by one of the new engines, No. 232. The Maritime Express was an hour late, and the Blue Nose was allowed to run in ahead of her.

The Blue Nose engine was detached at North street depot, and with a tender started backwards at full speed for the round house, a mile away. The engine had not gone more than half a mile when the Maritime Express, running at the rate of fifteen miles an hour, rounded a curve. A collision was unavoidable, and Diver Manning of the "Regina" reversed his engine, and he and the fireman, Charles Currie, jumped.

The engines came together with a tremendous crash, and in an instant the track was filled with a mass of twisted and broken iron. The tender of the D. A. R. engine was driven in under the Maritime Express engine, and the whole under body of the I. C. R. engine was carried away. The D. A. R. engine was sent flying back. It kept the rails for a quarter of a mile and then toppled over, a hopeless wreck. The tender of the Maritime engine was driven up on top of its own engine and badly shattered.

The glass in nearly all of the cars was broken, and the dishes and tables in the dining cars were smashed. The force of the compact hurled all the passengers from their seats, but, fortunately, none of them were badly hurt, only a few receiving serious bruises. Benjamin Russell, M. P., was among the passeggers, and was thrown from his seat and received a severe shaking up.

Several of the trainmen were injured. Michael Flavin of the Maritime had his leg broken, and Engineer Ross had his head and arm cut. Baggagemaster McKim had his knee injured and one of his arms bruised. The two men who jumped received only slight injuries.

The accident is said to have been caused by the A. A. men taking their engine without receiving orders to do so. A wrecking train and crew are now clearing the track of the debris.

WAY FREIGHT HOTEL

Proprietor of the Popular Montreal Hostelry Talks About Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Used Them Some Years ago for a bad Case of Kidney Weakness—Recommends Them Highly to all Those who are Worried by any Urinary Sediment.

Montreal, Aug. 25.—Dan W. Allan, proprietor of the Way Freight Hotel here, made a strong statement about the well-known remedy Dodd's Kidney Pills. Mr. Allan's hotel is at 463 St. James street and enjoys considerable popularity with railroad men.

Some of the latter were discussing ailments peculiar to engineers, brakemen, firemen, conductors and train crews generally. It was acknowledged that the greatest difficulty a railway man has to contend with is Kidney Trouble. The continual jarring of the train weakens the filters of the system and various forms of Kidney Trouble result.

"Every man that works in an engine cab or on any part of a railroad train ought to use Dodd's Kidney Pills," said one man.

"Are Dodd's Kidney Pills what they're cracked up to be though?" put in a second.

"Yes, sir," returned the first emphatically, "Dodd's Kidney Pills are what they're cracked up to be and I'll leave it to Mr. Allan."

"Gentlemen," said Mr. Allan, "I firmly believe Dodd's Kidney Pills will do everything that is claimed for them. They are a genuine medicine. They cured me of Kidney Trouble, I know that. My urine was full of a kind of red brick dust for years. I knew it was my kidneys, but could get nothing to stop it. Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills did the work finally and I've been all right ever since."

Believes His Son Was Murdered.

Ottawa, Aug. 25—Since Tuesday, I. B. Tackaberry of this city, father of Herbert Tackaberry, who was shot about a week ago by Joseph Banks, manager of Sautelle's circus, has been a guest of the United States Hotel, Saratoga, and has made searching enquiries with regard to the fatality. He says that from private information which he has received he is perfectly satisfied that his son's murder was conceived in cold blood. The revolver with which Tackaberry was shot and which the witness Raymond said was the property of Tackaberry, could not have been, as his weapon was found in his trunk at the United States Hotel, when opened by the coroner. The trunk was locked, and was not opened until after the shooting.

Hurt by a Binder.

Carp, Aug. 24.—To-day while Mr. Samuel Burt of South-line was driving a binder the pole broke, and his horses ran away, throwing him in front of the knotter. The machine passed over his body, fracturing several ribs and otherwise injuring him seriously. He was unconscious when taken from under the wheel. The reins got entangled in the machine and stopped the horses, which saved Mr. Burt's life. Doctors have hopes of his recovery.
